te & Death

Of that Excellent

MINISTER

OF

CHRIST

Mr. JOSEPH ALLEINE.

Late Teacher of the CHURCH of Taunton in Somerset-shire, Assistant to Mr. NEIVION.

PROV. 10. 7.

The Memory of the Just is blessed; but the Name of the Wicked shall rot.

London, Printed by J. Darby, for Nevil Simons, at the Princes Arms in St. Paul's Church-yard; and by Dorman Memman at the Kings-Arms in the Poultry, 1693.

HISTOR Simul

BX 520'09 A+B38

MANTERIER

F207
A4B28
T21 Run 3X

Mr. 70SFPF ALLEINE.

Lare Tracher of the CHILR City, of Frances of the Contract of the Contract of the Children of the Contract of PROV. io. 7. PASSET PROV.

Servere

Memory of the Full is Helled, but the

See the second of the second o 7067291

杂类杂类杂类 经未未未未未

The Contents.

CHAP. I.

THE Introduction, by Mr. Richard Baxter, referred as the Pag.1.

CHAP. INSTALL

A brief Relation of his early setting forth in the Christiast Race from his Childhood; and some Memorials of his fir beginnings, and earnest pursuit of Learning in the University. Written by an eye-witness thereof, p. 18

TOTCH A PAINTY. Long

sh brief Character of him, by Mr. Richard Alleine, hewing how eminently he was qualified for the Ministerial Service and Warfare whereunto he was called, p. 28

CHAP. IV.

An account of his godly Life and Practice, and of the course of his Ministry in Taunton; given by Mr. George Newton, the Reverend Pastor there, whose Allistant he was, p.33

CHAP. V.

A further Account of his Ministry, by way of Supplement to the former : By one of his Fellow-Labourers, who was his instructed Friend, P.39

CHAP. VI.

A full Narrative of his Life from his Silencing to his Death; by his Widow, Mrs. Theodosia Alleine, in her own words: Wherein is notably fet forth with what parience he ran the Race that was set before him, and fulfilled the Ministry that he had received in the Lord,

p. 52.

A 2

CHAP.

210559

1. and lane Memeriale of

CHAD

CHAP MA

Some Notes by another, whose House be led ed in,

CHAR VILL

An intire and exact Delineation of this Holy Perfon. Pertraseture of a complear Acquisintance: Presented as the CHAP. IX.

commings, and cornels purpose of Louvening in the "Com-

A few Additions to this Character, by his intimate Friend Mr. Richard Fairclough, TAHO of brief Rolaring of his early ferring forth in the Charles of

ET the Reader know, fto affure him that Faction and Partiality are not the Authors of this Hillory) that the two full Narratives that are mor liberibed, are written by two Conformable Ministers of very great Sincerity and Abilities, who were long and infirmately acquainted with the recount of his god's Life and tracentille deslete orMe

Language I for their a rainfe of bearings

P Ender, thou art defired to take notice, That that part of the Life which is drawn up by Mrs. Theodofia Alleine, was fent up by her to a worthy Divine, by him to be published in his own Srile, the not imagining it should be put forth in her own words. But that worthy Person, and divers others, upon perusal, saw no reason to alter it, but cauled it to be printed as it is.

These Books sollowing are Published by Mr.
Richard Baxtor, and Printed for Nevil Simmons, at the Princes-Arms in Saint Pauls Church-yard

I. TIIS Aphorisms of Julification.

2. The Saints Everlating Reft, in quarra, 2. Plain Scripture-proof of Infant Church-ail inberthip and Baptisms in quarter.

A. He right Method for a fetled Peace of Confeience, and Spiritual Comforts, in 32 Directions: In octavo.

5. Christian Concord: or, the Agreement of the Affociated Paffors and Churcles of Warcefter-ibree in quario.

6. True Christianity; or, Christ's Absolute Demission, &c., In two Assize Sermons preacht at Worcester; in twel er.

7. A Sermon of Judgment preach'd at Pauls, Landon, Dec.

17. 1664. and now enlarged: in swelves.

8. Making light of Christ and Salvation, too oft the iffue of Gospel Invi ations, manifested in a Sermon preached at Lan.

rence-fury in London, in office.

9. The Agreement of divers Ministers of Christ in the County of Worcester, for Catechizing, or Personal Initructing all in their several Parishes that will confint thereunto; Containing, r. The Articles of our Agreement. 2. An E hortation to the People to submit to this necessary work. 3. The Profession of Faith and Catechism: in oftano.

Nature of the Paltoral Work, especially in private Intruction and Catechizing: in off avo.

11. Certain Disputations of Right to Sacraments, and the true Nature of visible Christianity: in quartoof Justification: Four Disputations clearing and a-micably defending the Truth, against the unnecessary oppositions of divers Learned and Reverend Brethren: in quarto.

13. A Treatife of Conversion, Preached and now problished for the use of those that are strangers to a true Conversion, Sc. in quarto.

14. One Sheet for the Minif ry. against the Malignants of all forts.

Books Printed for N. Simons.

15. A Winding-sheet for Popery.

16. One Sheet against the Quaters . A SAL Jones il

17. A fecond Sheet for the Ministry, &c.

18. Directions to Justices of the Peace, especially in Cor-

19. The Crucifying of the World by the Cross of Christ, Ce. in Quarto.

cept of Mercy, while Mercy may he had, as ever they would find Mercy in the day of their extremity, from the Living God: To be read in Families where any are unconverted in Twelves.

11. Of Saving Faith: That it is not onely gradually, but specifically distinct from all Common Faith. The Agreement of Richard Baxter with that very Learned consenting Adversary, that hath maintained his Affertion by a pretended Confutation in the end of Serjeant Shepheards Book of Sincerity and Hypocrific: in Quarto.

22. Directions and Perfuasions to a found Conversion &c.

in Offavo.

23. The Grotian Religion discovered, at the invitation of Mr. Thomas Pierce in his Vindication; with a Preface, vindicating the Synod of Dort from the calumnies of the new Tilenus; and David, Peter, &c. and the Puritans, and Sequestrations, &c. from the Censures of Mr. Fierce: in Octavo.

24. Confirmation and Restauration, the necessary means of Reformation and Reconciliation: in Odavo.

25. Five Disputations of Church-Government: in Quarto.

a6. A Key for Catholicks, to open the jugling of the Jesuits, and satisfie all that are but truly willing to understand, whether the cause of Roman or Reformed Churches be of God; and to leave the Reader utterly inexcusable that after this will be a Papis: in Quarto.

27. A Treatife of Self-denyal: in Quarto.

28. His Apology against the Exceptions of Mr. Blate, Rendal, Grandon, Enes, L. Moulen: in Quarto.

29. The unreasonableness of Infidelity, in sour parts, Oc.

in Octavo.

30. The Worcester-shire Petition to the Parliament, for the Ministry of England, defended, Se in Quarto.

31. His Holy Common-Wealth, or Political Aphori fms, in wh

Co

for

in

in

in 200

Kn

of :

nity

Books Printed for N. Symons opening the true Principles of Government, Se in Offer

32. His Confession of Faith, Ge! in Quarto anther Vi 193

33. His Humble Advice or the Heads of those Thines which were offered to many honourable Members of Parliae ment, Ge. in quarro, many to a point of the state of

34. The Quaters Catechifm; of the Quaters questioneds to the cheffinger the in the to the ten in quarto.

35. An Account of his present Thoughts concerning the Controversies about the Perfeverance of the Saints; in Quarta

26. His Letter to Mr. Drary for Pacification: in quarto? 37. The fafe Religion or three Difputations for the Reformed Catholick Religion, against Popery, Sc. in Odlavo. 1940.

38. Catholick Unity; or the only way to bring us all to be of one Religion, Oc. in Twelves.

39. The true Catholick, and Catholick Church described in twelves, &c.

£

40. The fucceffive visibility of the Church, of which Protestants are the soundest Members, Gr. in offavo.

41. A Sermon of Repentance.

42. Of Right Rejoycing.

43. A Sermon of Faith, before the King. *

44. A Treatife of Death.

47. The Vain Religion of the Formal Hypocrite, &c. in feveral Sermons preached at the Abbey in Wostmanster: in Twelves.

46. Two Sheets for poor Families, &c.

47. Short Instructions for the Sick : a Sheet.

48. A Saint, or a Bruit, &c. in quarto.

49. The mischief of Self-Ignorance, and benefit of Selfacquaintance in Octovo.

50. Universal Concord, Se. in offavo.

5k. The last Work of a Believer, &c. in Twelves.

52. The Divine Life, in three Treatifes : The first, Of the Kno vledge of God: The second, Of Walking with God: The third, Of conversing with God in Solitude: in quarto.

53. The Reasons of the Christian Religion, &c.

54. Directions for weak diffempered Christians, to grow up into a confirmed state of Grace, &c. 2. The Characters of a found confirmed Christian, written to imprint on Man's Mind the true Idea or Conception of Godline's and Christia-A Now nity: in Odavo.

Books Printed for N. Simons.

7

fed.

priv

men

.7

the

Fat

Ch

les,

firf

firl

By

w

de

ni

Se

n

V

la

55. Now or Nevers in recommend to roilling at at $6. The Life of Faith, in three parts A in quartor weak Christians to keep them from being Dividers, and

18. A defence of the Principles of Love, which are necessary to the Unity and Concord of Christians; and are delivered in a Book, called the Cure of Church-Divisions; in off ave.

59. A fecond Admonition to Mr. Edward Bagloam, written to call him to Repentance for many false Doctrines, Crimes and especially sourscore palpable Untruths in matter of Fact, deliberately published by him in two small Libels, in which he exemplifies the Love-killing and depraying Principles of Church-Dividers: And telleth the World to what Men are hastning, when they sinfully avoid Communion with true Churches and Christians, for tolerable faults: in offavo.

60 The Difference between the Power of Magistrates and Church Pastors, and the Roman Kingdom and Magistracy, under the Name of Church and Church-Government, usurped by the Pope, as liberally given him by Popish Princes: in quarte.

6. The Church Told of Mr. Edward Baghams Scandals, and warned of the dangerous marres of Satan, now laid for them, in his Love-killing Principles: in quarto.

62. The Duty of Heavenly Meditation: in quarto.

63. How far Holiness is the Design of Christianity, in 40.

64. God's Goodness Vindicated, with respect to the Dodrine of Reprobation and Damnation: in employer.

65. The Divine Appointment of the Lord's Day: in offare, 66. More Reasons for the Christian Religion, and no Reasons fon against it: in ewelves.

67. The certainty of Christianity without Popery 3 or whether the Carbolick Protestant or Papist has the surer Faith

68. Sacrilegious Desertion of the Holy Ministry rebuked and tolerated Preaching of the Gospel vindicated: against the Reasonings of a consident Questionist; in a Book called Toleration not to be abused. in Offavo.

There is now in the Press, and will in a few Weeks be Published a Christian Directory, or Sum of Practical Divinity. Wish the Persistent Cases of Conscience, Being a Promptuary and Help; 1. For young Preachers, 2. Masters of Families 3. Private Christians, in their daily Practice. In Folso. The Books Printed for N. Simons.

The Case of Divorce, and Re-Marriage theseupon discussed. By a Reverend Prelate of the Church of England and a private Gentleman. Occasioned by the late Act of Parliament for the Divorce of the Lord Rosse.

The Lords-Day; or, a fuccinct Narration compiled out of the Testimonies of H. Scripture, and the Reverend Ancient Fathers, and divided into two Books.

In Offare.

The Novelty of Popers opposed to the Antiquity of true Christianity. By Forer Du-Moulin, D. D. in Folio.

A Commentary or Exposition upon the live Books of Mosfer, together with the following Books; Jashua, Judges, Ruth, first and second of Samuel; first and second of Kings; and first and second of Chronicles, in solio.

The Beauty of Magistracy, in an Exposition on Pfal. 82.

By Thomas Hall, B. D.

.15.

for and

effa

verce

Do.

Wiit-

unes

Fact,

ch he

s of

are true

s and

racy,

ulur-

es: in idals,

d for

1 450,

Do.

TAVO.

Rea-

or aith

aked.

ainf

illed,

P#

nity

war ilio The The Souls Looking-glass; wherein a man may discern what estate his Soul stands in towards God, and what Evidences he hash for Heaven, &c. By Edward Bury, late Minister of great Bolas in Shropshire, in Octavo.

The Profit of Godliness, set forth in Five Sermons on I Tim. 4 8. The unprofitableness of worldly Gain, in sour Sermons on Mark 8. 36,37. The Parable of the barren Figuree, in seven Sermons, on Luk. 13. 6,7,8,9. Victorious Violence in two Sermons, on Mat. 11. 12. By Tho. Brindal, late Minister of Walshal in Staffordshire: in Ottavo.

The Christians daily Exercise: shewing how every Day of our Lives may be so spent, that our accounts to God at Death may be both safe and unspeakably comfortable: a Sheet in Meeter.

An Allarm to Unconverted Sinners; in a ferious Treatife, shewing, 1. What Conversion is not, and correcting some-Mistakes about it. 2. What Conversion is, and wherein it consists. 3. The necessity of Conversion. 4. The Marks of the Unconverted. 5. The Miseries of the Unconverted. 6. Directions for Conversion. 7. Motives to Conversion: Whereunto are annexed divers practical Cases of Conscience judiciously resolved, by Joseph Allein.

The Girdle of Holy Resolution, in two Sermons, on Per. 1. 13. By Well. Gearing, Minister of the Gospel, in 4to.

s koa B

Books Printed for Dorman Newman at the long of Kings Arms in the Poultry.

PRINE New History of the Kings of England, Folio, own

The

The

racti

Du

linil

De

Th brie

Gods ip by uiter M

or, S

nifté

Prea

exac

Pro

A in fi

T

Ind ible,

Stapletons Translation of Juvenal,

The History of King John, King Henry the Second, and the An I most Illustrious King Edward the First; wherein the antient e Mi Soveraign Dominion of the Kings of Great Britain over all ven. Persons in all Causes, is afferted and vindicated: With an Mr. exact History of the Popes intolerable Usurpation upon the The Liberties of the Kings and Subjects of England and Ireland orio Collected out of the Ancient Records in the Tower of London, der By W. Prin, Ely, of Lincolns-Inn, and Keeper of his Ma. of jesties Records in the Tower of London. Dr. Thokert E

Mores Hominum, The Manners of Men described in Six. Doctor Satyrs, by Juvenal; together with a large Comment, e te clearing the Author in every place wherein he seemed obscure, out of the Laws and Customs of the Romans, and the Laws ebat and Greek Histories. By Sir Robert Stapleton, Knight.

A Treatife of Justification. By George Downham, D.D. De Jure Uniformitatis Ecclesiastica, or three Books of in his the Rights belonging to an Uniformity in Churches, in which the chief things of the Laws of Nature and Nations, and of the Divine Law concerning the Confiftency of the Ecclefiaftil cal Estate with the Civil, are unfolded, by Hugh Davis LI. B. late Fellow of New-Colledg in Oxon.

Mount Pifeab, or a Prospect of Heaven; Being an Expofition on the Fourth Chapter of the first Epistle of St. Paul to the Theffalonians, by Tho. Cafe.

The Real Christian; or a Treatise of Effectual Calling; wherein the Work of God, in drawing the Soul to Chrift, being opened according to the Holy Scriptures, some things required by our late Divines, as necessary for a right preparation for Christ, and a true closing with Christ, which hath caused, and doth still cause, great trouble to some serious Christians, are with due respects to those worthy Men brought to the Ballance of the Sanctuary, there weighed, and accordingly judged, by Giles Permin, the Christian Man's Calling of a Treatile of making Re-on ones Business, wherein the Christian is directed how he perform it in his Religious Duties, in Natural Actions, his Particular Vocation, in his Family Directions, and in Folio, own Recreations. By George Swinnock, late Preacher at Meat Kingbal in the County of Buc 1.

Books printed for D. Newman.

d the An Exposition of the Song of Solomon, by James Datham, cience Minister at Glafgow; with a Preface prefixed by Doctor r all ven. h an Mr. Caryl's Exposition of the Book of Job.

n the The Sunders Sanduary; of a Discovery made of those dand orious Priviledges offered unto the Penitent and Faithful adon, der the Gospel; being forty Sermons on the Eighth ChapMay of the Romans: by Hugh Binning.

Six Doctor Robert Wild's Letter to a Friend in London, upon near, e receipt of his Majesties Declaration for Liberty of Con-near, sence; together with his Poetica Licentia, or a Friendly attin behate between a Conformist and a Non-conformist.

The Dutch Remonstrance concerning the Proceedings and D. ractices of John de Wit, Pensionary, and Rumuert van Putof an his Brother, with others of that Faction. Translated out hich & Dutch.

of

ıfti-

В.

O

po-

to

to.

th us

ht

C-

he

Index Biblicus; or, an Exact Concordance to the Holy ible, according to the last Translation. By John Jackson, linister of the Gospel at Moulson in Surrey.

Death Unfting'd: A Sermon Preached at the Funeral of The. Mon fley, an Apothecary, who died July 1669, with brief Narrative of his Life and Death; also the manner of Gods dealing with him before and after his Convertion, drawn up by his own Hand, and Published by James Juneway, Mihifter of the Gospel.

Memorials of Gods Judgments, Spiritual and Temporal or, Sermons to call to Remembrance. By Nich. Lockier, Minister of the Gospel.

A Plat for Mariners, or the Seamans Preacher; delivered in several Sermons upon Jonah's Voyage. By J. Ryther, Preacher of Gods Word at Wappin. The fulfilling of the Scriptures, or an Effay, flewing the exact Accomplishment of the Word of God in his Works of Providence performed and to be performed.

Books printed for B. Newman.

The Gentlewomans Companion or, a Guide to the 10,000 male Sex : containing Directions of Behaviour, in all Physics Companies, Relations, and Conditions, from their Containing Containing from their Containing Containing from their Containing C all Occasions. Whereun o is added, A Guide for Cook-ma Darry-maids, Chamber-maids, and all others that gots a Service: The whole being an exact Rule for the Females in general, Off speer and Twelves.

Heaven on Earth; or the best Friend in the war Times: To which may be added, A Sermon Preached at Funeral of Thomas Mosely, an Apothecary; with a full count of his Conversion, drawn up by his own hand before Of death; and published by James Janeway, Minister of the country of

A Token for Children; Being an Exact Account of Mr

Holy and Exemplary Lives, and Joyful Deaths, of fever Young Children, in two Parts, by James Janemay.

Memorials of God's Judgments, Spiritual and Tempor being S rmons preached in London, during the late Visitation American by Nicholas Lockier.

Lazarus Redivirus; or a Discovery of the Tryals Triumphs that accompany the Work of God, in and about People; laid open in several Sermons, by N. Blakie.

Och

whi

tho

od's

tne

Fenners four Sermons against Popery. Bishop Uher's Life and Death

The Life and Death of Mr. Tho. Wilfon, Minister of Mail on Hone, in the County of Kent, Drawn up by Mr. Geor Swinnock.

Hieragonisticon, or Corah's Doom; being an Answer two Letters of Inquiry into the grounds and occasions of contempt of the Clergy and Religion.

The Comparison of Plato and Aristotle, with the Opinio of the Fathers on their Doctrine, and some Chuistian R flections; together with Judgment on Alexander and Cafa as also on Seneca, Plutarb, and Petronins, out of the French

Observations on the Poems of Homer and Virgil: a Di course representing the excellency of those Works, and th perfection in general of all heroick Actions, out of the French TH

fes no orbit doun si eratheradw, on hope Tong 12.

CANC

als :

Mai

inio

nR

Cafa

ench

a D

d th

the color of the light of the color of the c Serven and lablont es right es on the male assort manet all iridar to build an the They'd a store full to up a marion, and poly Love to Cook mara was a full efore Of that Excellent Minister of CHRIST, or numications of God mico Sunnits, Exercise Physichaelon, at be

Mr. JOSEPH ALLEIN,

feve et long stier ribeit foreit ge ate Teacher of the Church at Taunton in itati amerfet frire; Affiltant to worthy Mr. Newton. Plees, if aliefe valian, Murderers had but the patiente to

I And among all pure of GALHCorv, the Lives of Wino and Help when to be not lead Office and Office of Why the Country The Introduction.

AS History is both Veful and Delightful to Man-kind; fo Church-Hiftory, above all hath the Preheminence in both ; for it treateth of the greatest and most necessary Subjects: It is most eminently Divine, as recording those Works of God, in which he most Graciously condescendeth unto Man, and those Actions of Men, which they have most nearly to do with God; and treating those Holy Societies, Events, and Businesses, in which od's Holiness is most conspicuous, and his Honour most con-H med in the World. The Narratives of the great Victories and large Dominions of Alexander, Cafar, Tamberlain of Corporations, are but the Portraiture of Phantasms, and the Respection of the Dreams of Vagrant Imaginations, or of the Respection of the Proportions in a Poppit-Play, where there is much shirt to purpose, till the Play be ended; surther than the and Hoters of God, and of the Church, and Mens everlasting of the Church and Mens everla cernments, are comprehended in them. The report of one second conversion to God, and of the Reformation of one Factor and of the notice Operations of the high spirit, by which havings up Souls to God, and conquest be world, the riesh, and the Devil; the Heavenly that the munications of God unto Sinners, for their Vivisication we have lumination, and holy Love to God, and to his Image, and the lumination, and holy Love to God, and to his Image, foliate far better than the Stories of these grand Murderers, and their great Robberies, and Murders, called land quests, and their great Robbertes, and their share than those of the pulling of the neis: Or, as it is more pleasant to read of the Building of Matties, than of their ruins; or of the Cures of a Physical trees, than of their ruins; than of the hurts done by Robberies and Erays 1 yea, or down Healing of Immortal Souls, than of the over-halty deltro performents Bodies, which would quickly turn to Duit of the onde felves, if these valiant Murderers had but the patience to man

And among all parts of Church History, the Lives of ble and Holy Men, do from to be not least Visual and Deli mpa ful; (which is the reason why Satan hath so marvelously successfully besture d himself, to copying this part of History with so many impudent lies in the Popula Legends, as make render all such Narratives afterwards. Contemptible and credible, and might destroy the Ends:) Therefore is the Sapo Scripture so much Historical; and the Gospel it self is a resist Volumn of well composed Orations, or a Systeme, or Base clopædia of the Sciences and Arts; nor yet a great Volume of unnecessary Laws; but the History of the kite and I of unnecessary Laws; but the History of the Life and D An of Christ, and the wonderous Works of Himself and his S to in his Servants; and a Record of those brief Laws and the Grines, which are needful to the Holiness and Happiness and actice; not Pittmed, But in the Substance: And though the scopes and Rules be more perfect in their kind, as wanting no be a gree or Part, yet the real Impress and Holiness in the Soul, that living Image of God, which is the end of the former, to ad of which the Scripture is but the Instrumental Caure, the and Holiness in visible Realities, is apt to affect the World sting one deeply, than in Portrasture and Precept only. Therefore, we find that Satan and his Instruments, are used to do to be a gainst the Scriptures exemplified in the Godly, which he bey have not done against the Scriptures in themselves: They body in bear the bare Precepts of a perfect Rule, who cannot be at the very imperfect practice of them in a Holy Life. Many are bornt Martyrs, that could endure good Books. Living the boliness most excretch Malice! Besides, that the best of Men and are Imperfections, which may be a pretence for Detraction, alled lander and Perfectation, when the Sacred Rule is not so boldly of the beacused, till they are ripened in Malignity and Audacity. Oldo be accused, till they are ripened in Malignity and Audacity.

In the Lives of Holy Men we fee God's Image, and Beauties of Holine's, not only in Precept, but in Reality

Sof Many a one can read with Reverence the Life of a dead hysiciate, who will neither imitate nor endure the Living. And Physicians, who will heither imitate nor endure the Living. And the doubt not but many can bear the Narrative of this holy efter persons Life, who could not have endured to see themselves of the condemned in the Exercises of his present Holy Zeal. The condemned in the Exercises of his present Holy Zeal. The containest fuch Principles and inclinations, as give an honour-soft ble testimony to Goodness; For the exercises of prudent, and impartial, equal Vertue, and eminent holiness in a Heavenly pully life, and in the joyful Hopes of the invisible Blessedness, and His fervent Love to Good and Man, and in an important Life, as in and Self-denying endeavours to do good to all, do so much and manifest and two Mans Natures, and so powerfully command and Self-denying endeavours to do good to all, do fo much and convince and awe Mans Nature, and so powerfully command a Approbation and Honour, that Satan and bad Men could not refust them; were it not that such excellent Persons are too at E. Rare, and that the satorcates burgles of the latest and the latest and the satorcates burgles of the latest and the Vol mentably imperfect, and tainted with many unlovely Faults: And were it not also for two great advantages that Saran layes hold on; that is, Mens Serangeness and Disacquaintants with those than are good, and the Standerous reports of them by where. And whoever noteth it, shall find, that most that ever hated and Persecuted men of cininent Holiness, were such as and power intimately knew them, but only at a deceitful diffance, and in a

(16)

muc

I

s S

2111 fide

eth.

Sou

less

part plau

Off

the

thei

don

Buc

B

Brot

had fuch

and

beca

Suf

own

Hol

diffe

the !

of t

10 W

in a

Kec

Do

Int

cen with

had

of a

mu

and fuch as heard them odiously deferibed by lying Tone And it is not a fmall benefit of this kind of History. the Weak and Lame Christians may fee fuch excellent B ples for their Instation; and the fluggith and diffemp Christian may have to real and lively a Reproof; and discouraged Christian may see that higher degrees of or nels, are indeed attainable; and that the dark and tros Christian may fee the Methods in which Gods Spirit work upon his Servants, and fee that a genuine Christian is a Life of the greatest joy on earth . And that the float Hypocrite may fee that Religion is a ferious Bufiness: that the factions Christian may fee that a man may be nently Holy, that is not of his Opinion, Side, or Party: that both the proud domineering Pharifee may fee that e nent Piety is separated from his Traditions, Formalie Ceremonies and Pomp: And the Opinionative Hypocr may fee that Holiness consisteth of something else than circumitantial and fiding Singularities, and in a condemn of other mens outward Expressions, or Modes of Worth or a boifterous Zeal against the Opinions and Ceremonies others.

And it is a notable benefit of this kind of History, that is fitted to Infinuate the Reverence and Love of Piery in Toung unexperienced Perfons : For before they can read me of Theological Treatifes with understanding or delight, Nan enclineth them to a pleasure in Hastory, and so their Feet Sugard to their Appetites, and Profit, is cutertained by deler And nothing taketh well with the Soul, that is not pleafant, it. Nor did he ever know the true way of educating You or doing good to any that knew not the way of drawi them to a Pleasedness, and Love to Goodness . Omne to punthum qui mifcuit utile dulcielt for it grow . mail?

On fuch Accounts, we may conclude that fuch Men Melchier Adamin, Mr. Samuel Clark, &cc, that have fery the Church with this fort of History, have done no small useless Service; which we the cashier perceive when we member at what rates now the Cliurch would purchase a History of the Lives of all the Apoliles, and all the Emine Pastors of the Churches for the first two hundred, or that he for hundred Years; yea, or but of some few of them. And he for t much of the History of the Times they lived in, is contained in a just History of fuch mens Lives.

It were to be wished that more did as Thuanus, at large ; or as Scultetus, in his Curriculum vita fua at leaft; or yet as 74. news, and many others, that give us a Breviate of the most confiderable Paffages of their own lives: Because no man knoweth usually those intimate Transactions of God upon mens Souls, which are the Life of fuch History, or at least no useless part. But men are commonly supposed to be so felishly partial, and apt to over-value all their own, and to fish for applause; and it is so meet to avoid appearances of Pride, and Offentation, that few think meet to take this course -And the next defirable is, That their intimate Friends would write their Lives at large, who are best able; as Camerarias hath sone Melandhons; and Beza, Calvins; and as the Lives of pocr Bucholezer, Chyeraas, and many more are written.

But none of all this must be expected concerning this our Brother: Because he was young, and taken away before any had thoughts of gathering up his Words or Actions for any fuch use: Those that have done this little, being his Fathers, and Seniors, who looked to have died long before him: And because he lived in a time of Trouble, and Division; and Suspirion, in which every man had great concernments of his own to mind; and in which men are afraid of praising the Holy Servants of God, left it offend those that in some things differed from them.

go oub

ti

in oat

at e alję

orth

miss

d'my

Natu Feed

lelegi lant You

rawi

9-10

The special Excellency of this Worthy Man, lay chiefly in the Harmony and Complearness of fuch particular Gifes, and all of them in a high Degree, as use to exalt the fame of others, in whom some one or few of them is found. And all these in a man fo young, as unless in one Joh. Picus Mirandula, one Men Keckerman, one Pemble, in a Countrey, is rarely to be found.

fery Do you define the Preparatives of Languages, and Philosophy? fery Do you delite the trepassions, as his Treatife de Providentia, Liwe a cented for the Prefs (of which more anon) doth thew; with feveral other Manuscripts of like nature. How throughly had with feveral other Manuscripts of like nature. How throughly mine had he searched the Writings of Philosophers > How fully had he found out how much Natural Reason doth attest, and speak in the found out how much Natural Reason doth attest, and speak for the Attributes and Providence of God, and the Principles nd he for the Attributes and From the Super-natural Revelation Pre-

$11

ali

kn

wi nq

m

th fer

ye ou

pro

L

25 fri Sid,

ma

to bat 21

for

to

fer

to !

hor

and

WC

for

Frej

int

this

cle he onl

Tuc

Go

presupposeth, and findeth ready to entertain it and befriendlit in the Light and Law of Nature > How excellently able was he to deal with the Naturalist at his own Weapons, and to shame them that call Religion an Unproved or Unreasonable thing ! No doubt it was an excellent help to his own Faith, to have fo clear and full a fight of all thoic Subfidiary natural Verities. which are known propria luce, and are out of the reach of those malignant Suggestions, by which the Tempter is often questioning Supernatural Truths, Few Christians, and too few Divines do dig fo deep, and proceed fo wifely, as to take in all these natural helps; but overpailing those presupposed Verities, do oft leave themselves open to the sub il affaults of the Tempter, who knoweth where the Breach is; and will fome times urge fuch Objections on them, as need a Solution by those helps which they are ignorant of.

Do you look for an high degree of Zeal? In this he was Marvellous, being a living Fire, continually burning in the Love of God and Man; still mounting upward, and kindling all that were capable about him; As prone to Fervour and Activity, as earthen Natures to Cold and Idleness; not wear of well doing; not speaking slightly, and with indifferent af fection of the great Fehovah, and of holy things; but with the Reverence and Seriousness, as became one that by Faith ffil faw the Lord: Not doing God's Work with an unwilling of a fluggish heart, as if he did it not, nor as those that fear be ing lofers by God, or of giving him more than he deferveth or getting Salvation at too dear a rate: But as a Soul that was Kin to Angels, which are active Spirits, and a flame of Fire that came from God, the Lord of Life, and Father of Spirits, and liveth in God, and is working and passing up to God. As one that knew that none other work was worthy o a Man, (and approveable by any Reason, save that which made a Solve to Sense) except onely the Souls Resignation Obedience, and Love to God, and the feeking of the Heaven durable Felicity, in the use of ail those Means which God i Nature, and Scripture, hath appointed for the obtaining of it.

It is too common to find Men that are long and deep Students in Philogophy, and the Doctrinals, and Methods of Thes logie, to be found none of the most Zealous or serious Divines and 200 and (19) and for the learnedst Doctors to be but of the coursest and weakest fort of Christians. Because they exercise the Head almost alone, and take little pains to work what Truths they know upon their Hearts: As if the bead were more distant with Sin, than the Heart is, and the Heart had not as much need of a Cure: Or as if God's Grace did not as much dwell in the Will, as in the Understanding; and the Heart had not the noblest Work to do: Life, Light, and Love, are the Infeparable Influences and Effects of the Sanctifying Spirit: But yet sometimes the Indisposition of the Receiver, may keep out one of them more than the rest. Light alone may be profitable to the Church, by breeding Light in others: But Life and Love also are as suitable means to produce their like, as Light is. And without them, it is not a flashy Light and frigid knowledge that will save the Soul.

And on the other fide, alas, how ordinary is it for Zeal to make a bussle in the Dark, and for those that are very earnest to be very blind? And strong Affections (not to God hinself, but about the exercise of Religious Duties) to be guidest by a weak Understanding: And so for such well-meaning Perfons, to make most haste when they are out of the way, and to divide and trouble the Church and Neighbourhood, by their fervency in Errour, till late Experience hath ripened them to see what mischief their Self-conceitedness hath done? O! how happy were the Church of God, if great Understanding and servent Zeal, were ordinarily as well conjoyned, as they were in this worthy Man, dit

is he ame

ing ?

ve fo

sties.

thole

iefti-

e few

in al

Veri

of the fome.

on by e wa

n the rdling

r and wear

nt af

th the

h ffil

ng o

ar be rveth

al tha

me o

her o

up to rthy o

hick

Ation

God i

ing o

And many have much Reading, and plentiful Materials for Learning, who yet were never truly Learned, as being Injudicious, and never having well digeted what they Read into the habits of folid Understanding. But so was it not with this our Brother, as his very Letters sully wirness: How clearly and solidly doth he resolve that great Question which he speaketh to? As one that had Theologie, not in his Books only, but in his Head and Heart.

And I account it no small part of his Excellency, that his post judgment led him to dwell so much on the great Effentials of Theo Godliness and Christianity; the Love of God, and a holy, just, ivines and sober Life: And that he laid not out his Zeal diseasedly, and unproportionably, upon those outward Circumstances.

B o

le

m

m fui

fit

K

me

WO

wi

the

wa

fter

pro

talt

ed

Fivi

бу

Ex

ext

Liv

of

Pie

ous

Ch

wai

gte:

fort

sha Slo

hon

can skil

veri

abo

We:

tho

let

where the noise doth call off the minds of too many, from the inward life of Communion with God: His Sermons, his Conference, his Letters, were not about Mint and Commin, but about the Knowledge of God in Christ, which is the Life Eternal.

Yet that he did not profittute his Conscience to the Interest of the Flesh, nor subject God to the World, nor deny Self-denyal and the Cross of Christ; nor Hypocritically resolve to this of the costly part of Religion, on pretence of Indifferency of Smallness of any thing, which he thought God forbad him; you need no other proof than the following History.

And he was not one of those weak well-meaning Minifters, who think that their meer Honefy is enough to deferve the eleem of worthy Paftors; nor was he one of those proud and empty Persons, who think that the Dignity of their Function is enough to oblige all to bow to them, and to be Ruled by them, without any personal Wisdom, Holines, or Miniferial Abiliries, fuitable to their Sacred Office : But, fo great was his Ministerial Skilfulness in the publick Explication, and Application of the Holy Scriptures, fo Melting, and Winning, Convincing and Powerful, his unaffected facred Oratory; fo wife and ferious his private dealing with particular Families and Souls, that it is no wonder if God bleffed him with that great fucces, which is yet visible among the People where he lived, and which many of his Brethren wanted. For he did not by flovenly Expressions, nor immethodical Extravagances, nor unfound, injudicious, erroneous Paffages, nor by jocular Levities, or by nauseous Tautologies, make Sermons, or Prayers, become a fcorn; Nor give advantage to carnal cap ious Hearers, who for every hair, not only abomimate the wholfomest Food, but also write Books to breed their own Disease in others: Nor yet did he by an affected unnatural curiofity of Jingling Words, and starched Phrases, make Sermons like Stage-plays, and destroyed the Peoples Edification, or their reverence of Holy Things: But he spake as one that spake from God, in the Name of Christ, for mens Renovation and Salvation, in a manner fuitable to the Weight and Holiness of the Matter.

And his fervent Zeal and Thirst for the Peoples Conversion and Salvation, was a great advantage to his Success. For man do much good, that was not example defined to do good; If he long not for mens Conversion, he is seldom the means of Conversing many. For there is a certain lively fexical surface, necessary in all our Studies, to make our Sermons suitable to their ends, and in all our streaching, to make them set to reach mens Hearts; without which they are as a blunted, sunface, or as a Bell that's crackt, or any other unmeet instruments, unable for their proper use. And though God can work Miracles, and therefore can work without means, or without their fitness, yet that is not his ordinary way, and therefore is not to be expected.

(21)

And his great diligence from House to House in private, was a great promoter of his Successes I never knew Minifler, who prudently and diligently took that course, to be unprosperous in his Work; but by them that have wisely and falthfully used it, I have known that done, that before se mo ed incredible: And truly, when I think of fome men yet hving, and some few (too few) places (great places) which by the great Abilities, and excellent Preaching, the Personal Exhortations, and Catechizing, the unwearied Pains, and the extraordinary Charity to the Poor, with the holy exemplary Lives of their Pastors (I can scarce forbear naming four or five. of my Acquaintance) have been to generally feationed with Piety, that the great Market Towns have become as Religion ous, as the felected Members, which some think onely fit for Churches; it makes me conclude, that it is principally for want of fuch a Ministry, that the World is fo bad, and that greater things are not done among us. And that for another fort of Men to cry out of the People's Ignorance and Prophaness, and oblinate Wickedness, while their Unskilfulness, Sloath, Miscarriage, and Negligence is the cause vis as little honour to them, as to the Phylician or Surgeon, that when he can cure but few, doth cast the blame upon the Patient, when skilfuller Men do cure the like.

And his great Humility in flooping to the meanest, and conversing with the poorest of the Flock, and not affecting things above him, nor infinuating by flatteries into men of worldly Wealth and Power, no doubt helped on his great Successes; though it was not the way to Preferments, Honours, no nor

B 3

Safety

For,

his

in.

eft

elf.

e to

bad

ini-

TVE

oud

un.

be

, or

t, fo

ica-

and

Dra+

ular

him

ople ted.

Ex-

Ser-

e to

omi-

heir

nna-

nake

fica-

one

Re-

eight

Safety and Quietness to the flesh. Had Balaam dealt throughout fincerely, it had been a very honourable and comfortable word to him from King Balack, Num. 24, 11. I thought to promote thee to great bonour, but los the Lord hath kept thee back from honour. It is more honourable and comfortable to be kept from honour by God and a goo! Confcience, than to be honoured by men on finful terms.

And the Moderation and Peaceableness of this holy Man. was very exemplary and amiable; which I the rather mention. because in these distempered times of Temptation, too many think that the excellency of Zeal lyeth in going to the furthest from those they differ from, and suffer by. And because some will think, that knew no more of him, but onely how oft and long he lay in the Common Goal, that fure, he was fome violent unpeaceable Zealot. No, his Zeal was for Peace and Quietness, for Love and for good Works: He was not used to inflame men against Diffenters, nor to Back-bite others, nor to make those odious that were willing enough to have made him fo: He fled from one extream with fear, and suspition of the other. 'He was indeed himself a Silenced Minister in a Place, and among a People who had his heart, and who had been bleffed with his fruitful Labours; and his Judgment was, That it is Sacriledge for a Minister Confecrated to God, to alienate himself, and violate that Covenant and Ministerial Dedication, by giving over his Work as long as he hath ability and opportunity, and the Peoples Souls have a true necessity. And therefore he chose that long Imprisonment, rather than voluntarily to Surcease. But whilst he had Liberty, he went of to the publick Affemblies, and was a Hearer where he was wont to be a Teacher, and encouraged the People to do the like. He spake not evil of Dignities, nor kindled sedicious Principles or Passions in the Peoples minds, nor disaffected them against Authority, nor aggravated his own Sufferings to exasperate their minds against fuch as he fuffered by; though how great they were as to the Effect, the Sequel will acquaint you. In all, he did in parience poffess his Soul, and learned still more patience by the things. which he fuffered, and raught others what he learned him-Telf

But above all, it is his highest excellency in my eyes, that not. Ldet help Bot and Hou

had

pour God cnot he h

that was and tors ous: difte and and the · dift ufed Pra

Ear Flei of: t The Wo him det GGit ! wa

> to pla

rig

ani WE (25)

bugh.

torta-

ought

the

table

than

Man,

tion

ma-

the

be-

nely

, he

tor

W25

bite

h to

and

nced

art,

his

cra-

ant

ong

ave ori-

he

Vas

ra-

ni-

-0

ig-

he

ce

gs.

2-

c

halfeen Heaven opened, and Christ in his Glory, and could not but fpeak of the unneverable things which he had deon. Ideny not but his vigorous active Temper, might be a great help to all his holy Alacrity and Joy, in his healthful State: But when that frame of Nature was broken by fuch Torments, and was then diffolying, to hear a dying Man about fixteen Hours together, like the ferventest Preacher in the Pulpit, pour out his Soul in Praises and Thanksgiving; and peak of God, of Christ, of Heaven, as one that could never speak enough of them; and that with a Vivaerty and Force, as if he had been in former Health, and to tryumph in Joy as one that was just laying hold upon the Crown; surely in this there was fomething that was the Reward of all his former Praise and Thankfulness; and that which must needs tell the Auditors the difference, not onely between the death of a Righteous Believer, and the wicked Unbeliever, but the weak and distempered Believer; also the difference between a found and a difeafed Christian, and between the tryumphant Faith and Hopes, of one that faw God and the World invitible, and the Haggering Faith, and trembling Hopes of a feeble and distrustful Soul; and between the Death of one that had been used to converse in Heaven, and to make Thanksgiving and Praise his Work, and of one that had been used to cleave to Earth, and make a great matter of the concernments of the Flesh, and to rise but little higher in Religion, than a course of outward Duty animated most with troublesome Fears Though he died not in the Pulpit, yet he died in Pulpita Work.

And I must also note, how great an advantage it was to himself, and to his Ministerial Works, that he was possessed deeply with this true Sentiment, That the PLEASING of GOD is the proper ultimate end of Man, (not doubting but it includeth the notion of glorifying him) for thus his Heart was rightly principled, and all his Doctrine and Duties rightly animated.

And as in all his Ministry, he was extraordinarily addicted to open to the Hearers the Covenant of Grace, and to explain Religion in the true Notion of Covenanting with God, and Covenant-keeping, and greatly to urge men to deliberate well-grounded Resolutions in this Holy Covenant (as one that that understood that Baptizing is truly Christening, and that Baptism and the Lord's Supper are our Sacramental Covenanting, and that we need no new Descriptions nor Characters of Grace and Church-Titles, if we understand what these Sacraments truly mean:) So God was pleased to give nive him a certainty and sense of his Divine Faithfulness, in fulfilling the Promiles of his Covenant, and a lively fense of all ho of the Benefits of it; and his Faith in God for the performance of his part, was as strong and fixed, as was his own Resolution in the strength of Grace to be true to God: I compare not his resolution to God's Fidelity; for what comparison between his resolution to God's Fidelity; for what comparison between his resolution. God and Man, but onely to his belief of God's Fidelity, and dan his comfort in the affurance of the Conclusion. And as he orth was refolved through Grace never to forfake Christ, so Christ et, did never fail him, nor forfake him. And in his Ministry, et in his Sufferings, and his Death, this Faith, this Hope, this ence Heavenly Joy, was his Death, this Faith, this Hope, this Heavenly Joy, was his Support and Strength; and in the lefe Valley of the shadow of Death, he feared no evil. But when his Flesh and Heart failed, as to natural strength, the Lord was the Rock or Strength of his Heart, and never failed him, he was the Rock of the death of the Righteoms, and let may last end be like his. my last end be like his.

(26)

I have premised this general Skeleton, as Limners and pentagon Builders first draw the Pillars and Stamma of their Work, which the following Narratives will fill up: And I have given you this general Index, or Contents, of what is distinctly contained in the Sequel. For the History is not drawn up by one Hand, nor as by one that intended rather to shew what he could say, than what the Person was and did. The internet weeks he could fay, than what the Perfon was, and did: But it is such the brief Account of the several parts of his Life, drawn up jent. by several of his most worthy and judicious Friends, that were present, or most intimate and familiar with him. And I take this to be the best Advantage to a History, as to the Truth, which should satisfie the Incredulous, though not as to Uniformity, and a sluid Stile, which might please the Curious. For a Man's Life is like a War, or Battle: No dispersed War, no nor any one particular Battle, can fully be described by the Observations of any one man alone: But one Man is but in one place, and seeth only that which is within his own Proper Station did advantage shim to see: spect, which his proper Station did advantage him to see:

But

wh

(127)

when Intelligent Men from each part of the Army do nd that one bring in their feveral Narranges, all fetitogether, Covebe a fatisfactory History of the whole War, or Fighte Chara when a Man's course of Life is transient, and one is his what miliar in his Youth, and another at riper Age; one in the to give inversity, and another in the Ministry; one in Prison, and fulfill other at Home; one in Health, and another at Death; it of all ho one of himself that can credibly report the whole. And crefore though by variety of Stile, it may feem a Cento, of tween at though one part be written by a Woman, (his Widow) as he orthy Pastor whom he assisted; another by a Fellow Ministry, and another by a Scholar of his intimate acquintance, Sc. of this ence of inquestionable Verity, especially to all that know the control of the contr ution. this ence of unquestionable Verity, especially to all that know the less Worthy and Faithful Persons, that for my part, I take it when scoming to me with greater advantage, than if it had been him, evener Thred, drawn out by one skilful Hand alone; as him, he writing of the History of Christ by the Four Evangelists; advantageous to the Christian Faith. The plainness and and pen Breast of a Godly Widow, and of so many Holy and of credible Friends, is another kind of Evidence, than the ontrived History of a Learned Man, which is fitted to the iven interest of a Party, to which the persons Rame and Honour City are the requisites. I know not home History of this Nature emeth requisite: I know not how a History of this Nature up ould come to the World with fairer humane Evidence of unt is puctionable credibility than this doth.

And let Posterity know (for I need not tell it to this preent Age, who live in the Light) that though this Servant of Christ excelled very many of his Brethren, yet is it not that fuch Men are wonders in this Age, that his Life is fingled out th, to be recorded to Posterity: But because his affectionate Friends and Auditors, are forwarder than many others, hereby tell the World, what Effects his Holy Doctrine, and Example hath left upon their hearts: It makes the Writers heart to bleed, to think how many Thousands of Souls do perish by Ignorance, and Ongodliness, even in England, and how many was Kingdoms of the World are deprived of the Gospel,-

пр

ere

ake

or-

or

no.

he

ON

If

If you ask, What Labours he hath left behind him? I hadeth to fiver; First, The great numbers of Holy Souls converted, on have fivmed, and edited by his Doctrine, and the Example of restationally Life. The Specimen; or Exemplar of a right Minist has Proof the Gospel, which he hath left to the Neighbour Minist to gath that knew him, and to those that now possess their Place at Tkn and to all the Ministers of the Land, and to the Ages the two care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come: For who will not be convinced of the care yet yet to come yet that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to Panl's Bonds, Phil. 1. 15. And those that a selection to panl's the panl the panl the Chr for himself, and is not Rich towards God.

for himself, and is not Rich towards God.

Secondly, And for Writings, who can expect that a manual that entered upon the Sacred Ministry at Twenty One year ophis of Age, and died about Thirty Five, and lived in such expectations Ministerial Labours, should leave many Books be used. hind him of his Writing, (in an Age wherein we have had too many Books, and too few such Ministers) yet the following History tells us, He is the Author of that Synopsis of the Covenant, in Mr. Richard Alleins Book. He Printed an Exposition of the Assemblies Catechism, with an Exhortation to use it. As also Prayers for his Peoples use: And left a Book to work on the Unconverted, not yet Printed. And he hath left (alas, imperfect!) a good part of a body of Natural Theology, called Theologia Philosophica. I. De cognitione Dei. 2. De Existentia Dei. 3. De Nominibus & Substantia Dei. 4. De Attributis Dei in Genere, & Speciation de ejus Unitate. 5. De Perfectione Divina, &c. 6. De Decretis Divinis. 7 De Providentia Divina. 8. De Cultu Divino, de l'recibus. In all which he fuccinctly delivereth in a very good Latin Stile,

the

(629)

Christian Dollrine; and then by way of Annotations, A deth the Testimony of the Antient Philosophers: so that ed, or a have together a sum of sound Doctrine, and the sullest of restation of Ethnicks consent that ever I have seen; being Minish a Promptuary for any one that hath not leisure to peruse, sinish to gather to such particular uses the Philosophers themselves. Place at I know not where you can find the like. For every Sheet es the two of his Doctrine on the Subject, there is about eight, twelve, or more Sheets of Collected Attestations. The good are all imperfectly written, onely that De Providentia, both his Ultimam Manum, and is Licensed for the Press; but see the sing Latin and Greek, and such Books having too sew Buyes to printing it, much less altogether; though indeed (though to at persed) it is pity they should be separated. The Title of that is Licensed Piece is, Theologia Philosophica, sine Philosophia perfect) it is pity they should be separated. The stille of that is Licensed Piece is, Theologia Philosophica, sive Philosophia irms reclogica specimen: In quo Asterns Dei Providentia solium se stura sumine comprebatur, validissimis rationum momentis in monstratur, quoad Partes, Species, Objecta, & explicatur; it in amnes denique Adversariorum Objectiones sirmarin; it in Aristotele, Platone, Chalcidio, Sallustio, Firmico, Empiriche o, Jamlico, Antonino, Epecteto, Proclo, Simplicio, Cinone, Seneca, Macrobio, Porphyrio, Xenophonte, Galeno, manutarcho, Plotino, Tyrio, Appuleio, Alcinoo, alissque Philosophica. year ophis, Oratoribus & Poetis, tum Greas tum Latinis, ad be ucubratione J. A. Anno Dom. 1691.

and the state of t

d too

lowtatieft a ural Des. Des. ate.

De

In

ile, the

and the English of the March of the second of the second at the contract of partial CHAPPER uniak go iz s a vang masara do sing antin ar ku ila

Mide visit gai

CHAP II.

Sixtee Oxfor

He Place hofer

e abl

A Brief Relation of his early setting forth in Parts. Christian Kace, from his Childhood: Also se RIE Memorials of bis Industrious and Prosperous par Be fuit of Learning, and of his singular Piety duri proofs his Abode in the University. Written by an ELove Witness thereof.

OF MR. Foseph Allein, Eorn in the Devizes in Wilesbire, han the Year 1633. During his Child-hood, shewed for elf is fingular sweetness of Disposition, and a remarkable Deain gence in every thing he was then imployed about. The gence in every thing he was then imployed about. The observable Zeal of Religion that appeared in him, was in hey the centile and the would not be disturbed or moved by the coming any Person accidentally into the places of his Retireme This and other fruits of a Serious and Gracious Spirit, were common observation of the Family. From this time forwards the whole course of his Youth, was an even-spun three was to Godly Conversation, which was rendered more amiable, his sweet and pleasant Deportment towards all he converse with. While he thus openly began to run his Christian Rate by his Brother M. Edward Allein, a worthy Minister of the Given she brought up in Preparation, to succeed him in the Word of the Ministry. Which good Motion, his Father glat be brought up in Preparation, to succeed him in the Word of the Ministry. Which good Motion, his Father glat black hearkned unto, and speedily prepared to put it in Execution Such was his great diligence at School, that he redeem that for his Book, the time allotted for Recreation. In the span of about four years, he attained to very good knowledge in of about four years, he attained to very good knowledge in the Larin and Greek Tongues, and was by his School-Maffing adjudged fit for University-studies. After which, he abode for ser time with his Father in the Country, where a worthy Minist of the Place read Logick to him; And when he was about Sixteen years Old, he was placed in Lincoln Colledge in Oxford.

(31)

He had not been long in the University, but a Wiltsbire Place becoming void in Corpus Christi Golledge, he was hosen SCHOLAR of that House: The Pregnancy of his Parts, affuring all that his own MERITS were the SOLE To TRIENDS, the ONLY MANDAMUS which brought him

Being entered and fetled, he gave both early and conftant dur proofs of his indefatigable Industry; Signalizing thereby his an E Love to Learning, and evidently Demonstrating how much e abl orr'd to be found a Drone in fuch a Hive, He effeemed Colledge an other guess place than a VICTUALING

Colledge an other guess place than a VICTUALING HOUSE, and coming into this with a Nobler design, han onely to TAKE COMMONS: He thought himself happy in nothing so much, as the advantage he had sain'd for the best Aquists.

I have known too many, who in the very Places which hey have got by their Parts, have lost the Parts which got hem their Places; and peradventure had been excellent scholars, had they never had those Incouragements to be so, which they unhappily won from their Competitors. For dieness enervates the strength of Nature, and makes those longer that might have been Mercuries; but this Person was some of those. He quitting himself so well at the Election, was but a Pledge and Earnest of his doing better afterwards. He made it appear to all observing him, that when he stood, he should be the strength of his doing better afterwards by his stuture studiousness attainable in it, demeaning himself ske one, who even in the dayes of his Vanity, well understood how prophane a thing it was to live in a School of Learning, to otherwise than as if it were a Sanchuary for Lasiness, or a Place priviledg'd with nothing else but Leave and Opportunity to eat the Founders Bread, with no other Sweat of the Brow, than what's provok'd in a Ball Court.

Never had Learning a truer Drudge, since she kept House edge in Oxford. At her Work, he was both day and night, think-Mass edge in Oxford. At her Work, he was both day and night, think-Maffing all time too little, no pains too much that he ipent in her e for Service: When but a School-Boy (as I have heard) he was insist plea

-

mol

it,

bec: fity

him

rice

the

jefti

ven

(bu

con

who fore

tho

the

for

the

the

cee

tab

one

of

like car

of

the

observed to be so studious, that he was known as much by this Periphrafis [The Lad that will not Play,] as by his name And fure I am; when in the University, he was so generous and ingeniously Bookish, that he deserved to be called, The Scholar, who by his good will would do nothing elfe but Pra

Courteous he was, and very civil to all Acquaintance : Bu if they came to visit him at Studying times, though they were fure enough to find him within, yet withal fo busie general ly with better Company, at to have no leifure to let them in And if at this they were moved, and murmured, and wer away offended with him, he cared not. That notable Prin ciple of Joachimsus Fortisus, which thut him up, bearing his out, and being his relief in all fuch Cafes; Viz. Better it that they bould wonder at thy rudeness, than thou boulde lese thy time; for only one or two will take notice of that, by all Posterity would be sensible of this.

His Appetite to his Bufiness being that to him, which A larms in their Chambers are wont to be to others; feldomi was that he could be found in Bed after Four in the Morning though he had flayed up on the fame occasion on which h then rose till almost One over-night.

For though whilst Junior Scholar, he obtained many weel! SLEEPING DAYS for others, yet in many years he could hardly vouchfafe himfelf fo much as one.

And as thus he begrudg'd himfelf his Rest, so thus also hi very Food: It being as familiar with him to give away his Com wa mons (at least) once, as with any others to eat theirs twice be day. As if he who was never fatisfied how many Volumns for cel yer he devoured, had looked upon it as a kind of gluttony, to Ex cat that Meal, the time of eating which might without prejudice to Health, have been better fpent upon a Book. Porphyrees With, viz. That he were able to live without eating and ver drinking at all, that fo he might be wholly taken up about nobler things, is fure the Wish of Thousands in the Learned vin World, Certain I am it was his, and that if Piety would en have fuffered him, and they had not been fuch dear Friends, he would have fallen out with God, for tying his Soul to fuch a me Body as could not sublist without (what he would often call no -fo better than time-confuming things) Meat, and Drink, & Sleep. co That

(33)

ich by name

HUOT

, The

t Pra

Bu Were

neral

em in

l wer

Prin

g hin

r st pulde

, 64

h A

omi

mine ch h ree!-l

To hi

Com

rice !

s fos

ly, to vould

s, he ich a leep.

That

reju

coul

That this his laborious Studioufness, was as delightful and pleafant to him, as the highest Voluptuousness can be to the most fenfual Sot : I conclude not onely from the constance of it, but from his charging Matrimony, to which afterwards he became a Subject, with no greater tyranny, than the necesfity which it laid upon him, of being kinder fometimes unto himself, than he was wont to be in Oxford. For being Married, an intimate Friend of his of the fame Colledg, who had thoughts of changing his Condition, wrote to him, and (ina jefting manner) defired of him an Account of the Inconveniences of Marriage; to whom he returned this pleasant (but very fignificant) Answer. Thou wouldest know the Inconveniences of a Wife, and I will tell thee; First of all, whereas thou rifelt constantly at four in the Morning, or before, the will keep thee till about fix. Secondly, Whereas thou useft to fludy fourteen Hours in the day, the will bring thee to eight or nine. Thirdly, Whereas thou art wont to forbear one Meal a day at least for thy Studies; the will bring thee to thy Meat: If these be not Mischiess enough to afright thee, I know not what thou art.

Through his Industry (with God's Bleffing on it) he exceedingly prospered in his Studies, and quickly appeared a notable Proficient. He would often fay, he chiefly affected rational Learning, valuing Skill in Languages; onely for the fake of things, and those things most, which were of all most likely to improve his Judgment. And the truth of his words was sufficiently evident: For all that knew him, knew him to be as good a Linguist, so as smart a Disputant, and an excellent Philosopher. When he performed any Academical Exercises; either in the Hall, or Schools; he seldom or never came off without the Applause, or (at least) Approbation rphy of all, but the envious; who also themselves, even by their and very Detractions, in spight of their Teeth, commended him ; bout there being to the Ingentious, no furer Sign almost of his haarned ving acquitted himfelf well, than that fuch as they could not endure it should be faid fo.

Certain I am, his pregnant Parts, and early Accomplishments, were so much taken notice of in the Colledge, that so all no foon almost as he was but Batchellor of Arts, he was even compelled to commence a Tutor; and presently intrusted f o fpeak speak within compass) with as great a number of Pupils as any in the House. Some of his Scholars are now Graduates in Divinity, and singular Ornaments of that sourishing Society, (as Mr. John Rosewel, B. D. Mr. Nicholas Horseman, B. D. &c.) others of them, who lest the University, have not gone without considerable preferments in the Church, (as Mr. John Peachil, Ltely Lecturer at St. Clements Danes without Temple-Bar; Mr. Christopher Coward, Prebendary of Wells, &c.) And I make no question but all of them (which are yet alive) honour his memory, and will at any time be ready to express the grateful sense which they retain of the advantage they received from his prudent Instructions, and pious Examples.

(34)

'Tis true indeed, he had no advancement proportionable to his Merits whilft he flaid amongst us: But if there were any thing to be blam'd for that, 'twas nothing else but his own Self-denyal. For a Chaplains place becoming void, he chose that before a Fellowship, which he knew well enough, in a little time, would of courfe, and by right, have been certainly his. And this choice having been made by him at first deliberately, he never after in the least repented; but rather often reflected on with a great deal of content and comfort. For he had alwayes fuch an huge affection for Prayer, that he and his Friend could hardly ever walk and diff courfe together, but before they parted (at his defire) they must also go and Pray together. And what a pleasure then may we think it was to him, twice a day to engage a whole Society in fo dear an Evercife, with a Let us Pray! Frequent. ly indeed have I heard him fay, He prized the Imployment above that, which generally we reckoned much better Prefer ment, and look'd upon it as his honour and happiness.

And 'twas well with us that so he did, it being hardly possible that the Duty of the place should have been by any discharged better than it was by him. We were not used to a great deal of Noise, vain Tautologies, crude Essusions, untelligible Sense, or mysterious Non sense, instead of Prayer. His Spirit was serious, his Gesture reverent, his Words sew, but premeditated and well weighed, pithy, solid, and to the full expressive of his as truly humble as earness define. He loathed the sawciness, which went by the

Nam

nar

had

tur

pra

fed

and

war

and rat

us

me

frai

wh

Ik

30

73

Sal

he

fold

mo ane

Pra

dev

the

lut

For

ren

wh

wa

to hin

ere

Go

feat

not 1we

Sw

he

(35)

name of Holy Boldness, and drew near to God; not as if he had been going to play with his Mate, but as became a Creature overaw'd with the Majesty of his great Creator. He prayed with the Spirit, and the Understanding also; confessed Sin with real Grief, inward Hatred, and Detestation; and beg'd the Mercies he came to beg, like one that felt the want and worth of what he beg'd, with Faith and Fervency, and true Importunity; his Affections working, but working rationally as well as strongly.

6 25

ates

oci-

nan,

not

(as anes

y of hich

e be

the

and

able

Were

t his

, he

ugh,

been

m at

but

and

Pray-

dif

they then

vhole

uent-

ment

refer-

ardly

y any

ufed

fions.

ad of

, his

, fo-

sear-

y the Nam

And this (as I doubt not it prevailed above) so it had on us the more powerful influence, because we found it to be no meer Religious Fit, but exactly agreeable to the habitual frame and disposition of the Man. 'Tis a shrewd reflection which Suidas makes on the Philosopher Salluft, (how truly I know not, he is neither civil nor just to some) Zamesie ό οι βπύπο παράδοξο πάπιν ανθρώποις, ότα μου φιλοσφάντ 3 έπι το καιρπεράπεριν, τά ή ποίζοντ 3 έπι το γελοιύπερον. Sallust's carriage was strange to all men; For though when he read his Philosophy Lectures, he did it gravely and very folemnly; yet at other times he plaid the Child, and that most ridiculously. And there are too many, both Chaplains and Preachers, who justly merit as bad a Censure: Whilst Praying and Preaching, they appear demure, and mighty devout; yet take them out of their Desks, and Pulpits, and they are as light, as vain, and frothy; yea, extreamly diffolute as any others. But it was not fo with this Person: For he was alwayes composed and serious, grave and reverend, above his Age. He fet God alwayes before him, and where-ever he was, laboured to live as in his Presence. It was his folemn business to be Religious, his great endeavour to walk by Rule; his main defign in all his wayes, to approve himself unto his Father, which saw in secret, and his daily exercise to keep a Conscience void of offence, both towards God and towards Men.

As for the Pleasures and Delights of Sin, he highly naufeated and abhorred them; was so above them, that he could not endure them: Quam suave istin suavitations carere! How sweet was it to him (as said once St. Austine) to want those Sweets! And as for lawful delights and pleasures, although he did divert unto, and now and then solace a while, and

C 1

entertail

entertain himself with them, yet how little was his heart und to them, or was he (generally) taken with them! He was as formal in using them, as some Christians are in God's Service; as they fomtimes do pray, as if indeed they prayed not; and hear, as if they heard not; So he rejoyced in such things as these, as if indeed he rejoyced not. He looked upon them, compared with others, as upon his Righteousness; compared with Christ's, as very vanity, yea, dross and dung. His conversation being in Heaven, his sweetest Comforts, and most prifed Refreshments were Divine and Heavenly. His plied Soul took often a delightful prospect of Eternity, viewing the wou Regions of Blifs and Glory, looking wishly at (her Fathers he of Scat) the Mount of Joy, aspiring after a nobler Mansion, and him, hugging her self in a comfortable perswasion, that it would or an not be long ere she should be it. And hereupon as he little minded any Ear hly Glory, so he little minded or cared for thing the poor and empty delights of Sense. lov'

However, He was not morosely pious, nor did his Affection A to God and Goodness, and the things Above, make him either a Timon or a Cynic; (It had not then been so true and genuine, and of so right a kind as it was) Homolitical Virtue he cordinas much excelled in as any other, and the decried Morality study found ever with him very great respect, being recognized as with-an integral part of his Religion.

He was of as sweet a Disposition, and of as highly civil a that I Conversation, as a man (subject to the common frailties of and t humane nature) almost could be. He had scarce a Gesture tot he which did not seem to speak, and by a powerful and charm-Affecting Rhetorick, affect all whom he conversed with. Were it of the not that so many other moral Persections and Excellencies hew. besides that, it might as truly be faid of him, as, by the Historian, was of the Emperour, in respect of his clemency, That he was Totus ex comitate, made up as it were of nothing else but Courtesie and Affability.

For a Friend, I think I may fafely fay, He was one of the truest that ever Person had interest in; and withal, as pleatian that as a serious Christian could well with. He loved not ave trashly, but where he loved, he loved intirely; and who Eye ever came to be entertained in his Affections, were fure to fain find a warm Lodging: There was no more but only one thing of ke which pftru

whi

not

will

in t

dem

forn

his

Gra

le i

which he thought too much for any, for whom he thought not his Love too good. He could not fin (knowingly, and willingly) for any Friend he had on Earth. When Lelius in the presence of the Romane Consuls, (who after the condemnation of Tiberius Gracchus, pursued all that had been formerly intimate with him) came to enquire of Caises Blofises, his chiefest Friend, What he was willing to have done for and Gracchus: He answered, Allthings: What all things, re-His plied Lelius? Suppose he had willed you to burn our Temples. the would you have done it at his request? I know, faid Blofine, hers he could never command it; But if he had, I had obeyed and him. I confess this Friend did never dare to be fuch a Friend, ould or any thing like him: But Ofque ad Aras, fo far as lawfully ittle and conscientiously he might do any thing, he stuck at nothing wherein he might serve, pleasure, or gratise them he lov'd.

And yet his Love was not ingrossed by his Friends onely; for whilit to them he shewed himself friendly, good nature as well as Christianity, obliged him to be kind to all, and (actording to his ability to the Poor bountiful. He was too frugal to throw away his Charity, yet not so covetous as to with-hold it when he met with Objects to whom 'twas due, He did not think the little he had so much his own, as that his necessitous Brethren might not claim a part in it; of and therefore gave them as if he had been paying Debts, and sture of bestowing Alms. But of all most admirable was his arm. Affection to the Souls of others, and his desire to do good or them. This indeed was most conspicuous, and seemed to ncies hew,

ifto-

That

elle

un

was ser-

ot:

uch

up-

efs.

ing.

Velut inter Ignes Luna minores.

Much like the Moon appearing bigger, and shining brighter pleathan the other Stars. The Sage Pythagoras, I remember, and not ave this very mystical, but wise Advice unto his Scholars, who Existant unit (as its conceived) that they should re to rains; intending by it, (as 'tis conceived) that they should thing of keep their Reason (of which the Brain is an immediate which astrument) unto themselves, but still employ it for the advantage of others. And fure this Person did forbear to eat, but by his abstinence, fed many others with his Brains, s. e. his inlightned, improved Reason. Some there are, to my knowledge, who at this day do verily think, they should never have found the way to live, to live for ever, if he had liv'd unto himself. Eminent was his Charity to the poor Prisoners in Oxford Goal; among whom first (as the Reverend Mr. Perkins did at Cambridge) of his own accord he began to Preach, and held on constantly (whilst he remained in Town) once a fortnight, for a Year and upwards, encouraging them to give attendance on his Ministry, by a confiderable Allowance of Bread (that Week he Preached) at his proper Cost and Charges. Frequent Visits also was he es'd to make at other times, to other persons in the World that were but mean and low; his main design (together with the relieving of their Temporal Wants) being to affift their Souls, and help them forward in their way to Heaven. And indeed, in all his Converses, where-ever he was, he was like Fire, (as Salluft was used to say of Athenodorus) if a mar marta ta magazeiusva; Warming, Refreshing, Quick ning all that were about him, and kindling in them the like zeal for God and Goodness, which he had in himself. Who ever they were that came to visit, or be acquainted with him, it was their own fault if they got not by him fo much good, as to be for ever the better for him. It was hardly poffible to be in his company, and not to hear fuch things from him, as if well weighed, might have been enough to make one out of conceit with Sin, and in love with Vertue, as lone as one lived. Though he did not fay (as Titus once) yet by his actions, we may judge he thought that he had even quit loft a day, when none had gained fomewhat by him. He lived as if he had been quickned with that faying, (which I have Somewhere met with in Tertulian) Quid prodest effe, quod eff non prodest? To what purpose is it to live, and not to live to fome good purpose?

But this was that (this ardent Love to the Souls of men) that quickly deprived us of his company, it carried him down into the Countrey, where, how he demeaned and carried him felf, let others speak.

viz

hun

fw:

hay

tob

ing

can

whi

thir

fwa

in I

onl

clof

mo

1 gre

110

Ha

Brains, are, to should, if he to the

(as the accord

he rewards, by a iched) was he d that ith the

their

And

e was

) iča.

uick

e like

Who

with mud

pof-

from

make long

t by

quite live

have

d ell

e to

ien

nim-

AP.

CHAP. III.

A brief Character of him by that Revered Person Mr. R. A. who was nearly related to him, shewing how eminently he was qualified for the Ministerial Service and Warfare, unto which he was called.

OF his Extract, I shall say little; He was the Son of a godly Father, Mr. Tobie Allein, fometime of the Devizes, an understanding, affectionate, prudent, and signally humble, and experienced Christian; who died suddenly, but fweetly; his Son furviving him not above a year or two. having been languishing for sometime, at length he seemed to be upon recovery, and went about his Houle; on the morning before he died, he arose about Four; about 10 or 11 he came down out of his Closet, and called for fomething to eat, which being prepared, he gave Thanks, but could not eat any thing: His Wife perceiving a fudden change in him, perfwaded him to go to his Bed; He answered, No, but I will die in my Chair, and I am not afraid to die; He fat down and only faid, My Life is hid with Christ in God, and then he closed his Eyes with his own hands, and died immediately. No more of the Father: Concerning his Son I shall speak,

What he was, and what his temper and behaviour was,

As a Man. As a Christian. As a Minister, great acquired Abilities, concerning which I shall need say no more, there being a suller Account given by another Hand.

2. O.

2. Of a composed, grave, and serious temper and behat leftr viour, not at all morose, but sull of candour, free, affable, withy chearful, and courteous.

2. As a Christian, He was for exemplary Holiness and in So Heavenliness of mind and life, much elevated above the ordical unit nary Rank. He lived much in delightful Communion with ars ar God, his Soul was greatly exercised in Divine Contemplation, frequent and he would sometimes speak (to provoke others, whom her; he wished the same delights, to the same exercise) what inestable m, (pleasure, sweetness, and satisfaction his Soul had found in his Taur stated Meditations on the Divine Attributes, distinctly one by Bonone. In his Discourses he would speak much and passionately the the to the commending and exalting of the Divine Goodness, and s Hea of the inexpressible dearness and tenderness of the Divine 2. H. Love. In Prayer he was not ordinarily so much in confession eway or complaining of Corruption and Infirmities, (though he dissepressed a due sense of these) as in the admiring and praising ideal. of God in his Infinite Glorious Perfections, in the mentioning 2, I his wonderful Works, particularly of those Wonders of his as, he Love revealed in Jesus Christ. In some of his Letters to me, hich when he had been speaking of the Grace and Goodness of God d su to him, (of the sense whereof he would seem to be even quite ade h swallowed up) he would break off with some such Expressions sful. as these, I am full of the Mercies of the Lord; O love the Lord 3, for me; O praise the Lord for my sake; O help me, help me to nong

His whole Life was adorned and beautified with the admi-es, a rable lustre of his particular personal Graces.

cour 1. He was a Man of Love. His fweet, amicable and Mas Acquaintance, and made way for the entertainment both of his ferious Counsels and severer Reproofs: He grew dear un-to the Saints that knew him, because they saw in his very face pone and all his Carriages, how very dear they were to him. His mpla compassion to those in distress, his bounty to those in want, any (wherein he abounded beyond his ability) his forbearance in nd pot case of Offences, his affectionate Language and Carriage, his affection and language and readiness to all obliging Offices of Love to his Relations, to now his Friends, to Strangers, to Enemies, did evidently declare ing how he loved them. Especially his Love was let forth in hey fuller beha: Verstreams upon the Congregation where he exercised his stable, with the People of his Care, were the People of his Detail His ardent longing for their Souls, his rejoycing in sording and breakings of cordinal under any of their Falls or Instruction, his uncessant lates with ars among them, both publickly, and from House to House, article forward and affectionate Letters, to them when he was about the stable of t ation, if equent and affectionate Letters to them when he was abom he at; his earnest desire to live and die, and be buried amongst estable em, (declaring to them, That of he died within sifty miles in his Taunton, his Will was to be brought and buried there, that one by Bones might be laid with their Bones, his Dust mingled nately theheir Dust) these all declare how greatly they were in , and Heart.

(41)

Divine 2. He was a Man of Courage. 1. He feared no Dangers in ession eway of his Duty, knowing that He that walks uprightly, gh he alks surely. In cases less clear, he was very inquisitive to aising aderstand his way, and then he fixed without fear. oning 2. He feared not the faces of Men, but where occasion of his as, he was bold in admonishing, and faithful in reproving; o me, nich ungrateful Duty he yet managed with such Prudence, God d such expressions of Love, and compassion to Souls as quite ade his way into hearts more easie, and his work more fucfions sful.

Lord 3. He was a son of Peace; Both a zealous Peace-maker me remong differing Brethren, in case of personal Quarrels and ontentions; and he was also of sober and peaceful Princi-dmi-es, and an healing Spirit, as to Parties or Factions upon the count of Religion. He had an awful and reverend regard and Magistrates, abhorring all provoking and infolent expressi-

And Magistrates, abhorring all provoking and infolent expressions in his is, or mutinous and tumultuous Actions against them.

A. He was a Man of Truth and Righteousness; Both as to tunis own personal practice, and also was much in pressing it face pon others, especially upon Prosessors of Religion, to be existent and passengers, and punctual in performing. O how often the interpretation of the sine of Prophis is to be guilty, have understood both by Word and Writing how much his Soul was grieved at them, for the wrong in hey did hereby to their own Souls especially, and the reproach ller proach they brought upon the Gospel of our LORD.

5. He was of great Patience. To fay nothing of his behavior iving under fufferings of other kinds, his great weakness and lor languishing for some years together, and his constant serening to G calms and quietness of Spirit in all that time, so far from ess at the least touch of murmuring, that he was still blessing to Lord for his tender dealings with him, have given the Wor a full proof that he was of a patient Spirit.

6. He was Eminent in Liberality; He not only did, b devised liberal things, and by liberal things did he stan He studied and considered how he might both give his self, and procure from others, Relief for those in Want He gave much Alms daily, both in the place where H lived, and where-ever he came. When there were Collect ons at any time for pious and charitable Uses, He stirred others to bountiful giving, both by Word, and also by his E ample. In the Collection for the Fire in London, He ga publickly fuch a liberal proportion as he thought meet to an example to others; and (as I came occasionally to unde ot p stand) lest it should be misjudged, he had been known to gi more, he gave more than as much again fecretly. He diib buted much amongst his Relations. His Aged Father, 'a divers of his Brethren, with their large Families, being fall into decay, he took great care for them all, and gave educat on to fome, Pensions to others, Portions to others of them and notwithstanding all this, he had but a very small man of Stock to begin upon, and never above 80 pounds per An that I know of, and near the one half of his time, not about half so much; only by the industry of his Wife, who for a vers years kept a Boarding-School, his Income was for the time confiderably enlarged. He took great pains in journe ings abroad to many Gentlemen, and other rich Men in t Coun'rey, to procure a standing supply for such Non-conform ing Ministers as were in want.

7. He was of an Active Spirit. He went about doin good. As he was abundant and uncessant in his Labours the Congregation where he lived; So where-ever he came, would be feattering some good Seed, not only among the A dult, but he would be dealing much with the Children i those Families into which he came, asking them Question el in

fthe

nd n hich

e lay

Child

hem,

reque

nd V

nd F

Coun

nore

eedi

he l

he W

ng te athe

he le nim)

he ha

could noug

time

this:

in h espie

much

an A

a So

noth

Har

B

3.

DRD. chavior niving them Counfel, and sometimes leaving them his Counfel in Writing. In his own Family (which was great whilst is Wife kept Boarders) He was exceedingly industrious; far from the Gravity of his Carriage, contempered with much sweet-ess and affability towards those young ones, begat in many of them, the Awe and Love, as of Children to their Father, nd made way for the fuccess of his Indeavours with them, lid, by hich was considerable upon divers of them. At Bath, while e lay fick there, he fent for many of the Poor, both Old and Children, and gave them Catechilms, engaging them to learn hem, and give him an account; who came chearfully and requently to him, being encouraged hereto by his Familiar nd Winning Carriage; he giving them Money, his Feeding nd Featling them. He would fometimes fay, It's pity that founsel of our Lord (Luk. 14.13.) of Feasting the Poor, was no his E nore practifed amongst Christians.

le ga 8. He was of an humble Spirit. Though God had so exto to lefpifed up in his own: He was low in his own eyes, and dish despifed the praise of men. His whole carriage was without dish despifed the praise of men. dish despited the praise of men. His whole carriage was without the least oftentation, and he was of great condescention to the Weakest or meanest. Once or twice he was complaint and to me of the pride of his Heart. I (judging it to proceed then the pride of his Heart; I (judging it to proceed then tather from an holy jealousie of himself, and a tenderness of the least spark of that evil, than from any power it had upon him) replyed to him (as I remember) to this purpose: If he had a proud Heart, he had it to himself, for none else tould perceive it. But he answered, Some men that are proud to the mough, have more wit than to let every one know it. Another time making the same complaint in a Letter to me, headed time making the same complaint in a Letter to me, he added this: But my naughty Heart, whilft I am writing this, is in hope you will not believe me. So watchful was he, as to espie and check the least motions of that Lust, which he so much abhorred. 3. As a Minister. He was fetled in Taunton-Magdalen, as an Affistant to the Reverend Pastour there; with whom, as a Son with the Father, he ferved in the Gospel. I shall say nothing here, there being a large Account given under the Hand of that worthy Person.

ftan

e him

Want

ere H

olled

rred

form

doir

arsi

ne,

ne A n i

ions

ivin

But besides his Labours in that great Congregation, in which which alone he was fixed, the care for many other Congres open Ce. I tions was dayly upon him. He went forth frequently into om w veral places about the Countrey, amongst the poor ignor hdraw people that lived in dark Corners, and had none to take a of them, and both Preached to them himself, and stirred ends o many of his Brethren: whose forward minds readily joyn s it W with him, to fet up standing Lectures amongst them. s led l had an Eye to poor Wales, and had an influence upon ints a sending over some Ministers to them: He resolved also have gone and fpent fome time amongst them himself, and all the diffwafions of his Friends, from his great Weakn and Unfitness for Travail, he was hardly with-held from Purpose.

(44)

CHAP. IV.

An Account of his Godly Life and Practice, and the Course of his Ministry in Taunton; given him Mr. George Newton, the Reverend Paftor the man whose Assistant he was.

MR. Foseph Allein came to my Assistance, in the Year who 1655, being then in the One and Twentieth years har his Age; and we continued together with much mutual & n m. tisfaction.

fo I foon observed him to be a Young Man of Singular Acree k complishments, Natural and Acquired. His Intellectual mor folid, his Memory strong, his Affections lively, his Learnin blica much beyond the ordinary Size: And above all, his Holines here eminent, his Conversation exemplary; In brief, he had se of good Head, and a better Heart. ard

He spent a considerable part of his time in private con-Selfverses with God, and his own Soul; he delighted very much d m to perform his fecret Devotions in the view of Heaven, and

t:

he I

ractio

His C

avenl

to E hen h he p nefs, n hin n the Lips he fi

ole ar Hou

> t hi his co

(45)

open Air, when he could find advantages fit for his puraingrege. He used to keep many days alone, and then a private into om would not content him, but (if he could) he would gners heraw himself to a solitary House, that had no Inhabitant kea And herein he was gratified often by some private ends of his, to whom he did not impart his design, Perjoy is it was, that he might freely use his Voice as his Affection. Is led him, without such prudential considerations and rejon into as would have been necessary in another place; and also he might converse with God without any avocation or raction. raction. eakn

His Conversation with others, was alwayes mingled with rom evenly and Holy Discourses; he was ready to Instruct, to Exhort, and to Reprove, which he never failed to do hen he thought it necessary) whatever the event might be : he performed it usually with such respect, humility, tenness, self-condemnation, and compassion, that a reproof n him did feldom, if at all miscarry.

n the Houses where he Sojourned, their Hands fed one but Lips fed many; God freely poured Grace into his Lips, he freely poured it out. None could live quietly in any and ble and open fin, under his inspection: When he came to House to take up his abode there, he brought Salvation nen in him; when he departed, he left Salvation behind him. ther manner was, when he was ready to depart, and to transt himself into some other Family, (as that the exigence his condition and the time, did more than once constrain to) to call the People one by one into his Chamber : e Ye in whence it was observed, that scarce any one returned year in dry eyes.

al S in matters of Religion, and the First Table, his strictness

and

the

fo exemplary, (which was near to rigour) that I have The exemplary, (which was hear to rigour) that I have a real received more than others; His Righteougness exceeded not the armin blican only, but the Pharifees too. He was much taken with bline infieur de Renty, (whose Life he read often) and imitated that had he of his Severities upon better grounds: How often have eard him to admire (among many other things) especially con-Self-annihilation, Ariving continually to be Nothing, that much d might be All

But

But here he stayeth not, he was a Second-Table-man ting man of Morals; I never knew him spotted in the least de with any unjust or uncharitable Act. And I am sure the m ng f failings of Profesiors in this kind, touched him to the quick, and brought him low; drew Prayers, Tears, C plaints, and Lamentations, both by Word and Letter him, though yet the Lord would not permit him to be and reap the Fruit before he died.

He had an eminently, free, and bountiful Heart to Power; and I may truly fay, beyond his Power; yea, n beyond it, he was willing of himself. It is but seldom the best do need restraint in these Matters; and yet we of some who brought more than enough, yea, much than enough, Exod. 36. 5. So that there was a Proclam on iffued out, to put a stop upon their Bounty, and it is ded prefently, so the People were restrained. Men unive ly almost do need a Spur, but he did rather need a Br When other men gave little out of much, he gave much of little; and while they heapt and gathered up he dif fed and scattered abroad. He did not hide himself from own Flesh, but was helpful to Relations, as some of t have great reason to acknowledge. His charity began at h but it did not end there; for he did good to all (according his opportunities) though especially to the Honsbold of I He considered the Poor, he studied their condition; he vifed liberal things; he was full of holy Projects, for the vancement of the good of others, both Spiritual and Ter ral; which he purfued with fuch irrefistible vigor, zeal, activity, that they seldom proved abortive.

He was a man of extraordinary condescention to the mities of weaker Brethren, as they that are most holy: best acquainted with themselves, are wont to be : Instru those that were contrary minded to meetines; If God pe n, an renture would give them repentance to the acknowledge tinus the Truth: Restoring those who were overtaken with as with the Spirit of Meekness. So dealing with them in a loving, fweet, and humble way, as confidering him lons t left he also might be tempted. In their confessed fail He was no way supercilious, captious, and censorious me, would maintain a good opinion of another, upon a name very

Ch ped a rond lecd ugh fe He w puta , an ical ny w y wi leafin o car WO oftle h the Reli all P n, be Mei fubf all, tter. ectio

His

an Livi ent

in i

not

(47)

off do ting than many others, who (to fay no more) were not the ming stricter, holier, humbler, than himself would be. the S Charity, Believed all things that were to be believed, and ped all things that were to be hoped. And when he deeprondemned the Action, he would not judge of the Estate: tter f to be leed he had more Charity for others than himself; and ugh he were fufficiently mild in his judgment of others, he rt to s severe enough in his judgment of himself.

s, C

ea, n dom

ich i

He was not Peremptory in matters that belong to doubtful putations: He laid no more weight and stress on Noti-, and Opinions in Religion, that wholly depend upon wel ical Arguments, than belongs to them. He was not like oclar by who are so over-consident in their determinations, that it is y will hardly hold communion; Nay, scarce so much as anive leasing conversation with any man (how gracious soever) a Bro cannot think, and say, and act in every thing as they do.

much would allow his Fellow-Members the Latitude that the would allow his Fellow-Members the Latitude that the offle doth; and so would freely and familiarly converse the those who are sound in the Faith, (as to the simdamentals of the Religion) and who were strict and holy in their Lives, all Perswasions.

His Ministerial Studies were more than usually easie to being of a quick Conceit, a ready, strong, and faith-of F. being of a quick Conceit, a ready, strong, and faith-Memory, a free Expession (which was rather nervous the substantial, than soft and delicate) and which was best Ter all, a holy Heart that boyled and bubled up with good tter. This furnished him on all occasions, not with warm teal, ections onely but with holy Notions too. For his heart their san Epistle, written not with Ink, but with the Spirit of Living God: And out of this Epistle he drew many exactly ent things. In the course of his Ministry, he was a good in, and in his heart a good Treasure; whence he was wont at thin and in his heart a good things, both in publick and wate.

He was apt to Preach and Pray, most ready on all octions to lay out himself in such Work, yea, spending himself in such Work; When my sudden Dissember seised up ections onely, but with holy Notions too. For his heart fail in fuch Work : When my fudden Diftemper feifed upious me, put him at any time (as many times they did) upnam very thore and fuddain Preparations, he never refused not so much as fluctuated in the undertaking: But being called, he confidently cast himself upon the LORD, Governsted perfectly to his Assistance, who had never failed himself and so he readily and freely went about his Work with sund diffraction.

(48)

and so he readily and freely went about his Work with distraction.

He began upon a very considerable stock of Learning, and the began upon a very considerable stock of Learning, and of his Years; and grew exceedingly in his Abilities. Call Graces, in a little time; So that his profiting appeared all Men. He waxed very rich in Heavenly Treasure, by make Blessing of God on a diligent hand, so that he was better in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He found that precious Promise sent in no good Gift. He say and he sale shall have abundance. He sent multiplyed so fast, that the Napkin could not hold them out in multiplyed so fast, that the Napkin could not hold them in admiration) Whence hath this man these things? He up though the worth Minister say of him once, (not without me admiration) Whence hath this man these things? He up though the same shall be supposed in the same shall be supp wasted, and at last consumed himself.

He was not farished to spend himself in Publique, but fed Y constantly to go from House to House, and there to deal icu

when

(49)

icularly (where he had a free Reception) both with the Governours, and with the Children, and with the Servants led his of the Houshold, instructing them especially in the great with sudamental necessary Truths of the Law, and of the Gospel, where he observed them to be ignorant: Gently reproving hem, where he found any thing amis among them. Exhortoporing them to diligence, both in their general and particular tities. Callings: Entreating them who were defective, by any neans to fet up the Worship of God in their Houses, and to nake them little Churches, by constant reading of the Scripure, that so the Word of Christ might deeply dwell among, fent and in them richly, by careful Catechising of the Children, and the Servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants, if the Governours were able; by frequent set in the servants and they me that he could, into the state of every particular Person, and Evening, that so they might avoid that dreadful indignation which hangs over, and is ready to be poured out upon the samilies that call not upon God. He made the best inspection that he could, into the state of every particular Person, and wought them at least to outward conformity; so that he was an another set of the servants and set is set in the segmental set in the servants and help them.

Thus did he wear himself away, and gave Light and Heat to others: He usually allowed himself too icularly (where he had a free Reception) both with the thus Body, whereof in the end he died.

E ICU

He was the Gravest, Suictest, most Serious, and compobut led Young Man that I had ever yet the happiness to be acquainted deal quainted with. And yet he was not rigid in his Principle When his Moderation was known to all men that knew him.

(50)

CHAP. V.

A further Account of his Catechizing, both in Pattures lick and Private, by Mr. G.

Hen he did Catechize the greater Sort in Publick, & fore he was Silenced, his manner was to begin with Prayer for a Bleffing upon that Exercise: And having prope fed fome Questions out of the Affemblies Catechism to the he was careful, not onely to make them perfect in rehearfir the Answers there set down, but also to bring them to a cle understanding of the fence and meaning of the faid Answer and of all the Terms and Phrases in which they are expresses And to draw some practical, useful Inferences from the Heads of Divinity contained in them. Moreover, when a distinction was necessary for the clearing up of the matteri hand; he would be also instructing his Catechumens therein Now this he would do, by proposing several other Collater Questions, besides those in the Catechism; which Question together with the Answers to them, himself had before draw up, and fent to them in Writing.

In the Even of the Lord's Day, his course was to repeat his Sermon again, in the publick Place of Worship, where abun dance of People constantly reforted to hear him; which when he had done, several Youths were called forth, which die give him an Account of the Heads of all his Sermon by Me mory.

As for his Method in going from House to House, for the instructing of Private Families, it was this; He would give them notice of his coming the day before,

Defiring that he might have admittance to their Houses, to converse with them about their Soul-Concerns, and that they would have their whole Family together against he came woul ligion Twers Alfo and (and o to lo from own Hea

Tim

be en clear prac gent grea that truf > thou ral prad ous nef COL

tot

with

go mi fing COL in be liv pre 25

to Fa di

When

(5I)

nciple When he came, and the Family were called together, he would be instructing the younger fort in the Principles of Religion, by asking feveral Questions in the Carechism; the Anwers to which he would be opening and explaining to them. Also he would be euquiring of them about their spirtual Estate and Condition, labouring to make them fensible of the evil and danger of Sin, the corruption and wickedness of our Na-tures, the miscry of an unconverted State; stirring them up to look after the true Remedy proposed in the Gospel, to turn from all their fins unto GOD, to close with Christ upon his own Terms; to follow after Holiness, to watch over their Hearts and Lives, to mortifie their Lusts, to redeem their Time, to prepare for Eternity. These things as he would be explaining to their understandings, that they might have clear apprehensions about them; so he would be pressing the practice of them upon their Consciences, with the most Cogent Arguments and Confiderations, minding them of the great Priviledges they did enjoy, the many Gospel-Sermons that they did or might hear, the many Talents they were intrusted withal, and the great account that they had to give to the GOD of Heaven. Telling them how fad it would be with them another day, if after all this they should come short of Salvation. Befides, he would leave with them feveral Counsels and Directions to be carefully remembred and practifed for the good of their Souls. Those that were ferious and religious, he would labour to help forward in Holiness, by answering their Doubts, resolving their Cases, incorraging them under their difficulties. And before he did go fro.n any Family, he would deal with the Heads of that Family, and fuch others as were grown to years of differetion, fingly and apart: That so he might (as much as possibly he could) come to know the condition of each particular Perfon in his Flock, and address himself in his Discourse as might be fuitable to every of them. If he did perceive that they did live in the neglect of Family Duties: He would exhort and press them to set up the Worship of GOD in their Families, as Reading, Prayer, and directing them how to fet about it, and to take time for fecret Duties too. Such as were Masters of Families, he would earneftly perswade, and defire, as tiey did tender the Honour of Chuist, and the welfare of their D a prope

then

arfin

a cle

[wen refled

the

en ar

teri

rein

aten tions

iram

at hi

abun

when

a die

Me

or the give

's to

they

ame.

Then

(52)

Children, and Servants Souls to let them have some times very day for such private Duties, and to encourage them is the performance of them; neither would he leave them to but a fore he had a promise of them so to do. Sometimes also be payould himself go to Prayer before his departure. This we poly his Method in the general; although with such necessary wariation in his particular Visits, as the various State as thrist Condition of the several Families did require. If the Family reat where he came were ignorant, he would insist the longer and prinstructing and Catechizing: If loose, in reproving and to his Linkructing and Catechizing: If loose, in reproving and to his Linkructing and Catechizing: If loose, in reproving and to his Linkructing and to spend five afternoons every Week in such as each certifes, from one or two of the Clock, until seven in the even ing: In which space of time, he would visit sometimes the Lingrich as they were greater or less. This course he would a second

He did use to spend five asternoons every Week in such a secretises, from one or two of the Clock, until seven in the even at a sing: In which space of time, he would visit sometimes that I or sour Families in an Asternoon, and sometimes more, as costing as they were greater or less. This course he would take throughout the Town; and when he had gone through he would presently begin again, that he might visit every he mily as often as he could. He often did bless GOD for the great success that he had in these Exercises, saying, that GOI, reshad made him as instrumental of good to Souls this way, as he his publick Preaching, if not more. When the Ministers of spethis County of Somerset, at one of their Associations which is countered they held, were debating whether, and how far is were incumbent upon them to set up private Family Instruction in their particular charges; Mr. Allein was the Man that they pitched upon for to draw up his Reasons for that pronver since, together with a Method for the more profitable made in he

An Abridgment of what he drew up, here followeth.

th:

ldain

To being the unquestionable Duty of all the Ministers of the fore Church of Christ, To take heed to all the Flock over whom the cir I Holiest hath made them Overseers; and to Teach, and Preach not only publickly, but from House to House; not only takey hing a general care of the whole, or calling out the chiefest of the Sheep, for our particular Care and inspection, as the manner of some is, and leaving the rest to sink or swims mem By 2.

(53)

time them is the start of the s hem i timee

would not be amiss to begin with the Inferiours; for many in hear their Children, and Servants Examined contenteddain to give an account of them elves before their Superiers, though their Superiours would disdain to give account of the fore them; and here it will be necessary to enquire into reach I. Their Knowledge; Here we may examine what progress ly takey have made in the Principles of the Doctrine of Christ, hiefefold try them in the Catechism.

as the 2. What they do gain by the Publick Ministry, what they wint: member of the Sermon last heard.

Bat 2. In their Practice.

1. In their Duty towards God; where it may be useful to inquire, if they make Conscience of secret Prayer; the state necessity of it may be expressed, the nature of it opened, an invate some heads of Prayer explained; and if they be such as new gagin it, it would be useful to commend to them some Forms, in 6. the present help.

2. In the Daties of their Relations towards men; and mem, they be preffed to Faithfulness, Diligence, and Uprightness ith the Duties they owe to those that were over them, it would't 7.

very convenient,

3. Into their Estates; and here we may take an account them, what they think of the state of their Souls, shewing thang the paucity of them that are faved, the desperate deceits ness of the Heart, the infinite danger of being deceived, the wiles and devices of Satan to beguile them; from whene Vifde and fuch like Arguments, we may press them to be diligent ites. inquiring, what the case of their Souls is, to be jealous them'elves, where we may take occasion to shew them,

1. That every Man by Nature is in a damnable effate.

2. The absolute necessity of Conversion.

3. By what Signs they may know whether they remain pon in, or are delivered from, this Estate: which Signs should ion. few, plain, certain, and infallible, founded upon the cle evidence of the Word; and because the Searching Worke oot of fo displeasing to the Flesh, that it might disingage them lange come too close at first: It may not be amiss to deter this, to peed we had got fome interest in their Hearts, by a loving tend carriage.

3. The Inferiours being thus dealt with, may be dismiss to their feveral Imployments, and then we may take occas on to discourse with the Heads of the Families, proceeding as prudence shall direct upon some of the fore-mentioned par ticulars.

. I. We may enquire whether they perform this great Dut of Prayer in the Family, offering them helps if they need.

2. We may press them to Instruct and Catechife their Fa milies.

3. We may exhort them to the first Sanctifying the

4. If they are poor, we may draw forth the Hand of our Sounty towards them.

reate

aay m

1.

ather

2.

neir

rere

3.

ty;

Chil

nftr

duln

pent

our i

gent

5

5. Hust er; the f. If we know any evil by them, we may take them aside ed, an tivately, shewing them the sinfulness of their practice, and as no gaging them to promise reformation.

Terms, f. 6. We should leave with them some few particulars of reatest weight, often repeating them till they remember and hem, ingaging them to mind them, till we shall Converse shane with them again.

ould 7. Our dealing with them, must be in that manner that nay most prevail, and win upon their hearts.

To With Compassion; being kindly affectioned to them, there is Children.

The With Prudence; Warning and teaching them in all whene Vision, applying our selves to the several Cases and Capagent ies.

To the Rich in this World, shewing more respect as their places require, charging upon them those Duties that the resequired of them is special.

1,

Fa

our

re required of them in special.

2. To the Poor, you may be more plain and free, preffing emai pon them those Duties that are most proper to their condi-

cles 3. To the Aged, we must be more reverent, labouring to orker oot out of them the love of the World, shewing them the langerousness of Covetousness, and the necessity of making s, to peedy preparations for Eternity.

The Men are to be exhorted to Temperance and Sobriting diligence in their Collings for ty; diligence in their Callings, &c.

niffe 5. Women to Meekness, Humility, Subjection to their ceal Husbands, and constant insusing good Principles into their edin Children.

3. With Patience, being gentle to all Men; in meeknefs pa instructing those that oppose themselves, bearing with their Dut dulness, rudeness, and disrespectfulness, waiting for their Red. pentance.

4. With all Faithfulness, giving no occasion of offence, that our Ministry be not blamed.

the 5. With Zeal, as Apollo, fervent in Spirit, teaching diligently the things of the Lord, &c.

6. With Plainness, not betraying their Souls to Hell, and ours with them, for want of faithfulness, and closeness in D 4 our our dealing with them; it being not sufficient in general There that no Drunkard, &c. shall inherit the Kingdom of Heaver her but telling them plainly, and particularly, such is your Loo so in ness, your Ignorance, that I fear you are in an unconvenient that.

7. With Authority; dealing with them in the Power:

ons,

One

this

ith v ved

As

ras

He

onve

urad

Th

Demonstration of the Spirit, four 8. With Humility; Not lording it over God's Herita orthy but condescending to men of low Estates: Not disdaining what go into the Houses of the meanell,

The fort of Directions are more special, respecting the shrift veral forts of our People, who may be ranked into four; Heads; the Ignorant, Prophane, Formal, Godly.

First, For the Ignorant; Our Work with them will be, at h

1. To convince them that are Ignorant, which may be done by shewing their inability to answer some plain family div

2. To shew them the dangerous, yea, the damnable nature e of Ignorance.

3. To Press them with all possible earnestness to labors En after Knowledge.

4. To answer their carnal Pleas for their Ignorance, wh wilful.

Secondly, For the Prophane; It would be necessary to deem, with them convincingly, shewing the certain damnation thank M are running upon.

Thirdly, For the Formal: With these we must deal searchat ! as f ingly, and shew them,

1. How eafily Men may mistake the Form of Godliness the ac the Power.

2. The undoing danger of resting in being almost a Chad in flian.

2. The most distinguishing differences between an Hypey of crite and a fincere Christian.

Fourthly, For the Godly: To these we must draw for this xcee Breasts of the Promises, opening to them the riches and sulm cous of Christ; inquiring into their growth in Grace; quickni and them to labour after Assurance, to be stedfast in the Faith; a he given: in suffering; sailigent in doing the Will of Christ Ar zealous of good Works, alwayes abounding more and more whol Then general There is one thing more, in which his Self-denyal, and leave her Graces, were very exemplary: Namely, his faithful-r Loo is in reproving the mifcarriages of Professors, sparing none, need hether High or Low, whether Ministers or Private Chrians; yea, although they had been never fo dear in his affective ons, and hever so obliging in their Carriage to him, yet it found in them any thing that was reproveable, and blame-error orthy, he would deal with them faithfully and plainly about ling what sover the issue and event were.

One time when he was going about such a Work, he told a

One time when he was going about fuch a Work, he told a the hristian Friend, with whom he was very intimate and fami-to four; Well (fayes he) I am going about that which is like to ake a very dear and obliging Friend, to become an Enemy: Il be, ut however, it cannot be omitted, it is better to lose mans may your than GOD's. But GOD was pleased (then, as well samily divers other times besides, when he went about Business this nature) to order things for him, better than he could nate we expected, and so to dispose of the heart of the Person with whom he had to deal, that he was fo far from becoming labours Enemy for his confcientious Faithfulness to him, that he yed him the better ever after as long as he lived.

, wh As to his judgment about the Arminian Controversies, as ras I can perceive, who have discoursed with him about to deem, it was much-what the same with Doctor Davenants, on that Mr. Baxters.

He was a Man of a very calm and peaceable Spirit, one fear hat loathed all tumultuous carriages and proceedings; he as far from having any other defign in his Preaching, than ness the advancement of the Kingdom of the Lord Jesus, by the conversion and salvation of Souls: This was the mark that he a Chad in his eye; this was that for which he laboured, and venared, and fuffered, and for which he thought he could never Hypery out himself enough.

Though he was but a young Man, yet in his carriage he was orthoxceeding ferious and grave, and wi hal very humble, courfuln cous, and affable, condescending to discourse with the poorest icknished meanest Persons, for their spiritual good, assoon as with

th; who greatest and richest.

Chri And indeed so unblameable and convincing was he in the nore whole of his conversation, that there were very sew religious Ther and and fober Persons that knew him, either in Town or Co trey, either Ministers or People, (yea, though some of the differing in judgment from him) but did highly approve him. And for his Brethren in the Ministry here in these par fuch was his holy and discreet Deportment amongst the US that he had as great an influence upon them, as few oth had the like.

He was full of Holy Projects, often bethinking himfelf what ways and means he might more effectually promote onour of Christ, and the benefit of Souls, and whatfor ehh apprehended to be conducing to these highest ends, would profecute with that wifdom and vigour, that he feld failed of bringing it to a comfortable and successful issue.

Of which Projects, this is one which I shall here infert. H ving confidered how much the Conscientious, and freque performance of the duty of Self-Examination, might tend the bringing down of Sin, and furtherance of Holiness, by od to t you in heart and life; He did earnestly press the said Duty on Hearers in his Preaching, directing them in the performan and not only fo, but dealt with them also in private about it, and got a promise from the most of them, that they wo every night, before they did take their Rest, set about t Duty; and spend some time in secret, on purpose to call the felves to an account, how they had carried it that day, by pr poling feveral Questions to their own hearts, which Ques ons he had referred to several Heads, and drawn up for the in writing.

And not a few of them have acknowledged, that they ha cause to bless GOD, who stirred him up to put them up this practice, which they have found very helpful to them!

their daily Christian Walk.

Wh

Pfal

Ve

V

Q

e on i

Q.

gth

Q.

g Go

Q.

atea

hd I

Q.

Q.

ami

Luke

ifits Bron

lsai.

USEFUL QUESTIONS.

Whereby a Christian may every day examine himself.

Pfal. 4.4. Commune with your Hearts upon your Beds.

Very Evening before you fleep (unless you find some other time in the Day more for your advantage in this Work) fequefter your felf from the World; and having your heart in the presence of the Lord, charge it before od to answer to these Interrogatories.

For your Duties,

Q. I. Did not God find me on my Bed, when he looked for eon my Knees? Job 1.5. Plal.5.3.

Q. 2. Have not I Prayed to no purpose, or suffered wanderg thoughts to eat out my Duties? Mat. 18.8,9. Jer. 12.2.

Q.3. Have not I negletted, or been very overly in the read-g God's Holy Word? Deut. 17.19. Josh. 1.7,8.

2 uel Q. 4. Have I digested the Sermon I heard last? Have Irer the ated it over? and prayed it over? Luke 2.19,51. Pfal.1.2, nd 119. 5,11,97.

Q.5. Was there not more of custome, and fashion in my amily Duties, than of Conscience? Plal 101.2. Jer. 30.22.

Q. 6. Wherein have I denyed my felf this day for God?

Luke 9.23.

or Co

pprove efe pa

It the w oth

imself

mote

atfor ends,

e feld uc.

ert.

freque

tend

fs, bo y on man

abo

Wor

out t

the

by p

y har

1 upo

lem!

Q.7. Have I redeemed my time from too loo long or needless rifits, idle imaginations, fruitless discourse, unnecessary sleep, wore than needs of the World? Ephcs. 5.16. Col.4.5.

Q. 8. Have I done any thing more than ordinary for the Church of God, in this time extraordinary? 2 Cor. 11.281

fai. 62 6.

Q. 9. Have I took care of my Company? Prov. 13. 20. Pfal. 119.63.

UI Q. 10. Have not I neglected, or done something against the Disties Duties of my Relations, as a Master, Servant, Husba Q. 1. Wife, Parent, Child, &c. Ephel. 5. 22. to Chap. 6. vetle lef. 9 Col. 3.18. to chap. 4. ver. 2.

For your Sins. Q. I. Doth not Sin fit light ? Pfal. 38.4. Rom. 7.24.

Q. 2. Am I a Mourner for the fins of the Land? Ezek Q. 4. Jer. 9. 1,2,3.

Q. 3. Do I live in nothing that I know or fear to be a Sa Pfal. 119, 101, 104.

For your Heart.

Q. I. Have I been much in Holy Ejaculations? Neh 2.4 O. 2. Hath not God been out of mind? Heaven ou fight ? Pfal. 16. 8. Jer. 2.32. Phil. 3.23.

Q. 3. Have I been often looking into mine own Heart, made conscience of vain thoughts? Prov. 3.23. Pfal. 119.11

Q. 4. Have not I given way to the workings of I'ride, Paffion ? 2 Chron. 32.26. Jam: 4.5,6,7.

For my Tongue. Q. I. Have I bridled my Tongue, and forced it in? Jam

1. 26. & 3. 2, 3, 4. Pfal. 39.1. Q. 2. Have I spoke evil of no Man ? Tit. 3.2. Jam. 4.11.

Q. z. Hath the Law of the Lord been in my Mouth a fat in my House, went by the Way, was lying down, and rife up? Deut. 6. 6.7.

Q. 4. Have I come into no Company where I have dropped something of God, and left some good savour behind Col. 4.6. Ephef. 4. 29.

For your Table.

Q. I. Did not I fit down with an higher end than a Beal meerly to please my Appetite? Did I eat, drink for the glor of God? 1 Cor. 10.31.

Q. 2. Was not mine Appetite too hard for me ? Jude 11

2 Pet. 1.6.

Q. 3. Did not I arise from the Table without dropping any thing of God there ? Luke 7. 36, Sc. and 14. 1, Sc. John 6.

Q. 4. Did not I mock with God, when I pretended to cran a Bleffing, and return Thanks? Acts 27.35,39. Mat. 15.36. Col. 3. 17, 23.

V.21.

6 ? P

An

Direct

the 1

5. 2.

e I o

the d r w

D. 3

en y bin ams

23/5.

es t

7014 be i

or

D.

$107

be

For your Calling.

Husto Q. 1. Have I been diligent in the Duties of my Calling 3. vale lef. 9. 1 Cor. 7. 17,20,24.

9. 2. Have I defrauded no man > 1 Thes.4.6. 1 Cor.6.2] Q. 3. Have I dropped never a lyt in my Shop or Trade? W.21.6. Ephel. 4.25.

.24. Ezek, Q. 4. Did not I rashly make, nor falsty break some pro-(Pfal. 106.33. Jof. 9.14, &c. Pfal. 15.4. be a Sp

An Addition of some brief Directions for the Morning.

n out Direct. 1. If through necessity or carelesness you have omitthe reading and weighing of these Questions in the even-, be fure to do it now.

h. 2.4

rt, e

LIL

e

. 36.

For

19.11 5. 2. Ask your felf, what fin have I committed, what duty ride, e I omitted? Against which of these Rules have I offended. the day foregoing? And renew your repentance, and double r watch. Jam

D. 3. Examine whether God were last in your thoughts en you went to sleep, and first when you awake.

that D. 4. Enquire whether your care of your heart and wayes, drift hincrease upon your constant using of this course for Selfamination, or whether it doth abate, and you grow more bind D. 5. Impose a task of some good meditations upon your es while you are making ready, either to go over these Rules Beat your thoughts, or the Heads of some Sermon you beard last, glor the Holy Meditations for this purpose in the Practice of Pie-or Scuders Daily Walk.

D. 6. Set your ends right for all that day.

any D. 7. Set your watch, especially against those sins and tempran tions that you are like to be most incident to that day.

CHAP

VI. CHAP.

yentu

my F conv s, ar

So

le w

Tow

flie,

ive

A full Narrative of bis Life, (from Silencing till bis Death) by his Wide fuch Mrs. Theodofia Allein, in her his Mrs. Theodolia Allell, of fet for a given the sand the Race with was set before bim, and fulfilled wie. Ministry that he had received of Lord.

Before the Att for Uniformity came forth, my Hus ut be was very earnest day and night with God, that his might be made plain to him, that he might not desist fuch Advantages of saving Souls, with any scruple upon Spirit; In which, when he saw those Clauses of Assem yould Consent, and Renouncing the Covenant he was fully sain that he seemed so moderate before, that both my self and there thought he would have Conformed: He often say the would not leave his Work for small and dubious Matt Go. But seeing his way so plain for quitting the publick she desithat he held, and being thoroughly persuaded of this, the esh Ejection of the Ministers out of their Places, did not design them from preaching the Gospel; he presently took see also firm resolution to go on with his Work in prevate, but in Preaching and Visiting from House to House, till help the Carried to Prison, or Banishment, which he counted ut to present the present the counted ut to the present the present the counted ut to the present the present the see that the see that the present to Prison, or Banishment, which he counted ut to the present the present the present the present to Prison, or Banishment, which he counted ut to the present the p tho be carried to Prison, or Banishment, which he counted ust per the Lord affishing him: And this Resolution, without dork is the prosecuted; for the Thursday after he appointed a solution. (63)

gof Humiliation, when he Preached to as many as would enture themselves with him at our own House : But it bethen a strange thing to the most Professors to suffer, they med much affrighted at the threatnings of Adversaries; fo t there was not fuch an appearance at fuch opportunities my Husband expected; whereupon he made it his Work converse much with those he perceived to be most times, and to fatisfie the Scruples that were on many amongst So that the Lord was pleased in a short time to give Vide fuch fuccess that his own People waxed bold for the Lord, his Gospel: and multitudes flocked into the Meetings. whatfoever feafon they were, either by day or night; which a great Encouragement to my Husband, that he went with much Vigour and Affection in his Work, both of ce t aching, and Visiting, and Catechizing from House to

th

of Towns where their Ministers were gone, as most of them of the least desist for a considerable time after flie, or at the least delist for a considerable time after tholomew day: Where-ever he went, the Lord was pleafed ive him great success; many converted, and the generali f those animated to cleave to the Lord and his wayes.

It those animated to cleave to the Lord and his wayes.

Hus ut by this the Justices rage was much heightned against his and he was often threatned and sought for; but by solid Power of God, whose Work he was delighted in was preupor ed much longer out of their hands than he expected? For association would often say, If it pleased the Lord to grant him three satisfactory before he went to Prison, he should account him-lif an favoured by him, and should with more chearfulness go, in say in he had done some Work. At which time we sold off all Mate Goods, preparing for a Goal, or Banishment, where he can be having been more grievous to me to think of being about the shaving been more grievous to me to think of being about the salfo resolved, when they would suffer him no longer to be in England, he would go to China, or some remote Part he she World, and publish the Gospel there.

ted wit pleased the Lord to indulge him, that he went on in his out dork from Bartholomen day till May the 26th after: Though la Solon threatned, yet he was never interrupted, though the

(64)

People both of the Town and Countrey were grown for Here lute, that they came in great multitudes, at whatever fe the Meeting was appointed, very feldom milling twice as bath, and often in the week: I know that he hath Prear by Stourteen times in eight dayes, and ten often, and fix or fe old hath are the feet of the stourteen times in frequent converse with Souls. He then laying aside all of the the Studies which he formerly so much delighted in because he counsed his time would be but short. And the Lord arning often told me) made his Work in I is Ministry far more arning to him, by the supplies of his Spirit both in Gifts and Grand as did evidently appear, both in his Doctrine and Life; he tion as did evidently appear, both in his Doctrine and Life; he pearing to be more Spiritual, and Heavenly, and affection than before, to all that heard him, or converfed with him ty in

He was upon a Saturday in the Evening, about fix a did to feized on by an Officer of our Town, who had rather Ma been otherwise employed, as he hath often faid, but the was forced to a speedy execution of the Warrant, by a nich flice's Clerk, who was fent on purpose with it to see it cuted, because he feared that none of the Town would on he done it.

The Warrant was in the Name of three Justices, to $ mon him to appear forthwith at one of their Houses, was about two miles from the Town, but he defired liber thay and Sup with his Family first, supposing his Enter ated ment there would be such as would require some refreshment. He would not be granted, till one of the chief of the Tomes have been a supposed to the chief of the Tomes have been a supposed to the supposed to th This would not be granted, till one of the chief of the T mest was bound for his speedy appearance: His Supper being pared, he sat down eating very heartily, and was very deful, but still of Holy and gracious Expressions, suitable to this and our present state. After St pper, having prayed with ses, a she with the Officer, and two or three Friends accompany so, whim, repaired to the Justices house, where they lay to charge, that he had broken the Ast of Uniformity by Andrease, that he had broken the Ast of Uniformity by Preaching; which he denyed, saying; That he had Preaching which he denyed, saying; That he had Preaching which he denyed, saying; That he had Preaching with the say Church, nor Chappel, nor place of Pull Worship since the 24th of August, and what he did was in section of the samily, with those others that came there to hear him od, b ars be feer at, in

But, uch f eaven

Hel perf faith

ed, b Hivhich (65)

Here behold how many Ministers have these eight or nine er se as been silenced in England, Scotland, and Ireland, whose was been silenced in England, Scotland, and Ireland, whose by Skill and Conscience, Fidelity and Zeal, is such, as or se ld have justly advanced most of the Antient Fathers of the north, to far greater renown, had they been but possessed with the like: Of whom indeed the World is not worthy. O! we many of them am I constrained to remember, with joy w many of them am I constrained to remember, with joy their great Worth, and sorrow for their Silence! But thought arning, Holiness, wonderful Ministerial Skill, and Industry, ad Gracion, Peaceableness, true Catholecism, absolute Dedition into Christ, Zeal, Patience and Perseverance, did not section from sufficient to procure his Ministerial or Corporal Lity in his latter years; yet they did much more for him than at, in qualifying him for the Crown which he now enjoyeth; a d d to hear, Well done good and faithful Servant, enter into her in Masters Joy.

But, alas, Lord! What is the terrible future evil, from soy a sich thou takest such men away! And why is this World so e it! uch forsaken? As if it were not a Prayer of Hope which ou hast taught us, Thy Will be done on Earth, as it is in earen.

He hath Printed a small Book, called, A Call to Archippus, perswade the silent Non-conformists, to pity Souls, and to saithful in the Work to which they are Devoted and Conference.

The held that Separation in a Church was necessary many mes from the known corruptions of it. But allowed not Seration from a Church, where Active Complyance with-some must be full Evil, was not made the Condition of Communion. And this way he frequently declared himself in Health and Sickes, and most expressy in my hearing on his Bed of Languishing, when he was drawing near his Long-Home.

And that the People were not disobliged from attending upon their Ministry, who were ejected out of their Places, as his ook entituled A Call to Archippus sheweth; after that Black as in Mournful Sabbath, in which he took his farewel with much fection of his Beloved People.

When he was taken up for Prison, he was not onely contented, but joyful to suffer for the Name of Jesus and his Gospel, ed, but joyful to fuffer for the Name of Jesus and his Gospel, which was fo dear to him; Intimating, that God had given (E) him much more time than he expected, or askt of him, and y that he accounted it cause of rejoycing, and his honour, that was one of the first called forth to suffer for his name.

Although he was very suddenly surprised, yet none could ack in cern him to be in the least moved.

He pitied the condition of his Enemies, requesting for the my so as the Martyr Stephen did for those that stoned him, That is, whould not lay this sin of theirs to their charge. The great dies harm that he did wish to any of them, was, That they mid told throughly be Converted and Sanstified, and that their so y wo might be saved in the day of the Lord Fesse.

might be saved in the day of the Lord Jesus.

might be faved in the day of the Lord Jefus.

He was very urgent with those that were Unconverted likes look with more care after their Salvation, now they were that moved from them that longed for it, and had watched ged their Souls; using this as an Argument often, That now tild never fallen into the hands of such, many of which, if er, y most of them, had neither Skill nor Will to save Souls: honday setting home upon them with most tender Affections, what ferable Creatures they were while Unregenerate, telling they were assent they were while Unregenerate, telling they were assent them, and his Bowels turned was so in him for them; how he did pray and weep for them, we lay they were assent, and how willingly he had suffered a years by they were assent to the same that their salvation. His Counsels and Directions were looked in the salvation. His Counsels and Directions were looked in the salvation of them, and would be too long to recite, though I can reme to salvation, and would be too long to recite, though I can reme to salvation. ber many of them. at ca

To his fellow Prisoners, he said, The Eyes of GOD and m; gels are upon you, and the eyes of Men are upon you; now he was will be critically observed. Every one will be looking that the should be more Holy than others, that are called forth totald, his glorious Dignity, to be the Witnesses of Christ Jesus, w andi the loss of your Liberties.

He was eminently free from harsh censuring and judging rast rothers, and was ready to embrace all in Heart, Arms, a lift he Communion, Civil and Religious, any that professed savieth of Faith in Jesus Christ, and did not overthrow that Profess ow by some Fundamental Error in Decimal Control of Lis B ney old th

Mages

(67)

him, and yet they accused him of being at a Riotom Assembly, ar, the light there were no Threats, nor dangerous Words; no yes, nor Weapons, no Fear so much as pretended to be could ack into any man, nor any other Business met about, then res, nor Weapons, no Fear so much as pretended to be could ask into any man, nor any other Business met about, then aching and Prayer. Here he was much abused, receiving for the many street of the process of the proc diging aftrepent of any thing he had done, but accounted himns, a lift happy, and under that Promise Christ makes to his, in the last those Matthew, That he should be doubly and trebly blessed of essential of Lis Brethren in the Ministry, that came to see him, That hey would not in the least defist when he was gone, that (E) 2

there might not be one Sermon the less in Taunton; and treat the People to attend the Ministry with greater Ardency, is; a ligency, and courage, than before; affuring them ong to sweet and comfortable it was to him to consider who is Parhad done for God in the months past: And that he was the resulting to Prison full of Joy, being consider that all these to ich he would turn to the furtherance of the Gospel, and the Got has he God.

But he not being fatisfied to go away, and not leave I heig exhortations with his People, he appointed them to meet en a about one or two a Clock in the Night, to which they the lit we their readiness, though at so unseasonable a time: There ld to of Young and Old, many hundreds; he Preached and Prey i with them about three hours. re be with them about three hours.

And so with many yearnings of his Bowel owards to of and theirs toward him, they took their in their of each of to

About nine a Clock, he wish two or three Friends that their willing to accompany him, fet out to thehefter: The Su of the were lined on both fides with People, and many followed his not foot fome miles out of the Town, with fich lamentarions, (amb fet told me after) did so affect him, what he could scarce in them; but the Lord so strengthned him, that he could start it them all with great Courage and Joy, labouring both his chearful Countenance and Expressions, to encounter them.

his chearful Countenance and Expressions, to encounce them.

He carried his Mittimus himself, and had no Officer tains him; but when he came there, he found the Goaler abilino and took that opportunity to Preach before he went into ey Prison; which was accounted by his Adversaries, a graph addition to his former Crime. As soon as the Goaler can addition to his former Crime. As soon as the Goaler can addition to his Mittimus, and was clapped up in the Bride the Chamber, which was over the common Goal. When he can ich to the Prison, he found there Mr. John Norman, late Mini A of Bridgwater, who for the like cause, was Apprehend as and Committed a sew dayes before him, (a Man, who for the singular Abilities in Preaching, his servent Zeal, and He leds Boidness in the Cause of Christ, his Constancy to his Prin As ples in the most Wavering and Shaking Times, joyned with an exemplary Carriage and Conversation, was deservedly he day great repute among the People of God in these Western lency, is; and indeed there were very sew that knew him, either them ong the sober Gentry, or Commonalty; but for his emitter what the Parts, and spotless Life, had great respects for him. It was not long after before Mr. Coven, and Mr. Powel, the sight more, were brought into the same place, being meet en at Meetings; which made their Rooms very straight, it was so night to the upper part of the Prison, that they have so so he in the same place, being meet en at Meetings; which made their Rooms very straight, it was so night to the upper part of the Prison, that they have lid touch the Tiles as they lay in their Beds; which made ery irksom, the Sun lying so hot on it all the day, and the being so many of them, and so much Resort, continuated to take down the Glass, and some of the Tiles, to let in the Refreshment. But here they were confined to Lie, and to take down the Glais, and tome of the Tiles, to let in the Refreshment. But here they were confined to Lie, and that their Meals, and had no place but a small Garden, joynhe Su to the place where all the Common Prisoners were; which will be no Retirement for them, they having there, and in their ons, amber, the constant noise of those Wretches, except when caree y slept; who lay just under them, their Chains ratling, at three ir Tongues often Blaspheming; or else Roaring and Singboth by Night, as well as in the Day: And if they went into courts of the Prison, there was the sight of their Clothes aging full of Vermin, and themselves in their Rags and courts of the Prison, there was the sight of their Clothes ging full of Vermin, and themselves in their Rags and iter vains: But that which was most grievous to them, they able Ino place to retire to God in, neither alone, nor together, into ey were also much molested by the Quakers, who would a greatly disturb them by their Cavils, in the times of their ler careaching, Praying, and Singing, and would come and work Bride their Callings just by them, while they were in Duties, he a ich was no small disturbance to them: And the want of Minic Air was more to my Husband, than to most of them, bechen use he alwayes accustomed himself, both in Oxford, and associated the elds or Woods.

(89)

Spring As soon as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the strength of the Prison, he Preached and Praying the strength of the Prison, he Preached and Praying the strength of the Prison, he Preached and Praying the strength of the Prison, he Preached and Praying the strength of the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Praying the Prison and Praying th s Prin As foon as he came into the Prison, he Preached and Prayed wi, that he called the Confecration of it. After he had spent edly he day or two in the Prison, being willing to have me either in the Town, or there, to attend him, and to keep con to the ny with his Friends, who came frequently to vifit him, het rofe: began to fit up his Lodging; having prevailed with the Kee for one Corner, which was more private than the rest, to his Bed in, about which he made a little Partition by & other Curtains, that so he might have some convenients. Curtains, that fo he might have some conveniency for Rei t Ter ment. This was much comfort to him, and after a few We he got leave of the Keeper to go out a Mornings and Even ying, a mile or more, which he did constantly, unless the West or his Keepers fury did hinder him.

o wh

guil

tous,

Hear

nd gu

ge to it sh

ad a ged i

all

Calm

in h dwo

ess,

ace su

the

Haw

ut t d h

like

ame

ch v nfort

Here

h-da

e Lo

sban

flice

he

Their Diet was very good and sufficient, and sometime bundant, by their Friends kindness. Here they Preached a day constantly, sometimes twice, and many came daily hear them, eight or ten miles round about the Countrey; Multitudes came to visit them, it being a strange fight w Minister's laid in such a place. Their Friends were exceed kind to them, endeavouring by their frequents Visits, and visions for Diet, and supplies of Money, to make their Pi fweet to them.

But my Husbands Labours were much increased by fpending all the day in converse, he was forced to take mu the Night for his Studies, and fecret Converse with God.

Thus he with my Brother Norman, and his Company, their fellow Prisoners, continued in that place for four Mon being toffed from Seffions to Assizes. On the 14th of following, he was brought to the Seffions held at Taunton, was there Indited for Preaching on May the 17th, but the dence against him was so slender, that the Grand Jurya not find the Bill, so that he was not brought to his An there at all: And his Friends hoped he should have been missed, it being the constant practice of the Court, that if al Soner be Indited, and no Bill found, he is Freed by Procla tion. But however, my Husband was fent to Prison again til the Affizes; and to his Friends that earnestly expected Inlargement, he faid, Let us blefs God that his Will is a and not the will of such Worms as we.

though the 22th, He was again Indited at the Affizes, a carrichough the Evidence was the very fame, that at the Selfe is on was by the Grand Jury, judged Insufficient, yet now at its or Affizes, the Bill was by them found against him. So was ce to

(71)

to the Bar, and his Indicament read, which was to this het pose: That he, upon the 17th day of May, 1662. with to the Dar, and his Indictment read, which was to this pose: That he, upon the 17th day of May, 1663. with he kee hey others, to the Jurors unknown, did Riotously, Rouby, to hy, and Seditiously, Assemble themselves together, contrably to the Peace of our Sovereign Lord the King, and to the Terrour of his Subjects, and to the evil Example of others, when the West of which, his Answer was, That as to Preaching, and Even ying, which was the truth of the Case, of these things he guilty, and did own them as his Duty, but as for Preach guilty, and did own them as his Duty; but as for Riotous tous, and Seditious Assemblies, he did abbor them with Heart, and of these he was not guilty. At last he was nd guilty by the Petty Jury, and was Sentenced by the ge to pay an Hundred Marks, and to lie in Prison till payt should be made. Sentence being pronounced against he only made this brief Reply: That he was glad that ad appeared before his Countrey, That what foever he was ged with, he was guilty of nothing but doing his Duty, and all did appear by the Evidence, was only that he had Sung salm, and Instructed his Family, others being there, and in his own House: And that if nothing that had been dwould satisfie, he should with all chearfulness and thankes, accept whatsoever Sentence his Lordship should proice upon him, for fo Good and Righteous a Chufe. Thus the Assizes he was fent to Prison again, where he contida whole Year, wanting but three dayes.

ut the Winter coming on, they were willing to try if they d have the favour to be removed to the Ward, this place belike to be as cold in the Winter, as it had been hot in the amer, (there being no Chimney in the whole Chamber) ch with some difficulty they obtained; and then had more nfortable Accomodations in all respects.

time

chto

dail

ey;

ht to

xcee and

ir Pr

by I

mu

od.

my,

Mod

of 3

ton,

the

crya

An

een

if al

ocla

gaint

cted

Here they had very great Meetings, Week-dayes, and Sabn-dayes, and many dayes of Humiliation, and Thankfgiving. ected e Lords-dayes many Hundreds came. And though my is a shand, and Brother Norman, had many Threats from the flices and Judges, That they should be fent beyond Sea, ses, a carried to some Island, where they should be kept close Sessi isoners; yet the Lord preserved them by his Power, and wat as ordered it, that their Imprisonment was a great furtherwas ce to the Gospel, and brought much Glory to him, both by their Preaching and Conversing with Souls: In which Her had great Success through his Blessing on their Labours. His con Husband having here more freedom, made a little Book, E sting tuled A Call to Archippus, to thir up his Non-conformat of Brethren, to be diligent at their Work, what soever Daning chand Sufferings they might meet withal: And because where could not go to his Flock, he had prepared for them, The Sy the wifes of the Covenant, which was after placed into one of my at all, there Books thers Books.

(72)

And for the help of the Governours of Families, in wish the Weekly Catechizing those under their charge, he explain tent I the Assemblies shorter Chatechism; to which he annexed a diffinite should be with Rules for their daily Examinate which were Printed and Dispersed into all their Houses become Order, while he was a Prisoner. He also write many Holy by reasonable to many other Friends, to many Churches of Christ in other and places, both far and near.

Gown

le ur

And t t be Preac

and places, both far and near.

and places, both far and near.

His Sufferings that he underwent for the fake of the Green for could neither remit his Zeal, not abate his Activity for tage that he would gladly imbrace all Opportunities of doing experiments. The Minister who was appointed to Preach at which tain times to the Fellons in the Prison, being by sickness that the freely performed that Office a is, Market that Work, he freely performed that Office a is, Market them, as long as he was permitted; earnestly exhorting by Repentance towards God, and Faith toward our Los signs of the Christ, to secure the eternal welfare of their Souls; bestowing upon them, according to his Ability, for their lief; that by doing good to their Bodies, he might win them to receive good for their Souls. He was very for the top promote the Education of Youth, in the Town of the chester, and Country adjacent, freely bestowing Cated do, the on those that were of poor Families, to instruct them in Chester, and Country adjacent, freely bestowing Cated do, the on those that were of poor Families, to instruct them in Chester, and Country adjacent, freely bestowing Cated do, the on those that were of poor Families, to instruct them in Chester, and Country adjacent, freely bestowing Cated do, the on those that were of poor Families, to instruct them in Chester. Principles of Religion; stirring up the Elder to Teach, At incouraging the Younger to Learn. He was a ferious faithful Monitor to his fellow Sufferers, if he espeed anythis Period in any of them, that did not become the Gospel, for when, (65) which Here, as else-where, he was a careful redeemer of his time; his constant practice was, early to begin the day with God, cook, it fing about four of the Clock, and spending a considerable conformer of the Morning in Meditation and Prayer, and then fall-in part of the Morning in Meditation and Prayer, and then fall-in Daring close to his Study, in some corner or other of the Prison, because where he could be private. At times, he would spend near the system whole Night in these Exercises, not putting off his Clothes of my at all, onely taking the repose of an hour or two in his Night-sown upon the Bed, and so up again. When any came to Gown upon the Bed, and so up again. When any came to in his hightgown upon the Bed, and so up again. When any came to in wish him, he did not entertain them with needless impertiplasm tent Discourse, but that which was serious, profitable, and exed a disying; in which he was careful to apply himself to them, minar ecording to their several capacities, whether Elder or lifes be sounger; exhorting them to those gracious Practices, which holy by reason of their Age, or Temper, Calling, or Condition, ions, he apprehended they might be most defective in, and dehortother ag them from those Evils they might be most prone and lyaole unto. He rejoyced that he was accounted worthy to sufother ing them from those Evils they might be most prone and lyable unto. He rejoyced that he was accounted worthy to suffer for the Work of Christ; and he would labour to encourage the timerous and faint-hearted, by his own and others doing age the timerous and faint-hearted, by his own and others aperience, of the Mercy and Goodness of God in Prison, that was far beyond what they could have thought or expenses. He was a careful observer of that Rule of the Lord Jecce a is, Mat. 5.44. Love your enemies, bless them that curse you, do not them that hate you, and pray for them that despitefully see you, and persecute you. It was none of his practice to explain against those that were the greatest Instruments of his business.

In all his Imprisonment, at present, I could not discern his their business, but cannot but suspect, as the Physicians spundent and Labours; but cannot but suspect, as the Physicians spundent in the had laid the foundation for that We skness, which leadenly after surprised him, and was his dea. h.

At his return from the Prison, he was far more earness in his each, and the return from the Prison, he was far more earness in his each, than before; yet willing to preserve his liberty among anyt than before; yet willing to preserve his liberty among anyt then, though some came and Preached while he was absent: and the People slocked so greatly after him, that he judged to best to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to the to divide the Company into four, and resolved to t best to divide the Company into four, and resolved to Preach four times each Sabbath to them: But finding fenfibly that would be too hard for him, his strength much decaying, he did forbear that course, and preached only twice an engaboath as formerly, and often on Week-days at Home and the Countrey; and spent what time he had else from the studying, in private converse with God, as formerly he had one: Pressing all that seared the Lord, especially those the were of a more weak and timerous Spirit, to a life of Countrage and Activity for God, and to be much in helping of the another, by their Converses, now Ministers were withdraw with, and to be much in the Work of Praises and Thanksgiving in his God, rejoycing and delighting themselves in him; and with the Converse and readines, denying themselves for him, and the I resigning themselves, and all they did enjoy, to him: Letting the World know, they could live comfortably on a God along on his Attributes and Promises, though they should have to their thing else left.

wher

to g cef

H

Wa

ven

mu

out

he

of

thing elfe left.

But it pleased the All-wise God to take him off from the finding eager pursuit of his Work, and designs for him, by visit But him in the later end of August, with much Weakness, so the head not above three months time after he came out of Prinor fon: For he going about sixteen miles, at the request of first: Society, whose Pastor was not able to come among the offer to Preach, and to Administer a more solemn Ordinance; street was so disabled, that he was not able to perform the great a some chief Work, though he did adventure to Preach, but with must injury to himself, because he would not wholly disappoint the People who came fo far, as many of them did: With mu difficulty, after three or four dayes, I made way to get hi home to Taunton, where we then sojourned, and present had the best Advice the most able Physicians, both in a round the Town, could give; who advised together, and: judged it to be from his abundant Labours, and the Pread ing too foon after his Meals; as he did when he Preached for times a Sabbath, whereby he had so abated the natural he of his Stomach, that no Food would digeft, nor oftentime keep within him: He would assure us, he was in no pair but a constant discomposure in his Stomach, and a failing of his Appetite, that he could not for many Weeks bear the cheft of any Flesh-meat, nor retain any Liquors or Broths the to that he confumed fo fait, that his Life feemed to draw to (67) ich de

refent

twice an end: But the Lord did so bless the means, that he recome an aread out of this Distemper, after two Months time, but so come soft the use of his Arms from October till April, that he could help not put off nor on his Cloathes, nor often write either his he had not put off nor on his Cloathes, nor often write either his off the Notes, or any Letters, but as I wrote for him, as he dictated to me: He was by all Physicians, and by my earnest beseechings often dissipated from Preaching, but would not be prevailed draw with, but did go on once, and sometimes twice a Sabbath, and wing in his private Visiting all that Winter; in the Spring, the use of his Arms returned, for which he was exceeding thankful to making use of further Remedies, he was able to go on with alon more freedom in his Work: And the Summer following, by the use of Mineral-Waters in Wiltsbire, near the Devises, where he was born, his strength was much increased, he folding great and sensible good by them.

where he was born, his strength was much increased, he finding great and sensible good by them.

But he venturing too much on what he had obtained, his weakness returned frequently upon him the next Winter, and of P more in the Spring following, being seised as he was at the sest of first. But it continued not long at a time, so that he did Preach often to his utmost strength (nay, I may say, much beyond the strength he had) both at Home and Abroad; going into seat a some remote parts of the Countrey, where had been no Meet-th much may see all that time the Ministers had been out, which was not to go and take their turns, which they did with great success.

He had also agreed with two of his Brethren to go into

He had also agreed with two of his Brethren to go into in a Wales with them, to spread the Gospel there; but was pre-and: vented in that, by his weakness increasing upon him: It was Pread much that he did, but much more that he desired to do. He was in this time much Threatned, and Warrants often ral he out for him; and he was so far from being disturbed at it, that the rejoyced; that when he could do but little for God, because of his Distempers, God would so far honour him, that he illing a should go and suffer for him in a Prison. He would often with chearfulness say, They could not do him a greater kindness: But the Lord was yet pleased to preserve him from their rage, seedraw to ing thim not then hit for the inconveniences of a Prison.

The five Mile Act coming in force, he removed to a place.

The five Mile Act coming in force, he removed to a place

day :

and fo

God d

xpen

He

lay, a

o flee

orail

ruft l ime.

The

ers, l

God,

eave (

Acc

rethr

net to

t the

he To

anie t

rake

nlate

n amo

uage

Vame

hom

Caftle

here.

o the

II Co

Pound

ayer.

heir]

Hus b

ons,

oger

tame

every

called Wellington, which is reckoned five miles from Taunton to a Dyers House, in a very obscure place, where he preached on the Lord's-Dayes, as he was able : But the vigilant Eyes of his old Adversaries were so watchful over him, that they soon found him out, and refolved to take him thence, and had put a Warrant into the Constables hand to apprehend him, and fent for our Friend, and threatned to fend him to Goal for entertaining fuch persons in his House: So my Husband returned to the House of Mr. John Mallack, a Merchant, who lived about a mile from Taunton, who had long follicited him to take his House for his Home : We being in such an unsetled state, my Husband thought it best to accept of his courteous offer: But many of his Friends were willing to enjoy him in the Town, and so earnest, that he did, to satisfie them, go from one to another, flaying a fornight, or three weeks, or a month at each House; but still took Mr. Mallack's for his Home: This motion of his Friends he told me, (though it was troublesome for us to be so unsetled) he was willing to embrace, because he knew not how soon he might be carried again from them to Prison, and he should have opportunity to be more intimately acquainted with them, and the state of their Souls; and of their Children and Servants, and how they perform their Duties each to other in their Families.

He went from no House without serious Counsels, Comforts, or Reproofs, as their conditions called for; dealing with all that were capable, both Governors and others particularly, acquainting them faithfully and most affectionately, what be had feen amifs in any of them.

He went from no House that was willing to part with him; nor had he opportunity to answer the requests of half that invited us to their Houses: So that he would often bless God, and say with holy Mr. Dod, That he had an hundred houses for one that he had parted with; and though he had no Goods, he wanted nothing, his Father cared for him in every thing, that he lived a far more pleasant life than his Enemies, who had turned him out of all: He was exceedingly taken with God's Mercy to him, in Mr. Mallacks entertaining him and me so bountifully, the House, and Gardens, and Walks being a very great delight to him, being so Pleasant and Curious, and all Accommodations within suitable, so that he would often fay, That he did as Dives, fare deliciously every day: But he hoped he should improve it better than he did, and that God had inclined him to take care for many Poor, and for several of his Brethren in the Ministry; and now God did reward him, by not suffering him to be at the least spence for himself or me.

(69)

He was a very strict observer of all Providences of every lay, and did usually reckon them up to me before we went offeep, each night after he came into his Chamber and Bed, oraise his own Heart and Mind, to praise the Lord, and to rust him, whom we had such experience of from time to ime.

ched

esof

foon

d put

and

I for d re-

who

him

etled

cous

n the

from onth

me:

rou-

race,

gain

to be their

per-om-

with ılar-

what im;

t in-

God,

s for ods,

ing,

nies,

aken

him.

alks

Cu-

t he

The time of the Year being come for his going to the Waers, he was desirous to set one day apart for Thanksgiving to God, for all his Mercies to him and them, and so to take his eave of them.

Accordingly, on the 10th of July, 1869. divers of his rethren in the Ministry, and many of his Friends of Taunton, het together to take their leave of him before his departure, the House of Mr. Mallack, then living about a mile out of e Town. Where after they had been a while together, ame two Justices, and several other Persons attending them, rake open the Doors by force, (though they might have platched them if they had pleased) and with Swords came among them. After much deriding and manacing Lanpage, which I shall not here relate, having taken their Names, committed them to the custody of some Constables, hom they charged to bring them forth the next day, at tle aftle Tavern in Taunton, before the Justices of the Peace here. The next day the Prisoners appeared, and answered otheir Names; and after two days tedious attendance, were Il Convicted of a Conventicle, and Sentenced to pay three ounds apiece, or to be committed to Prison threescore ayer. Of the Persons thus Convicted, but sew either paid heir Fines, or suffered their Friends to do it for them. My Hus band, with feven Ministers more, and forty private Ferons, were committed to the Prison of Ilchester: When he, ogether with the rest of his Brethren and Christian Friends, came to the Ptison, his Carriage and Conversation there was every way as Exemplary, as in his former Confinement,

(79)

Notwithstanding his weakness of Body, yet he would con stoge stantly take his turn with the rest of the Ministers, in preaching by the Gospel in the Prison; which turns came about the oftner attorn though there were eight of them together, because they had Preaching and Praying twice a day, almost every day the were in Prison; besides other Exercises of Religion, in which he would take his part.

And although he had many of his Flock confined to the fift, Prison with him, by which means he had the fairer opports o car nity of Instructing and Watching over them, for their Spie, no ritual good; yet he was not forgetful of the rest that we that lest behind, but would frequently visit them also by his Le ters, full of ferious profitable Matter, from which they might not to reap no small benefit, while they were debarred of his be dily presence. And how greatly sollicitous he was for the d, for Bonds, walking worthy of the many and great Mercies then the Bonds, walking worthy of the many and great Mercies the had enjoyed during their Imprisonment; that when the came home to their Houses, they might speak forth, and live forth the Praises of GOD, carrying themselves in ever respect as becomes the Gospel, for which they had been Surefor ferers) you may clearly see by these parting Counsels that her t gave them that Morning that they were delivered, which oh re shall recite in his own Words, as they were taken from h Mouth in Short-hand, by an intimate Friend, and fellow Prai Prisoner, which you may take as followeth, &c.

Mr. Joseph Allein bis Exhortation to bis Fello dish Sufferers, when they were to be Discharged from their Imprisonment.

Dearly Beloved Brethren, my Time is little, and my ere Strength but small, yet I could not consent that you mig should pass without receiving some parting Counsel, and what we will be supposed to the strength of the streng I have to fay at Parting, shall be chiefly to you that are Pily foners, and partly also to you our Friends, that are here

receiv

efit o Lor

Hon DD

breff com ifes ethe

ererio

(71)

d con together. To you that are Prisoners, I shall speak someaching by way of Exhortation, and something by way of De-

By way of Exhortation.

ay the

to the first, Rejoyce with trembling in your Prison-Comforts, see that you keep them in a Thankful-Remembrance to can tell the Mercies that you have received here? My te, nor strength, will not suffice me to recapitulate them that you rejoyce in GOD, but rejoyce with trembling not think the account will be little for Mercies, so many so that you feat. Receive these choice Mercies with a trembling of the gluch precious benefits, and so wrath should be upon your nest the fet done unto him; therefore was wrath upon him from Lord, and upon all Judah for his sake, 2 Chron. 32.25. There is an according to what you have received.

The poor the fet that you keep them in a Thankful-Remembrance. My that he was the first of the series of the Lord, and should not which on his fall of the loving kindness of the Lord, and should not which on his Brethren, thir up your selves to render praises to lord: You are the People that GOD hath formed for Praise, and sent hither for his Praise; and you should now Home as so many Trumpets to sound forth the Praises of DD, when you come among your Friends. There is an

Praise, and sent hither for his Praise; and you should now Home as so many Trumpets to sound forth the Praises of DD, when you come among your Friends. There is an oression, Psal. 68. It The Lord gave the Word, great was company of them that published it. So let it be said of the sises of God now, Great was the company of them that lished them. GOD hath sent a whole Troop of you here gether, let all these go home and sound the praises of GOD ere-ever you come; and this is the way to make his Praise orious indeed. Shall I tell you a Story that I have read: ere was a certain King that had a pleasant Grove, and that might make it every way delightful to him, he caused what was a birds to be caught, and to be kept up in Cages, till what had learned sundry sweet and artissical Tunes; and en they were persect in their Lessons, he let them Abroad of their Cages into his Grove, that while he was walking in this Grove, he might hear them singing those please tiny Tunes, and teaching them to other Birds that were of a wing Go er Note. Brethren, this King is GOD, this Grove is be the Church, these Birds are your selves, this Cage is the Priso what GOD hath sent you hither, that you should learn the support and pleasant Notes of his Praise, And I trust that you his hullearned something all this while, GOD forbid else. No next GOD opens the Cage, and lets you forth into the Grove resolution of the House of you too. Forget not therefore the SoDD woof the House of your Pilgrimage, do not return to your answer the House of your Pilgrimage, do not return to your answer the House of your Pilgrimage, do not return to your answer the House of your Pilgrimage, do not return to your answer the House of your Pilgrimage, do not return to your answer the end for which the sent of them humbly third long as you live; then shall you answer the end for which the sent you hither: I trust you will not forget this place. We guas Queen Mary died, She said, That if they did sip her up, it to be should find Callis on her Heart. I hope that men shall resolution your heart, that the Prison is upon your heart, sleep is upon your heart. n do is upon your heart.

F 4

(72)

is upon your heart.

Secondly, Feed and feast your Faith upon Prison-Expected ences. Do not think that GOD hath done this only for your present supply. Brethren, GOD hath provided for you, not lonly for your present supply in Prison, but to lay up for plies your Lives, that experience that your Faith must live up till Faith be turned into Vision. Learn dependance up till Faith be turned into Vision. Learn dependance up to be good have had here. Because thou hast been my help (faith the prison have had here. Because thou hast been my help (faith the prison at a loss at any time, then remember your Economic We read in Scripture of a time when there was no Smith with all Israel, and the Israelites were fain to carry their Good with and other Instruments, to be sharpened, down to the Phiese: So when your Spirits are low, and when your Fais Angis dull, carry them to the Prison to be sharpened and quit the mod. Oh how hath the Lord consuted all our sears! Car is the for all our necessities! The Faith of some of you was for Puput to it for Corporal Necessities: You came hither, not turn ving any thing considerable to pay for your Charges he milies at home, and no doubt but many troublesome thought.

(73)

eplease tin your minds, what your Families should do for Bread, of a wis 6 O D hath provided for them.

We is se that are Ministers, left poor starvling Flocks, and we eler the open that the Countrey had been now stript, and yet 6 OD the feel provided for them. Thus hath the Lord been pleased to you haish us with Arguments for our Faith, against we come to e. Next distress: Though you should be called forth to leave Grone Flocks destitute, you that are my Brethren in the Minid that, and others their Families destitute, yet doubt not but the So DD will provide. Remember your Bonds upon all occsions, your ansoever you are in distress, remember your old Friend, a the member your tryed Friend.

The sember your tryed Friend.

The sember your the Lord all ye his Saints. Brethren, this is the test of the Lord your God with all your hearts, with all shall be suggeded as the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the Lord your God with all your hearts, with all shall be sould be suggeded as the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the saints of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the test of the saints of the saints of the saints of the saints. Brethren, this is the saints of the saints. We have had been to pour Oyl the saints of the saints

(74)

tota

Name

Soul

ld be febly:

sofy

to tea

if by

you I

with

s th

amo

far f

not t

ncy,

Chris

befo

on c joyne

e Bo

hath

olov

ably

and

ing ondl

I a

he y

us.

Ricti

Bite

faste

the]

uffet to unite your hearts to him; Bleffed be God for this Oc fion, for my part I am unworthy of it. Now if I can your hearts nearer to GOD than they were, then happy I. and bleffed are you : Fain I would, that all thefe Ex riences should knit our Hearts to GOD more, and endear for ever to him. What? So much bounty and kindne and no returns of Love ? At least no further returns ? In plead in the behalf of the Lord with you, as they did for Centurion: He loveth our Nation (fay they) and hath by us a Synagogue. So I may fay here, He hath loved you, poured out his Bounty upon you. How many friendly Vi from those that you could expect but little of ? Whence you think this came ? It is GOD that hath the Key of thefe Hearts. He fecretly turned the Cock, and caufed the to pour forth kindness upon you: There is not a motion love in the Heart of a Friend towards you, but it was GO that put it in.

Fourthly, Keep your Manna in a Golden Pot, and for not him that hath faid fo often, Remember me. You have Manna rained plentifully about you, be fure that fometh of it be kept. Do not forget all the Sermons that you h heard here: O that you would labour to repeat them of to live them over! You have had fuch a Stock that you live upon, and your Friends too (if you be communicate a great while together: If any thing have been wanting to for the Digesting hath been wanting. See that you chew the Cud, and fee that you especially remember the Fu of Love. Do not you know who hath faid to you fo of Remember me? How often have you heard that sweet We fince you came hither ? What ? Do you think it is enough remember him for an hour? No, but let it be a living lasting remembrance. Do not you write that Name of in the Dust, that hath written your Names upon his He Your High Priest hath your Names upon his Heart, and the with is entered into the Holv Place, and keeps them the for a Memorial before the Lord continually. O that his R membrance might be ever written upon your Hearts, wi ten as with a Pen of a Diamond, upon Tables of Marble, the might never be worn out! That as Aristotle faith of the tious Fabrick of Minerva, that he had so ordered the B brid

Oct

can

for t

GO

d for nave

meth

ou h nicati

ing,ti

ou I

he Fee

o of

et W

nough

ing

ne of

is He

brid

that his Name was written in the midft, that if any totake that out, the whole Fabrick was dissolved. So same of Fesses should be written upon the substance of souls, that they should pull all asunder before they appy: Souls, that they should be able to pull it out. indear they, Let the Bonds of the soul of the so filly, Let the Bonds of your Affliction strengthen the In sof your Affection. Brethren, GOD hath fent us his to teach us among other things, the better to Love one if by your Imprisonment you have profited in Love; you have made an acceptable proficiency. O Brethren, er. Love is lovely, both in the fight of GOD and Men: within; Are you not more indeared one to another? Is the Lord for that Union and Peace that hath been among you; But you must be sensible that we continue that lord of that Love that we continue that lord one that love that we continue that love that love that we continue that love that love that we continue that love tha not that love, that indearedness, that tenderness, that comncy, that compassion towards each other, that we ought ve. Ministers should be more indeared one to another. Christians should be more dear to each other, than they before. We have eaten and drunk together, and on our Fathers Love in one Family together; we have joyned together in one common Cause, and all put inyou n hath passed here, especially those Uniting Feasts, ingage olove one another.

thly, Let present Indulgence fit you for future hardand do not look that your Father should be alwayes ing you on his Knee. Beloved, GOD hath used you ondlings now, rather than like Sufferers: What shall I am at a lofs, when I think of the tender Indulgence he yearnings of the Bowels of our Heavenly Father us. But (my Brethren,) do not look for fuch Prisons hiction doth but now Play and Sport with you, rather Bite you; but do you look that Affliction should herefasten its Teeth on you to purpose: And do you look the Hand that hath now gently stroked you, may possible, the there is the the there is the the the there is the the there is the ther

(76)

and

sthly ave

Breth

souls,

tely :

1249

A, R

em, Do

me

that

lord,

ly 24

tthe and

od w ndly.

deg

-tri

hou

wledg

Bew:

th Spo of G

wit

ou'do

were in th

de:

afterward you must look to follow your Business, and keep your distance, and to have rebukes and frowns too you need them. Bless GOD for what you have found but prepare you, this is but the beginning, (shall I fay the ginning of Sorrow, I cannot fay fo; for the Lord hath m on; but you must look, that when you are trained up to a Eyes, ter perfection, GOD will put your Faith to harder exercith do ter perfection. a place of Rejoycing) this is but the entrance of our Aff Seventhly, Cast up your accounts at your Return, a whether you have gone as much forward in your Soul you have gone backward in your Estates. I cannot be inchegr ble, but some of you are here to very great disadvantage to your Affairs in the World, having left your busine rawly at home in your Shops, Trades, and Callings, the is like to be no little detriment to you, upon this According But happy are ye, if you find at your return, that as mu your Affairs are gone backward, and behind-hand, for your Souls have gone forward. If your Souls go forward. Grace by your Sufferings, bleffed be GOD that hath bro you to fuch a place as a Prison is, Eighthly, Let the Snuffers of this Prison make yourl burn the brighter, and fee that your Course and Disa be the more favory, ferious, and spiritual for this pr Tryal. O Brethren! Now the Voice of the Lord is to y it is in the Prophet Isasah 60.1. Arise, and shine, now la Light shine before men, that others may fee your good W and glorsfie your Father which is in Heaven. It is faid of Preachers beyond Sea, that have been fent into England here reaped the benefit of our English practical Divinity their Return, they have Preached fo much better than had wont to do, that it hath been faid of them : App hunc fuiffe in Anglia. So do you my Brethren, Live for better than you had wont, that when men shall see the din your Lives, they may say of you, Apparuit hunc ful Custodia. See that your whole Course and Discourse bet Spiritual and Heavenly than ever; See that you shine in Families when you come Home; be you better Husba better Masters, better Fathers, study to do more than have done this way, and to approve your felves bette rdly, your Family-Relations than you did before; that the free Pr (77) offen may be upon you in all Companies, then will you and please the Lord.

too

ound

th ma p toa

exerd

rn,a Soul

oe inf

intage uline

zs, th

Acco IS mu for

OTW

h bro

ourl

Difa

is po

tow

w let

odW

id of land

vinity

than

ay the sthly, And lastly, See that you walk Accurately, as those ave the Eyes of GOD, Angels, and Men, upon you: brethren) you will be looked upon now with very cur Aff Eyes. GOD doth expect more of you than ever; for h done more for you, and he looketh what Fruit there of all this. Oh! may there be a fensible change upon ouls, by the Showres that have fallen in Prison, as there he greenness of the Earth by the showres that have faltely abroad.

way of Dehortation also, I have these four things to Leave with you.

A Revile not your Perfecutors, but bless them, and pray em, as the Instruments of conveying great Mercies to Do not you so far forget the Rule of Christ, as when ome home, to be fetting your Mouths to talk against that have injured you. Remember the Command of ord, Bless them that curse you, pray for them that de-Lyuse you, and persecute you. Whatsoever they intendtthey have been Instruments of a great deal of Mercy and so we should pray for them, and bless GOD for od we have received by them.

adly, Let not the humble acknowledgment of GOD's degenerate into Proud, Vain-glorious Boasting, or I-triumph. I befeech you, fee that you go home with deal of fear upon your Spirits in this respect, lest flould get advantage of you, left linear of which wilding GOD's Mercy, there should be Carnal boastthe de Beware of this, I earnestly beg of you, for this will vethe fine in spoil your Sufferings, and be very displeasing in the see of GOD. But let your acknowledging of his Mercy, twith humble Self-abasing Thankfulness, and be careful should get advantage of you, lest instead of humble ne in r with humble Self-abasing Thankfulnels, and be careful Husbrou do not make his Mercies to be the Fuel of your Pride, Husba were to lofe all at once. than bette rdly, Be not Prodigal of your Liberty upon a conceit the fire Prisons will be easie, nor fearful of adventuring your in the way of your Duty. Alas! I am afraid of both thefe

(78)

and

the

our

was !

onme

upon

ot fo

hed,

amon

goin effect

daves

pirits.

d ver

nten

urn a nding

mess

ife f

Phy

ver e ved r

Dod

him

e mig

uld i

we h

his .

whol

no out as eet:

d Fr

nigh

half h

othir

15.

these extreams on the one hand, lest fome among us, found a great deal of Mercy here, will now think there need of any Christian prudence, which is alwayes need and is a great duty. It is not cowardise to make use best means to preserve our Liberty, not declining our On the other-fide, there is fear lest some may be fearful ready to decline their Duty; because they have newly of a Prison for it. Far be it from you to distrust GO whom you have had fo great experience, but be fure you on in your duty, what soever it cost you.

Fourthly, Do not load others with censures, whole ment, or Practice, differs from yours, but humbly bless that hath so happily directed you. You know all are the fame mind as to the Circumstances of Suffering, have not gone the fame way. Far be it from any of yo Brethren) that you should so far forget your selves, unmerciful to your Brethren, but bless GOD that h rected you into a better way. Your charity must grew than ever; GOD forbid that you should increase in Co instead of increasing in Charity.

Having spoken to my Fellow-Prisoners, I have two to fpeak to you our Friends and Brethren with us.

First, Let our experience be your incouragement. the Lord, ye our Friends, love the Lord, fear him for believe in him, trust in him for ever, for our fakes; tasted of the kindness of GOD.

You know how good GOD hath been to us in Spirit in Temporals. Encourage your hearts in the Lord you ferve him the more freely and gladly for our faket fee we have tryed, we have tafted how good the Lord you trust him the more, because we have tryed him so and found him a Friend fo Faithful, fo Gracious, that utterly unable to speak his Praise. Go on and fear no way of your Duty : Verily there is a reward for the Ri GOD hath given us a great reward already, but this is least, we look for a Kingdom.

Secondly, and lastly, My defire is to our Friends, the will all help us in our Praifes. Our Tongues are too. speak forth the Goodness and the Grace of GOD, doy he la us in our Praises. Love the Lord the better, Praise and what is wanting in us, let it be made good by you? the Praises of GOD may found abroad in the Counour means, and for our fakes.

(79)

was prevented of going to the Waters, by his last Impriconnent; for want of which, his Distempers increased upon him all the Winter after, and the next Spring more; ot fo as to take him fully off from his Work, but he GO hed, and kept many Dayes, and Administred the Sacrayou among them frequently.

going up to the Waters in July 1667, they had a coneffect upon him, from what they had at first: For after les daves taking them, he fell into a Feaver, which feifed on are writs, and decayed his strength exceedingly, so that he d very near Death: But the Lord then again revoked the near paffed upon him, and enabled him in fix Weeks arm again to his People, where he much defired to be: at his nding, at his return, great decay of his strength, and mess in all his Limbs, he was willing to go to Dorchester, is further with Doctor Lose, a very Worthy and Reife further with Doctor Lofe, a very Worthy and Re-Physitian, from whom he had received many Medicines, ver conversed with him, nor had feen him, which he ved might conduce more to his full Cure. ent. ( in for him to continue for a fortnight or three weeks there, single might the better advise him, and alter his Remedies, as Spiritud fee occasion; which motion was readily yeelded un-

nere

nece ufe

ur I

arful

wly

hose

S.

S ;

faket

Lordi

im fo

, that

ear no

raife h

we had not been there above five dayes, before the use his Limbs was taken away on a fudden; one day his wholly failing, the next his Legs; so that he could , nor stand, nor move a Finger, nor turn in his out as my felf and another did turn him night and day eet: All means failing, he was given over by Physitihe Ru d Friends, that faw him lie fome weeks in cold this is night and day, and many times for some hours togeads, the half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-te too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-or too half his Body cold, in our apprehensions, dying; recei-ted his body cold, and his body cold, began to Revive, or it could be discerned that Remedia Wide at all prevail against his Diseases: In all this time he was chearful, and when he did speak, it was not at all complainted chearful, and when he did speak, it was not at all completed but alwayes praising and admiring God for his Mercies have his Spirits were so low, that he spake seldom, and very low ly. He still told us he had no pain at all, and when the spirits admired his Patience, he would say; God he less yet tryed him in any thing, but laying him asside our work, and keeping him out of Heaven; but through the could submit to his pleasure, waiting for him: It was play he ever seared, and that he had not yet selt; so tended his Father of him; and he wanted strength (as he often a line) to speak more of his Love, and to speak for God sealth had been, and still was so gracious to him. Being often shathweakness? He would answer; He had not those ravishing that he expected, and that some Believers did partake of the had a sweet serenity of Heart, and considence in soot grounded on the Promises of the Gospel, and did bely would be well with him to all eternity. would be well with him to all eternity.

In all this time, I never heard one impatient word from ager, nor could upon my strictest observation, discern the sand content with this state; though he was a pitiful Objet men, others that beheld him, being so consumed, besides the watch the use of his Limbs: Yet the Lord did support and que want Spirit, that he lay as if he had endured nothing; break whis often most affectionately in commending the kindness these Lord to him, faying, Goodness and Mercy had follows um h

in th

men, vatch

every

affelt

, the

ight,

eks:

mai

m,

Wit. to to all his dayes.

And indeed the loving kindness and care of Godw gular to us in that place, which I cannot but mention praise.

We came Strangers thither, and being in our we found it very uncomfortable; yet were fearful to our felves on any private House: But necessity en le to we did enquire for a Chamber, but could not procur the Small-Pox being very hot in most Families, and with that had them not, dayly expecting them, and fo confipare Rooms, as else they might. But the Lord who fi affliction, inclined the heart of a very good Woman, (a tecei he widdow) one Mrs. Bartler, to come and invite us to he widing in her House; which we readily and thankfully ompla oted of; where we were so accommodated, as we could ercies have been any where else in the Town, especially in red very lost the assistance. I had from four young Women who lid who under the same roof, and so were ready, night and day; d who under the same roof, and so were ready, night and day; od he help me, (I having no Servant nor Friend near me) we e out of so unsetled, I kept none, but had alwayes tended him ough self to that time: And the Ministers and Christians of It was place were very compassionate towards us, visiting and tende ing with and for us often: And Dr. Lose visited him e ofte a Day for twelve or sourteen Weeks, except when he called out of Town, refusing any Fees tendered to him: gots Gentry, in and about the Town, and others, sending to in hat-ever they imagined might be pleasing to him; surpossing him with all delicates that might be grateful to one take o tak; So that he wanted neither Food nor Physick, had be she himself in the consideration of the Lord's kindness to in the Love he received, and would often say; I man a in the Love he received, and would often fay, I man a d from ager, and Mercy took me in, in Prison, and it came to me, the k and weak, and it visited me. There were also ten young Objet men, besides the four in the House, that took their turns es the tatch with him constantly; for twelve Weeks space I need wanted one to help me: And the Lord was pleased to break these Weeks in the depth of Winter) one that helped of these weeks in the depth of Winter) one that helped willows am him, never lying out of the Bed one night from him, every time he called or wanted any thing, was waking that he called or wanted any thing, was waking that he called or wanted any thing, was waking the state of the called or wanted any thing, was waking the state of the called or wanted any thing, was waking the called or wanted any thing, was waking the called or wanted any thing, was waking the called or wanted any thing was water that the called or wanted any thing was water the called or wanted water the called or wa every time he called or wanted any thing, was waking follow affelt her in the Chamber, though as some of them have intimed, they did tell that we did turn him more than 40. times ight, he seldom steeping at all in the Night, in all those our its: Though his tender Affections were such, as to have all to me sometimes lain in another Room, yet mine were such it in, that I could not bear it, the thoughts of it being work in the trouble or disturbance he accounted I and with him, for I feared some would do anything about the whose to touch him but me, or to give him any thing that he whose to touch him but me, or to give him any thing that he whose to ever the which I disserted it was most grateful to him. an, (a teceive; by which I differred it was most grateful to him,

His

m h

d has und :

d hol

coul

en ab

them

bear

1: A

out h

any n

th m d anj

TONT

He. s

Vatt

pe ti

ibar

ace ca

ever

mwi

My

ache

Reper

tenti

t 35 4

t hat

, SA

pels o

ers a

er of dire

the w

and therefore so to me; And I never sound any want of Rest, most did get so much as a Cold all that Winter, the I do not remember that for 14 or 15 years before, I could say I was one month free of a most violent Cough, which had been molested with then; would have been a great adon to his and my affliction; and he was not a little taken the goodness of God to me in the time of all his sickness, especially that Winter; for he being not able to help hims the least, I could not be from him night nor day, with any of fort to him or my felf.

In this condition he kept his Bed till December the And then, beyond all expectation, though in the dept Winter, began to revive and go out of his Bed; be could neither stand nor go, nor yet move a singer; he sense in all his Limbs but not the least motion: As his standid increase, he learnt to go, (as he would say) first by led by two of us, then by one; and when he could go surn in his Chamber, though more weakly, and with sear than the weakest Child that ever I saw, he was derfully taken with the Lord's Mercy to him: By Feb the was able, with a little help, to walk in the Streets; not to seed himself) nor to go up or down stairs without help.

When he was deprived of the use of his Limbs, les down on his Arms, as I held him up by all the strengthad: He again listed up his Eyes from his useles Arm Heaven, and with a chearful countenance said: The Lord given, and the Lord hath taken, and blessed be the Na the Lord.

Being asked by a Friend, How he could be fo well come

What, is God my Father, Jesus Christ my Saviour, and Spirit my sweet Friend, my Comforter, and Sanctifier, Heaven my Inheritance? Shall I not be content without I and Health? Through Grace I am fully satisfied with my thers pleasure.

To another that asked him the same, he Answers, I , me chosen God, and he is become mine, and I know with who heril have rusted my self, which is enough: He is an unrease when wretch that cannot be content with a God, though he had y wi the elfe : My interest in God is all my joy. His Friends (some of Taunton) coming to Dorcester to see dhave all the Curtains drawn, and defired them to stand and about the Bed, and would have me take out his Hand, a hold it out to them, that they might shake him, though could not them; as he used formerly to do, when he had en absent from them : And as he was able, thus he spake them : O how it rejoyces my heart to fee your Faces, and the I hear your Voices, though I cannot speak as hererofore to dept w. Methinks I am now like Old Jacob, with all his Sons but out him: Now you fee my weak estate; thus have I been for any weeks, since I parted with Tauston, but God hath been my weeks, fince I parted with Taunton, but God hath been fire in me, and I hope with you; your Prayers have been heard, by danswered, for me many wayes; the Lord return them in-go your own Bosoms. My Friends, Life is mine, Death is with me, in that Covenant I was preaching of to you; is all my danswered, for me many wayes; the Lord return them inm, in that Covenant I was preaching of to you, is all my vation, and all my defire; although my Body do not profper, Feli je through Grace my Soul doth.

(83)

out accean Die by a Promise: It is the Promises of God which twertafting, that will fland by us: how mill flead us in a day of Affliction. Arch My dear Friends, I feel the power tverlafting, that will fland by us : Nothing but God in

My dear Friends, I feel the power of those Doctrines I Arm tached to you, on my Heart: Now the Doctrines of Faith, Lord Repentance, of Self-denyal, of the Covenant of Grace, of e Na tentment, and the rest; O that you would live them over;

I cannot Preach to you.

add cen u

efs, ime

nyq

was

thath so many glorious Priviledges, Justification, Adopit hath so many glorious Priviledges, Justification, Adopit, Sanctification, and eternal Glory. We shall be at the differ, tels of God in a little while t Nay, to say the truth, Bebout Litts are, as it were, little Angels already, that live in the ithm te of Faith. O my Friends! Live like believers, trample dirty World under your feet; Be not taken with its Comits, 1 it, nor disquieted with its Crosses, Ton will be gone out of the world berily.
wreafa When they came to take their leaves of him, he would be had y with them as his weak state would suffer him; and the words of Moses, and of the Apostles, Blessed them.

The same he alwayes used after a Sacrament: The Lord bless Poor you and beep you, the Lord cause his Face to shine upon you and give you peace. And the God of Peace, that brought again opin from the Dead our Lord Jesus, through the Blood of the Even nine lasting Covenant, make you perfect in every good Work to L In his Will, working in you that which is well-pleasing in hat the sight, through Jesus Christ, to whom be glory, for ever as bou

And then spake thus, [Farewell, farewell my dear Friend But I Remember me to all Taunton; I befeech you and them, if udic never see your faces more, go Home and live over what House have preached to you, and the Lord provide for you when I a meet gone: O! let not all my labours and sufferings, let not: An wasted frength,my useles Limbs, rife up in judgment agai inni

e w

vas ta

many

you at the great Day of the LORD.

Another time, some coming to Visit him there, he so is I thus to them: O! my Friends, let your whole Conversational be as becomes the Gospel of Christ; whether I am presenting, absent, live to what I have spoken to you in the Name of this Lord: Now I cannot Preach to you, let my wasted streng thich my useless Limbs, be a Sermon to you: Behold me, I can neto move a singer; all this is come upon me for your sakes, and the Gospel; It is for Christ and you that I have thus spent and himy self: I am as fraid of you, lest some of you, after all which I have spoken to you, should be lost in the World. There ing, it many Professors who can pray well, and talk well, whom der su shall find at the left Hand of Christ another day: You the sayour Trades, your Estates, your Relations; be not taken the Head, these, but with God: Olive on him! For the Lord's sat that Home and take heed of the World, worldly Cares, worldly went forts, worldly Friends, &c. Saying thus, Another time, some coming to Visit him there, he for is C forts, worldly Friends, &c. Saying thus,

The Lord having given Authority to his Ministers to that he his People, accordingly I bless you in his Name, using the in the words as before, and so parted with them; with many of God so dear expressions of his Love to them and the Town.

ly he w And thus He was used to Converse with all that can always Visit him, as He was able, looking alwayse chearfully this hem, and never complaining of any Affliction He was Night der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his Taunton Friends to the der, except it were to excite his the der, exce Daties.

(85)

In February, he being very desirous to return among his delet people, he moved it to his Doctor, who consented to it, aring that Air might be too keen for him in March: And again toping that it might much add to his Cure, to satisfie his Even mind.

In a Horse-Litter I removed him: He was much pleased in he the fight of the Place, and his People, who came flocking that he was able to feed himself the Week after he came Home.

bout him; and he feemed to increase in streng h, so that he was able to feed himself the Week after he came Home:

But I fearing the frequent Visits of his Friends might be predicted to him, perswaded him to remove to Mr. Mallacks what House, which he was again invited to, and most courteously intertained.

And thus he continued increasing in strength, till the beginning of April, and then he began to decline again, and was taken after some dayes with Convulsion Fits, as he fat in his Chamber one Afternoon, and had three or four more instituted in the use of Means, through God's Blefasser his Chamber, he desired me to leave him a while alone; thich I was very unwilling to do, but his importunity made neto go down from him: But in less than half a quarter of a hour, he was fallen to the Ground in one of his former Fits, which was very clotted and corrupt, which Physicians seed him, which was very clotted and corrupt, which Physicians seed him, did conclude (though it were grievous to me, that under such which weakness, he should have so sad an Accident) that the fall saved his Life: For had not that Blood come from his hear Head, he had, so far as they could rai ionally judge, died in that Fit, which took away his Senses for the present; but he went to Bed, and slept so well that night, as he had not in many Wecks before; so that my Self, and Friends, seared to that he had been in an Apoplexy: But he awaked about six many Weeks before; fo that my Selt, and Friends, teared to that he had been in an Apoplexy: But he awaked about fix the fin the Morning, much refreshed, and full of the Praises of my o God for his Mercies to him, being very fensible how suddenly he was surprised the Evening before. After this, he lived ally of the but a Puff, and I am gone: And therefore would, every was Night after he had been at Prayer, bid all the Family farewel, to I telling them, He might be dead before the Morning; and drop(86)

ing fome holy Counfels to them, would depart to his Cha ber: All the while I was undreffing him, he would be courfing of Spiritual things, it being all his delight; when we lay down to rest, his last words were usually, shall shortly be in another Bed, therefore it is good to n st, and provide for it apace; farewel my Dear Heart, Lord bless thee I and so he would go to his Rest. In Health and Sickness, his first Speeches in the Mornings wo be, I Now we have one day more; here is one more for G now let us live well this day; work hard for our Soul lay up much Treasure in Heaven this day, for we have but

in, 2

na pai d free

he w

But t

m lie

Win

ors to inst i

en h nzed

like

urne

red a

mfelf.

At h

d Bo

rds

The

v thi

t ab

ceks

sim

few to live.

cafed After this, the strength of his Limbs, which were decays Bath returned again, and he was, beyond all expectation, for to ap recovered, that we had no fears of his relapfing again: H at had Appetite, and Rest, and all repaired. But about the fixth T, W. May, he began again to find weakness in his Stomach, whi in a few dayes fo grew upon him, that he loft his Limbs again and on the 12th of May, in the Morning, having lain for dayes and nights in cold Sweats, as heretofore at Derchel he was again feifed with Convulsions, first lying four ho with his eyes fixed to Heaven, not speaking one Word, i in the least moving himself, my self and Friends weepi by him, at last he spake to us with a very audible Voice [Weep not for me, my Work is done] and feemed to full of Matter to utter to us, but was immediately feised wi en co a terrible Convulsion, which was fad to behold; it so alter his Countenance, and put him into fuch Sweats, that 'two strange to fee how the drops lay and run down his Face, a hile, Hands, and Body: This held him two hours or more, a ES, W ceased, but he was left by it without any fense; and in mous quarter of an hour, or little more, fell into another, in which he ratled, and was cold, fo that we apprehended ever breath would be his last. The Physician who was then by him accounted his Pulse to be gone, and that he would be dead in few minutes: But the Lord shewed his Power here once again creating raising him, so that many that came and saw him, that hear could in raising him, so that many that came and saw him, that hear sfull the next day he was alive, would not believe till they came rion and saw him again. These violent Fits went off about twelve ew 2 Clock, and he revived, but had no fense to converse with us till the next day, not did he perfectly receiver them fourtdayes y, and then was as before, and to continued very weak till no firength coming into his Hands or Legs; for the A part confined to his Bed, but still chearful in his Spirit, diffee to discourse with any that came to visit him, as long he was able.

(87)

be

1

, (1

0 101

trt, t

In i

Soul

e but again a for

hou

d, 1

eepin Void

But the Lord had yet more work for him to do: I feeing s wot mile so hopeless, as to his Life or Limbs, and considering or Get Winter was growing on apace, I proposed it to the Doors to have him to the Bath; fome were for it, others aecay safed with it, and so earnest in it, that I sent immediatly bath for a Horse-Litter, and the Lord was pleased strange-to appear in strengthening him for his lowered. at had not in many Weeks been out of his Bed and Chamfixth which r, was able in two dayes to reach near forty miles, (but men he came io Bath, the Doctors there feemed to be much mized to behold fuch an Object, professing they never faw e like) much wondering how he was come alive fuch urney, and doubted much to put him in : But he having ed all Artificial Baths, and Oyntments, and Plaisters fore, he refolved, against their Judgment, to adventure nfelf.

d Bone, some of the Ladies were assignted, as if Death had en come in among them, and could be the death had At his first appearing in the Bath, being wasted to Skin en come in among them, and could not endure to look to-alter alter and some in among them, and could not endure to look toinds him.

The first time he went in, he was able to stay but a littleile, an ile, but was much resreshed, and had no Symptom of his ts, which he feared the Bath might have caused again:
which the blessing of the Lord upon this means, without which the blessing of the Lord upon this means, without ything else, except his drinking of Goats-Milk, he that was to able to go not stand, nor move a Finger, could in three the time walk about his Chamber, and feed himself:
ad in again
tended, that there seemed no doubt to the Physicians of stall Recovery, he having not the least sign of any incliheard shall Recovery, he having not the least fign of any incli-came win to his Fits, from the Twelfth of May till his Death where we nigh.

ith us In this time of his being in Bath, his Soul was far more

HI e the

eloj

le wit

Whil

firengthened with Grace; fo that my felf, and all that be him, and converfed with him, discerned sensibly his grow and he was in the Nights and Dayes, so frequently with 6. and often in such ravishments of Spirit, from the Joys & Co folations that he received from the Spirit of God, that it oftentimes more than he could express, or his bodily firen could bear; so that for my own part, I had less hopes of did continuance on Earth than ever before: For I perceived planty de ly, the Lord had spared him but to recover strength of Grand and to make him a more evident instance of his singular Lordy en before he took him hence.

He being now more chearful than formerly, and more ans, be ceedingly affectionate in his carriage to me, and to all ent. Friends, especially with those that were most Heavenly, assons Lord was pleased to order it in his Providence; there are many such then who came to use the Bath, as Mr Faircle and his Wise, Mr. How of Torrington, Mr. Joseph Barn and his Wise, and several of our Taunton Friends, and of I am and his Wise, and several of our Taunton Friends, and of I have the Ministers and others, which was a great comfort to us. His parts seemed to be more quick in his Converses, which was put upon, either by Scholars, or those that we road, more Inseriour. He had many Visitors there, both of strangers and Friends, who were willing to see him, and discourse the tothim, having heard what a monument of Mercy he was; and some would to all of them, so amplifie upon all the Passages of Galarings with him, as was very pleasant to all that heard he and did affect many that were strangers to God, and to Region, as well as to him.

He found much favour, even among the worst, both Ger we More than the second of the gion, as well as to him.

He found much favour, even among the worst, both Ger ve Mo and others (such as would make a scoff at Religion, or his that Discourse from others) would hearken to him. Though he cir No often faithfully reprove many for their Oaths, and excess God Drinking, their lascivious Carriages, which he observed into my Death; and there was none of them but did most thankfully a ma cept it from him, and shewed him more respect after, the ful so they had done before: In which he observed much of God thing goodness to him, and would often say to me: O! how given it to be faithful to God. The vilest of these Persons, as I whise by several informed, said of him, That he never spake mit you such a man in his life.

(89)

the He Reproofs were managed with so much respect to their proof of and the honourable esteem he had of their Dignity, the Greathey said, They could not but accept his Reproofs, though & C. pelose and plain: And his way was, sometime before he tit, mided to reprove them, he would often in the Bath Cont it, ended to reprove them, he would often in the Bath Condid fo ingage their Affections, that they would willingly d planty day converse with him: He being furnished (from his f Gramer Studies) for any Company, designing to use it still for ar In oly ends; by such means hath caught many Souls.

s of

While he was in this place, though he had many Diver-while he was in this place, though he had many Divermote as, by his using the Bath constantly every day, and his freto all ent Visits, besides his Weakness, yet he kept his constant associated by the Morning constantly at or before five a Clock, and arche pin the Morning constantly at or before five a Clock, and arche pin the Morning constantly at or before five a Clock, and arche pin the Bath. Having the Curtains drawn close, he spent his he in Holy Meditation, and Prayer, and Singing, and once ain before Dinner, but then he spent less time; and about is, which is not before two in the Asternoon, just before he went to be to walk abroad in the Streets without my leading him, and offer the would be imployed for his Lord and offer his Chair-men that used to carry him to the Bath, appointed to fetch him about Three a Clock, who to R ried him to Visit all the Schools and Almes-houses, and a Godly Poor, especially the Widdows; to whom he would refer the Money, and with whom he would Pray; and Converse the them concerning their Spiritual States, according as the cir Necessities required; engaging those that were Teachers, excess devertions to Teach the Assembles Catechism, buying ed int my Oozens, and giving them to distribute to their Scholars; fully: I many other small Books which he thought might be er, the full for them: and then would come and see, in a Week or off of the them: and then would come and see, in a Week or off of the them: and then would come and see, in a Week or off of the them: and then would come and see, in a Week or off of the profited much by his Instructions, till some took the mit yor seventy Children every Lord's-Day to our Lodging, at the profited much by his Instructions, till some took they profited much by his Instructions, till some took fuch est C bein

of hi

to B

forme

Bath

r fo

th th

and che

med alte

after em to ther

me rhile i

in n towar

for a gupi

he wo at St

, 80

and

end of

fach offence at it, that he was forced to defile, and the se Mafter was threatned to be cited to Wells before the Biff many others afrighted from it.

He also sent for all the godly Poor he could find in place, and entertained them at his Chamber, and gave to every one as he was able, as a Thank-Offering to the l for his Mercy to him, and defired them, with feveral other Keep a day of Thanksgiving for him ; Mr. Fairclough, Mr. and Himfelf, performing the duties of the day.

Thus though his Sickness had been long, and his Expe great, he thought he could never spend enough for him whom he had received all: He constantly gave Money or ples to all the Children that came to be catechized by his ingage them, befides all he gave to the Teachers, and I which indeed was beyond his ability, considering his Ef But I am perswaded, he did foresee that his time would be thore; and having made a competent and comfortable pur on for me, he refolved to lay up the rest in Heaven; he di ten fay to me, If he lived never fo long, he would never in bis Estate, now I was provided for ; be baving no Chil God's Children thould have it.

But he was yet again defigning what he might do before took his leave of the World: And his next work was, to Letters to all his Relations and intimate Friends, in mo which he urges them to observe his Counsels, for they were to be his last to them. I alwayes wrote for him, for he o not! by reason of his weakness, write a Line.

At this time he had a great defire to go to Mr. Fofeph for me his last Work for God that ever he did not here to and his last Work for God, that ever he did on Earth; which, in to promote the Exercise of Catechising in Somersetshire indeas Wileshire: Mr. Barnard having had a great deliverance as any I as himself, he proposed this to him as their Thank-Offering, as himself, he proposed this to him as their Thank-Offering, and God, which they would joyntly tender to him. They had in and God, which they would joyntly tender to him. They had in and God one to another, to give so much for the Printing of the assertion of the another than we related to raise same Money, for to send to every Minister that we relieve to raise same manufactured in Learning: This Work was finished by Mr. I not so mard, after my Husband was gone to his Rest. mard, after my Husband was gone to his Reft.

(91)

d in

tol

the L the

Mr.H

Expe

nim i

ey or him

nd N

ld be

he di r inn Chil

befor

s, to

1 100 Were

r he a

So thing himself to decline again, apprehended it was the enter using the Bath, and therefore desired to return, bing fearful he should ride home, seeing some Sympof his Fits, fent for the Horfe-Litter, and fo carried him to Bath : Where, by the Doctors advice, after he had fome things to prepare his Body, he made use of the Bath (the Crofs-Bath being then too cold) and fo he four dayes, and feemed to be refreshed, and the and two of his Taunton Friends coming to fee him. chearful with them : But on the third of November. med a great change in his Countenance, and he found alteration in himself, but concealed it from me, as I after: For some Friends coming to visit him, he defiis EA em to pray for him, for his time was very thort : But them not to tell me of it: All that day he would not me to move out of the Chamber from him, except the those Friends were with him. After we had dined. in more then ordinary manner transported with Affelowards me; which he expressed, by his returning me for all my pains and care for him and with him, and up many most affectionate requests for me to GOD. he would fuffer me to rife as we fat together: At Night at Supper, before I could rife from him, he fpake thus

, now my dear Heart, my Companion in all my Tribuand Afflictions, I thank thee for all thy pains and laand Afflictions, I thank thee for all thy pains and lafeels or me, at Home and Abroad, in Prison and Liberty, in and Sickness; reckoning up many of the Places we had which, in the dayes of our affliction: And with many other advantage and affectionate Expressions, he concluded any Holy Breathings to God for me, that he would reoffering, and never forget me, and fill me with all manner of hadinad Confolations, and that his Face might still shine ing of e, and that I might be supported and carried through the residual thing one for him, he turned his Chair from me, that I

Mr. I not see, and read the Meditations about Death in the
and of that Book; which I discerning, askt of him, Whether ther he did apprehend his endwas near? To which here He knew not, in a few dayes I would see; and for ther he did apprehend his endwas near? To which here He knew not, in a few dayes I would fee; and so her Discourse, to divert me; desiring me to read two Chapel not being able to go to Prayer; and with his own han time very hairly undoe his Coat and Doublet, which he have done in many Months before: As soon as he was in a strold me, He selt some more than ordinary Stoppage and Head; and I brought him something to prevent the Do, which I feared: But in a quarter of an Hour after her signed a very strong Convulsion: Which I being much afright of the called for help, and sent for the Doctors; used all son sorni other means, but no success the Lord was pleased tog ited, to any: But they continued for two Days and Night to any: But they continued for two Days and Nigh cealing one hour.

This was most grievous to me, that I saw him so like the part, and that I should hear him speak no more of the fearing it would harden the Wicked to see him remother such a stroak: For his Fits were most terrible to be Lord And I earnestly besought the Lord, that is it were him fure, He would so far mitigate the heavy stroak Is there coming upon me, by causing him to utter something rink Heart before He took him from me: which he great answered me in; for he that had not spoke from I held the winds of the strong was about three a Clock with the strong was about three a Clock with the strong was about three a Clock with the strong was a strong was about three a Clock with the strong was a strong Night, did on Friday Morning, about three a Clock, which me to come to him, speaking very understandingly, has Times, all that day: But that Night, about nine a Content brake out with an audihle voice, speaking for sixteen is and eather, those and such like words. gether, those and such like words as you formerly hads of; and did cease but a very little space, now and the come the Afternoon, till about six on Saturday in the E spare when he departed.

we l

About three in the Afternoon he had, as we per her to fome conflict with Satan, for he uttered these words; this way thou foul Fiend, thon Enemy of all Man-him week subtile Sophister, art thou come now to molest me! Not ! I configurate young! Now I am so weak, and Death upon me. Does ble me not, for I am none of thine! I am the Lords, to East mine, and I am his: His by Covenant; I have so was self to be the Lords, and his I will be: Therefore be excit to his of his (93) d for his words he repeated often, which I took much no wo Ch. That his covenanting with God was the means he utwo Ch. That his covenanting with God was the means he unhasted expel the Devil and all his Temptations.

In the time we were in Bath, I had very few hours alone with, he he wreason of his constant using the Bath, and Visits of was in shoom all Parts thereabouts, and sometimes from Taunioppage and when they were gone, he would be either retyring ent the DD, or to his Rest: But what time I had with him, he er help shent in Heavenly and Profitable Discourse, speaking africh of the Place he was going to, and his Desires to be gone.

Ill for some as I was dressing him, he looked up to Heaven detailed. And I urging him to know why, He answered me Il for forning as I was dreining inin, he was dreining inin, he do why, He answered me

Might my Love, I was thinking of my Marriage Day, it will folke the Owhat a joyful day will that be! Will it not, more fithou my dear Heart? In remother time, bringing him some Broth, he said, Blessed to be Lord for these refreshments in the way home; but O how were half Heaven be! ak It there time, I hope to be shortly where I shall need no Meat; with mink, nor Cloaths. He gas an he looked on his weak consumed Hands, he would from I bese shall be changed; This vile Body shall be made like clock in Glorious Body.

The said of the Resurrection be! The all reposes the said of the saints lift up their teen had rejoyce, and how sady will the wicked World look had:

hada he E spare.

we long to be in Heaven, let us haften with our Work;

h here

we long to be in Heaven, let us haften with our Work;

we long to be in Heaven, let us hapen with our work, we per ben that is done, away we shall be fetcht.

It is vain, foolish, dirty World, I wonder how reasonable, this vain, foolish, dirty World, I wonder how reasonable, which we scan so dote upon it! What is in it worth the looking! Nn! I care not to be in it longer than while my Master hath with the Doing or Suffering Work for me, were that done, farework, to Earth.

The swas much in commending the Love of Christ, and from some exciting himself and me to obedience to him, often speak of his Sufferings and of his Glory.

we ! be t

be be

Hom

ol afu

the I

urs :

befor

ta I

but

my S

S mal !

econ hey

to t

what

20

Of his Love-Letters, as he called the Holy History, Life, Death, Refurrection, Afcention, and his Second ing. The thoughts of which he feemed alwayes to be ravished with.

He would be frequently reckoning the choice Token had fent him, which I remember he would frequently up, 1. The Pardon of Sin. 2. A Patent for Heaven, Gift of the Spirit. 4. The Robe of his Right confines. Boyles of Enemies. 6. The Charter of all Liberties and ledges. 7. The Guard of his Angels. The confiders this last he did frequently folace himself in, saying to er m ten, when we lived alone in the Prifon, and divers of ces; Well, my Dear, though we have not our Attendan ces; Well, my Dear, though we have not our Attendant's con Servants as the Great Ones, and Rich of the World has sures have the Blessed Angels of God still to wast upon us, u. 1, wi ster to us, and to watch over us while we are sleeping. Cha with m when journeying, and fill to preferve the from of Men and Devils.

He was exceedingly affected with the three last Cha Saint John's Goffel, especially Christ's parting West Prayer for his Disciples. But it is time for me to set a my Pen, God did pour into him, and he did pour out for that it was scarce possible to retain the Converses of or without a constant Register: His Heart, his Lips, his I filled up with Grace; In which he did fhine both in and Sickness, Prosperity and Adversity, in Prison and s Lo berty, in his own House, and in the Churches of Christ, mee ever he came: I never heard any that conversed with him is Br would acknowledge it was to their advantage:

At my Husbands first coming to Taunton, he was every ly to ed by Mr. Newton as a Sojoutner, and after he was ordan ablication in a Publick Association-Meeting, he administration ordinances joyntly with him; though he were but an Association Mr. Newton would have it so, who dearly loved him, and hen association of the second of him. esteemed of him; and seeing him restless in his Spirit, self putting himself to many tedious Journeys to visit me, (it will did once a Fortnight 25 miles) he perswaded him to me if he contrary to our purpose, we resolving to have lived much in, ger single. The 4th of October 1655, after a year and my Months acquaintance, our Marriage was consummated. Months acquaintance, our Marriage was confumnated.

(95)

we lived rogether with Mr. Newton, near two years. flory were most courteoutly entertained, and I second be more useful in our Station, we took a House, and I become be more useful in our Station, we took a House, and I and had many Tablers, and Scholars, our Family beokens sidome lefs than Twenty, and many times Thirty; My ently of afually fifty or fixty of the Town and other places. even the Lord was pleased to bless us exceedingly in our eners: So that many were converted in a few years, that before Strangers to God: All our Scholars called him dern before Strangers to God: All our Scholars called him it deem in the strangers to God: All our Scholars called him it and indeed he had far more care of them than most of the natural Parents, and was most tenderly affectionate to but especially to their Souls.

In the strangers in his Family was Prayer, and reading the cures, and singing twice a day, except when he catella he with the was constantly once, if not twice a Week: Of Chapter that was read, he expected an account of, and my Sermon, either to himself or me: He dealt with them in Servants frequently together, and apart, about their was feed, and calling them strictly to account, Whenever he did not omit them. He also gave them Books suited to their Capacities and Condition, which they gave a sof of dealth was to be preferred.

It and was to be preferred.

It is Brethren to supply theirs on any Exigency, or would go to was no Minister; and so was forced often to leave his lift to me, to my great grief and loss: In his Repetitions ordain their have pleaded with him for more of his time with Spirit, self and Family, he would answer me: His Ministerial me, it to me, to my great grief and loss: In his Repetitions ordain their Lave pleaded with him for more of his time with Spirit, self and Family, he would answer me: His Ministerial me, it would not permit him to be so constant as he would; it to me, to my prease and souls, he could imploy them in, and about Taunton: And would say, Ah my Dear, it and methy Soul is safe; But hop many that are Perishing that and methy Soul is safe; But hop many that are Perishing that and methy Soul is safe; But hop many that are Perishing that and methy Soul is safe; But hop many that are Perishing that and methy Soul is safe; But hop many that are Perishing that the same and the same

ted.

ess.

3,0 rve n nuch

is Fa

pould

lever

in ner.

d an s fer

m re vould

preci

aunto

. he

chife

on he four ule it unto ut a ?

which

them

have I to look after ? O that I could do more for it He was a Holy, Heavenly, Tenderly-Affectionate Hus and I know nothing I could complain of, but that he taken up, that I could have but very little converse with h

His Love was expressed to me, in his great care for Sick and Well; in his Provision for me; in his Delie my Company; faying often, He could not bear to be me, but when he was with God, or employed for and that often it was hard for him to deny himself to long absent: It was irksome to him to make a Meal out me, nor would he manage any Affair almost with converling with me, concealing nothing from me, that fit for me to know; being far from the Temper of Husbands; who hide all their Concerns from their W which he could not endure to hear of, especially in t one, it to

He was a faithful reprover of any thing he faw amis which I took as a great evidence of his real good will t Soul; and if in any thing he gave me offence, which w feldom for far would he deny bimfelf as to acknowledgt defire me to pass it by, professing to me he could never to he had done fo; and the like I was ready to do to him, as was far more reason; by which course, if any different arife, it was foon over with us.

He was a very tender Master to his Servants, every w pressing it to their Souls and Bodies, giving them that is ragement in their places they could defire; expecting for whole Family that respect, and obedience to his Comme him which their Rule required; reproving them that were to the and negligent in observing them.

them.

He was frequent in keeping folemn dayes of Humilia ge, he especially against a Sacrament.

He was a very strict observer of the Sabbath, the Date of which He did perform with such joy and alacrity of the parties as was most pleasant to joyn with him, both in Put and in the Family, when we could enjoy him: And the chiral did much press upon Christians, to spend their Sabbaths as he were such as the praises and Thanksgivings, as days of holy rejoycing in Redeemer.

All the time of his Health, he did rife constantly a it four of the Clock, (and on the Sabbaths Cooner, if refour of the Clock, (and on the Sabbaths fooner, if his wake) he would be much troubled if he heard any it, or Shoomakers, or such Tradesmen at work at their the best of the heart his Duties with God: Saying to me this of the heart his Duties with God: Saying to me the his of heart his Duties with God: Saying to me the his of heart his Duties with God: Saying to me the his obeing the his Noise shames me! Doth not my Master to me more than theirs? From four till eight, he spent in the his standily: Having refreshed himself about half as hour, it to would call to Family-Duties, and after that to his Studies, levest or twelve a Clock, cutting out his Work for every in the Day. Having refreshed himself a while after ner, he used to retire to his Study to Prayer, and so Admin and the day before; going about two a Clock, and meturning till seven in the Evening, sometimes later: would often say, Give me a Christian that counts his time presont than Gold. His Work in his publick Ministry will the wear to me a Sabbath, and Category will be some the Preached on the Sabbath-Day, on Tuesday in the sing, in the say of the say of the devoted himself much to private Work, and also chised once a Week in Publick besides, and repeated the on he Preached on the Sabbath-Day, on Tuesday in the sing, in the say of the s intly a

(97)

or if he faw cause, denounce the Threatnings of God; them that despise his Ministers, and so departed ! and would fend affectionate Letters to them, so full of love expressions of his great desires to do their Souls good, overcome their Hearts, and they did many of them aftern readily receive him into their Houses. Herein was his C passion shewed to all Sorts, both Poor and Rich, not daining to go into fuch Houses amongst the Poor, as we ten very offensive to him to sit in, he being of an exact curious temper: yet would he with Joy and Freedom himself for the good of their Souls, and that he might fil his Ministry among those the Lord had given him the fight of.

If ar

edif

Go

The

go

hin Mon

etim

ying

em:

ute t veral

ooks

inted

ere tu ublick

the

ne it

he

at ma

dagr

s, th os we

m al

r felv

d the

GO

ght f

And :

I perceiving this Work, with what he did otherwise, to b hard for him, fearing often he would bring himfelf to Di pers and Difeases, as he did foon after, befought him go fo frequently: His answer would be, What have I for for, but to spend for God? What is a Candle for, but burnt ? And he would fay, I was like Peter, fill cryin fpare thy felf; But I must not hearken to thee, no more my Master did to him: Though his Labours were for dant, I never knew him, for nine Years together, und least Distemper one quarter of an Hour.

He was exceeding temperate in his Dyet: though he very sharp Appetite, yet did he at every Meal deny hi being perswaded that it did much conduce to his He His converse at his Table was very profitable, and yet fant, never rifing, either at home or abroad, without ping fomething of God, according to the Rule he laid He was very much in commending and a to others. ing the Mercies of GOD in every Meal, and was still for had fed with his Provision, for him, that he would often He fared deliciously every day, and lived far better the ortion Great Ones of the World, who had their Tables far hand-furnished: For he enjoyed God in all, and faw his Lon able to Bounty in what he received at every Meal: So that he who fay, O Wife! I live a voluptuous life; but bleffed be Go would is upon Spiritual Dainties, such as the World known by him talte not of.

He was much in minding the Poor, that were in wa ould n

(99)

things, often wondering that God should make such a difnce between him and them, both for this World and that come; and his Charity was ever beyond his Estate, as my and many other Friends did conceive, but he would not diffwaded, alwayes faying, If he mere Produgal, it was

God, and not for himfelf, nor fin.

nd !

ve,

,

erwi is C

not

WEI

xad

dom

night

thee

tob

o Di

im p I fin

but

Cryu

277411 e fo und

gh he ny hi

nis He

There were but few, if any, Poor Families, especially of godly in Taunton, but he knew their necessities, and del himself or Friends relieve them: So that our Homes were Hom free of fuch as came to make complaints to him. After etimes grew dead for Trade, many of our godly men deging, he would give much beyond his ability to recover em: He would buy Peafe and Flitches of Bacon, and distrite twice a year, in the cold and hard Seasons. He kept real Children at School at his own Cost; bought many ooks and Catechisms, and had many thousands of Prayers inted, and distributed among them: And after his Brethren returned out, he gave Four Pounds a Year himself to a blick Stock for them, by which he excited many others to the fame, and much more, which elfe would never have ne it: And on any other occasions as did frequently fall he would give even to the offence of his Friends: So agreed for ; because he would give so much. Besides all the necessities of his own Father, and many other Relams were still calling upon him, and he was open-handed to mall: So that it hath been sometimes even incredible to d yet thout emall: So that it hath been sometimes even incredible to e laid relives to consider how much he did, out of a little Estate, e laid relives to consider how much he did, out of a little Estate, and a difference may seem strange to others: Moreover, when still so had received any more than ordinary Mercy at the Hand GOD, his manner was, to set apart some considerable ster the ration out of his Estate, and dedicate it to the Lord, as a set fat hand-offering, to be laid out for his Glory in pious and chants Lord able Uses.

That he would answer me, He was laying up, and GOD would remain may him: that by liberal things he should stand, when others now mey him: that by liberal things he should stand, when others ght fall that censured him; that if he sowed sparingly, he is in was ould reap so; if bountifully, he should reap bountifully.

And I must confess, I did often see so much of GOD in his dealings.

H 2

(100)

dealings with us according to his Promises, that I have been convinced and silenced; God having often so strangely and unexpectedly provided for us: And notwithstanding all he had done, he had at last somewhat to dispose of to his Relation, and to his Brethren, besides comfortable provision for me.

Héa

Day

did o doa

cc be

" th

" pr e an

" fee " we " lay

"Po

" to

"th

cc for ec far

cc wl

"G

e the

rily f

" gre

ce ly

cc it

" im

w me

« he

"af

I ho

A

S

T

Thus his whole Life was a continual Sermon, holding forth evidently the Doctrines he Preached; Humility, Self-denyal Patience, Meekness, Contentation, Faith, and holy Confedence shining in him, with most dear Love to God, and his Church, and People; and where he longed and panted to be he is now shining in Heaven, singing Praises to God, and the Lamb, which Work he much delighted in whilst herea Earth.

CHAP. VII.

Some Notes from another, whose House he Lodg in (Mr. F.)

The Narrative of his most Constant, Tender, Compassion dealing with ignorant and bad People, in the places who came, (frequently giving them Money, with his Extations, is mentioned before.

As for such as seared God already, he was still seek their Edistication, and stirring them up to a Holy Ii Very much pressing them, to intend God as their end, a to do whatever they did for God. When the Week began would say, A zother Week is now before us, let us spend week for God. And in the Morning he would say, Comes let this day be spent for God. Now let us live this one days Could we resolve to be more than ordinary circumspect, but one day at a time, and so on, we might live at extraordinarse. In the day time, he would (seasonably) ask Peop How did you set out to day? Did you set out for God to day What were your Morning Thoughts?

In the Week time, he would often ask the Servants for (101)

Heads of the Sermon, which they had heard on the Lord's-Day before. As he walked about the House, he would make some Spiritual use of what-ever did occur, and still his Lips did drop like the Honey-Comb to all that were about him, to do any Offices for him in his Weakness, were all well requited.

To one that had done well. "There are two things (faid "he) that we must specially look to after well-doing, and "the special tast of the Love of God. 1. That we grow not "proud of it, and so lose all. 2. That we grow not secure,

"and so give the Tempter new Advantages.

ve been

nd un

he ha

ation

me.

g forth

cnyal

Conf.

to be

and

here

Tion

es mi

Ex

feel

y Li

nd,

egan

and I layer

but

Peop

to day

for t

Speaking of the Vanity of the World, he faid: "It is as good be without the World, and to bear that state as befeemeth a Christian, as to enjoy the World, though it were never so well imployed: If a Man hath Riches, and layeth them out for God, and for his Servants, yet is it as happy a state to receive Alms of another, so we bear our Poverty aright, and are chearful and thankful in our low Estate. (Though yet it is true, that Riches may be used to the good of others; and it is more honourable to give, than to receive.)

Another time he was faying: "How necessary a Duty is it for a Child of God, placitly to suit with all God's Dispensations, and that a Christian must not onely quietly submit to God in all his dealings, but ever to be best pleased with what God doth, as knowing that he is infinitely Wise, and Good. And, O how unbecoming a Christian is it to do o therwise, To which one answering, How short we ordinarily fall as to that temper: He replyed, "We have much ground to go yet, but so it must be; but we shall never be " well indeed till we come to Heaven,

Another time faid he, "O what an alteration will be short." It was upon us! Now we are the Sons of God, but yet "it doth not appear (to fight) what we shall be: Did we imagine onely that we shall shine as the Sun in the Firmament, it were too low a Conception of our Blessedness "hereafter.

Another Morning as he was Dreffing, he faid, "O what a shout will there be when Christ shall come in his Glory!

I hope all here present shall contribute to that shout.

H 3 Anothr

Another time, "I bless the Lord, I delight in nothing in this World, further than I see God in it.

Another time (in his weakness) saith he: "There are three things which must be unlearned, as being mistakes a condition of the world, when it is much more in contemning the world, when it is much more in contemning the world. 2. Men think that their greatest contentment lyeth ent: "in having their Wills, when indeed it lyeth in crossing, we mortifying, and subduing their wills to the Will of God. We then a content the world of themselves.

Another time this was his advice. "I. Value precious ain a time, while time doth last, and not when it is irrevocably end time, while time doth last, and not when it is irrevocably end come, (or are present) and the worth of things present, we before they are past. 3. Value no Mercy as it serveth to before they are past. 3. Value no Mercy as it serveth to reach things eternal.

Such was his Talk at the Table, where he would be flill al by raised in gratitude for God's Bounty, and used to eat his meat with much chearfulness and comfort, as favouring of a med fweeter good.

He took one that was watching with him by the hand, and it.
faid: "I hope to pass an Eternity with thee, in the praises of In I
"our God: In the mean time, Let us live a life of Praise mes.
"while we are here, for it is sweet to us, and delightful to He w
"God: It is harmony in his Ears, our failings being pare lay
"doned, and we and our praise accepted through Christ m all Such discourse is, I hope, no great rarity with good men, it mes the chearfulness of prosperity, in health; But for a man of her p the Bed of tedious languishing, it is more rare.

The night before he went to Bath, where he died, he said to ked he same Person: "O how much more hath God done for hen he would not make the same Person: "O how much more hath God done for hen he would not make the same Person of the World of unconverted Persons, in that eep, it is at last to his Celestial Glory: See that now you acknow stiffee the Grace of God, and give him the praise of it: For and, it is more rare to the converted for the same person of the converted Persons in that eep, it is at last to his Celestial Glory: See that now you acknow stiffee the Grace of God, and give him the praise of it: For and, it is more rare to the converted Persons in that eep, it is the converted Persons in the eep of the co

" ledg the Grace of God, and give him the praise of it : For snd, "my part, I bless the Lord, I am full of his Mercy; Good-" ness and Mercy have followed me all my dayes; I am full and running over: And now I charge you to walk chear(103)

g in fally, and to follow me with your Praises, whilst I am alive.

And for such in the Family as lay under doubts of their ces a condition, he took great care of them, endeavouring daily thin fatisfie their Doubts, and answer their Scruples; and still g the ould be enquiring, whether they had yet any more settle-lyeth ent: And if they said, they knew not how to try themsting, lives; He would say, Come, let me help yeu; and so would come there as said a propound some three or four. sting, tres; He would fay, Come, let me help yeu; and so would God. the them asside, and propound some three or sour sound them takes, by way of Question, and would ask them whether it ere so with them or not? And if any doubt appeared to recious ain about it, he would not easily leave them, till they were easily mewhat satisfied at that time, and would bring all down to they e meanest Capacity, by putting his Questions several estat, ayes. And if yet doubts remained, he would use all the mpassion and pitisfulness that might be, and open to them and to egoodness of God's nature, the sufficiency of Christ, and a readiness to accept returning Sinners; and after long all by fairer means, would plainly labour to convince them at his the Sin of Unbelies, &c. And for any in the Family that of a med to stick under bare Convictions, he much urged them go on, and make a through, and sound, and sure work go on, and make a through, and found, and fure work it.

Ites of In Family Duties he feemed more excellent than at other Praif mes.

In the Was a man of fingular patience in Affliction. Though the He was a man of lingular patience in Affliction. Though a pare lay under fuch Weakness for certain Years, as rendered thrift in almost wholly unable for his publick Work, and many en, it mes not able to move a Hand or Finger, or hardly any an of her part; yet some that have been much with him, never ard him once complain of one Pain or other, unless any aid to ked him, and then would alwayes make the least of it. And me for hen he lay many Nights, and never took the least rest by a that eep, he would never shew the least impatiency, nor so much good say, he had not slept, unless it were askt him: And still troow stiffe and glorifie God, and say, Shall I receive good at Gods. snow shifte and glorifie God, and say, Shall I receive good at Gods : For and, and no evil ?

H 4

Goodm full

hearfully

Addis

Additions.

Speaking of Exhortations and Reproof, he faid, It's came fafest course (where it may be done) to take the opportunity as for and not to suffer our backward hearts to cheat us of the pared sent, on pretence of staving for a fitter time. fent, on pretence of staying for a fitter time.

As advice for prohtable Discourse, he said, It is good can'd such christians as need it, to study before-hand what to specially it that they may alwayes have something in readiness to be a not forth for the benefit of others, which will prevent impertinent

Of Prayer with others he would fay; We have need to ma against consining our Thoughts and Desires to the cases of own Souls, with the neglect of those that joyn with us; but lehad bove all, with the neglect of the miserable World, and of tion, Church of Christ. For though indeed Hypocrites use to Inc creist almost all their publick Prayers from the supposed case that those that are present, and meddle but little with their what a sins and wants, unless in formality: Yet sincere Christi upwar are at first too apt to dwell upon their own Cases almost is else lone, infomuch that they have need to be called outward the fand as they grow in Love, they will grow enlarged in h first case of their Brethren, but especially of Publick and II years versal Consequence. verfal Consequence.

CHAP. VIII.

An intire and exact Delineation of this Holy Perfeburn Written by one of bis familiar Acquaintant ames presented in the last place, as the Portraiture compleat Gospel-Minister.

First, His Personal Character. His Stature and Complexit, the elt, b A S to his Rerfonal Bodily Character, He was of Statutana, tall and erect; of Complexion, clear and lovely, his Confeeding tenance being the feat of chearfulness, gravity, and love. It wil contr

forite

If, th

prodi hither

nnoce Glory,

nd b

(105)

pritely and ferene Countenance was the Index of an friend harmonious Soul. Anger as it feldom beclouded, so the force of an ire and harmonious Soul. Anger as it feldom beclouded, so the feature not that Face most uncapable of sowr impressions, as forced, and so not of long continuance, for it never the feated but upon Summons, when commanded to interpose if, the Glory of GOD, and Honour of Religion being good serned. Neither did his Reason and Vertue sooner raise of the lay it when the Cause was ceased. He was angry, and to bin ed not, by being angry chiefly or only for sin.

His Constitution.

o ma

ere of

case that not a more hail Complexion, than healthful Condo of tion, hugely fitted for the Employment in which he was to line creisful, viz. His Ministerial Labours and Studies, Infocase that he hath often been heard to confess, that he knew what an hours sickness or indisposition was for thirty years in the inposition was for thirty years in the inposition was for thirty years and in the inposition was for thirty years in the first and tatal impairs of his healthful vigour. Since in h first decay, it may be affirmed that contrariwise for in the first decay, it may be affirmed that contrariwise for in the first decay, it may be affirmed that contrariwise for in years together, till the period of his life, he scarce knew was an hours health. Most deplorable it is, that his great even excessive labours, and hard durance, should have prodigal of that strength which might perchance have hitherto employed to the most noble purposes. But alas, mocent stames of Divine Love to GOD, and Zeal for Glory, and the good of Souls, made all his strength a Perse eburnt Sacrifice, and as well devoted, as if sacrificed to tame the soul may be affected to the most noble purposes.

His Judgment.

nd here some injury would be done to his Worthy plexis e, should his internal Excellencies, which are of all the est, be wholly forgotten. His Judgment was as the Pot status anna, wherein were sound and conserved all wholesome is Cousteding-Doctrines; most solid and acute it was. For over the with the Eye of his Body he could not see far off, yet contri with the Bye of his Mind, or Understanding, he penetral far into the Recesses of difficult Truths, and out of mental Heigher Perplexities he was wont happily to extricate himself and others, the toyl of his Intellect herein being not so please of Go as successful. He was all judgment in his Enquiries and Truth, and all Affection in pursuing and promoting that I which is good.

His Memory.

n. Th ever

nof !

lton, Lijesty

mes 1 ain or loved

natter

His Memory was as the Tables of the Covenant, GO LAW being his Meditation Day and Night, and as the cred Records there kept. It was a most Faichful and Ret to programment, out of which he continually brought Things by appeared Old, for the Instruction and Consolation of his Head, not So tenacious it was, that it needed not, and wholly ret to the those helps by which it is usually fortified, and its do awe supplyed. It knew not the slavery of an imposed task such what had once engaged his love, was without delay or seed the continual of the supplyed. culty possest of his Mind or Memory.

His Phansie.

His Phansie was as Aarons Rod budding, ever produce the case fresh Blossoms of refined Divine Wit and Invention. It them quick and happy, a fruitful Store-house of hallowed and g at hallow them. Notions. Ever pregnant, yet never bringing forth of dictional difference of the distinct of but a and Humility, left it should ascend above its height.

His Will and Affections.

ch wa His Will he had so long lost in the Divine Will, as no, far find it, or to be troubled with its reluctancies under so l, who and sad a Series of Tryals and Afflictions, as those which one tended him constantly to his Grave. His Affections an unstrong and fervent, and to use his Words, They kep That their right Objects, and their due Bounds, never enking were (107) men Heights. He was indeed, as it were, all affection in afelf and promoting the grand interests of Religion. The please God's House had consumed him, and that not Blind ries and hot well attempered with Light and Heats. In thing that Holy Mr. Herbert said of himself, that may be said at That his Active Soul was as a keen Knife in a thing ever about to cut through, and take its slight into the not Souls.

His great Gravity.

GO

to proceed to some of his excellent Properties. His ingst yappeared to be true and genuine, (as not affected or hear not through any inability, but unwillingness to press to the service of Vanity) resulting from a mind ever awe of God. Because his Presence and Deportment such an awe even on all with whom he conversed, and seed them to a true Decorum. So that as Reverend stem, when walking in the Streets, was so much cloathed spelty, as by the notice of his coming in these Words, and or doing amiss; so this most grave Divine, where aim or doing amiss; so this most grave Divine, where the came, was as a walking Ghost by his presence, conthem into a grave deportment, his countenance ever and gat his awful Soul. What the Image or Statue of sefort of high GOD speak, viz. He who looketh to me, let who Religious.

Judg his great Gravity was not onely Universally discerned but also more particularly and especially acknowledg-loved by his Brethren in the Ministry; for there being Judg his great Gravity was not onely Univerfally discerned but also more particularly and especially acknowledg-loved by his Brethren in the Ministry; for there being natter of moment depending among them, the care ch was to be devolved on some one man: A worthy as no, far exceeding him in years, sollicited him to take it er so, who modestly waved it, wondering that they should which one so young and unexperienced as himself, for so ions an undertaking. To whom the forenamed Divine recy kep That of all the Ministers, his Brethren, whereof many enking were his Fathers, he knew none of greater Gravity,

(108)

e pra

e G

to So

ently

e far

Love

and a

Obfer

N

M

e it

inded t his

ofe w ge a

and i

able.

respec

t in

ich h

Sects

Stoicks

therin

f: and did n

wher

well be

; for h

Industry, and fitness for the management of that Affair

His Affability.

Neither was he so immured in his Study, as to be a sto, or averse from, that generous and innocent freedom obligingness of converse, for Love and Affability, were rately attempered with his great Gravity. He became things to all men, that he might gain the more; and so municative innocent and obliging were all his Conthat he commanded the imitation and admiration of Friends, and forc'd this acknowledgment from his Adries, both Prophane, Atheistical, and Sectarian, viz. if there were ever a good Man among them, (meaning the conformists) Mr. Allein was he.

His Charity.

Communicative I say he was, both of Spiritual, Temporal good things together, according to, and ex yond his Power, (as it is elfe-where abundantly afcert both when he heard the loud Complaints of fome, and he listened to the filent Suits of others, viz. some mod indigent House-keepers, who only spake by their real and entered their Suits at the Eyes of an inquisitive Al more than at his Ears. Of the good things pertaining Life, he was often liberal beyond his measure, and d pertaining to another Life, often beyond his strength; this Constellation of his Charity and Alms-deeds, he the one more Profitable, and the other more Acceptable one the greater, and the other the happier, and more fuce and by this Conjunction also, he approved himself more fect before God, the more throughly furnished to ever Word and Work

His Utterance.

His Prolation or manner of Speech was Free, Elot by a Sublime, and Weighty. Of him it may be well faid, placed Saviour, That all bear him witness, and wondered nacious Words which proceeded out of his Mouth. It hard to tell what Man ever spake with more Holy Elo-Gravity, Authority, Meekness, Compassion and Effi-Souls, than he did to those, to whom in Instructions ration, Confolation, Reprehension, he most wifely, mily, and fuccefsfully applyed himfelf. Few could refland before the powerful Charms, and united Force Love and Authority, being equally attracted by the and awed by the other. In him if in any, that com-Observation did evidently fall, viz.

(100)

Non bene conveniunt, nec in una sede locantur Majestas & Amor.

ng the it is, that this young Timothy (with whom few were inded, in caring naturally for the state of his Flock) his first entrance on his Ministry, despised for his Youth, fe who after with shame conf. ffed their Errour, and nal, a ge according to appearance, but to honour for their and intrinsick worth, those whom Age hath not made after table. able.

Secondly, His Studies and Learning.

refeects his Studies, he had a strong inclination to, and t in the Study of the Natural and Ethnich Theologie, sinh the Study of the Natural and Ethnick I neologie, and dish he proceeded to a great acquaintance with the State Sects of the Philosophers, especially the Academicks, its toicks, of his insight into whom, he made singular use, thering their choicest Flowers to adorn Christianity and indeed, scarce did he Preach a Sermon, where did not Select some excellent Passage or other out of the whereby to illustrate and sortise his Discourse. And well becoming a Divine, and most laudable this his Injun and Choice was, is most manifest to considering ion and Choice was, is most manifest to considering ; for hereby he more confirmed himfelf in the Christian ion (which he had espoused with so much Judgment and by a diffinct and certain knowledge of the highest Principles ea.fr eedon Were becar and fo Con tion

nis Ad VIZ.

, and mod real

e Ala ining

faid,

(110)

ciples and Hopes of the Ethnick Religions, and by comparing of that with thefe. He also much delighted natomy, in which he acquired a confiderable skill, which not a little improved by frequent Diffections. And in his lick Ministry, he often made use of this his inlight, by poling, with Galen, Hymns to the Creator, whole Wildom he was often heard to admire, in the contri-Mans outward frame, and in the rare contesture, depen and use of all, even the minutest parts, in the excellent of Mans Body. As to his skill in the Languages, ity contemptible, especially in those three which (as L Vipes faith) Christ fanctified upon the Crofs.

Thirdly, His Moderation and Humility.

Thirdly, His Moderation and Humility.

He managed his differt in Judgment from other great Charity, Humility, and Moderation, most find great Charity, Humility, and Moderation, most find great of man, much less of Dignities. Infomuch the his Judgement was at any time desired concerning a monwhich he had heard, and any Minister, (Conton Non-conformist) though weak and mean, he would find matter of Commendation, none of Dispraise, the Minister and his Discourse, at least, to be honest, good intent. He abhorred to intrench on the Divine gative, in judging of Mens States before the Time; condemning Mens Actions at all adventures, without dering their lessening or altering Circumstances. An liked to judge no man beyond his Sphere, and spear no Man; so in his Life did he reap as great and visit ward as any for this most Christian Practice; for the I even of all did pay tribute to his good Name; which thing so entire and sacred, that scarce a Rabsheka or could find a passage by which to invade it. His good was as a precious Box of Oyntment, by his Death of he were could find a passage by which to invade it. His good was as a precious Box of Oyntment, by his Death of hew broken and poured forth, the delicious scent whereof a length of the perfect of the Hearts with great delight retain, which like Lidia's condopened to his Heavenly Doctrine; and not only so, be them, will perpetuate it, whilst they have Childrens Child whom to eternize his Memory. whom to eternize his Memory.

Fou

orth

srefp erch-(

toth

carne

to his

lick W

often ch he l

nt tha ces, ar

rded '

anthly, His Fractice as to Church-Communion. Judgment as to Obedience to Authority.

in his prespects his Practice, and moderate Opinion in point of the supream Power, together with his great regard to carnest insisting on Second-Table Duties, much may be to his worthy Praise. He as frequently attended on the lick Worship, as his opportunities and strength permitted, often declared his very good liking of some Sermons, the heard from the present Incumbent. He did not act that none could worship God aright, unless in all Incumber and smaller Circumstances of Worship, they wholly the heard from the present Incumbent. He did not act that none could worship God aright, unless in all Inces, and smaller Circumstances of Worship, they wholly reded with his Apprehensions; But with the Divine Apone had learnt to say, Notwithstanding every way, which in Pretence or in Truth, Christ is preached, and I therein some, yea, and will rejoyee. He knew of how great motit was that the Publick Worship of God should be mainthed, and that its Assemblies should not be relinquished, ing a show it is Administrations did not clearly approve selves unto him, because upon the account of some Impossion and Pollutions in them, suppose our selves joyned to our Time to the Heavenly Assembly; or to have divine is such an one here on Earth, exempt from all mixtures ime; imperfections of Worshippers and Worship. He abanthout don't all Forms, but their formal use; neither those in An icular, publickly Established, (through a fond prejudice speat triality, as may be affirmed of too many) but hath been the lient and Antient, viz. the Te Deum, and particularly which sentence in it, The noble Army of Martyrs praise thee 3 for the was wont to mention with a certain Exaltation. So as good trate and calm he was in his Judgment, that when the arth spew Forms in the Liturgy, viz. on the horrid Decollation of the was wont to Frist, and on the return of King Charles the First, and on the return of King Charles the First, and on the return of King Charles and the was in his Judgment, that when the arth spew Forms in the Liturgy, viz. on the horrid Decollations and the was so for the way for the part of the pass of the first, and on the return of King Charles the First, and on the return of King Charles and the way for the pass of the pas reof a King Charles the First, and on the return of King Charles idia's econd, were first Printed, he was so far from Nauseaso, bethem, because Forms, or because bearing the stamp of Child ority, that he had ever resolved to read them, (though

by 1

hted

hich a

(112)

then only, as I remember, recommended) had not fome currences, which I need not name, prevailed with him at n fent to forbear.

His Loyalty!

non

r moi

talfo

It appeared that he had a due fense of the grand imports where of the Obedience of Subjects to the Supream Magistraing by some excellent Sermons which he Preached on that of her, Apostle, Rom. 13. ver. 1. a little before his Election; which and when his Judgment was so strict, as unjustly to of some, whose weakness and ignorance, by reason of a solistic Proscription of the Regal Power, had made over-scrupul we in or erroneous. His Loyalty also to his Prince, he disconnected in observing the injunction of the Wise Man, viz. No in Curse the King, no not in his Bed-Chamber, or Retiring-Rie thy a for he hath often been seen with indipnation to turns for he hath often been feen with indignation to turns and hush into filence, all Reports or Surmises, true of which directly or indirectly, did tend to detract from, an fame Dignities, accounting them no cause of withdras Re or leffening our just Honour and Obedienc; but rate istry, giving our selves the more to Prayer and Humiliation.

Fifthly, His respect to Second-Table Duties.

He was not onely a man aspiring to the Heights, but respecting the duc breadth and extent of Religion, he well-advised, how much the Vitals and Honour of Religion, he well-advised, how much the Vitals and Honour of Religion, in the World are conserved by, and concerned in a consended in a consended of the Great advantage or disadvantage accounts a forth Religion, by the strict or remiss performance of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly those of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly those of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly those of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly those of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly those of the Deposition of the Second-Table, and particularly instruction and less observed) and most sharp time to prove the Guilty for their failures therein; on all which had so lations, their Duries, and Defects, he particularly, and terms; much Zeal institled. Witness also his great grief and it, (we He was not onely a man aspiring to the Heights, but much Zeal infilted. Wirness also his great grief andis, (w me which he frequently conceived, and with great veat pacy expressed in lamenting over, and reproving some ome Second-Table Precepts; the Scandal and Dishoof which to Religion, and the Religious, how he refentnone but God and his own Soul did throughly know.

ports rehemently detested that impious and hellish design of agists the property of the first as a funder (in this matter) what God hath joyned tonat of her, viz. Those Commands respecting God, and our ighbour; both which he hath equally appointed to us, as to of its of Direction and Judgement. He was neither Legalist of a solifician; neither Ritualist non Enthusiast, not somuch reput he in the Mount with God, as not also to come down to liston Neighbour, whom he did accost as Moses, with both Takes in his Hand, on which his Life and Doctrine did conting-Rie and excellently comment. none but God and his own Soul did throughly know. umf Sixthly, His Labours in the Ministry.

e of

s, but thidra is Respects. His great Industry and happy Labours in the rath listry, together with his great Prudence and Compassion, ion. pplying himself to the Souls of his Flock, according to most pressing needs; none who knew the former, but s. Italfo confess, and admire at the latter.

I. His Prudence in them.

ion, to feel is Prudence; Then in apportioning, as well as designing, a con most suitable and seasonable instructions to his People, the homost apparent, in that he was still (after he had finish-access a foregoing Text or Discourse) even at a loss, as he the Diosten expressed himself to some of his Friends, what the less most advantageous and seasonable to his Auditory, upon sould next insist on; so far he was from aiming or y instruction at Rovers in his Divine Instructions and Exhortationees. And so loth he was to labour in vain, and to pass sharp tone Discourse to another, as one unconcerned whether hard tone Discourse to another, as one unconcerned whether which had sown any good Seeds or no on the Hearts of his and ters; that in the close of his Applicatory part on any andit, (which sometimes he handled for a cansiderable mat while while) he ever expressed his great unwillingness to he that Subject, till he could have fome affurance, that he not fought in that Spiritual Warfare against Sin, as one beateth the Air; when also he expressed his great fear, he should, after all his most importunate Warnings, le them as he found them. And here with how much Holy Gen king Rheterick, did he frequently exposulate the Cafe, Impenitent Sinners, in words too many to mention, and the V too weighty to be forgotten; vehemently urging then as to come to fome good Refolve before he and they parted, with to make their choice either of Life or Death.

2. His Compassion on Souls:

Wor Fre Tuit

of w latio

a tin preffi

the D did ke

which one,

His Compassion also towards all committed to his the most was most manifest, especially towards the Ignorant; tourse that were out of the way, and those that did move head and the move head an His Compassion also towards all committed to his the in the way.

1. On the Ignorant, in instructing and catechizing ton a V

To the Ignorant, and here knowing that without known he end to the Ignorant. And here knowing that without known he can he Heart is not, and cannot be good; and confidering how too fuccessfully the evil one, by sowing evil Seeds build, in the hearts of Youth, doth ever after forestal and the most laborious endeavours for their Recovery and Neit vation: Thus knowing and considering, he was in not not more industrious, and in nothing more happy and succeptified Seeds of Divine Knowledge in the Hearts of all rise (Youth that he could reach in person or otherwise; payes which they were exceedingly formed to receive all satechism they were a great Congregation, the Youth of each Sex by the of amongst whom were several both young Men and West as his amongst whom were several both young Men and Works his fometimes Five or Six of the chief Scholars of the fun Ho School, fometimes five or fix of the Apprentices of the To elfew fome of whom, though of mans estate, who accounted it bour a difference to learn (according to the guise of this othere Wor is me: (115)

o ki

world) but to be ignorant. Sometimes, of the other Sex, fee or fix young Gentlewomen, who were under his Wifes Tuition, (and fo his Domestick over-fight) kept their turns, of whom she had not a few, and those the Daughters of Gentlemen of good Rank far and near, whose laudable enulation, and love to their Father (as they styled him) and to the Work, was the cause why they were not so over-bashful as to decline so advantageous a course; by which, together with domestick Instructions and Example, even all received a tincture of Piety and Religion, and many a through Ima tincture of Piety and Religion, and many a through Im-pression: Besides these several Virgins also, and among these presson: Besides these several Virgins also, and among these the Daughters of some of the chief Magistrates in the Town did keep their turns. In this his course he drew out on the sist that the first Answers in the Assemblies Catechism, an excellent District ourse on all the points of the Christian Theology, which he heads andled successfully reducing his discourse to several Heads, which he also proved by pertinent Places of Scripture; which one, he gave both the Heads and Proofs written at length, one he ensuing Lords-day, which, besides the short Answers in the Catechism, and the annexed Proofs they committed to serve seminary, and rendred on the After-noon of the day afore-day and rendred on the After-noon of the day afore-day and seamost substituted by the cambility of the catechistical Labours rest here, but also in not a Thursdayes in the Afternoon (as I remember) he Cate-stick in the Church, Street by Street, whole Families: whose seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or more Aged, in order: Which Excises the seeping the Married or the seeping the Married or the seeping the Married or the seeping the seeping the Daughters of some of the chief Magistrates in the Town the To elsewhere abundantly declared. Neither was this his mted t bour in vain, but became even as successful as laborious; this othere are few but have gratefully acknowledged that by Works means they were either led into the knowledge, or induced to the belief, choice and practice of that which was and is of Soveraign advantage to them to this day. And how hap py and likely a course he took herein to advance Religion in the Nation, on the hearts and lives of men; and how far less successful and probable all other means are, aiming at this end, without this initial Work, it is lest to all pious and considering men to judge.

2. On those that Err, by reproving and reducing them.

He had not onely compassion over the Ignorant, but als over those who were out of the way; witness his faithfu and effectual discharge of that great Duty of giving feafonable reproofs, of which his great faithfulness then is abundant mention elfe-where. And by fo much the mor did his excellent discharge bereof speak forth his hig praise, by how much the more difficult he ever apprehen ed it aright to apply it. He hath been often heard to fa That it was far more difficult to him to give than to take Reproof, considering how great Wisdome, Courage, Compa on, Self-denyal, &c, is required in order to its right dischan And though he was so rarely Passive, and often Active this Work, yet the frequency of his giving a Reproof, new made it so asie as to be less difficult than to receive it. I ever his Work was to him, not only an Act of the great Self-denyal, but also the result of a strong conflict with twixt his Indignation at the Sin, and Compassion on t Sinner. And yet the confideration of the difficulty wasn to him an Argument to forbear, but rather a stronger Moti to undertake it; who ever delighted to converse in, and or quer the difficulties of Christianity, both in doing and fuffe ing. Small difficulties here were not his match, and the were no noble Atchievements in Religion, to which he's tained not, or vigoroully aspired.

His truly Heroick Spirit.

As it is faid of Themistocles, that famous Athenian Cap tain, that the Acts of Multiades broke his Sleep; so a truly may it be said of this Blessed Saint, That the Acts an Mon of ever

N

6,

al

hi

Wh Ad

Ho Sin unli difq unb

in th

did

the

mucl efcap tive of fo ma

Internifest ready

but b

(117)

Monuments of the Famous Worthies, mentioned in the Hebrews, and of those of the same Atchievements with them, in all Ages of the World, even broke his sleep, by impregnating his Soul with high designs of aspiring after their perfections. Oft therefore he hath been heard to excite Christians so long to move in the Sphere of difficulties, till the sweet severities of Christianity (as he often called them) were subdued, and even made familiar; encouraging them with this consideration, That then they would highly approve their Divine Love and Sincerity, and conceive a pleasure in those difficult Acts, which would equal, yea, exceed the pleasure of their natural Actions.

3. On the Doubting, by Refolving and Releasing them:

Neither had he onely compassion on those that were out of the way, but also on those who moved heavily on in the way. How he hath often raised and rectifyed desponding Christians, those who are too prone to account doubting. which is their Sin, to be their Duty and Vertue. At once he hath often unloosened them from the straitness of their needless fears and disquiets, and undeceived them by discovering the latent unbelief that did lie lurking in such despondings, assuring them in these words, That under a sty presence of Humility, they did call in question God's Veracity.

Seventhly, His fingular Piety.

As respects his singular Piety, all who knew him can say much, and yet all but little, considering how much more hath escaped the most tenacious memory, observant eye, and attentive ear. Yet he must be wretchedly inobservant, who amidst so many and great instances of it, can make no reflections.

How much he conceived it as his own, and others greatest Interest, Ornament, and Felicity herein to excel, will be manifest by his Exhortation which he gave to a young Scholar, ready to depart to the University, in words to this purpose: I know, saith he, that you will labour to excel in Learning, but be sure to excel as in that, so also and especially in Holiness, which will render you one of the most useful and amiable I 2 Creatures

hapn in ar less end, ering

and

em.

t ala

giving then

s his ehend to la

mpa chang tive neve t. Be on the Motin nd cos fuffe

he a

Cap ; fo a

Monn

Creatures in the World. Learning will render you perchance at Creatures in the World. Learning will render you perchance at ceptable to men, but piety both to God and Men: by that you will shine only on Earth to the Clods thereof, and perhaps in some of secure corner of it; but this is an Orient l'earl, which will shine in you on Earth and in Heaven, both to God, Angels, and Men. How much he dwelt on this Exhortation, and these Apprehensions, will be evident by a Pious Letter which he square sent to the Person forenamed, some years after, wherein his words are these: "O study God, and study your self closy, and and pursue Holiness more than Learning, though both these together make a happy Constellation, and are like Casta of a sea and Pollux: which when they appear together, do ever pre-"and Pollux; which when they appear together, do ever pre. Sanish "fage good to the Mariners. And that it might appear that is that he did not onely commend Holiness in the general, but also in mrey, the particular and chief Instances of a Holy Life: He excel, when lently proceeds in the same Letter, saying, "I much complete the many proceeds in the same Letter, saying, "I much complete the same lently proceeds in the same Letter, saying, "I much complete the same lently proceeds in the same letter, saying, "I much complete the same lently proceeds in the same letter, saying, "I much complete the saying "mend unto you those four beautifying Lessons, so shorty " comprehended in this Diffich, Sternere mundum, fernere nullum, fernere fefe; Spernere se sperni, quatuor ista beant.

His contempt of the World.

Happy is the man that can but learn this. When once a man over is arrived hereto, he is above the Worlds reach, and hath at content tions will be able to disturb his Tranquillity; neither will the upon Comforts or Crosses here below, make any great accession to, or disting was more conspicuous in this Blessed Saint, than that generous contempt of the World, that true lostiness, and yet prosound humility of Spirit (of which the Lessons aforementioned, are but as so many instances) which he recommended unto others. He was much a stranger on the Earth, and like the Kingly Prophet; not because with old Barzillai he could not, but would not tast or comply with its Pleasures and Delights; but he was chiefly induced by a forced exilement from his desired and delectable Habitation, to think on his state of Banishment from his Heavenly Country whilst here Happy is the man that can but learn this. When once a may here ut to Exce. D's (is, wi he did over

Militant upon Earth, and to folace his Thoughts under the obline with a grievance, by such Divine Considerations as those whe mentions in the following words of his forenamed and the sufed for comfort in banishment. This, habenda sunt the passaccum Deo. I met lately mith a passage out of one of fathers, which I engraved upon my heart. Cui Patria lossy, is est; Cui omnis Terra exilium is Sanctus est. That's worthater of a Saint indeed to account himself always in the state. Cafter of a Saint indeed, to account himself alwayes in the state of pre-lanishment, whilst in the state of Mortality, like the Worths withat sojourned even in the Land of Promise, as in a strange bloin arrey. Such a sojourner I wish both my self and you, and excelute moveableness of our present State six our desires upon the singdom which shall never be shaken. So far he.

His Universal and Uniform Obedience.

orth

nere

ut to proceed; He declared that his Piety was Genuine Excellent by its univerfal regard and extent, as to all D's Commands, fo to all Man's Converses and Employes, witness his earnest and frequent Exhortations, where-te did daily call upon his People to a constant uniform ie did daily call upon his People to a constant uniform over their Hearts and Wayes. Nothing did he more boately dehort them from, than from that undoing traud otheir Souls, viz. Contining their Religion to their Cloupon the supposal that in so doing they had there put afficient security for their after conversation, and had bid for the Divine savour; as if Religion had taught Men to kneel, and not how to work; and walk, as if it were and ary or deformed, loving onely to move in the private and narrow circle of our Morning or Evening Devotion—and so ever before and after to appear least in sight, or as are a fury, and so to be limited, and not to be entrusted in the universal conduct of our Lives and Actions. For one we there are who think fit rather to make Religion their sil, than undivided Companion; to command it, rather his should command them, and therefore they make it to its Times and Places, its Postures and due Distance, and and and think not good that it retain to their Company, or appein their Words or Actions, unless when it may ferve the U of a Cloak and cover of Hypocrifie and Iniquity.

His care of his Thoughts and Ends, especially Morning and Evening.

this,

tions.

th of

o Pro

, tha on th

But enough of this digression. These his fore-mention aimin momentous Exhortations, attended with most excellent orger tives, designed chiefly to direct them how well to begin, the rend the day in the sear, and as in the presence of GOD ance hallowing their Thoughts, and (as his Words were) we not ting their ends aright in the Morning, (then making the go of folves, and piously fore-casting the Work of the day follow ounts and by an impartial furvey and examination in the Event hand their Compliance or Non-compliance with their fore bition. Prescriptions unto themselves; whether they obtained to vain designs and ends, and how they acquitted themselves in 18 a Inc. day foregoing.

His delight in Self-examination.

thy a a G Thus by pointing at the two extreams in each day, he pily fecured the middle. He tacitely convinced them be our fire own example and great growth in Piety hereby, and example and great growth own example and great growth in Piety hereby, and exp in hereby many other eminent instances, how advantagious and lligible he had recommended to them. To this end he much application there two no less excellent than common Books, the Practical of Piety, and Scudders daily Walk. By this course he in un taught himself and others, as by constant, though small go lesson. to arrive to great acquests in Christianity, by constant is in fhort accounts, the more accurately to know the state of t Souls, and the more eafily to difcern their Progress or De nings; so, as the more to rejoyce in and promote the one, the sooner to put limits to and redress the other. All withe much inculcated on each Christian, that important dun he tw fore-appointing and fixing his ends, not only in the gene Self-but as much as might be particularly and explicitly be ideny each action of the day, but especially each solemn Action, red his ving and conceiving such a Thought and Resolve as this in Heave Mind.

His frequent and generous Designs.

his, or this will I do for GOD, &c. By which heedful fe, he affured the Observer, that he would hallow all his tions, and reap this treble advantage (to fay no more) hof espousing the Divine Direction and Blessing, and of mentic aming a surer Testimony of his Sincerity, and also a cellent or motive to Diligence, and an awful circumspectness egin, the right discharge of what he undertook. In compance with this his Excellent Exhortation unto others, he were) we not a Day wherein he arose without some Heavenly, go there is a Shame that the Covetous should arise with sounding it a Shame that the Covetous should arise with some bitious his aiery Honours and Grandeur, the Voluptuous vain Pleasures; and that the Religious, who have so glowes in Projects or Designs. If of any, it may be affirmed of that according to his frequent and vehement Exhortant thereunto, he made Religion his business. Which hof espousing the Divine Direction and Blessing, and of on thereunto, he made Religion his business. thy advice in the fame words; he did fo often inculcate, the law advice in the same words, he did so often inculcate, by, he ta Gentleman meeting a plain honest Countrey Man, and seem be oursing of Mr. Allein, cavill'd at this passage which he had ad en heard from him, as appearing unto him absurd and unaligible, not knowing how any thing (as he said) could apply called a Man's business, unless that which is secular; so in the just Interest and Power of Religion, see Practical in unhallowed heart, and so apt to quarrel with that hall golesome Advice, and loth to be in earnest in any thing, affant es in the pursuit of Vanity or Vice.

His Delight in Meditation.

Alf Veither did onely the frequent and faithful performance on dur the two great difficulties of Christianity, viz. Reproof, ne gent Self-Examination, (confifting of fo many complicated ely bel denyals) proclaim and improve his great Piety, but tion, re his fo great acquaintance with the delight some Work this in Heavenly-Meditation: A Specimen of his profitable managery or app the U

47 te of t or De

Ofte

or that of the

Duty

Divine

e of t

t brou

eir He

provin

er en

agre

was T

lemer

olling

GC viour.

her d is Re

the n and n in the p

to a affect.

magery of this Work, and his great Heights herein he of Heaver gave in some of his most excellent devotional and control and plative Discourses, both dropt from his Mouth, and companied to Writing. And as was his delight, so were his Control of the with those Authors who did encrease his control of the co on. I fes with those Authors who did encrease his contempla oraise Pleasure; but particularly he delighted in Mr. Baxters P. form of Meditation on the Heavenly Felicity, in the close e great his Saints Everlasting Rest; great part whereof he so dige fu pl as often to cite it with great pleasure, prefacing his Citat with these words; Most divinely faith that Man of Go in th Holy Mr. Baxter, &c. And indeed had not his zeal GOD's Glory and the Salvation of Souls, engaged him e of t much to an Active Life, he could have even lived and wholly in Divine Contemplation and Adoration; for did he delight to shrink within himself, and to abandon view of the desperate Adventures, and Antick Motionso mad World, that so being shut to these, he might onely his Soul to GOD and Glory, displaying it to the glor Beams of the Sun of Righteoufness. Therefore did hed delight in his devotions to converse with the Fowls of the and the Beafts of the Field, fince these were more inno and less degenerate than Man.

With Streams and Plants did he delight to walk, and these did utter to his attentive Ear the Praise and Known of his Creator, and in his unsetled sojournings from to place he did often (to use his Words) look back i fweetness and great content on the places of his former places fant retirements, fetting as it were a Mark upon those w had marvelloufly pleafed him in his Solitudes, by adminish to his contemplative delight.

His delight in Praising, &c.

In the Close, His great perfection in holiness was mu fest, in that he loved so much, and lived a life of Prate ibeer and Thanksgiving. Being arrived to some perfection, held fired and designed to antidate the Work and Songs of Si orth, rits made perfect. Thus David much proclaimed his perfection in Piety, by his so great heights in this Heaven much Employment. And its Evident that Saints most devoted 3 Psa (123)) he of Heavenly repair, are more perfect; because the more cont ore and praise, the less they want, (for sad and con-complaints, and pensive Thoughts, are the Attendants of Cont wants) and the less men want, the more is their emplaint. His Exhortations to Christians did frequently ters P praise them to that sublime life of Praise and Thanksoraise them to that sublime life of Praise and Thanksclose of their Religious Exercises. He much condemned to their Devotions into so narrow a Room, as only and so their Prayers. Especially did he excite Christians on their Prayers. Especially did he excite Christians on their Prayers. Especially did he excite Christians

on their Prayers. Especially did he excite Christians only on the Lord's Day, as the most proper Work of their Prayers. Especially did he excite Christians on the bivine a Festival. Shaming them with the excellent e of the Primitive Christians, who welcomed in the t brought so glorious a Day as the Christian Sabbath in Heavenly Hymnes to their Creator and Redeemer.
The proving them for so little considering and observing the little considering and observing the last the sum of the prayer, or in Preaching, as when he sould solve the proper work of the primitive Christians in the Gist of his son iour.

Thanks-giving, and indeed he was never so much least the sum of the love of Christ, and marveiorder of the prayer, or in Preaching, as when he could solve the sum of the love of Christ, and marveiorder of the sum of the love of Christ, and marveiorder of the prayer, or in Preaching, as when he could solve the sum of the love of Christ, and marveiorder of the prayer, or in Preaching, as when he could solve the sum of the love of Christ, and marveiorder of the sum of the love of the sum of the love of the preaching of t

row her did he so gaze upon and adore Christ his Redeem-e with the Creator; for often he hath been heard with ad-nand praise, to take notice of the Divine Power and n in the Works of Creation, and therefore in the open the private retirement of some Field or Wood, he deto address himself to God in praise, that his eyes s man affect his heart, and awake his glory. And here often Prair been heard to fay; That Man was the Tongue of the hed Creation, appointed as the Creatures Interpreter, to of Spiorth, and make articulate the Praifes which they but its per intimate.

avenue much delighted in Vocal Musick, and especially in evoted & Psalms and Hymns, particularly Mr. Bartons, witness

(124)

a du le

most

GOD wenar a Pa

re feet

im in fic2'10 ly Mand A

ed to oncer

n this

and

: A

of

ht o

o po

unn

n int

eeme

t caln

freq

Agen

e fwe

he li

rd hi tion, and ing o ut thi rpetu e Glo

Hi

is wh o he dies w

his F

ed his

ness his constant practice after Dinner else-where In him it may be faid, in as high a degree as of me on Earth, That each Thought was to him a Pray Prayer a Song, each Day a Sabbath, each Meal a Sa a Fore-taste of that Eternal Repast, to which he had rived.

His Time-redeeming Thrift.

To conclude; That he might effect all the excel poses of a Holy Life, he set a high value on his most Time, and did with fo Wife and Holy Fore-caft redeem and fill it up, that he did not onely not do but also not little, though in a little and short to Companies did hear him proclaim the Price of T how excellently and advantagiously he did it before his Ejection, in several most useful Sermo phef. 5. 16. many that heard him, do to this day great comfort and profit, remember. And the more was this his Holy Thrift, because prophetical d aboad here on Earth.

His diligence and holiness in this his Sphere of A a Prefage of his speedy Translation, as with Em Sphere of Vision and Fruition, for a reward of H Piety; it not being probable that he who madel haste to dispatch his Heavenly Work, should be lon his defired Recompence.

CH'AP. X.

A few Additions to the former Character, by verend and Intimate Friend, Mr. R.

HE was a Person, with whom for many years I acquainted, and the more I knew him, the more a Sk and admired the rich and exceeding Grace of GOD I looked on him as one of the most elevated, refine Saints, that ever I knew, or expect (while I live) to kn

(125)

e-caft

not do

lort t

of T

it i ermo

s day

oren

al of

of A

Eme

ade l

long

.R.

ars I

more

GOD

efina

o kno

where cause (among others) I observed these things of him a most fincere, pure, and absolute consecration of him-a Prancel a Same and absolute consecration of him-god in CHRIST JESUS: his Soul had first practised wenant-Dedication, which his hand afterward prescri-he has a Patern to others in his Father-in-Laws Book. The seemed no finisher end, or false affection, to move or im in his way; But the good pleasure of the LORD, harion of his Church, and the Salvation of Souls, were ly Marks his eye seemed (at all) to regard, in his De-and Acts: I know no other mans heart; but thus he e excel is mof ed to my most attentive observation; and so I fully beoncerning him, as much as of any Person I ever saw. n this his dedication to God, he was carried with the and purest flame of Divine Love that ever I observed : And that Love arifing from a clear Vision of the of Divine Perfections, especially his Gospel Love: ht of which Beauty and Excellency feemed perpetuo poffess and ravish his Soul : This Love feemed unmixed from all that carnal heat that would carinto Fantastick or Indecent Expressions; But his emed to be alwayes ascending with its might in the tealmness and satisfaction. Thus have I oft observed frequent and filent elevation of Heart, manifested by Agenuine and private lifting up of his eyes, and joyned esweetest smile of his Countenance, when (I am conhe little thought of being feen by any: Thus have I rd him flow in Prayer and Discourse, with the clearest tion, and dearest taste of divine Excellency and Goodand the fullest, highest, and most pleased expression of ing overcome by it, and giving up his ALL in efteem to this Love, in the greatest demonstration, appeared by spetual greedy and unfatiable spending of his whole Self Glory of God, good of the Church, and Salvation of His Head was ever contriving, his Tongue pressing, swhole Man acting some design for these; so he lived, o he dyed: He laboured and suffered himself into the dies which ended him: And when he was at Bath, like a A Skeleton, and could move neither Hand nor Foot, his Physicians had forbidden him all Preaching, and didhim from Vocal Praying, (as being above his strength)

ald exp

But thi

r Clou

Iam

his Po

unto

And th

t his I

anothe

all t

Hance

him,

And I

h the reft

irance

reto.

thei

yet then would he almost daily be carried in his Balls "Nam the Alms-Houses, and little Childrens Schools, and give them Catechisms, teach them the meaning of the call them to an account how they remembred and und And he died defigning a way how every poor Child in & thire might Have, Learn, and be instructed in the Catechilm; yea and at the expression of his affection,] but mention the frequentest Extasses or Raptures wherein he lay on his Bed (when his Body was en ved of all power of its own motion, but with no gre in confideration of Divine Love to him in general particular, that he felt no great pain: Never heard I loved, and thanked, in the highest confluences of providences by others, as he was by him in his afflic not inflicting great pain upon him; though he wasa fo fad a Spectacle of weakness, and looked so like da fome great Ladies oft hindered his coming into the & gastliness of his Look did so afright them.

3. His pure and facred Love wrought in him'a gra of Charity and Meekness to Men of other Judgme Persuasions; and great affection towards all such in found any Spiritual good. His Zeal was all of ah and no destroying nature; he had too much wisdomete his own thoughts to be the Standard of all other Me clear Light and pure Heat made him of a more di fubstantial and divine Temper, than to reject any (in Charity could fee any thing of a new nature) for the from him in the Modes or Forms of Discipline or Win Disputable Points.

4. Suitably to his high degree of Holiness and Divine munion, he enjoyed the richest affurance of Divine la himself in particular, and his saving interest in Christ. lieve few Men were ever born that attained to fo clear, fied and powerful evidence, that his fins were pardone his Person accepted in Fesus, into eternal Life, and had glorious foretaites of Heaven. I remember once, com when he was kneeling down to Family Prayer, his hear (in that Duty) carried forth into fuch expressions of low praise for the sealings of everlasting Love and Life, as I heard before or fince; and fuch as (I am fully fatisfied) (127)

Name in it.

S, and But this was not accidental to him, or unufual; for (whatof the r Clouds he might possibly have, though I know of none)

I am sure (for a good time before his D I am sure (for a good time before his Death) he lived in in s very dawning to Glory, both in the full affurance of it his Portion, and a Spirit of Sanctity, Love, and Praise, e unto it.

e Afe

ion, I

resof eva

o gra neral urd I

of

ffia

aso de

e B gre gma ah neto Men dife 7 (in or d Wen vine

e la ift. lear, one had com hear of low asli fied)

And though in the very hour of his dying, his Difease had this Head; and in his Raptures, he had Expressions, which another time his Grace and Reason would not have used; all the Copies, (I have feen of those Transports) in the flance of them, speak only fuller affurance of God's Love him, and his highest returns of love to Christ again.

And I do not at all wonder, that a Person shining so much h the Divine Image, and living fo uninterruptedly in the rest and nearest Divine Communion should enjoy such rance of God's everlasting Love, and be filled so with therein, and making fuch returnes of Love and Praise

reto.

Christian

G

ci digital

fight has a

E

inted in St.

CHRISTIAN ETTERS

FULL OF

Spiritual Instructions;

TENDING

To the Promoting of the Power

OF

GODLINESS,

BOTH IN

ERSON and FAMILIES.

calleine, Josephis

LONDON,

inted for and fold by Nevil Simmons, at the Princes-Arms in St. Pauls Church-Yard, and Dorman Newman at the Kings-Arms in the Poultrey. 1673.

SP

o ch in P bis i tell to tirft, it eth not vas acco night of ain it

CHRISTIAN

LETTERS,

Full of

SPIRITUAL INSTRUCTIONS,

Tending

o the Promoting of the Power of Godliness, both in Persons, and Families.

LETTER. I.

his Wife to Dispose her to his Acceptance of Taun-

My Dear Heart,

Y this time I hope thou hast received mine by Martin, and also an Answer touching their Resolution at Taunton. My thoughts have been much upon that business of late, so small as the outward Incouragements in point of Maintenance are, and methinks I find my heart much inclining that way. I tell thee the Principles upon which I go.

inft, I lay this for a Foundation, That a mans Life continuous in the Abundance of the things that he possessed in the posses our f ire i

WE C

p to

nis P

Heav

ikely

our fe

out I

ind t voul

noni

he 1

hand

Chris

hat I

he N ike r

when

uly

vhat

night

place ies, a n.

ve m noise

ment

made

may will v

Corn,

Table

of Go

chang

woul

us to

own

upon God, casting their care and burden upon him the sweet breathings of Davids foul! the strong acting his Faith and Love, that we find come from him, when condition was low and mean in the World. ly doth he cling? How fully doth he Relie upon God? Holy Ghoft feems to make it a Priviledge to be brough a necessary of living by Faith, as, I think, I have form hinted thee, out of Deut. II, 10, 11. Where Canaan is fer'd before Egypt, in regard of its dependance upon for the former and latter Rain, which in Agypt they a live without, and have supplies from the River. tainly could we that are unexperienced, but feel the The of those cares and troubles that there are in gathering keeping much, and the danger when Riches increase fetting our hearts upon them, we should prize the happing of a middle condition much before it. Doubtlefs, God with contentment, is great gain. Seekest thou great thing thy felf (faith the Propher to Barneh) feek them not. Cem a good Conscience is a continual Feast, and enough happy Life: no man that Wareth intangleth himself the affairs of this life, that he may please him who hathe fen him to be a Souldier. We should be but little incum with the things of this World, and withal free from a of intanglements, which in a great place committed w to our charge, would be upon our Consciences as not Burden.

Secondly, I take this for an undoubted truth, that a of Grace, is better than a Talent of Wealth; and then fuch a place where our Consciences would be free, and had little to do in the World to take off our hearts thoughts from the things of Eternity, and had the antage of abundance of means, and the daily opportunite warming our hearts with the blessed Society and Consert of Heavenly Christians, and no temptations to carry way, nor discouragements in our walking with God, the due performance of our duty is (if we pass a true: Spiritual Judgement, as the Holy Ghost in Scripture wowithout comparison before another place, void of those ritual helps and advantages. Let us think with our selection of though our Purses, our Estates, may thrive between the selection of the selection of though our Purses, our Estates, may thrive between the selection of the selection

him.

cting

when

W ck

od?I

ough

form

7 15

pon

cy a

And or The ring a creak nappu Godin hing

Сети

igh f felf i

ath

cum

21 d w nof

tad

herd

and

afts

e ad

mitid

nfere

rry u

d, rue !

e WOW

role S

r fel

e ben

n a place of a large maintenance? yet where are our graces. our fouls, like to thrive any way answerable to what they re in this? We should have but little in the World , and we could live hereafter; but alas, what is this if it be made pto us, as it will furely be in Communion with God and is People? If we thrive in Faith, and Love, Humility, and Heavenly mindedness, as above all places I know we are ikely to do there, what matter is it though we do not raise our selves in the World? the thing it may well be accounted our mean; but alas, let us look upon it with a spiritual Eye. nd then we shall pass another Judgement of it. Oh! who would leave fo much Grace, and fo much comfort in Com-nunion with Christ and his Saints, as we may gain there, for he probabilities of living with a little more gentility and and somness in the World? 'Tis a strange thing to see how thriftians generally do judge so carnally of things, looking to he things that are seen and Temporal, and not the things hat will flick by us to Eternity. What is it worth a year? is he Maintenance certain and fure? What charges are there ike to be? these are the questions we commonly ask first, when we speak of setling. But alas, though those things are uly to be confidered too, yet what good am I like to do? that good am I like to get? (Both which questions I think night be as comfortably Answered concerning this, as any blace in England;) These should be the main interrogatoies, and the chief things we should judge of a place to settle n. What if we have but a little in the World? Why then we must keep but a short Table, and shall make but a little noise in the World, and must give the meaner entertainments to our Friends. O but will not this be abundantly made up, if we have more outward and inward Peace, as we may well count we shall have. One dram of faving Grace will weigh down all this. Let others Hug themselves in their Corn, and Wine, and Oyl, in their fat Livings, and their large Tables, and their great refort, if we have more of the Light of Gods Countenance, more grace, more comfort, who would change with them? furely if Paul were to chose a Place, he would not look fo much what 'twas a year, but would wish us to take that where we might be most likely to save our own and others Souls. (a3) Thirdly.

where

ife.

ieve i

an fe ot a

littl

crve

vay, b et us

he Pr

Fif

p in an c nat C ome

las,

ther

er, I

ceps

ut of

eans

en d ic w e wi

At in

e pro

but a

e wi

ut w

Six

rout

nem

hat h ne pr

ut if

o live

II th ot o selly.

nd t

where

Thirdly, That the best and the surest way to have any or ward Mercy, is to be content to want it. When mens defi are over-eager after the World, they must have thus me a Year, and a House well Furnished, and Wife, and Childre thus and thus qualified, or elfe they will not be content God doth usually, if nor constantly, break their wills by nying them, as one would cross a froward-Child of his fi born humour : or else purs a sting into them, that a ment been as good he had been without them, as a man wo give a thing to a froppish Child, but it may be with a know on his Fingers, and a frown to boot. The best way to Riches, is out of doubt to fer them lowest in ones defi Solomon found it fo: Alas, he did not ask riches, but wife and ability, to discharge his great Truft; but God was pleased with his Prayer, that he threw in them into the gain. If we feek the Kingdom of God, and his Righten ness in the first place, and leave other things to him, God not fland with us for these outwards, though we never them we shall have them as over measure; God will the them in as the Vantage. And to this fuits the experience our dear Honorathius: and indeed (faith he, speaking of G Honorathius finds that his only hiding place and refuge, a place of fuccour, from the storms that fall upon him, hath had such helps at dead lift there, that he is engaged ever to trust these. For when he hath been lowest, and the greatest straights, he hath gone and made his moan H yen-ward, with free submission to the rightful disposer of things, and he hath been so liberally supplied, as makes very confident the best way to obtain any Mercy, or supp is to be content to be without it: And he is perswaded thing fet Gods Mercies farther off, than want of free falm fion to want them. Certainly, God will never be beli hand with us. Let our care be to build his House, and leth alone to build ours.

Fourthly, That none ever was, or ever shall be, a loser Jesus Christ. Many have lost much for him, but never did, wer shall any lose by him. Take this for a certainty, whatsom probabilities of outward comforts we leave, whatsoever or ward advantages we balk, that we may gloriste him in a Services, and enjoy him in his Ordinances more than other

S IIIn

nildre

onten s by de nis flu

rian h

1 Wor

a kno

y to

defin

wild

1V25

heB

htco

iod

EVET

I the

ence

of Go

m, egedi

and

an H

r of

kes h fuppi led n

fullin

behin

let hi

ofer b

did,n tfoere

er ou

in or

where

where we could, we shall receive an hundred fold in this defin ife. Tis a sad thing to see how little Christ is trusted or beieve in the World : Men will truft him no farther then they an fee him, and will leave no work for Faith. Alas, hath he or a thouland ways, both outward and inward, to make up little outward disadvantage to us? What doth our Faith erve for? Have any ventured themselves upon him in his vay, but he made good every word of the Promise to them? rus therefore exercise our Faith, and stay our selves upon he Promise, and see if ever we are ashamed of our hope.

Fifthly, That what is wanting in the means, God will make p in the bleffing. This I take for a certain truth, while a an commits himself and his affairs to God, and is in a way hat God put him into: Now if a man have but a little inome, if he have a great Bleffing, that's enough to make it up. las, we must not account Mercies by the Bulk. What if anther have a pound to my Ounce, if mine be gold for his filer, I will never change with him. As 'tis not Bread that eeps men alive, but the Word of Bleffing that proceedeth ut of his mouth of God; so 'tis not the largerness of the eans, but the bleffing of the Lord that maketh rich. Oh! if en did but believe this, they would not grafp so much of he world as they do. Well, let others take their course, and e will take ours, to wait upon God by Faith and Prayer, and off in his Promise; and I am confident that is the way to provided for: Let others toyl to enlarge their income, but alas, they will find they go not the right way to work) e will bless God to enlarge our blessing, and I doubt not ut we shall prove the Gainers.

Sixthly, That every Condition hath its Snares, Crosses, and roubles, and therefore we may not expect to be without tem where ever we be, only that condition is most eligible hat hath fewest and least. I cannot object any thing against he proposal of Taunton, but the meaness of the maintenance; ut if our income be but short, we can I hope be content o live answerably, we must fare the meaner, that will be Il the inconvenience that I know, and truly I hope we are ot of the nature of that Animal, that hath his Heart in his selly. I know how Daniel thrived by his Water and pulse, nd think a mean Diet is as wholesome to the body, yea,

(a4)

COTI

my

Dea

OWI

020

M

tell !

in a

OUL

doub

when

deat

fulne

your

low

grou

God fail d

wha

vou

affet

1.

and far less hurtful than a full and liberal is; and perfor my felf it would be no fuch hard matter for us contented to deny our flesh in this respect. But let us consider he little and utterly inconfiderable this inconvenience is. comparison of those we must reckon upon meeting with. God cast us into another place, and whether this benot great deal less than the trouble we shall have for want comfortable and Christian Society, for want of the freque and quickening means we shall here have, in wrangling a contending with the Covetous, or elfe lofing our dues, the Railings and scandalous, and malicious Reports, the are we see raised upon the best by the wicked in most plan in their contentions about their right to the Sacrament, our intanglement in the cares and troubles of this life, all which we should be here exempted from. Upon the and the like confiderations, I find my heart very much clined to accept of their offer at Taunton. I beseech t to weigh, and throughly confider the matter, and tells impartially thy thoughts, and which way thy Spirit clines, for I have always refolved the place I fettled in the be thy choice, and to thy content. The least intimation thy will to the contrary, shall overballance all my thou of fettling there, for I should account it the greatest unb piness if I should thus settle, and thou shouldst afterwa be discontented at the straightness of our condition. It need not have Wrote this, hadft not thou fully figure thy mind already to me, I had never gone fo far as I had Well, the Lord whose we are, and whom we serve, don us as it shall seem good unto him. We are always mindful as is possible of thee here, both together and part. Captain Luke defired me to intreat thee to m him one two hours in a day, for the Commemoration Mercies upon the twenty third day of every Month. So word to me of their Resolution at Taunton, in two Leng least possibly one should miscarry, though never a one yer. I dare not think of fettling under fixty Pound at To ton, and furely it cannot be less. I have Written as well a could on a fudden my mind to thee, I have been fo la in delivering my Judgement, that I must thrust up my A lections into a Corner. Well, though they have but 15 (0) CON corner in my Letter, I am sure they have room enough in my heart: But I must conclude; The Lord keep thee my Dear, and cherish thee for ever in his Bosom. Farewel mine own Soul, I am as ever thine own Heart,

JOS. ALLEINE

Oxon, May 27. 1659.

TIWA

ented

er ho

is,

want (

reque

ling a ues, i

ents,

n the

ch t

rella

1 fhor

ation how unb

TW

Br ignin I ha

dom

aye

296 to m norte

Lette

oned

t Tax

vell a

o lan

my A

bm

com

LETTER II.

[Prepare for Suffering.]

To my dearly belowed the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most dear Christians,

MY extream straights of time will now force me to bind my long loves in a few short lines; yet I could not tell how to leave you unfaluted, nor chuse but write to you in a few words, that you should not be dismayed neither at our present sufferings, or at the evil tidings that by this time I doubt not are come unto you. Now, Brethren, is the time when the Lord is like to put you upon the trial; now is the hour of temptation come. Oh! be faithful to Christ to the death, and he shall give you a Crown of life. Faithful is he that hath called you, and he will not suffer you upon his faithfulness to be tempted above what you are able. Give up your selves and your All to the Lord, with resolution to sollow him fully, and two things be sure of, and lay up as sure grounds of everlasting consolation.

1. If you feek by prayer and study to know the mind of God, and do resolve to sollow it in uprightness, you shall not fail either of direction or pardon; either God will shew you what his pleasure is, or will certainly forgive you if you miss your way. Brethren, fix upon your souls the deep and lively affecting apprehensions of the most gracious, loving, merciful, fweet, compassionate, tender nature of your Heavenly Farle which is fo great that you may be fure he will with all real ness and love accept of his poor Children when they ende vours to approve themselves in fincerity to him, and wou fain know his mind and do it, if they could but clearly feet though they should unwillingly mistake.

(weet,

2. That as fure as God is faithful, if he do fee that fuch o fuch a temptation (with the forethought of which you in be apt to difquiet your selves, left you should fall away whe thus or thus tried) will be too hard for your Graces, he wi never suffer it to come upon you.Let not, my dear Brethre let not the present tribulations or those impending mo This is the way of the Kingdom: persecution is a of your Land marks : felf-denial and taking up the Cross your ABC of Religion; you have learnt nothing, thather not begun at Christs-Cross. Brethren, the Cross of Christ your Crown, the reproach of Christ is your riches; the sha of Christ is your glory; the damage attending strict and ly diligence, your greatest advantage : sensible you should of what is coming, but not discouraged; humbled, but dismayed; having your hearts broken, and yet your sp unbroken; humble your selves mightily under the mightily under the mightily hand of God; but fear not the face of man: may you ca be low in humility, but high in courage; little in your apprehensions of your selves, but great in holy fortitude, Tolution and holy magnanimity, lying in the dust before yo God, yer triumphing in faith and hope, and boldness and on fidence over all the power of the enemies. Approve yo selves as good Souldiers of Jesus Christ, with no Armound that of righteousness; No weapons, but strong crying a tears; looking for no Victory but that of Faith; nor ho to overcome, but by patience: now for the faith and patient of the Saints, now for the harness of your suffering Grace O gird up the loyns of your mind, and be fober, and hope the end : Fight not but the good fight of Faith : here you mu contend and that earnestly: Strive not but against fin, an here you may refift even unto blood; now see that you chie life, and embrace affiction rather than fin. Strive together mightily and frequently by prayer: I know you do, but would you should abound more and more: Share my love

21110 be y

ling

F

Mo

Sh

fe

y flo

hey a

at I

afte t

ORE

roph

our

relfai

up o

nd ti

nd w ot in fpeci

enger

o Pre

o wo

refer

vorth

among you, and continue your earnest prayers for me, and be your assured that I am and shall be through Grace, a willing thankful Servant of your Souls concernments.

From the common Goale May 2. 1663.

ath

read

wool

feer

u ma who thre

is on at ha

Than ind b

bluc

alt n

(pin u c ur o

de,

re you

ad co

e you ng m r hop

ationo

Grace

lope !

u mu

n, an

u chuic

getha

, but

y love

amon

Foseph Alleine.

LETTER III.

[Warning to Professors.]

To my most dearly beloved, my Christian Friends in Taunton, Salvation.

Most loving Brethren ,

Shall never forget your old kindnesses, and the entire affections that you have shed upon me, not by drops, but y floods, would I never so fain forget them, yet I could not, hey are so continually renowned; for there is never a day it I hear of them; Nay, more than hear of them, I feel and afte them. The God that hach promised to them that give o a Prophet though but a cup of cold Water, shall receive a rophets reward; he will recompence your labour of love. our fervent prayers, and constant cryes, your care for my relfare, your bountiful supplies who have given me, not a up of cold water, but the Wine of your loves, with the fense nd tidings whereof I am continually refreshed. I must, I do nd will bless the Lord as long as I live, that he hath cast my ot in fo fair a place, to dwell in your communion; and specially to go in and out before you, and to be the Mesenger of the Lord of Hoft to you, to proclaim his Law, and b Preach his Excellencies, to be his Spokesman to you, and p wooe for him, and to espouse you to one Husband, and to refent you as a chafte Virgin unto Christ. Lord! how unforthy am I, everlastingly unworthy of this glorious Digity, which I do verily believe the most brightest Angels in Heaven

of

Ho

cy :

hatl

hatl

(th hav

thre

out

you

the

how

thir

ther

it I

the

zaro

men

yet

peri

dilig

that men

Wen

of jo

The

my 1

the

leave

fhou

for e

or ur

most

Alas

Thou

bring

my I

judge

Heaven would be glad of, if the Lord faw it fit to implo them in this work! Well, I do not, I cannot repeat, no withstanding all the difficulties and inconveniences that attend his dispised Servants, and hated ways, and that like to attend them; for we have but hipped yet of the Q but I have fet my hand to his plow; my Ministry I took with you, and my Testimony I finished with you, thou thought I had espoused you till death; and when I was tred into that Sacred Office, which through rich Grace In imployed in, I told you in the close of what I spake before the laying of the holy Hands upon me (most gladly do lu up this Office with all the persecution, affliction, difficult an tribulation and inconveniencies that do and may atte it) and bleffed be God, I am through his goodness of thesa mind still, and my tribulations for Christ, do (to him Glory, for to me belongs nothing but shame and confusion face) confirm my choice and my resolution to serve him Verily, Brethren, it is a go much more than my labours. choice that I have commended to you: Oh! that there m not one be found among you that hath not made Me choice, I mean of that good part which shall never bett away from you. Brethren, let them take up with them that have no better portion: be content that they for carry the Bell, and bear away the riches and perferments glory, and fplendor of the World. Alas! you have note to envy them: verily, they have a lye in their right ha Ah! how foon will their hopes fail them: how foon will crackling blaft be out, and leave them in eternal darked they shall go to the generation of their Fathers, they s never fee light, like sheep they shall be laid in their Gran and the upright shall have Dominion over them in the mo ing. But for my Brethren, I am jealous that none of p should come short of the Glory of God. I am ambitious you that you should be all the lieirs of an endless life, t living hopes of the Saints, the inheritance incorruptible, defiled, and that fades not away.

Ah my Brethren! why should not you be all happy! am jealous for you with a Godly jealousie, lest a promise ing lest you of entering into his rest, any of you should construct for it. O look diligently, lest any man fail of the Grant

impl

that !

hat a

ne Cr

took

houg

Wasd

ce I w

lolu

ficulti

atte

he fa

him

fusion im w

e mig

be tal

e wa

y Sho

ents a

o resi

will

arkná

ney f

Grave

e mon

of yo

ious fo ife, t

ible,u

PPy ?

mileb

d cog

e Gra

of God: Alas! how it pities me to fee this Rest neglected; How it grieves me that any of you should fall short of mercy at laft ! That any of that flock over which the holy Ghoft both made be in part overfeer, should perish; when Christ hath done so much for you, and when his under Officers (through his Grace, for we are not sufficient of our selves) have done somewhat to recover and save them. Ah dear Brethren! I was in great earnest with you when I besought you out of the Pulpit, many a time, to give a Bill of Divorce to your fins, and to accept of the march and the mercy that in the name of God Almighty I did there offer to you. Alas ! how it pitied me to look over so great a Congregation, and to think that I could not, for my life I could not, perswade them, one quarter of them, in likelihood to be faved? how it moved me to see your diligence in flocking, not only to the stated Exercises, but to the Repetitions and to most hazardous opportunities, for which you are greatly to be commended, fince the Law forbad my publick Preaching, and yet to think that many of you that went fo far, were like to perish for ever for want of going surther. I must praise your diligent attendance on all opportunities: Blessed be God that made a willing ministry and a willing people: for I remember how I have gone furnished with a Train! How I went with the multitude to the House of God, with the voice of joy and praises, with the multitude that kept Holy-days. The remembrance of which moves my foul, but, O my flock. my most dear flock, how fain would I carry you farther then the external and outward profession; O! how loath am I to leave you there! How troubled to think that any of you should go far and hazard much for Religion, and yet miscarry for ever by the hand of some unmortified luft! as secret pride or untamed passion, or an unbridled tongue, or which I fear most of all, a predominate love of the World in your hearts. Alas! must it be so, and is there no remedy but I must carly you to Heavens-gate and leave you there! Oh, that I should leave the work of your Souls but half done; and bring you no farther than the almost of Christianity, Hear, O my people, hear, although I may command you, upon your utmost peril in the Name of the Lord Jesus that shall shortly judge you, I beseech you, I warn you as a Father doth his Children,

Children, to look to the fetling and fecuring of your every ing condition; and for life take heed of your resting in outrer-part of Religion, but to be refuels till you find through-change of Regeneration within, that you are q new in the frame and bent of your hearts : for here is main of Religion in the hidden man of the heart : for Chr fake, for your Soul-fake look to it, that you build upon Rock, that you be fure in the Foundation work, that you unfeignedly deliver over your selves to the Lord to be un his command and at his dispose in all things : see that make no exceptions, no referve, that you cast over board your worldly hopes, and count upon parting with all Christ: that you take him alone for your whole happing Wonder not that I often inculcate this: If it be well be it is well all; if unfound here, the error is in the foundari and you are undone. Brethren, I see great tryals comi when we shall see Professors fall like leaves in the Aum unless they be well setled: therefore is it that I would for have you look to your standing, and to secure the main. for you whose Souls are foundly wrought upon, O make whatever you do : get and keep your evidences clear! H dreadful would your temprations be, if you should be al to part with all for Chrift, and not be fure of him neith get a right and clear understanding of the terms of life, whi I have fet before you in that form of Covenanting with 6 in Christ, that I commended to you. I would that now you should be without a Copy of it : be much in observe your own hearts, both in duties and out-crying mightily God for assurance : If you cannot discern your estate you felves, go to fome body that is albe and faithful, and f open your Case, your Evidences and doubts, and be extra dinary strict and watchful in your whole course, and I do not but you will quickly grow up to affurance.

I cannot tell how to make an end, methinks I could win all the day to you, but my straights of time are great, and me Letter already too long, yet I cannot conclude till I have a ven you my unseigned thanks for your most kind and go cious Letter. Surely it shall be in store with me, and laid a among my Treasures; that God is pleased so to unite you hearts to me, and to make use of me for your edification, matter

Atei es in

the

ard f

OVC

tes)

g th

oth

d af

ave !

che

th

Ta

F

Mof

Do

a

nes

en

eto

ecti

aye

ur l

ou

uch

ntir

do

Atter of highest joy unto me; as also to see your stedsales in Christ, your unshaken resolutions, notwithstanding the Tempters wiles. Go on, my dearly Beloved, and the ord strengthen your hands and your hearts, and lift you up ove the sears of men. My most dear Brother Norman sates you with manifold Loves and Respects, earnestly wishing that you may wear the Crown of perseverance; as also rother Turner. The Lord strengthen, establish, settle you, if after you have suffered a while, make you persent: I are my Brethren in the everlasting Arms, and rest, on the common Goale at Juelchester, June 13th. 1663.

Your Embassador in bonds,

ever

g in a

are qu

re is

r Chr

pon

you

beun

hat y

h all

ppin

cl[he

omi Autu

ld for in. A lake i ir! H

neide

fe, wh

none blervi

ghtily

ate y

nd fi

extra

Ido

ld wi

and 1

have g

and gn

laid "

te you

matter

Fofeph Alleine.

LETTER IV.

[A Call to the Unconverted.]

othe Beloved People the Inhabitants of the Town of Taunton, Grace, Mercy, and Peace from God our, Father, and from the Lord Jesus Christ.

Most endeared and beloved Friends:

Do most readily acknowledge my self a Debtor to you all, and a Servant of all, and therefore I have sent these sew these to salute you all. My Lines did fall in a fair place ten the Lord did oast my lot among you; for which I deteo be thankful. God hath been pleased to work a mutual ection between me and you. I remember the tears and ayers that you have sent me hither with, and how I saw ut hearts in your eyes; How can I forget how you pour-out your Souls upon me. And truly you are a People uch upon my heart, whose welfare is the matter of my ntinual prayers, care, and study. And oh! that I knew how do you good: Ah? how certainly should never a son of you miscarry if I knew how to save you. Ah! how it pie me to think how that so many of you should remain in yo fins after fo many and fo long endeavours to convent bring them in. Once more, Oh? my beloved, once more he the call of the most high God unto you. The Prison Preso to you, the fame Doctrine that the Pulpit did, Hear, Oh ple, hear; he that hath an ear ler him hear. The Lord Life and of Glory offers you all Mercy, and Peace, and B sedness: Oh, why should you die! whosoever will, let rake of the Waters of Life freely; what miss of life who is to be had for the taking? God forbid. O my Brethe my foul yerns for you, and my bowels towards you. Ah! I did but know what Arguments to use with you : who chuse my words for me that I may prevail with finners to reject their own Mercy: how shall I get within the How shall I reach them? Oh! that I did but know the wo that would pierce them? that I could but get betweent fins and them. Beloved Brethren, the Lord Jesus hathm me, most unworthy, his Spokesman, to bespeak yourha for him: And oh, that I knew but how to wooe for him I might prevail! these eight years have I been calling, yet how great a part do remain visibly in their fins, how few, alas! how few fouls have I gained to Chrift found conversion. Once more I desire with all post earnestness to apply my self to you, I have thought it be a Sermon out of a Prison might do that which I a not do after my long striving with you, but have left done: come then, O Friends, and let us reason togethe.

TOL

Many among you remain under the power of Ignorant Ah! how often have I told you the dangerous, yea, damble estate that such are in. Never make excuses, nor stand your selves that you shall be saved though you go on into I have told you often, and now tell you again, God must false of his Word, if ever you be saved without being broughout of the state of ignorance: If ever you enter in at a door of Heaven, it must be by the Key of Knowledge, you cannot be saved, except you be brought to the knowledge the Truth. A people that remain in gross ignorance, the are without understanding, the Lord that made them, who have mercy on them. O why will you slatter your selvent.

nd w

ruth

are:

DE AV

dge (

e by a, I

our h cy th

d ftu

e Ca

get

e litt

are c

pro

of

Chri

I Wi

s to

to th e to

mo

e, t u m igion

id al

Many rest

it c

like

ds.

o ma

uthe

nmo

an a

1 fuc

n fuc

in yo

vert an ore ha Preach

OP.

Lord

nd B let h When

rethre

Ah!d

v ho f

nem 1 the

IC WO

ent ich m

11m, ng, hrift

poli

t it it Io

left

the.

Drang dama r flam

indi

muft b

PLONE at d ge, 10

cdge

it pound wilfully deceive your own felves? when the God of ruth hath faid you shall surely die if you go on in this eme: Oh, for the love of God and of your fours, I befeech on awake and bestir your selves to get the saving knowdge of God: you that are capable of learning a Trade to e by are you not capable of learning the way to be faved: a, I doubt not but you are capable if you would but beat our heads about it, and take pains to get it. And is it not what you should perish for ever for want of a limbe paints. d fludy, and care to get the knowledge of God : Study e Carechilm, if possible get it by heart if hot, read it often. get it read to you, cry unto God for knowledge : inprove e little you have by living answerable to Search the Sentre daily, get them read to you if you cannot read shem. prove your Sabbaths diligently, and I doubt not but in the of these means you will sooner arrive to the knowledge Christ than of a Trade. But for thee; O hardned finner, twilt make thy excuses that thou hast not time nor abilis to get knowledge, and to fit ftill without it, I pronounce to thee that thou shalt surely perish: And I challenge te to tell me, if thou canft, how thou wilt answer it before most High God when he shall fit in Judgement upon e, that thou wouldest be contented to undergo a seven rs Apprentiship to learn how to get thy living, and that a mightest have got the knowledge of the principles of igion in half the time, but thou wouldest not beat thy id about it.

Many are swallowed up in meer profaneness: Alas! that re should be any such in a place of such means and mercies! it cannot be concealed. Many of them proclaim their like Sodom, and carry their deadly Leprofie in their forcds. I am ashamed to think that in Taunton there should 6 many Ale-house-haunters and Tiplers; so many lewed mesters, and Rioters and debauched livers; so many black uthed Swearers, who have Oaths and Curses for their nmon language, so many Raylers at Godliness, and Proe Scoffers, so many lyars and deceitful Dealers, and ure, the an and wanton Wretches. O what a long lift will clicke m, we d such like make up, if put together: it saddens me to menfelie a such as these. O how crimsen is their guilt! how often ut g appil

Bu

ndges

evile

atte

wn h e pe

fear,

Good ith y

elive

akey

ant,

ches

Molt

my

have you been warned, and yet are still unreformed, loose and profane. Yet one warning more have I sent a you from the Lord to repent. Return, O sinners, what you run into everlasting burnings with your eyes open!

Repent, O Drunkards, or else you shall be shut out of Kingdom of Heaven, I Cor. 6.9, 10. Repent, O fwee else you shall fall into condemnation, James 5.12. Repe lyars, put away lying, and speak every one truth to his no bour; else you shall have your part in the Lake thath eth with fire and brimftone, Rev. 20.8. Repent, O com keepers, for fake the foolish and live, but a Companion wicked shall be destroyed, Prov. 13.20. Repent you Dece of your unrighteous dealings, or elfe you shall have no l ritance in the Kingdom of God, 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. The that made us, knows my earnest defire for your conve and Salvation, and that I speak not this to you out of a vil will toward you for I will lie at your feet to do your but out of a sense of your deplorable estate, while you main in your fins. I know there is mercy for you if yo foundly repent and reform, and bow to the Righten and Government of the Lord Christ: but if you go ou fay, you shall yet have peace, I pronounce unto you there is no escape, but the Lord will make his wrath to against you, he will wound the head of his enemies, me hairy scalp of such an one as goeth on still in his Tres

Others have escaped the gross pollutions of the work stick in the form of Godliness, and content themselves a negative Righteousness, that they are no Drunkards, Swearers, &c. or at best with an outward conformity duties of Religion, or some common workings, instead saving. O I am jealous for you that you should not be things that you have wrought, and miss you reward for of sincerity: for the Lords sake put on, and beware drishing in the Suburbs of the City of Resuge: beg of semake through-work with you, and be jealous for your seger a right understanding of the difference between a pocrite and a sincere Christian, and try you estates to but only with those marks, that you are sure from the source will abide Gods true!

pture will abide Gods tryal.

But for you that fear the Lord in fincerity, I have nothing ut good and comfortable words: I have proclaimed your appiness in the last Token I sent to the Town : I means he abstract for the Covenant of Grace, upon the Prividges, comforts, mercies there summed up, and set before on. May your fouls ever live; what condition can you evile wherein there will not be abundance of comfort, and atter of joy unspeakable, to you. O Beloved, know your un happiness, and live in that holy admiring, commendgadoring, praisings of your gracious God, that becomes e people of his praise. I have been long, yet methinks I we not emptied half my heart unto you : Itrespass much. fear, upon the Bearer, therefore in hafte I commend you God. The good will of him that dwelt in the Bush be ith you all, The Lord Create a defence upon you, and eliverance for you: the Lord-cover you all the day, and ake you to dwell between his shoulders; I defire your conant, inftant, earnest Prayers for me, and rest,

> A willing Labourer, and thankful Sufferer for you, on the common Goale in Juelchester, July 4th. 1663.

d, at!

en?

at of

Nes

epe

s ne

atb

ap

ono

coti

no l hel

nve

fa

DU

you

co

20 CE

to

ves u

icy w

for w

re d

en a es m

the

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER. V.

[Truft God, and be fincere.]

omy most endeared Friends, the Servants of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most dearly Beloved and longed for, my Joy and Crown:

Y hearts defire and prayer to God for you is, that you may be faved. I know that you are the But of mens rage and malice : but you may fatisfie your felves as De In his parient fultaining of Shemer's fury and curses: It a be the Lord will look upon our affliction, and require so for their curfing this day. But however it be for that. fure to hold on your way: your name indeed is cast for as evil, and you are hated of all men for Christs-sake, your profession of his Gospel, and cleaving to his ways fervants: but let not this discourage you, for you are more than ever blefied : onely hold fait, that no many your Crown. Let not any that have begun in the Spirit in the flesh. Do not forfake God , till he forfake you that endureth to the end shall be saved: The Promise him that overcometh; therefore think not of looking Now you have fet your hands to Christ's Pow, though labour hard, and fuffer long, the Crop will pay for all: the Lord is trying what credit he hath in the World who they be that will trust him. The unbelieving w are all for prefent pay; they must have ready money, thing in hand, and will not follow the Lord when thereis to be any great hazard and hardship in his service. But is the time for you, my Beloved, to prove your selves h vers, when there is nothing visible but present hazard expence, and difficulty in your Makers fervice. Now it be seen who can trust the Lord, and who trusts him Now, my Brethren, bear you up, stand fast in the Faith you like men, be strong: now give glory to God by ving. If you can trust in his Promises for your rewards when nothing appears but the displeasure of Rulers, Bonds, and losses, and tribulation on every fide, this be somewhat like Believers. Brethren, I beseech you ton on upon no other but croffes here. Let none of you do of an Earthly Paradife, or flatter your selves with dro of fleeping in your eafe, and temporal Prosperity, and rying Heaven too. Think not to keep your Estates, and I ties and consciences too: Count not upon rest till your to the Land of Promise. Not that I would have any of to run upon hazards uncalled: No, we shall meet them lies, a enough in the way of our duty, without we will balk it hough shamefully turn aside: but I would have you cast of board your Worldly hopes, and count not upon an ear felic Wisd elici idet appi his li nem ould bufir orld ek a hit n ftra ar ag fton rang ou no is w con er tha

oorly re ha ravel omif halla e cal SOW at of t embe hile t ill she ou to t not vil to he tho lves t e chil

S Da

It n

re go

that.

aft fo

ike,

vays

are

man

pirit

you;

nife i

ingb

ough

all:

rld,

ig W

eres

. But

res B

Zardi

w it

im m Faith

by b vard

ers,

this

u ton

ou dr

h dra

and

and B youd

ny of them

felia

elicity, but be content to wait till you come on the other dethe Grave. Is it not enough to have a whole eternity of appiness yet behind? If God do throw in the comforts of his life too into the bargain; I would not have you throw em back again, or despise the goodness of the Lord: but I ould my Brethren, that you should use this World as not busing it, that you should be crucified to the world, and the orld to you; that you should declare plainly that you ek a Countrey, a better Countrey, which is an Heavenly. hl my dear Brethren, I befeech you carry it like Pilgrims frangers, I befeech you abstain from fleshly lusts, which aragainst your Souls; for what have we to do with the stomes and courses and fashions of this world, who are rangers in it! Be contented with Travellers lots: know ou not that you are in a strange Land? all is well as long as is well at home; I pray you, Brethren, daily and frequently confider your condition and flation : do you not rememr that you are in an Inn; and what though your be but porly attended, and meanly accommodated? though you rehard, and lie hard? Is this a strange thing? what should ravellers look for elfe? will you fet forth in a Journey, and romife your felves nothing but fair way and fair weather? all a man put forth to Sea and reckon upon nothing but e calm? If you were of the World, the World would love sown. But now God hach chosen you, and called you tof the world, therefore the World hateth you: But reember, my Brethren, it is your duty to love them, even hile they hate you; and to pray for mercy for them that ill shew no mercy, nor do no Justice for us. This I defire ou to observe as a great duty of the present times: And not any so far forget their duty and pattern, as to wish ril to them that do evil to us or to please themselves with te thoughts of being even with them. Let us commit our lves to him that judgetly righthously, and shew our selves e children of the most High, who doth good to his Enclies, and is kind to the unkind and unthankful .: And what alk it, hough they do hate us? Their love and good-will were cast o such more to be feared, than their hatred, and a far worse in ear gn. Brethren, keep your selves in the love of God; here Wildom. O happy fouls, that are his Favourites! For (b3)

the Lords-fake look to this, make fure of fomething !! to your fincerity above all things in the World : let not of you conclude, that because you are of the suffering ty, therefore all is well: Look to the Foundation, that hearts be foundly taken off from every fin, and fet upon above as your Bleffedness: Beware that none of you! only a name to love, and be no more than almost Christi For the love of your Souls, make a diligent fearch, and upon what ground you stand, for it heartily pities me tot that any of you should be in so deep, and hazard for as these must do that will now cleave to the hated wa the people of God, and yet lose all at last for want of thorow and found in the main work, I mean convertion Regeneration. None so miserable in all the world as a found Professor of Religion now is, for he shall be hate persecuted of the World, because he takes up a Profe and yet rejected of God too, because he sticks in a Pro on: but when once you bear the marks of Gods favor need not fear the Worlds frowns: Cheer up therefore, thren, be ftrong in the Lord, and of good courage the Worlds usage: Fear nor, in our Fathers House the bread enough, and room enough; this is sufficient to fort us under all the inconveniences of the way, that we so happy a Home, so worthy a Portion, so ready a Fa so goodly an Heritage, so sure a Tenure. Oh, comfor another with these words: let God see that you can m his Word: let the world fee that you can live uponal I shall share my Prayers and loves among you all, and mit you to the Almighty God: the Keeper of Israelth ver flumbereth nor fleepeth, be your Watchman and to to the end, Farewel. I am

> A fervent well-wisher of your Temp and Eternal Happiness,

From the common Goal at Juelchefter, July 24. 1663.

Fosepio Al nd the

TL

in I

Moft

n alr

re II

r you

lys of hrift !

d Sta

fus C

d wit mano

ACE.

d, b ould

ere yo

e life

uft o nat fin

pead

ve,

tual I

arley

hembe

ie from

LETTER. VI.

[Look out of your Graves upon the World.]

in Taunton, Grave and Peace.

Most endeared Christian, ng:

that y

you l

n, and

d for d wa

rfion

as 21

hate

rold

a Pro

avou

fore,

age

le th

it to

It we

a Fi

mfon

in m ona

and

elth

nd Ke

Temp

AY heart is with you, though I am Absent, as to my 1 Bodily presence from you, and therefore as I have ofn already, fo I have now written to you to ftir up your re minds by way of Remembrance, and to call upon you r your stedfast continuing, and vigorous proceeding in the ys of God. Dear Friends, and fellow Souldiers under wift the Captain of our Salvation, confider your calling d Station, and approve your felves as good Souldiers of fus Chrift, as men of resolution and courage, be discourad with no difficulties of your present Warfare. As for mane affairs, it would have you to be as you are, Men of ace. I would have you Armed not for refifting, God ford, but for Suffering onely, as the Apostle hints: You ould refift, even to the uttermost, striving against Sin. ere you must give no quarter, for if you spare but one Agag, e life of your Souls must go for the life of your fins: you lust make no Peace, for God will not smile on that Soul hat smiles on Sin, nor have any Peace with him, that is peace with his Enemy. Other Enemies you must forve, and love, and pray for (which I again defire you mind as one special duty of the times) but for these Spitual Enemies, all your affections, and all your Prayers buft be engaged against them; yea, you must admit no arley: It's dangerous to dispute with Temptations. nember what Eve loft by Parleying with Satan: you must ie from Temprations, and put them off at first with a Fe emptory denial. If you will but hear the Devils Arguments nd the Fleshes Pleas, and fair Pretences, it is an hundre to one but you are insnared by his Sophistry. And to this present evil World, the Lord deliver you from bend Snares. Surely you had need watch and be sober, and your spiritual Weapons dexterously and diligently, ore ing this world is like to undo you, and destroy you. I have often warned you not to build upon an External hap consoned, and that you should promise your selves nothing week, hardship here: Oh still remember your station; Soulds much not count upon Kest, and Fulness, but Hunger, a with the Hardness. Labour to get right apprehensions of the World Do not think these things necessary; one thing is needs here you that he happy in the want of all outward comforties. You tary be happy in the want of all outward comfor Do noe shiok your felves undone, if brought to Want Poverty: study Erernity, and you will see it to be little a you may have never such an opportunity for your add tage in all your lives, as when you put all to hazard, a feets to run the Veffel upon the Rocks. Set your energial one against the other: Death against the World; no fe way to get above the World, as to put your felves into poneilion of Death.

B 4

Look often upon your Dust that you shall be reduced and imagine you faw your bones tumbled out of me Graves, as they are like shortly to be, and men hands your Skulls, and enquiring whose is this. Tell me of what account will the World be then, what good will it do you pur your selves often into your Graves, and look out in thence upon the World, and see what Judgement you he in he of it then Must not you shortly be forgot among the Dear your places will know you no more, and your Memory in the be no more among men, and then what will it profit where to have lived in sashion and repute, and to have been My your of esteem some serious walk over a Church-yard, as a Cruci frais, might make a man mortified to the World. The their businesses, and kept as much stir in the World as stable their businesses, and kept as much stir in the World as stable there, do now. But alas, what are they the better for an taile for all this? know you not that this must be your owner above yery shortly: Oh the unhappiness of deceived man! he all, with titles

gion,

would till it but D

thoug

Worl worth and h

but of my B

you,t heir cieno d to miserably is he bewitched, and befooled, that he should exbe to be the best of the condition of the should expend him. Brethren, I beseech you lay no stress upon these perishording things, but labour to be at a Holy indifferency about them: Is it for one that is in his wits to sell his God, his tage conscience, his soul, for things that he is not sure to keep a many week, nor a day, and which he is sure after a few sleepings week, nor a day, and which he is fure after a few fleepings and wakings more, to leave behind him for ever? go and talk with dying men, and see what apprehensions they have of the with dying men, and see what apprehensions they have of the world? if any should come to such as these, and tell them here is such and such preferments for you, you shall have such itses of honour and delights, if you will now disown Religion, or subscribe to iniquity; do you think such a motion to would be embraced? Brethren, why should we not be wise in time! why should we not now be of the mind of which we add thought the world we not how we shall be all shortly! woe to them that will not be wise the world be to no purpose! woe to them whose eyes nothing them but Death and Judgement, will open! woe to them that but Death and Judgement, will open! woe to them that though they have been warned by others, and have heard the Worlds greatest Darlings in Death to cry out of its vanity, worthlessness and deceitfulness, and have been told where and how it would leave them; yet would take no warning, but only must serve themselves to, for warnings to others. Ah my Beloved, beware there be no worldly Professors among of who do you rou, that will part rather with their part in Paradife, than their part in Paris; that will rather part with their Conciences, than with their Estates; that have secret reserves ou ha n hearts to fave themselves whole, when it comes to the n the World. Beware that none of you have your hearts nory W control where your Feet should be, and love your Mammon before the your Maker. It is time for you to learn with Paul, to be, as a Crucified to the World. en Ma

neni no fi nto

ced

of ya

not::
But it is time for me to remember that 'tis a Letter, and Trade contain my felf within my limits. The God of all Grace, 'Id as lablish, strengthen, and settle you in these shaking times, and for an raise your hearts above the fears of the worlds threats, and owned above the ambition of its savours. My dearest loves to you m! he all, with my servent desire of your Prayers, May the Lord of Hofts Hofts be with you, and the God of Jacob your refuge. Fare well my dear Brethren, Farewel, and be firong in the Lord I am

Tours to ferve you in the Goffel, whether by Doing or Suffering.

fre

for fha

CAT

the

wh

on

fat Go tle

fei and or

Gr

Iw

her goo

the

by

YO

yo

of

WO

me

[et] ble

vat

haz

am

per gre

bef

mo

to.

From the common Gaole at Juelchester, June 31. 1663.

JOS. ALLEINE

LETTER VII.

[Firft, Christian Marks : 2. Duties.]

To the Beloved, my most endearing, and endeard Friends, the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Salvation.

Most dearly Beloved and longed for, my Joy and Crown:

Must say of you as David did of Jonathan, Very plafant have you been unto me, and your love to me is wonderful. And as I have formerly taken great content in that my Lot was cast among you, so through grace I rejoyce in my present Lor, that I am called to approve my love to you by suffering for you; for you, I say: for you know that I have not sought yours but you; and that for doing my dun to your souls, I am here in these Bonds, which I do cheen fully accept through the grace of God that strengthened me. Oh! that your Souls might be quickened and enlarged by these my Bonds! that your hands might be strengthened, and your hearts encouraged in the Lord your God by our sufferings! See to it, my dearly Beloved, that you stand fast in the power of the Holy Doctrine which we have Preached from the Pulpit; preached at the Bar; preached NL

Sa.

WOO-

ntha yee m

DOY OT

that I

y duty

chect-

eneth

arged

grhen-

od by ftand

have

ached

from

from the Prison to you: It is a Gospel worth the suffering for: fee that you follow after holiness, without which no man shall see God: Oh! the madness of the blind World, that they should put from them the only Plank upon which they can scape to Heaven. Surely the Enemies of Holiness are their own Enemies. Alas for them! they know not what they do. What would not these foolish Virgins do at last. when it is too late for a little of the Oyl of the wife; Oh, for one dram of that Grace which they have scorned and despifed. But let not any of you, my dear People, be wife too fare: Look diligently left any man fail of the Grace of God. Beware that none of you be cheated through the fubtlery of Saran and deceitfulness of your hearts with counterfeit grace. There is never a grace but hath its counterfeit: and there is nothing in all the World that is more common or more eafie, than to mistake common and courterfeir Grace for true and faving: and remember you are undone for evermore, if you should die in such a mistake : Not that I would fhake the confidence of any found Believer, who upon often and through fearce into the Scripture and his own heart, and putting himself upon Gods tryal, hath gotten good evidence that his Graces are of the right kind : Build your confidence fure: See that you get the knowledge of the certain and infallible marks of Salvation, and make fure by great observing your own hearts that these marks be in you, and then you cannot be too confident. But as you love your fouls take heed of a groundless confidence. Take heed of being confident before you have tried. Dear Brethren, I would fain have you all secored against the day of Judgement; I would that the state of your souls were all well fetled: Oh how comfortably might you think of any troubles, if you were but fure of your pardons! Were your Salvation out of doubt, no matter though other things were in hazard. I beseech you, whatever you neglect, look to this: I am afraid there are among you that have not made your peace with God yet; that are not yet acquainted with that great work of Conversion: such I would warn and charge before the living God to speed into Christ, and without any more disputes or delayes to put away their iniquities, and to come in and deliver up themselves to Jesus Christ, that they our R they may be faved. It is not your Profession, nor performing worthi external duties, nor partaking of external Priviledges that fouls b fave you: No, no, you must be converted or condemned. his glo is not enough that you have fome love and liking to Go portio ways and people, and are willing to venture fomething to and th them; all this will not prove you found Christians: have you an inf hearts been changed? have you been foundly convinced or oth your fins? of your damnable and undone condition in you your F felves? and your utter inability to lick your felves wh repalt again by your own duties? have you been brought at let to fuch a fight and fende of fin, as that there is no fin, thou agreeable to your constitution, though a support to yourge but you do heartily abhor it, and utterly disallow of it? you brought to fuch a fense of the beauty of holines, and of the Laws and ways of God, as that you do defire to know the whole mind of God, and would not excuse your selection by ignorance from any duty, and that you do not allow you felves in the ordinary neglect of any thing that conscience charges upon you as a duty? are your very hearts fet upon the glorifying and enjoying of God, as your greatest happ ness, which you desire more than Corn and Wine, and Oyl had you rather be the holieft than the richest and greated in the world? and is your greatest delight (ordinarily, and when you are your felves) in the thoughts of God, and in your converfings with God in Holy Exercises? Is Christ more precious than all the world to you? and are you will ling upon the through confideration of the strictness and holiness, and self-denying nature of his Laws, yet to take them all for the rule of your thoughts, words, and actions! and though Religion may be dear, do you resolve if God will affift you by his Grace, to go through with it, let the coll be what it will? happy the man that is in such a case. This is a Christian indeed, and whatever you be and do short of this, all is unfound. But you that bear in your fouls the marks of the Lord Jesus above mentioned, upon you I should lay no other burden, but to hold fast, and make good your ground and to press forward towards the mark. Thankfully acknowledge the diffinguishing grace God to your souls: and live rejoycingly in the hopes of the glory of God, the hopes that shall never make you ashamed: live daily in the praises of freely

do af

while fo to rally

dear

7011

Iam

Fron

cl

not

VET

me

Th

gre

dut

VEC

one

de

of

ve

W

your Redeemer: be much in admiring God, and study the vorthiness, excellency, and glory of his Attributes : let your fouls be much taken up in contemplating and commending his glorious perfection, and bleffing your felves in the goodly portion you have in him : live like those that have a God, and then be disconsolate if you can: If there be not more in an infinite God to comfort you, than in a Prison, or poverty. or other affliction to deject you, our Preaching is vain, and your Faith is vain. Let the thoughts of God be your daily repast: and never be satisfied till your hearts run out as freely, naturally, conftantly, unweariedly after God, as others do after the World: a little force upon your hearts for a while to turn them into this holy Channel, may quickly come 6 to habituate your minds to holiness, that they may natually run that way. But it is time to flut up : Farewel, my dear Brethren, the Lord God Almighty be a protection to you, and your exceeding great reward : Farewel in the Lord I am

Yours in the Bowels of the Lord Jesus,

JOS. ALLEINE

From the common Goale at Juelchester, Sept. 11. 1663.

formi

hacu

ned.

o God

ingfo

ve you

nced

in you whole

at les

though ur gan

t ? 200

s, and o know

r felve

W YOU

Ciena

happi d Oyl!

reaud

y, and

and in Christ

OH WI-

is and

O take

tions?

if God

ne coft

. This

ort of

marks ld lay

round

know-

d live s that les of

your

Just now I received your melting Letter, to which I am not able now to return an answer, but shall with speed: your very great affections for me cannot but move me, and make me ready to repeat again the first words of my letter above. The Lord inable me to return something to you for your great loves; I am sensible I have come very short of my duty to you: but I must needs tell you, my Bowels are moved with your loves, which I hope I shall greatly prize: once more Farewel.

My dear Brother Norman remembers you with much love, defiring that you may be blameless and harmless, the Sons of God without rebuke in the midst of a crooked and perverse Nation, among whom ye should shine as lights in the World.

LET-

LETTER VIII.

[How to fhew love to Ministers, and live joyfully.]

To the most Loving and dearly Beloved, my Christia Friends in Taunton, Grace, Mercy, and Peace fro God our Father, and from the Lord fesus Christ.

Moft endeared Bretbren ,

Have received your moving melting letter, and could in look over such tender expressions of your working the stions, without some commotions in my own: I mayor sidently say, I spent more Tears upon those lines, than or you did Ink: your deep sense of my labours in the Ministry I cannot but thankfully acknowledge, and take notice of: withal, heartily and unseingedly confessing, that all was at the duty which I did owe to your precious and immoral Souls: which God knows, are very much short of my day. The omissions, impersections, defects, deadness, that accompanied my duties I do own, I must and will own; and the Lord humble me for them. But all that was of God (and the was all that was good) be sure that you give to God alor. To him I humbly ascribe both the Will, and the Deed, my whom alone be Glory for ever.

My dear Brethren, my business as I have often told you, is not to gain your hearts, or turn your eyes towards me, but to Jesus Christ: his Spokesman I am, will you give you hearts to him? will you give your hands, your names to him? will you subscribe to his Laws, and consent to his Offices, and be at through defiance with all his Enemies? This do, and I have my Errant. Who will follow Christs Colours! who will come under his Banner? this shall be the mantha shall be my Friend; this is he that will oblige me for even Do these Letters come to none that are yet unsandified? In no loose sinner? to no ignorant sinner? to no unsound professor? Oh that there were none such indeed! oh that I had less no such behind me! but would they do me a kindness

beli

Chrif

and o wave lefus

throu

happ

ever from foner

you !

fone

ther

it; l

to d

grati

Nam

but !

doh

fubft

twee

TOW

love

be a

mof

fhou

for

for

Chr

veri

the

yet

be d fwe

thy

the

fhal

per fully.

rifti

ce fre

brift.

uldn

ng a

ay co

an co

iniff

of: w

was be mone y dity

2000 and the

nd the

alone

d, m d you,

me, but

e you

nes to

s Offi-

? This

lours!

an tha

cve.

d? w

d pro-

Ihad

I be

believe they would, oh then let them come away to Tefus Chrift at this call! lie no longer O finner, in thy fwill be no more in love with darkness! flick no longer in the skirts and outfide of Religion, demure no longer, dispute not, and waver no more, halt no further, but firike in throughly with lefus Chrift, except nothing, referve nothing, but come off throughly to the Lord, and follow him fully. And then happy man that thou shalt be, for thou will be made for ever; and joyful man that I shall be, for I shall fave a Soul from death. The earnest and pittiful beggings of a poor Prifoner, do use to move some Bowels: hear O Friends, will you do nothing for a Minister of Christ? Nothing for a Prifoner of Jesus Christ? methinks I hear you answer, [yea, rather what will we not do he shall never want while we have in he shall need no office of Love, but we will run and ride to do it. Yea, but this is not that I beg of you; will you graifie me indeed? then come in kis the Son, bow to the Name of Jesus; not in a Complement, with Cap and Knee. but let your Souls bow, let all your Powers bend Sail, and do him homage. Let that Sacred Name be Graven into the substance of your hearts, and lie as a bundle of Mirth between your Breafts. Let me freely speak for him, for he is worthy for whom you shall do this thing; worthy to be beloved of you; worthy to have your very hearts, worthy to be admired, adored, praised, served, glorified to the uttermost by you, and every Creature; worthy for whom you should lay down all, leave all: Can any thing be too much for him? can any thing be too good for him? Or too great for him? come give up all, Refign all, lay it at the Feet of Chrift Jesus, offer all as a Sacrifice to him, see that you be univerfally the Lords; keep nothing from him: I know through the goodness of God, that with many of you this work is not yet to do: but this fet solemn refignation to the Lord is to be done more than once; and to be followed with an answerable practice when it is done: See that you walk worthy of the Lord? but how? in the fear of the Lord, and in the comfort of the Holy Ghost; let these two go together. So shall you adorn the Doctrine of God our Saviour: and experience, the Heavenly felicity of a Christians life: While

Holiness is made the But of others Persecution, do you make it the white, the mark of your profecution; that you live it up as much as others cry it down. O watch and keep your Garments about you; the plain, but comely clothing of his mility, the seamless Coat of Christian unity, the strait and close Garment of strictness, mortification and self-denial, the warm Winter-garment of love and charity, this Garmen will keep you warm in the Winter: love will not be quenched by the Waters, nor cooled by the nipping Frosts of perfecution and opposition. Cleave fast to Christ, never let go your hold; cling the faster, because so many are labouring to knock off your fingers, and loofed your hold. Hold fift your Profession, hold fast your Integrity, hold fast the begin ning of your confidence fledfatt to the end : If you do but keep your hold, and make good your ground, and keep your way; all that the World can do, and all that the powers of darkness can do, can never do you harm. Keep your own Vinyard with conftant care and watchfulness, and be sur that there be no Inroad made upon your confciences, that the Enemy do not get between you and home, between your fouls and God; and then let who or what will affail you without, you need not fear : let this be your daily exercise to keep your consciences void of offence : keep fair we ther at home however it be abroad. But I would not only that you should walk holily, but that you should walk comfortably: But I need fay the less to this, because the fear of the Lord, and the comfort of the Holy Ghost, do lie togo ther. Oh the provision God hath made for your continual joy and comfort: dear Brethren, do but understand your own bleffedness, happy men that you are, if you did but know and confider it; who would count himself poor and miserable that hath all the fulness of the Godhead for his: found in this deep : can you find any bottom ? take the heighth of the Divine Perfections if you can, till then you cannot tell your own felicity. Take a fervey of Immensity, tell me the longitude or latitude of infinite goodness and mercy, of the Eternal Diety: if you can do this, you may guess at your own happiness. Oh Christians! live like your selves, live worthy of your Portion, of your Priviledge, and your glorious prerogatives. I am in hafte, and it is time for me to glorio have

From

Tota

to rechari
your resolute to for up ar upon Merci

weaki he ha to yo value conve vas v of th Mira nave me to end; however, that you may walk worthy of your glorious hopes, and may live answerably to the mercies you have received from above, is the great defire of Your Souls fervent well wisher in the bonds of affiction and tribulation.

From the Prison at Juelchester, September 18. 1663.

ike

e zil

our hu-

and

the

ch-

er-

go ing faft

but

our s of

own

chat

you

cife,

ver-

vlnc

com-

rof

oge

nual

TUOV

but

and

nis:

the

you

enfi-

and may

OUT

and

for

me

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER. IX.

[Easie Sufferings.]

To the most Loving and Beloved, my Christian Friends at launton, Salvation.

Early Beloved and longed for, my Joy and Crown, for whom I am an Embassadour in Bonds: what thanks to render to God in your behalf, I know not, for your fervent charity towards me, and all the servants of my Lord, for all your labours of love, for all your diligence, and boldness, and resolution, in owning the despised way, and hated servants of the Lord Jesus, in an evil day. The Lord is not unrighteous to forget this: Is not this upon record with him, and sealed up among his Treasures? surely the Lord will have mercy upon Tauntou: I have no doubt but that the God of your Mercies hath yet a choice bleffing in store for you; be not weakned by my Bonds. Glory be to God in the Highest, that he hath accounted me worthy not only to Preach the Gospel to you, but also to confirm it by the parting with my much valued liberty, so dear a People, so sweet Relations, comforts, conveniencies, which I enjoyed in all abundance when I was with you. When I look back upon all the circumstances of the late Providence, I must say as they of Christ upon his Miracles, He hath done all things well; it is all as I would have it, I am fully satisfied in my Fathers good pleasure. (c)

Verily there is no little honour and happiness, no little peace and priviledge in these Bonds. Verily all is true that I have told you of the All-fufficiency of God, of the fulness of Chrift, of the fatisfactoriness of the promises of the peace tranquility, content, and fecurity, that is to be had in a life of Faith. Surely methinks I should be content to teal to the things at a much dearer rate than this; but my gracious Fa ther will not put me to the hardest Letion at first : oh whe reason have I to speak good of his name! what else should I do all my days, but love, and fear, and preach, and praise, good a God? when I look back upon the gentle dealings of God with me, I often think he hath brought me up as indi gently as David did Adonijah, of whom it is faid, His Fatte had not displeased him. I have received nothing but good a the hands of the Lord all my days; and now he doth begin to afflict, I fee so much Mercy in this very Gaol, that I me be wore thankful for this than for my prosperity. Surely h name of the place is, The Lord is here: Surely it may beat led Peniel. Be strong in the Lord, my Bre bren, be patien flablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draws night In nothing be terrified by your adversaries. Now let the that fear the Lord be often speaking one to another. Ike that Satan is practifing to fend more of you after me: 14 fire and pray for your liberry: but if any of you be fore hither for the restimony of the Gospel, I shall embrace with both arms Fare you well, my most dearly Ecloved: perfect, and be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in put and the God of Love and Peace shall be with you. My B thren in Bonds salure you with much affection, rejoycing behold your order and the fledfastness of your Faith Christ: There my heart among you, and know that I am with d

The willing Servant of your Faith and Jo

JOS. ALLEIN

From the common Gaole at Tuelchester, Sept. 28. 1653.

rast : 1 e rake:

2

are :

love ly d

which

whic

Wort

that !

forth

This

those more

their

ove.

object

damp

he hat

bleffed

ent!y

han al

en hin well c ove. int fru

efore

ver th

LETTER. X.

[The Love of Christ.]

To my Beloved in the Lord, the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most Loving and best Beloved, Pace

is of fe d

s Fa

what ife, fo

indu

Fathe

s boo

begin

I mul

ely de

beal

patient,

vs nigh

et that

I her

: 14

e force

ace yo

ved:

n pead

My B

ycing

Faith

I am

and In

EIN

AY heart is with you, my affections are espoused to you. And methinks I could even fay with the Apofile, (you ere in my heart, to live and die with you:) and who can but love where they have received fo much love (and continually do) as I have from you! the Lord require your love which is great (and if compared with his, but little) with his which is infinite; this is a love worthy of your ambition, worthy of your adoration and admiration. This is the Womb that bore you from eternity, and out of which have burft forth all the Mercies, Spiritual and Temporal, that you enjoy. This was the love that chose you, when less Offenders, and those that being converted, might have been a hundred fold more serviceable to their Makers Glory, are lest to perish in their fins: May your fouls be filled with the sense of this love. But it may be you will fay, how shall I know if I am an object of Electing love? least an unbelieving thought should tamp your joy; know in fnort, that if you have chosen God, he hath certainly chosen you. Have you taken him for your bleffedness? and do you more highly prize, and more diliently feek after conformity to him, and the fruition of him han any, than all the goods of this World? If so, theu away with doubts, for you could not have loved, and have choen him, unleis he had loved you first. Now may my Beloved well continually in the thoughts, the views, the taftes of the ore. Get you down under its shadows, and taste its pleaint fruits. Oh the Provisions that love hath made for you, efore the Foundation of the World! Ah filly dust, that ver thou shouldest be thought upon so long before thou 14st: that the contrivances of the infinite Wildom, should e taken up about thee! that fuch a Crawling thing, fuch a (-C2) mite.

Mite, a Flea, should have the consultations of the Eternal Diety exercised about thee! verily his love to thee is won derful. Lord what is man! thou telleft us he is Duft and V. nity, a worm, nothing less than nothing; how then doft the love him! oh wonderful! be aftonished yea Heavens at this be moved ye strong foundation of the Earth. Fall downer Elders, strike up ye Heavenly Quires, and fing yet again, Gle to God in the bigbeft: for all our strings would crack to rest the Notes of love, praife, and admiration that this love do Oh that ever emptiness and vanity, should be the prized! that Jehovah should make account of so world To useless a thing as man! that ever baseness should be the preferred! that ever nothing should be thus dignified! ever rottenness should be thus advanced, a Clod, a shaddon Porsheard, should be thus glorified! Oh Brethren, flut beseech you, not to require or retaliate (there's impossity, and blasphemy in such a thought) but to admire and tate his love. Let love constrain you, let love pur youn doing, and prepare you for fuffering; forget not a low memorable, undervalue nor a love fo unvaluable; I wa have you all the captives of love: may the cords of love you towards, and knit you to your Redeemer ! may the vided streams be united in him. Alas, that our fouls m narrow, that the Waters are so shallow with us! howle how very little would our love be, if he had it all, infini less than the Glow-worm to the Sun, or the Attoment Universe? and have we any of this little to spare for his oh that we might love him with our little Ali! that all little powers were ingaged for him! Brethren, here is me cess: oh love the Lord ye his Saints! he is worthy for the that y you shall do this. Do but think what love hath dene for and think if you can, what it means to do for you. This tient, love that yarned upon you, when in your Blood no eye the Ling you. This is the love that took you up when your See the robbed and wounded, and left for dead, and poured in W and Oyl into your wounds. This is that love that repro and spared, and pardoned, when the Law had conden you, and Justice would have had you delivered up; your Self-condemning confciences gave up all for loft, elading there was no hope. This is the love, the expe

YOU W

love

cccri

wife

gry,

it to

unto

are f

and I

be lo

25 it

joyce

the fa

were

Aran

the j feaft

that den (

alive.

manr

more active

der r

bid.B

the lo

you,

dom.

you.

and c pierci

From 08 CITE

WOR

nd Va

t that at this

wny

n,Gla

o read

be the

rihle

be the

addon

flud

Moc

andi

OU

a love

I wa

y the els are ow la ne to

for hi

at all p

for wh

e fory

eyen

you w eprica

up;

loft,

expen

love that bought you from the power of darkness, from the eternal burnings, the devouring fire in which you must otherwife have dwelr. Do you not remember how you were hungry, and it fed you, naked and it cloathed you, strangers and it took you in, fick and it vifited you, in Prison and it came unto you? you were dead and are alive, you were loft and are found. And me thinks I fee how love runs to meet you. and falls upon your necks, and kiffeth the Lips that deferve to beloathed, and rejoyces over you, and makes a Festival, and as it were a Holiday in Heaven to you, inviting Angels to rejoyce. And if the friends do rejoyce, how much more doth the father? for faith he, Thele my Sons were dead and are alive, were loft and are found. Oh melring love! ah Brethren, how Arange is this, that our recovery should be Heavens triumph. the joy of God and Angels. That this love should feast us, and feast over us, and our Birth-day should be kept in Heaven: that this should be the round at Heavens Table, and the burden of the Song above : [For this my Son was dead, and is alive, and well, what remains but that you should be another manner of People, than ever yet you have been, more holy. more humble, more even, more refolved, more lively, more active? where is your Zeal for the Lord of Hofts? will flender returns suffice you in answer to such a love? God forbid. But necessity calls me off from going any further. the love that choic you, and redeemed you, for ever dwell in you, and overshaddow you, and bear you safe to the Kingdom. In the Holy Arms of Divine Love I defire to leave you. May you live under its daily Influences, and be melted and overcome with its warming Beams, with its quickning, piercing, powerful Rays. My most dear love, to you all. See that you live not in a dull, fruitless, liveless course. tient, be watchful, inftant in Prayer, fervent in Spirit, ferving the Lord: I am very healthful and chearful through grace. See that none of these things move you that befal us. Fare you well my dear Brethren, farewel in the Lord, I am Yours in the strongest Bonds of Affection, and Affliction.

From the Prison at Juelchester, October 25. 1663.

Foseph Alleine. LET-

by fi that way

Nitr

to d

thol

purs crue fall

five:

ours with

pou

hov

mir

mir

OUT

are wh hav

hin

and the of y

he

and

he

and

Lo

YOU

to fha

for

he

ou

CI

LETTER XI.

[Remember Christ Crucified, and crucifie Sin.]

To the Faithful and Well-beloved People, the servant of Christ in Taunton, Salvation.

Most dear Christians,

I Am by Office a Remembrancer, the Lords Remembrancer for you and your Remembrancer in the behalf d Christ. My business is, with the Apostle, to stir up you pure minds by way of Remembrance. And what or whom should I remember you of, but your mindful Friend, you Intercessour with the Father, who hath you always in remes brance, appearing in the presence of God for you? May his memory ever live in our hearts, though mine should de: Oh remember his Love more than Wine, remember in what a case he found you, and yet nothing could anihilate hi heart, nor divert the purpose of his Love from you: He loathed not your Rags nor your Rottenness: he found you in a loathfome vomit and filthiness, in a nasty and verminou tarters, (think not these expressions too odious : no Penca describe, no heart can imagine the odiousness of fin in hi fight, in which you lay and rolled your felves as the film Swine in the mire) yet he pitied you, his Bowels were moved, and his Compassions were kindled, when one would have thought his wrath should have boiled and his indignate tion have burned down to Hell against you: he loathed no but loved you, and washed you from your fins in his om Blood: Ah monstrous and poliuted Captives? ah vile and purrid Carkafes? that ever the holy Jesus should take the hands of you, and shou'd his own self wash you, and wrink you! methinks I see him weeping over you; and yet it was a more coftly Bath by which he cleanted you. Ah Sinners! look upon the fireaming Blood flowing out warm from his blefied Body, to fetch out the ingrained filthiness that you

n.

Vanti

alf d

you

you

mes

ay his die:

What

te his

: He

d you

inou

n cm

in his filder

e mo-

bloov

igns

d not

OWI

and

e the rink

. W25

ers!

n his

yos by by fin had contracted. Alas! what a horrid filthiness in finthat nothing but the blood of the Covenant could wash away! and what a love is Christs, than when no Sopenor Nitre could suffice to cleanie us, when a whole Ocean could not wash nor purifie us, would open every vein of his heart to do the work! look upon your crucified Lord: do you not fee a facred stream flowing out of every Member? ah, how those holy hands, those unerring Feet do run a ftream to purge us! Alas, how that innocent Back doth bleed with cruel scourgings to save ours! how the great drops of blood fall to the ground from his facred Face in his miraculous sweat, in his bitter and bloody Agony, to wash and beautifie ours! how his wounded hearts and fide twice pierced, first with love and pity; and then with Souldiers cruelty do pour our their healthful and faving Flouds upon us? Lord. how do we make a flift to forget such a love as this? ah mirrors or rather monflers of ingratitude, that can be unmindful of fu h a Friend: do we thus requite him: is this our kindness to such an obliging friend! Christians, where are you affections? to what use do you put your faculties? what have you memories for: but to remember him! what have you the power of loving for, but that you should love him? wherefore serves joy or defire, but to long for him and delightfully to embrace him? may your fouls and all their Powers be taken up with him : may all the little doors of your fouls be fet open to him. Here fix your thoughts. here terminate your defire; here you may light your Candle and kindle your fire when almost out. Rub and chase your hearts well with the deep confideration of the love of Christ. and it is a wonder if they do not get fome warmth. Lord shed abroad his love in your hearts by the H. Ghost : Oh, that this love might constrain you! Brethren what will you do now for Jesus Christ Have you never a Sacrifice to lay upon his Alrar? come, and I will shew you what you shall do, let your hands be in the blood of your fins, fall foul with them, search them out with diligence, search your hearts and your houses; whatever iniquities you find there, out with them, put them far from your Tabernacles; if you crucifie them not, you are not Jesus his Friends. Godfor-(C4)

bid that there should be a lying Tongue, or any way of de ceit in your Shops. That his service should give place in the World in your Families. Far be it from any of you, on Brethren, that you should be careful to teach your children and servants the way of your Trades and Callings, and no gled to inftruct them in the way of Life. Is weekly Cam. chifing up in every one of your Families? The Lord co. vince any of you that may be guilty of this negled : 04 fer up God in your Houses; and see that you be not flore. ly in Closet performances: beware of serving the Lordner ligently; ferve not the Lord with that which cost your thing: look to it that you content not your felves with cheap and easie Religion. Put your flesh to it : be well a fured that the Religion that costs you nothing will yet you nothing: keep up the life of Religion in your Family and Closet duties. Fear nothing like a customary and on less performance of Gods service. Judge your own selve whether lazie wishes, idle complaints, and yawning Prans are like to carry you through the mighty difficulties that m must get through if ever you come to Heaven, When yo find your felves going on in a liftless, liveless, heartless course and have no mind to your work, ask your selves, is this take the Kingdom of Heaven by violence, or can I hopen win it without? fee that you facrifice your felves to the Lord, that you deliver up your felves to him, that now me live to Christ himself. As Christ hath made over his life m death to you, fo let it be your care to live and die to him labour to forget your felves and look upon all your enjoy ments as Christs goods; upon your time, parts, frength, his Talents: look upon your felves onely in the qualive Servants and Stewards that are to husband all these for you Lords advantage, and as those that must give an account And pray for me that I may take the Counsel that I give. bless the Lord, I want nothing but the opportunity of bei serviceable unto you, and to enjoy you: but I hope the Lor will make my bonds for you to be useful to your edification on; that is the White I aim at, if I may glorifie God, an ferve your Souls best by being here, I shall never with come out though I confess liberty of its felf is very precion Finally

Fina be o Peac

From

you

To

contiten a not la falut doth my in the

you cord

Finally, Brethren, Farewel: be perfect, be of good comfort, be of one mind, live in peace, and the God of Love and Peace shall be with you, I

The ready Servant of your Faith and Joy,

JOS. ALLEINE.

From the Prison at Juelchester, Oltob. 14. 1663.

f de

ce to ildra

Care-

over-

Ou no with a

ella

yeek

d carefelve rayer

at you

courie, this m

ope 1

to the

o him

enjoy

alivo

or you

give.

f being lifica

i, an

wifh

ecion

My dear Brother Norman falutes you tenderly, defiring you to be patient, to stablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh.

LETTER XII.

[For daily Self-Examination.]

To the most Beloved People, the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Salvation.

Most dear Brethren :

I Would my time were as long as my heart, that I might open my self to you; but I was not without some discontent diverted, when I was setting my self to have Written at large to you. Now I am pinched, however I could not leave my dear charge altogether unvisited, but must needs salute you in a few Lines. Brethren, how stands it with you? doth the main work go on? do your souls prosper? This is my care, beware that you Flag not, that you saint not now in the evil day. I understand that your dangers grow upon you, may your Faith and courage and resolution grow accordingly, and much more abundantly to overtop them. Some of your enemies I hear are in great hopes to satisfie their lusts upon you: well, be not discouraged my dear Brethren, thren, but bless the Lord who of his abundant Mercy, hath 6 remarkably preferved you to long beyond all expedicion Let it not be a strange thing to you, if the Lord do non call you to some difficulty: for sake not the Assembling of your felves together, as the manner of some is. I plainly fer the Coal of Religion will foon go out, unless it have fore better helps to cherish it, then a Carnal Ministrie, and lifeld Admin strarion. Dear Brethren, now is the time for you that fear the Lord, to speak often one to another: manage your duties with what prudence you can, but away with the Carnal prudence, that will decline duty to avoid danger. I the Communion of Saints worth the venturing for? She not up your doors against Godly Meetings. I am told the it is become a hard matter, when a Minister is willing tout pains with you to get place : Far be this from you my Bro thren. What, shut out the World! suppose there be some what more danger to him that gives the Minister entering ment? Is there not much more advantage accordingly? not Obed Edim, and his House get the bleffing by enteruis ing the Ark there? or do you think God hath never able fing for those that shall with much Self-denial entertaints Messengers, his Saints, his Worship? are you believers, in yet are affraid you shall be loofers by Christ? do you is deed not know that he that runs most hazard for Christ, doth express most love to Christ, and shall receive the great eft reward; away with that unbelief, that prefers the pre fent fafery, before the future glory.

I left you some helps for daily Examination, I am jeals least you should grow flack, and flight, and carcless in the dury. Let me ask you in the name of the Lord, dothner a day pass you, but you do folemnly and ferrously call you selves ro an account, what your carriage ha h been to Go and Men? speak conscience, Is there never an one with the hearing of this Letter, that is a neglecter of this duty doth every one of your Confciences acquir you? Oh the they did! oh that they could! tell me, would not fomet you be put shrewdly to it, if I should ask you when yours or thought over the questions that were given you for you help? and would you not be put to a blush, to give men answer? and will you not be much more ashamed, that Go

and

ceff

four thin

that thou

rest

objer

this

100 but i

COUL

have mor

apá

You

ed b doth

conf

you :

to th

feech

per to

dicin

they :

have

but !

God

you a

From

ch

M

th fo

tion.

TION

ng d

ly for force

felá

you

anage

h thu

er. b

Shu

d the

Otak

y Bre-

forme-

cruin

y ? di

errais

a bld

tain his

rs, and

YOU ID

Chrift,

e great

the pro-

jealos

in the

th never

e within

Oh da

fomet

for you really e me and that Go and conscience should find you tardy? not that I would necessarily bind you up to that very Method, only till you have found a way more profitable : I would defire you, yea, methinks I cannot but deeply charge you, to make daily use of that. Awake conscience, and do thou fall upon that Soul that thou findest careless in this work, and never let him be at rest till thou canst witness for him, that he is a daily and strict observer of himself, and doth live in the constant practice of this duty. What shall neither Gods charge, nor your promise, nor profit hold you to your work? yet I may not doubt, but some of you do daily perform this duty. The Lord incourage you in it: yet give me leave to ask you what you have gained? are you grown more univerfally consciencious, more firid, more humble, and more fenfible of your many and great defects, then you were before? If so, blessed are you of the Lord; if otherwise, this duty hath been performed but flightly by you. What can you fay to this question? dorh your care of your ways abate, or doth it increase, by the constant use of this duty? If it abate, remember from whence you are fallen, and repent; as good not do it at all, as not to the purpole.

My Pen is apt to run, when I am writing unto you. I befeech you, that my Letters may not be as so much waste Paper to you; may they be provocations to your duty, and Medicines to any corruptions that they meet with; Oh that they might find out mens fins, and excite their graces! I have run much farther than I thought I should have done, but now I am called upon, and must shut up. The Lord God be a Sun and a Shield to you. My most dear Love to you all, fare you well in the Lord, I am

Your Embassador in Bonds,

JOS. ALLEINE.

From the common Goal at Juelchester, Octob. 20. 1663.

folde

ing ing ing

you the

Hap

who come

fpar

tatio

ado

bou

mo

ER4

he s

WIC

bili

the

the

you

he

M101

fev

ter

COT

nel

you

be

G

fol

S

F

LETTER XIII.

[Motives and Marks of Growth.]

To the most Loving, and best Beloved, the servants of Christ in I aunton, Grace and Peace:

Most dear and tender Friends ,

THose I am, and whom under God I defire to serve; to build you up in Holiness, and comforts hath been through grace my great ambition. This is that which Ila boured for; this is that which I suffer for: and in shorthe end of all my applications to you, and to God for you. How do your fouls prosper? are they in a thriving case? what progress do you make in Sanctification? doth the House of Saul grew weaker and weaker, and the house of David strong ger and stronger? beloved, I defire to be jealous of you with a Godly jealoufie, left any of you should lose you ground in these declining times : and therefore cannot but be often calling upon you to look to your standing, and w warch and hold fast, that no man take your Crown. All how furely shall you reap in the end if you faint not! ake heed therefore that you lose not the things you have wrought, but as you have begun well, so go on in the strength of Chrift, and give diligence to the full affurance of hope to the end, 'tis your thriving, I tell you, I drive at.

Do you need Motives? I. How much are you behind-bank Oh, the fair advantages that we have lost! what time, what Sabboths, Sermons, Sacraments, are upon the matter lost! how much work have we yet to do? are you sure of Heaven yet? are you fit to die yet? surely they that are in so much Poverty, under so many great wants, had need to se upon forme more thriving courses.

Secondly, Consider what others have gained, whilf we it may be sit down by the loss: Have we not met many Vessels richly laden, while our Souls are empty? Oh, the rich Booties, the golden Prizes that some have won? while we have folded folded the hands to fleep! have not many of our own flanding in Religion left us far behind them?

Thirdly, Consider what a spending time there is coming: Affliction and Tribulation seem to be not far from you: had you not need to be well stocked against such a day? go to the Ant thou sluggard, she layeth up her meat in the Summer.
Happy man that can say to his Soul on good grounds, what he vainly spake, Thou hast much good laid up for many years:
Who will not Victual the Castle against the Siege? and the Ship against the Voyage?

Fourthly, Confider you will find all little enough when you come to die: the Wise among the Virgins have no Oyl to spare at the coming of the Bridegroom; distress and temp-tations, and death will put all your Graces to it. How much ado have many poor Saints had at last to put into this harbour? David cries for respite till he had recovered a little more ftrength.

ferve;

h been

h I laort the

. How

what use of

ftrop

of you

Your

or but

Ah!

! take

have ength

ope to band?

what

loft!

Hea

in fo

to la

me it

effels

B00-

have

Fifthly, Consider how little it will avail you to thrive in your Estates, and not thrive in your Souls: Poor Gehazi! what did he get by it when he gained Naamans Talents, and came off with his Leprofie?

Sixthly, Consider how short your time for gathering in probability is: the Israelites gathered twice so much Manna against the Sabboth as they did at other times, because at that time there was no Manna sell. Brethren you know not how long you have to lay in for.

Seventhly, Consider Gods expettations are great from you; he hash been lopping and pruning you, and now he looks for more fruit: he hath had you for some time under his more severer Discipline, and therefore expects you should be better proficients: he hath tried new means with you, and is come to you with a Rod; and he will be angry with a witness if he do not find you now to mend. Times of Affictions use to be gaining times to Gods People; God forbid that you alone should be losers.

Do you ask for marks how you may know your fouls to be in a thriving case?

First, If your appetites be more strong. Do you thirst after God, and after grace, more than heretofore? do your cares for and defire after the World abate? and do you hunger and

with (

Six

melt a duty (

ever i

TET ?

you fo

more

Sev 1 chos

WON

rejoy

y 42

ron m

pain t

great contin

Nin

thefe P

you ar

more !

the W

Four G

life, an

do you

with g

B unw

of God

on yo

plenty

peace

go de

inteud

Tin

Eig

and thirst after righteousness! whereas you were wont to come with an ill-will to holy duties, do you come to then as a hungrie stomach to its meats?

Secondly, If pour Pulfes beat more even. Are you still of and on, hot and cold. Or is the a more even spun thred of holiness through your whole course? do you make good the ground from which you were formerly often beate off?

Thirdly, If your natural heat do grow more vigorous, and you digestion more quick. Do you take more notice of God in ever thing, than heretofore? and let none of his works, not words pass without some careful attention, and observation do you ponder upon, and pray over his Word, and his to vidences?

of Religion, and mind more than ever, the carrying on togethe the duties of both Tables. Do you not only look to the keeping if your own Vineyards, but do you begin to look under abroad, and to lay out your felves for the good of others and are filled with zealous defires for their conversation, and falvation? do you manage your talk and your Trade, by the rules of Religion?

Do you ear and fleep by rule? doth Religion form, and mould, and direct your carriage towards Husband, Wife, herents, Children, Masters, Servants? do you grow more universally consciencious? Is piety more diffusive than ever win you, doth it come more abroad with you, out of your Closes into your Houses, your Shops, your Fields? doth it journey with you, and buy and sell for you? hath it the casting your in all you do ?

Fifthly, If the duties of Religion be more easie, sweet, and delightful to you. Do you take more delinht in the Word than ever? are you more in love with secret Prayer, and more abundant in it? cannot you be content with your ordinary Seasons, but are ever and anon making extraordinary visits to Heaven? and upon all occasions turning aside to tak with God in some short Ejaculations? are you often duting up your souls Heaven-wards? Is it meat and drink for you, to do the Will of God? do you come off more freely with God, and answer his Calle, and open at his knocks, with note Alacrity and readiness of mind?

out to then

ill of red of good

cato

d you

n eve

, nor

ation?

s Pro-

titude

getha

keep

thore

thers,

n,and by the

1, and

fe, Pa

e uni-

r with loffers

Durney

WOICE

484

Word

, and ur ordinary

to tak

dan-

nk for freely

with

Sixthly, If you are more abundant in those duties which are not displeasing to the Flesh. Are you more earnest upon the duty of Mortification? are you more strict and severe than err in the duty of daily Self-examination, and holy Meditation? do you hold the Reigns harder upon the Flesh than err? do you keep a stricter watch upon your Appetites? do you set a stronger guard upon your Tongues? have you a more jealous eye upon your hearts?

seventhly, If you grow more vile in your own eyes. Pride is such achoaking Weed, that nothing will prosper near it. Do you gow more out of love with mens esteem, and set less by it? are you not marvellous tender of being slighted? can you rejoyee to see others preferred before you? can you hearti-

h value, and love them that think meanly of you?

Eightly, If you grow more quick of sense, more tender of sining, more sensible of Divine influences, or withdrawings. Are son more affraid of fin than ever? are your fins a greater pain to you than heretofore? are your very infirmities, your great affictions? and the daily workings of corruption a oninual grief of mind to you?

Noticely, If you are affed more by love to God and Faith in the Promises. Fear is a flavish principle: do you find that you are afted less by fear, and more by love? do you look more frequently to the things not seen than ever? and doth the World abate in your esteem? do you go more out of your selves? do you live upon Christ as the Spring of your selves? do you prize the Promise more, and hug and imbrace them with grea er dearness, and live more upon them.

Tenthly, If you grow of a more public & Spirit. A selfish spirit is unworthy of a Christ an: are the common concernments of Gods Glory, and the prosperity of the Church, much upon your hearts? will it no way content you to dwell in plenty, peace, and safety your selves, except you may see peace upon Israel? do the wounds in Gods Name and Glory go deep into you? are the fins of others your forrows?

Time, and room, and strength fails to add means too, as I intended. I have trespassed in length already, may these be help.

helps to you to put you forward, and to help you in difcern ing your growth. I must conclude abruptly, and commend you to God with my dear loves to you all, I take leave, and can only tell you that I am,

Yours in the Lord Fefus.

JOS. ALLEIN

Ch

thi

fich

by ion

10

W nifi phe

lab Go

tha tha

und that

our

may tatio

Ikn

me !

give will form

in t if yo

to g light

you

ways

m, o

holin

the p

that by th

From the common Goale at Juelchester, Otto. 31. 1563.

LETTER. XV.

[Perswasion to Sinners, and comfort to Saints,]

To my dearly Beloved, the Inhabitants of the Towns Taunton, Grace; Mercy, and Peace from Godin Father, and the Lord fesus Christ.

Molt dearly Beloved ..

Have been through mercy many years with you, and should be willingly so many years a Prisoner for you, h I might minently and effectually further your falvation. I must again, yea again, and again thank you for your abus dant and intire affections to me, which I value as a great men not is order to my felf, if I know my own heart, but in a der to your benefit, and I may thereby be a more likely In strument to further your good. Surely, so much as I do value your love, which is not a little, yet had I rather (if I am m unacquainted with my felf) be forgotten and forfakent you all, and buried in oblivion, So that your eyes and hear might be hereby fixed on Christ, and fincerely engaged him. Brethren, I have not bespoken your affections for m felf : O that I might win your hearts universally to Jef Christ, though I had lost them for ever ! O that I might instrumental to convert you to him though you were diven be p ed from me. I am perswaded that I should much rathe com chool thron cm.

6,

IN

ts,

WHE

odom

, and

Ou, lo

ion. 1

r abun-

t mercy

it in a kely In lo valu

am por

fakend

d heart

aged

to Je

choose to be hated of all, so this might be the means to have Christ honoured, and set up favingly in the hearts of you all. And indeed there is nothing great but in order to God; nothing is much material or confiderable as it is terminated in is: It matters not whether we are in Riches or poverty in fickness or health, in honour or disgrace, so Christ may be by us, magnified in the condition we are in. Welcome Prifonand poverty, welcome fcorn and envy, welcome pains or contempt, if by these Gods glory may be most promoted. What are we for but for God? what doth the Creature fignific separated from his God? why just so much as the Cypher separated from the Figure, or the letter from the Syllable, we are nothing or nothing worth, but in reference to God and his ends. Better were it that we had never been. than that we should not be to him. Better that we were dead than we should live, and not to him. Better that we had no understandings than that we should not know him. Better that we were Blocks and Bruis than that we should not use our reason for him. What are our Interests unless as they may be subservient to his Interest? or our esteem or repuation, unless we may hereby glorifie him? do you love me? I know you do; but who is there that will leave his fins for me? I mean at my requests: with whom shall I prevail to give up himself in strictnese and self-denial to the Lord? who will be intreated by me to fet upon neglected duties, or reform accustomed fins? O wherein may you rejoyce me? in this, in this, my Brethren, in this you shall befriend me, if you obey the voice of God by me, if you be prevailed with to give your selves up throughly to the Lord? would you lighten my burden; would you loofen my bonds? would you make glad my heart? let me hear of your owning the ways and servants of the Lord in adversity, of your coming in, of your abiding and patient continuing in the ways of holiness. O that I could but hear that the prayerless Souls, the prayerless families among you, were now given to prayer! s for that the profane finner would be awakened, and be induced by the Preaching of these Bonds, which heretofore would not night b e diven be prevailed with, to leave their drunkenness their loose h rathe company, their lying and deceir, and Wantonness, by all the choo threatnings of God that could be pronounced against them, (d) HOP nor all the befeechings, wooings, and entreaties that I was a ble to use with them! will you not be made clean? when stull it once be? how long shall the patience of God wait for you? how long shall the Lord Jelus stretch out his hands to ward you? O finners, cast your selves into his Arm? Why should you die? why will you forsake your own mercy? will you perish when mercy wooes you? consess and forsake your sins, and you shall find mercy: will you part with Christ, and sell your souls to perdition for a little ease and delight to your stell? or a little of the gain of unrighteousness? or a little Ale or vain mirth, or loose company? why these are the things that part between finners and Christ.

I know many are foun with a finer thred, and are not fo far from the Kingdom of God, as the prayerless, ignoran. Sabbath-breaking, intemperate for are. But I must once again warn you of flaying in the suburbs of the Ciry of Refuge 0 what piry is it that any should perish at the Gates! that am should escape the pollutions of the world and do many thing yea, and fuffer it may be too, and yet should fall short of the glory of God, for want of a through work of grace ! Ohyo halting Christians, that halt between Christ and the World that are as Ephraim like a Cake not turned, dow-baked Pro fessors, that have Lamps without Oyl, that cry, Lord, Lord but do not the will of our Father which is in Heaven! how long will you ftay in the place of the breaking forth of Chi dren? and flick between the womb and the World? your Religion will carry you among the profane despifers of God liness, but do own the people of the Lord, and do love the Ministers and ordinances, therefore all is well. I tell you, Godliness is a heart-work, it goes deep, and spreads far : unless the frame of your hearts, and the drifts of your course be changed, unless you be universally conscientious, and unreservedly delivered up to the Lord for all times, and condition whatever be the cost, you are none of Christs, how far soew you go in common workings and external performances. Her then, O people, and let not profaneness swallow you up: le nor an almost Christianity deceive you, or ignorance carry you blindfold to perdition. Oh the thousands, and ten thou fands that have been undone by one of thefe! Ah how often have you been warned against them, least you should splits inft 4x

ga Ci

ter

the

WO

for fin

the

dili

end

hor

and

the cha

ma

por

bia

hap

let d

Evo

plac

man

men

fhan

hand

and

him

make

he II

to yo

on y

A

E

gainst these dargerous Rocks. O ferusalem, ferusalem, said Christ, and O Taunton, Taunton, may I say from him, how often? who can tell how often, would Gods servants have gathered you, and you would not? many, very many of you would not. But will you now? will you yet come in? I cannot forbear once more, even out of the Prison to call after poor sinners, and make one tender of mercy more. O come to the waters of Life, wash you, make you clean; read with diligent observation, the melting passages, Prov. 1. 22. to the ind, Isa. 1. 16, 21. Isa. 55. 6, 10. Oh obdurate sinners, if none of these things move you!

full

t for

Is to

Why

will your hrift,

ligh

10 fe are ot 6

rant,

agan

ge, 0

at any hines of the h you

rocks,

d.Pro

Lord, ! how

(Chil-

you

(God ve the

.God-

unles

uric be nrefer

dition

foever

s.Her

n thou

w often

gain

But for you, whose very hearts are set against every finand are deliberately resolved for God and Holiness before all the worlds delight; you that have experience of a thorow change, and are brought to have respect to all Gods Commandments, who will have none but God for your happiness, pone but Christ for your Treasure, that must and will have him, come what will come, bleffed are you of the Lord : O happy Souls rejoyce in the Lord, and again, I fay, Rejoyce : let your fouls magnifie the Lord, and your spirits rejoyce in God your Saviour. Live you a life of praise, you are highly favoured of the Lord, your Lines are fallen in a pleasant place: only stick you fast to your choice: Beware lest any man beguile you of your reward: watch and keep your garments about you, lest you walk naked, and men see your fame. Many will be plucking to pull you out of Christs hands; but the harder they pluck, the harder do you cling, and cleave to him, and the better hold fast do you take of him: bleffed is he that overcometh.

And now the God of Heaven fill you all with himself, and make all Grace to abound in you, and toward you, and that he may be a Sun to comfort you, and a Shild of protection to you, and shine with his happy Beams of Grace and Glory on you all: Farewel in the Lord, I am

Tours in the Bonds of the Goffel,

JOS. ALLEINE

Anguft, 28: 1663.

(d 2)

LET-

LETTER. XVI.

[How to live to God.]

To the Beloved People, the Inhabitants of the Town of Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most endeared Christians,

TO tell you I love and long for you, feems somewhat needless. I cannot doubt of your confidence that you have a deep share in my tenderest affections: for this let my labours among you, and the hazards for you speak, rather that I my felf. Beloved, I am, without a Complement thedevoted fervant of your fouls prosperity, and the interest of Christ in you: way the Lord Jesus be set up higher in your hearts; may his name ever live in you, and be magnified by you, and I have what I ask. If this work be not promoted mong you, I shall account all my letters but waste Paper, and all my pains but loft labour. Brethren, I befeech you, that none of you live to your felves, for this were directly to cross the very end of Christ's death: for therefore he died that you should not live to your selves, 2 Cor. 5. 15. Oh live to him that died for you! live to him that is the God of your lie! live to him that bought your lives with the expense of his own! To him that bought you from destruction; and not only fo, but bought your names into the eternal Inheritance referved in the Heavens for you. Will a man be eafily perswaded to lose his life? how infinitely tender are men here And yet in the worst sence the most of men do lose their lives, yea, lose them for nothing. Beloved, confider, I be feech you, that life is loft, that is not lived unto God. If you would not loss your lives that you live, see to him who is the end of your lives. Oh remember this, and reckon that day lost which you have not lived unto God! Brethren how greats part of our lives have we really, alas! to too really loft? I beseech you take heed: here you are careful about many things, but beware that other things do not put out this which should be the main of your cares, to wit, the spendin your days and strength for him that made you. Would the V is not be dreadful for a man to find at last when he come nor th mair fhou at la that ted I to h

you God. Fi bufin

for h elle t ticula bot t but fe for ch that t own v made bleffe of this honou

you f hearts Sec it is to nels to from a and gr of a g their 1 too to Thi your ft what a with a lo mu

to curuf

to his account with God, that his whole life, or at least the main of it had been but damnable felf-feeking. foold have so many years allowed him by God, and he should a laft be found to have been but a falle and wicked fervant that had fet up for himself with his Matters stock, and alienated his goods, and turned them to his own use? Well, that you may throughly learn the grand lesson of living unto God take these Counsels:

of 12

Ou

MY her

de-

of our by

de

and the you him

life!

of his

i not

ance,

per

here

their

I be-

If you

is the

v loft

reatt

oft?I

many

First, Settle it upon your heart that it is the sum of all your bufiness and bleffedness to live unto God : 'Tis your bufiness. for his pleasure you are and were created: what have you de to do but to ferve your Maker in your general and pargoular Callings? what was the Candle made for (faith one) but to be burnt? beloved, what elfe have you strength for. but for God? doth he maintain servants, and shall not he look for their work; Would you endure it that the servants that you find with meat and wages should fer up for themselves, the they should eat your bread and all the while do their own work? beloved, Gods service is your business, and he mide you and keeps you for no other end; and it is your blessedness too. Labour to be under the rooted conviction. of this principle, that your very happiness lies in pleasing and honouring of God. Let the sense of this live fresh upon your hearts, and it will regulate your whole course.

Secondly, Remember what a dangerous, yea, damnable thing it it to live to your felves: To make it our main care and bufiness to please and gravifie our selves, or to have applause from and reputation with others, or to grow rich in the world, and greaten our selves and posterity, is the certain evidence of a graceless heart. And though the Godly do make God their principle end in general, yet they must know, that for to much of their lives ar is spent besides, this end (which is too too much) they shall suffer loss.

Thirdly, Labour to keep alive upon your selves a deep sense of your strong obligations to God. Often think with your selves this what a righteous, what a reasonable thing it is, that you should spend with all that you have serve the Lord. Beloved, sha I not would the Vessel be for the use of the Potter that made it? Shall comes not the servant Trade for his Master with whose goods he is to curusted? do yot not fetch all your bread from God's door?

(d3)

Is not he the Rock that begat you? the Author of your being and well-being? is not this he that can crucifie you of release you? can save you or damn you at his pleasure? Is it not from him that you fetch every breath? your interest obliges you to please him. Why should Beltsbazzars charge be againft you? that the God in whose hand your breach is, and whose are all your ways, you have not glorified, Dan. 5.22.

Fourthly. Do not only intend God as the general end of your courfe but in every folemn action actually mind your end. Though a man need not, cannot think of his Journeys-end at every flep, yet with care he might come to this in every folemnation on, particularly and expressy to mind his end: a man cannot (nor need he) think at every bit that he puts into his mouth I will ear this for God ; yet he might every time he fits down to his Table, remember to eat and drink, not to gratifie his flesh, bur to glorifie God, by getting frength for his work, to cannot think of it in every ftep in your Journey; but with out intending some glory to God by serving his will in your place and station? and so in your visits and labours.

Fifthly, Every morning let this be your first and firm resolution I will let forth this day in the Name of God Your first and the thoughts are of greatest consequence; and therefore I adde you to begin and end with this; when ever you lie down, fay in your felves, I will make use of my Bed as an ordinance of God, that a servant of his may be refreshed and fitted for his work: when ever you rife up, think I will spend this day for God, and follow the bufiness of my calling, because I an fo appointed by God, Zech. 10. 12. And they fall wall wonfider and down in his Name, faith the Lord, &c.

Beloved, I defign the sweetness and comforts, as well a seworld strictness of your lives. Live to God as you are directed, and wen you shall marvellously prosper in both. I am not surely this, the ly defire to do I leave all things to our Fathers wise disposed for fal, and commending you to God, I divide my loves among sould like the rest

Yours in the louds of the Lord Fefus . Secon

From the Prifon at Juelcheffer, Nov. 14. 1663.

V

he jo

wheth

un fo

Nethir

refit o

the ric

M MO

rill ref

e pari

00.00

e that he Lor

nd the land ur

s (ball orld v

tinces f

LETTER XVII.

Motives to fet our felves to pleafe God. 7

To the most Loving, and best Beloved, the servants of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace :

Moft dear Christians,

ber

is it

ob-Car

and 23.

your

ugh rery section and, own e his

you

ains,

dist

dwife own,

nance ed for is day

Las

16.1

vell as

diand

eye,

rnell

NE

Tour Prisoner in the Lord faluteth you with all dearness: I your are the care of my heart, the defire of my Eyes. bejoy of my Bonds, and the sweet of my liberty. I am much fatisfied in the wife disposal of our Heavenly Father, meter he fee it good for me to be a Bond-man, or a Free- 08 un, fol may but ferve your fouls to the greatest advantage. Methinks I begin to feel in my felf, more than ever the bethe of your Prayers; the influences of Heaven, through the riches of Free-grace (to which alone be the Praise) bereflore us one to another in his time, much better than eparted; in the mean time, fee that you fland faft in the pe of the Gospel. The Lord taketh infinite care for you. the that it be your care, the care of your very hearts, to pleafe the Lord: Set your hearts to it as the business of your lives, ad the very end of your beings, to walk worthy of the and unto all well-pleafing. Set home on your felves fuch onfiderations as thefe.

First, It is the very bufiness you were made for, and fent into eworld for, to please your Maker. For his pleasure you are, nd were Created. Why should the Lord repent that he had ade you? Gen. 6,6 What treacherous and damnable falshood this, that when the Lord hath given us Breath and Being, dipond fent us into the World on purpose on his service, we amon sould like salse and wicked servants, set up for our selves? hy should your Creator say, he hath made you in vain? fus Secondly, If you fet your hearts to please the Lord, you are sure ball please him. It is not so with men, all the care in the orld will not suffice to please some men. How often do inces forsake their greatest Favourites? so that if you set it !

(d4)

On

fee

for

his.

Pra

look

Un

but

lec

Toi

T A

th thefe

forth,

MIVCI

drine

to please men, you are not sufe to attain your end at last; yea, rather you are fure nor to attain it. But if the Lord doth fee your very hearts be fet to please him, he will accept you, though you come short, 2 Cor. 8. 12. Read that sweet pas. Tage, 2 Chron. 6.75.

Thirdly, It will be a certain fign of your fincerity, when the pleasing of the Lard is your greatest busines, Phil. 1. 20. To such the Promise runs, Isa. 56. 4. 5. It is a diftinguishing evidence truly to feek and prize Gods favour, more then Corn, Wine, Pfal. 4.6.7.

Fourthly, This will jet all in order, and bring all your bufneß to a Head, when you have set down this as the one thing he ceffary, that you are resolved to please the Lord, this will regulate your whole lives, and bring all your bufines into a little compat. A Christian hath but one thing to do in all conditions, and that is to carry it to in his prefent flate, as that he may pleat God. A man-pleaser: O how many hath he to please? what an endless work hath such an one to do?

Fifthly, Confider but bow careful the Man-pleafing Parafit, and time-ferving Hypocrite is to please men: and shall not we take as much care to please our God? oh how doth the flat tering Courtier study the humour of his Prince? be your careful to fludy, and to be acquainted with the mind of God. What will not men do to screw themselves into the favour of the Mighty? oh that you were but as diligent, and urwearied, and punctual in your endeavours, to get and to keep the favour of the Almighty?

Sixthly, Confider whose favour or displeasure is of that confe quence to you, as the Lords is of. What if men should be me gry with you, have they the Keys of Hell, and of Death? no, no, fear them not. Can they undo your Souls? can they fend you to Hell? Alas they cannot. See that you dread his dif pleasure that can. Alas what will their favour avail you! if they be pleased, can they stand between the wrath of God to dec and you? can they pardon your fins? fave your fouls? for the cure your Eternal concernments? where is all their favour or good will, when they or you come to die? It will not be worth a Rush when most needed. Therefore beloved Brethren, whatever you do keep in with God. Resolve upon it, House three, whatever you do keep in with God. Resolve upon it, He must be pleased, though all the VV orld be displeased. In Imper in the con is it be enough to you to have his good will : let this be the Ou thing that you bend your felves to feek, and if you fer to feek it, you may be fure to find it. The Messenger flays for me, and fo I must here thut up my Letter, as Jude doth .. To Beloved, building up your jelves in your most holy Faith. Praying in the Holy Ghost, keep your selves in the love of God, looking for the mercy of our Lord Jesus Christ unto Eternal life. Unro his Grace I commend you all, and shall add nothing but to share my loves among, and so rest,

Your Embaffador in Bonds,

JOS. ALLEINEL

Jelchester, November 22. 1663.

aft;

oth

OH.

pal-n the To hing

then

bufi-

ulate nyaft.

and Ital or we e flasou as

GoL avour

d ut nd to

confe-

be any fend

is dif you!

LETTER, XVIII.

[The Worth of Holines,]

To the Beloved People the Flock of Ged in Taunton Grace and Peace.

Most dear Friends, and Brethren,

Am now a Prisoner of the Lord for you Gentiles, and I therefore have fent these sew Lines, to beseech you by. these Bonds which I gladly endure for your sakes, to hold forth, and hold fast the profession of your Faith without wering. The Lord make you ftedfast in the Holy Dodrine wherein you have been taught. I have not shunned of God to declare unto you the whole Counsel of God. O rememls? fo ber that by the space of eight years, I ceased not to warn you favour every one, and kept back nothing that was profitable unto nor be you, but have taught you publickly, and from House to d Bre House, warning every man, and teaching every man that pon is I might present every man persed in Christ Jesus. Oh that "ed. Let Impenitent sinners would yet remember the Invitations, and the objectations, and the obtestations, that they have had! have they not been fought unto? have they not been intreased? have they not been followed from the Publick, to their own Houses? hath not the VVord been brought to their Doors? Hath not Mercy wooed them? have they not been called under the VVings of Mercy? And yet they would not. Oh that they would confider it now in the latter dayes? In. 23. 20. Oh that they would remember, and repent, that there might be yet an after Harvest? That they would yet come in and live! Are you yet willing to turn? hear how Wildom calls after you, Prov. 11. How long ye fimple ones will you love simplicity, and fools hate knowledge: turn you at my reproof. But if they will not hear, good were it for them that they had never been born: It shall be more, and bener for Sodom and Gomorrab, then for them.

Bur for you that have taken upon you the Profession of firial Godliness, I shall only press you to follow on, and press towards the Mark. You have much work yet to do, and God hath given you no time to Loyter in. I befeech you to pur on. That Person that fits down when he hath gotten to that pirch that he thinks will bring him to Heaven, is never like to come thither; Grace is one of those things that faith it never hath exough. Let me urge upon you the Apostles Counfel, Heb. 12. 14. Follow after Holinef.

First. Holiness is the choicest Ornament: it is an adoming in the fight of God, of great prize. It is the Glory of God, and will you count it your shame? Exod. 15. God's glorious in Holiness, and Grace is called Glory, 2 Cor. 3.18. But we may now cry out as the Pfalmift, in his complaint, O ye fons of men, how long will ye turn my Glory into (hame? Pl. 4. 2. But be of good comfort, the shame of Holiness is real Glory: how confidently doth Paul shake his Chain? Acts 28: 20. We read of some that did glory in their chame in a fad fense, that is in that which was real ground of shame, to wit, their fin, Phil. 3.19. But we meet with others that in a happy fense, did glory in their shame; that is in the shame of Religion, which is indeed a Crown of Glory. So did Peter and John, Acts 5. 41.

Secondly, Holiness is the fafest Muniment: Grace is not enely for Ornament, but for Ufe. Righteousness is a Breft- Warth plate

place

mort

done

walk

integr

Idefi

onge

my F

than five 1

Lofer

of Wi

fure c dange

a man

cratc

dange

de di

are c cren 1

15. -20

Eat of Gods !

Sin is

Timpa

raging

nefs,ar

ut en

work i

nandm

Read I

ea ti

Acts 1

ord,

The C

arnef

ren, 1

Let

Ton

place that keeps the Vitals, and is a fure defence from any mortal wounds, Ephel. 6. 14. When the Politicians have done their best with all their politick fetches, it is he that wilketh uprightly, that walketh farely, Prov. 10. 19. "Let integrity and uprightness preserve me, faith David, Pfal.29. Laft. Idefire no other Protection than Innocency. I defire to be no longer fafe than thefe can preferve me; when I must let go my Integrity or my fafety , I will chuse the danger rather than the fin:and yet will never doubt but my Integrity will fire me harmless, and prevent me for ever coming off a Lafer. Never periwade me that that man doth choose wifely or will consult in his own safety, that runs upon the displeafire of the infinite God, who is a devouring fire to flie the danger of mans displeasure. Did you ever read or hear of man fo mad as to run upon the Swords point, to avoid the frach of a Pin? or ro run upon a roaring Canon, rather than danger his being wershod? why this is the best wisdom of hedistracted World, who will fin rather than suffer, and to fre themselves harmless in the World, will run upon God. men upon his neck, and the thick Boffes of his Buckler, Fob 15. 25. 26.

Tordly, Holiness will be found to be your real happiness: Ex of this Tree, and you shall be indeed as God. Godliness is The beauty of Holiness is this very Image; Gods likenels. Sin is the disease of which Holiness is the Cure. Pride is the Impany, paffion the Feavour of the mind, how reftlefly riging is the mind where they reign? holiness, humility, meek-Miste a present ease, a present Cure, if the Patient can take we enough. O what peace and tranquility doth Holiness work in the Mind! Great peace have they that love thy compandments. and nothing shall offend them, Pfalm 119: 165. lead 1/4 48. 18. 22. and 26. 3. and 32. 17. Holine's will ea treasure of Riches, Jam. 2.5. and a Crown of honour, Alls 17. 11. A Paradise of pleasure to you, Prov. 3.17. In a ord, Holiness is the perfection of mans nature, Heb. 12 21. e of The Communication of the Divine Nature, 2 Pet. 1.4. The arnest of Glory, Mat. 5.8. And the very entrance of Hea-ren, Pbil. 3. 20.

WB

rs?

10-

Oh h.

hat

yes:

OWIS

HES.

at em_

1122

1.600 of

relate boi

pur

like

h,It

me of dis

18, ine,

PL.

real

20283 fad

Wit.

12Deter

not

cftplate

Let me fay now to every one of you, as our Saviour to Martha, John 11, 26. Believed thou this? If you do, live like Believers.

Believers, and do you follow after Holinels as others follow their Trades or Studies. Let Religion be your bufinels, and not a thing by the by with you : follow as hard upon the pursuit of Grace, as if you did indeed believe riches and honour were in it. Count your selves well, as long as you keep within the line of your duty. Let holines fit in your Lips, and feafon all your Speech with grace. Professit own it. plead flourly and resolve for it, be you Advocates for Holines, in an Adulterous and wicked Generation, wear it as a Robe of honour, when the spightful World cast the dung of their Reproaches at you for it : let it dwell in your hearts: Let it adorn your Houses : let it be your Companion in your Closers: Let it Travel with you in your Journies : letitlie down and rife up with you'd let it close your eyes in the Evening, and call you our of your Beds in the Morning. Beyou the votaries of Holines : keep her, and the thall keep the state of the VOU.

I shall close with my loves to you all, only because I know you love to hear of my well-fare: I must rell you that good hels and mercy do follow me perperually every day, and every night, Glory to God in the highest. Dear Brethen.

Fare you well in the Lord, I am

Your Devoted Servant in the Goffel, whether a Bond-man, or a Free, Jos. ALLEINE him I

Mo

la n aufe

ed fro ing I

for a 1

man f on the will ea

6 far

brget

B cer

mon: out th rolled

anic

ou qi

mesti

when the to and transport in contract From the common Gaole at Jucichefter, December 2. 1663.

Most Dearly Beloved,

This was intended for you a Week foomer then it comes to be communicated. I purpofely write in the middle of the core Week, that if any Opportunity be fuddenly offered, I may have somewhat ready for you : but last week I failed of a ou a Conveyance, I shall not add any thing further now, but that her H I shall follow my Counsels with my Prayers, and shall be an humble sumble Interceffor night and day before God for you a to him I commend you, and to the Word of his Grace, Remaining Tours while I am.

A. Are the sale and the sale and and

LETTER XIX.

[1. Try. 2. Rejoyce.]

To the most loving, and best beloved, the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most endeared Friends ,

OW ınd

the ind ou.

nuo nwi Ho-

25 2 g of

rts: our t lie

the

Be (cep

now!

ood

and

ren,

ofpel

NE.

umb!c

AY heart is solicitous for you: your Spiritual and Eter-I nal welfare is the matter of my defires and defigns. la not my Beloved think they were forgotten by me, beanse you heard not from me the last Week: sleep departd from my eyes to write to you at large; but in the morning I concluded it best, to defer the imparting of it to you be a feason, that you might have it a better way. Can a woman forget her Child, that the should not have compassion on the Son of her Womb? yea, they may forget, but Christ villearnestly remember you still. Natural Parents may be far unnatural; spiritual Parents may be so far carnal, as to brget their own Children: I would have you count nothing & certain but Christs love and care. This you may build pon: You need not fear lest time and distance should wear out the remembrance of you with him: your names are inolled in the everlasting Decrees of Heaven, and a whole Eonity hath not been able to wear them out. Do any of of the scorded above? I shall bring it to a speedy issue: Do you may bestion whether Christ hath taken your names? whether do of a superficient whether the state of the superficient whether the superficient whether the superficient whether ut that per Hearts? Is the Name of Jefus deeply engraven upon be an

2

P

an

be

for

CO

W

do ing

Kin

nou thee

With

the 1

nes

the ch Princ

Prom

the K

erres :

not be

the W

the Go

Heaven

y rance

rellenc

et not

Tayers.

or you.

s Farl

your Souls? Is his Image and Superfcription there? Tryon can find that Heaven is the main of your cares; that your hearts are fer upon it as your home and your Countrey;and that it is your great bufiness to seek it and secure it, then never doubt, if your Hearts be chiefly upon Heaven, your Names are unquestionable written in Heaven. Again, hath Christ recorded his name in your Hearts? Is the Name of Jesus the Beloved name with you? precious above allinear to your hearts? Is there no other Name under heaven to dear and sweet to you? What room bath Christ in you? f any thing be deeper in your hearts than he is, you are unfound. As the Father hath given him, so do your hearts give him a Name above every Name: Is Christ uppermost with you in your estimations and affection? Then rejoyce and leap for joy, your Names are most precious with Christ. if his Name be above all dear to you. Once more, had Christ drawn out his own similitude upon You! Is Christ within you? doth he dwell in your Hearts? Then be fure you have a room in his heart: The Image of Christ is inholiness. Is this that which your very hearts are set upon? Do you thirst for Holiness? Do you follow after Holines? Do you prize it above all prosperity and worldly greatnes? Do you have every fin and long to be rid of it as your most insome burden? and use all Gods means against it as far as you know them? If it be thus with you, Christ hath set his start upon your hearts, and fo you may be fure he hath fet you as a Seal upon his heart.

Rejoyce then, O Christians, and bless your selves in the happy priviledge that you have, in being under Christian Fear not little Flock; Stronger is he that is with youth he that is against you: What though Satan should raile a his Militia against you, adhere to Christ in a patient doing fuffering his pleafure and he shall secure you: The Lord nor forfake you, because it hath pleased the Lord to make yo his people: God hath entrusted you with his Son: Your his Care and his Charge: Marry will be lifting at you, ma will be plucking at you, but fear nor, you shall not be me ndulger ved, none shall pluck you out of Christs hand, he hath power, Mat. 28.8. Can Omnipotence secure you? He's as Fatt Treasures, Col. 2.3. Can unscarchable Riches suffice you rece

cn

ur ich

of.

en fo

n? A

ungive

with

and

hrift;

hath

Christ

fute

in ho-

on?Do

s? Do

cf? Do

thi flo

25 YOU

ftamp

fet you

ft's cutt

ou, th

raile

doing

Lord T

You!

ou, ma

In a word, he is all fullness, Col. 1. 21. Can all content you? Can Fulness fill you? if so, you are blessed and shall be bleffed.

Beloved, We loofe unurrerably for want of confidering, for want of viewing our own Priviledges, and Bleffedness, O Man, is Christ thine, and yet dost thou live at a low rate and Comfort? Is thy Name written in heaven, and yet doft thou not rejoyce? Shall the Children of the Kingdom, the Candidates of Glory, the chosen Generation, the Royal Priesthood, be like other men? O Christians, Remember who and whence you are, confider your Obligations, put on a better pace; Beftir your felves, run and wreftle, and be ftrong for the Lord of Hofts (and earnestly, yet peaceably) contend for the Faith once delivered to his Saints; What shall we make nothing of all that God hath said and done for us? O Christians, shall he that hath gotten an inriching Office boast of his Booty? or he that hath obtained the Kings Patent for an Earldome, glory in his Riches and Honour? And shall the Grant of Heaven tignific little with thee? Or Christs Patent for thy Son-ship and Partnership with himself be like a Cypher? Shall Hamon come home from the Banquet with a glad heart, and glorying in the greatness of his Riches, the multisude of his Children, and all the things wherein the King had promoted him above the Princes? And shall we turn over our Bibles and read the Promises, and find it under Gods own hand, that he intends the Kingdom for us, that he will be a Father to us, that he gives and grants all his infinite perfections to us, and yet not be moved? Beloved Christians, live like your selves, let the Word fee that the Promises of God, and Priviledges of the Gospelare not empty sounds, or a meer Crack. Let the Havenly cheerfulness and the restless diligence, and the horaisedness of your Conversations prove the reality, extlency, and beauty of your Religion to the World. nakeyo a not your Prisoner. Labour earnestly for me in your tayers, who am night and day labouring and suffering or you. I can never blels God enough for his most render & ot be m adulgent care for you, which appears fo wonderfully in hating is Fatherly Protection, and his Fatherly Provision. See that ffice you receive not the Crace of God in vain. 'Remember with trembling trembling, that of our Lord, To whom much is given of bin much (ball be required, With my moft dear loves to you at I commend you to your Father and my Father, your God and my God, remaining

Lours in all manner of Obligations, San serent media-continue

JOS. ALLEINE BOTH TO CHEW SELECTION OF THE PROPERTY OF THE

celebrate and worked daily and

In

he

In cr

to

An you

fen

the pro

we WO

is a and

Wa have will be.b

tion. B

or fo ment

n? prud

cleav

you a

all the

ten I

postle

nothin

that d

told y

do I f

Thewe

fach f

seware

him w

Midior

From the common Goal at Juelchefter, January 20. 1663.

LETTER XX

sented throw in rode a type Roding many

[The Felicity of Believers.]

To the most beloved People, the servants of God in Taunton, Salvation.

Most endeared Christians,

Have longed and waited for a little breathing time, where-in I might write unto you, but I have been oppresed hitherto with fo many cares, and fuch a throng of bufines, that till now (and scarcely now) I have had no time of respiration, wherein I might sufficiently reslect on you, or my felf. But although fo great a part of Taunton be translated to Juelchester with me, yet I may nor, I cannot forget you that are behind.

Alas poor Taunton, how should I bewail thee! did I look upon thee only with the Eye of fenfe, Alas! for thy womed liberties, for thy former plenty, and variety wherewith the Lord hath bleffed thee? he had spread a Table for thee in the midst of thine Enemies; Bread hath been given the and thy Waters have been fure: But now a Famine feet to threaten thee, and the Comforters that should relieve the Soul are far from thee. Thy Shepheards are removed Thou feest not thy Signs, nor thy Prophets, and thy wonter helper

helpers are now disabled from giving thee supplies, Alas, how do thine enemies triumph, and thy Teachers and thine Inhabitants are become their Captives! and how great is the cry of thy poor, and thine oppressed!

Such would be the language of sense, if that were suffered to be the Speaker. But faith will speak in another Dialect. And therefore amongst my other Counsels, that I shall send you, this shall be the first.

NE.

ich.

31

7Q

1.

Dist

11

VEN

18 refled

finefs,

of re-

Or my offated

et you

I look

wonted

rith the

thee in n thee

e feen

eve th

moveo

Wonte

Judge not of the present Providences, by the conduct of sense, but by the eye of Faith. Faith will see that we are then most honoured, when we are most vilissed, and reproached, and set at nought for the sake of christ; and that we are then most happy. when the World hath done its worst to make us miserable. Faith will tell you, that GOD is a very present help, when you seem quite to fail of help; and will shew you the Well of water, that is near, when the Water in the Bottle is spent. What though you seem to have lost Ministers, Eusbands, Friends for a Season? Faith will tell you, that they are well bestowed, and that it will be both your, and their advantage, in the Day of Retribution.

Brethren, what are you for? are you for the present world or for that that to come? are you for your temporal enjoyments, or do you feek for Glory, Honour, and Immortaliny? If you are for this World, you have made a very imprudent choice, in taking up the Profession of Godliness and deaving to and owning the hated ways of the Lord; But if you are for Glory, and for Eternity, then be of good chear, all these things do make for us. You are wirnesses how ofim I have told you of these things, and I can say with the Apolite, I believe therefore have I spoken, and therefore I am nothing moved with all these things, nor with the things that do yet further betide me. I believe, and therefore I told you, that you should never be losers by Felus Christ. Nay do I fay I cold it you, you know the Lord Jefus Christ hath hewed you, that the perfecuted are doubtly bleffed; that such should rejoyce, and leap for joy, because great is their teward in Heaven Hath not God faid, that if we fuffer with him we shall also Reign with him; and that these light asfictions work for us a weight of Giory? And if this be

60

WUC.

the (pe

the

dea

Yo

YOU

Fre

To

Cor

his

ed,

ed t

Ind

Eag

fpre

her

He

Stre

TOR

true, I pray you, tell me whether GOD hath not dealt well with us in counting us worthy of this little Tribulation for his Name? Indeed the Sufferings is but little; but verily the Reward will not be little. I know whom I have trufted: I am well affured the Glaffe is turned up, and every hour reck. oned of our Imprisonment, and every Scorn and Reproach of our Enemies is kept in Black and VVhite. I believe therefore do I speak; GOD is infinitely tender of us, my Bre. thren, though a Poor and despicable Generation. I value not the Pot gun threats of a frowning world; 'tis well with us, we are GODS Favourites. Come my Beloved, let us fit down under his Shadow: Here is safety, and rest, if God be for us, who can be against us? Verily he Bottles all our Tears, and tells all our wandrings: He numbers all our hairs, whofoever toucheth us shall not be Innocent. Know you not that we are the Apple of his Eye? Hath not he reproved the greatest for his Peoples sakes, saying reproach not mine anointed? And so we forget how he loved us. Are not we his Jewells? Doth he not own us for his Members, for his Children?

Ah what a Block doth Unbelief make of man? VVhat, do you think that all this doth fignific nothing? Can you forget your Children? VVill you suffer your Jewells to lie in the Dirt, or make no reckoning of them whether they are loft?

Verily I write not this without shaming reflections upon my own stupidity. VVhat, Beloved of God, adopted by God! VVhar, a Member of Christ Jesus! A Vessel of Mercy! An heir of Glory? VVhat, and not yet swallowed upin the sense of Gods infinite love! Blush, Oh my Soul, and to cosounded before the most high, & cover thy sace with shame.

I remember what the Heathen Seneca writes, observing the expressions of Gods love to man in his common Providence; Verum oft, usque in delicias Amamur, That is, it is a very truth, we are Beloved of God even as his darlings.

My Brethren, Have Faith in God. Believe his Promifes: VValk in the fense of his love. Comfort your selves in Gods love towards you, under all the hatred and envy of men, and the contradiction of finners that you meet with. Be strong and of a good Courage, God is for you. Be affured that he that walketh uprightly, walketh surely: Forsake not the affembling of your felves together. Now fee that you speak often to one another, and build up each other in the holy Faith. God knows I cannot do for you, as I would; I would have been larger to you, but I cannot. My most dear loves I desire you to share among you. I am greatly Yours. The Peace that passeth all Understanding keep your hearts and minds. I am Yours to serve you and for you with all readiness of mind.

JOS. ALLEINE:

From the Prison at Juelchester, July 28th. 1665.

t well

on for

ly the

ed: I

reck-

roach

there-

Brevalue

with

let us f God

ll our hairs,

w you

roved mine ot we or his hat,do

forget in the

: loft?

ted by

d up in and be fhame.

ing the

lence;

truch,

miles:

Gods

f men,

n. Be affured

ke not

the

LETTER, XXI.

[What do you more than others?]

To the most dearly Beloved, the Servants in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most loving and entirely Beloved.

You are a great Joy to me. I know not what thanks to render to the Lord for you, when I hear of your constancy, and Fidelity, and Zeal, in adhering to him, and his ways, even in such a time as this, you are highly savoured, Elessed be the Lord God of Israel, that he hath regarded the low Estates of his Servants: That he should ever indulge you as he hath, and hover over you, even as the sagle stirreth up her Nest, and sluttereth over her Young, spreadeth abroad her Vvings, taketh them, beareth them on her Wings, for so hath the Lord your God dealt with you: He hath kept you as the Apple of his Eye, and since the Streams of Cherith were dried up, yet to this day he hath not suffered the handful of Meal to wast, nor the Oyl in the

wit

ind

obi

look

riou

thei

thei

and

riou

him.

who

hath pic,

rated Peop

Calle

and . Spiri

cls:

Pricf

Live

Se

NOE-

wher

ewe

are e

Glary

Th

pat in

when

than I

when not fi

Fo

than

the Cruse to fail, but (though you have no certainty to trust to) hath continually provided for you to the full How should I love and bless the Lord for this his great Grace to wards you, while I live? Now I befeech you my Brethren that you confider the Kindness of the Lord; for the Lord your God is he that careh for you, and that you love the Lord your God, and fear him for ever, for he is your Life and the Length of your Daies. And as Fob had a holy fee of his Children, least they should have offended: Some most dearly Beloved, I am jealous of you with a Godly jest loufie, left any of you should receive this Grace of Godin vain. I must not cease to put you in mind, that God don't look from no small matter from you. Remember my most endeared Charge, that the Lord doth look for fingular things that there be not a barren Tree nor a Dwarf Christian among you; where the Lord doth strow much he looks to gather much; and where he fowerh much, he expects to reap accordingly. Whose account my Beloved, is like to be fo great as yours? O look about you, and think of the Master coming to Reckon with you for his Talents, when he will expect no small increase. Beloved, what can you do? How much are you grown? What spoil have you made upon your Corruptions? What progress in Grace?

Suppose Christ should put the awakening question to you. What do you more than others? Beloved, God doch exped more of his People, than of any others in the world beside:

And well he may. For

First, He hath bestowed more on them than on others: Now where much is given, much shall be required: Can you think of that without trembling? He hath bestowed on them singular Love more than on others; Thou only have I know of all the Families on Earth. He hath a distinguishing Love and savour for his People, and he looks that his love should be a constraining Argument to Obedience. Again he hath laid out a singular care on his People, more than on others: He cares for no man, for nothing in all the World, in comparison of them. He reprove the Kings for their sakes. He will give Nations, and Kingdoms for their sansome. So precious are they in his sight, and so dearly Beloved, that he will give men for them, and People for their Life. "He withdraweth

flur

low

100 年是五

it.

iny jes-

din

doth

HOR

igni

warf

h,he er.

d, is

ik of vhen

700 nade

you,

rped

ides:

Now

You

them

ROWE

Love

hould

hath hers:

com-

He

that

Weth

withdraweth not his Eyes from the Righteons, he will not indure them out of his fight. The Eyes of the Lord are upon the Righteous, and first the eye of his more accurate Observation: God can winck at others as it were, and overlook what they do with little notice, but he hath a most curious Eye upon his People, he marketh their steps, & booketh their words, he weigheth their Actions, and pondereth all their goings. And should they not walk more cautiously, and charily, than any alive, that are under so exact and curious an Eye? Secondly the Eye of special Care, and Protestion. Behold the Eye of the Lord is upon them that fear him. I will guide thee with mine Eye: And should not they be infinitely tender and careful how to please the Lord, who have his fingular Care laid out on them? In short, God hath bestowed on them fingular Priviledges, more than others: These are a peculiar Treasure to him above all People, a Kingdom of Priefts, an holy Nation, a fingular separated People, they dwell alone, they are diverse from all People: When the whole world lies in wickedness, these are Called and Chosen, and Faithful, Washed, and Justified, and Sandtified in the name of the Lord Jesus, and by the Spirit of our God. The rest are the Resuse: These the Jewds: These are taken, and they are lest. Shall not Gods friests be Cloathed with Righteousness, and shall not Princes live above the rate of Peafants?

Secondly, He hath intrusted them with more then others; Not onely with the Talents of his Grace (for the increase whereof they must give a strict account) but also with the sewel of his Glory. How tenderly should they walk, that we entrusted with such a Jewell? Remember, your makers Glory is bound up in your fruitful walking.

Thirdly, He hath qualified them more than others. He hath put into them a Principle of Life, having quickned them together with Christ. He hath set up a light in their Minds, when others lie in Darkness. He hath given them other Aids, than others have, even his Spirit to help their Infirmities, when others lie like Vessels that are VVindbound, and cannot stir.

Fourthly, He hath provided for them other manner of things than for others. These are the little Flock to whom it is his good pleasure to give the Kingdom; great are the preparations for them. The Father hath prepared the Kingdom for them from the foundations of the World: the Son is gone to Heaven on purpose to prepare a place for them: The Spirit is preparing them, and making them meet to be partakers of the Inheritance of the Saints in Light: and should these be like other People?

(e3)

Brethren beloved, God and Men do expect you should do more then others, see that that you be indeed singular. For against you then others: You onely have I known, therefore will I punish you. The barren Tree in the Vineyard must down, whereas had he been in the Common he might have stood much longer. God looked for Grapes from his Vineyard, on which he had bestowed such care and cost more than ordinary, but when they bring forth wild Grapes, he will lay them waste in a worse manner than the Forrest When Christ came to the Fig-tree seeking fruit, and met with none, he curst it from the root, whereas had it been a Thorn or Bramble, it might have stood as before.

2. If you do no more than others, you must look for no more than others: If you should put off God with a common obedience, you must expect to be put off with common me.

cies.

3. Except you do more than others, God will be diffe-noured more by you than others.

I have been too long with you, but I am earnestly desirous you should be sensible of Gods extraordinary expectations from you. And truly, as God looks for more from his own than others, so he looks for more from you than others, even of his own, because that he hath done more: See that you be shining Christians, that you be strong in the grace of God, that you press towards the mark. But I must conclude; I give my loves among you all, being able to add no more, but that I am

Yours in fervent Loves and Longings,

JOS. ALLEINE.

From the Prison at Juelchester, Jan. 2. 1663.

LET.

To

you.

ken

and ver

are

felve

for] ferve

YOUR

your trade

we lo

thou

place

That

fed :

nt, L

you.

noted

thren

one o

one o

look

amor of th

to m

to be

LETTER XXII

[Christian Care, Faith, Self-denial]

To the most Beloved People, the Servants of God in Taunton, Salvation.

Most endeared Christians,

King.

hem:

and

old do

more

erefore muft

t have

Vinc-

more

e will

When

none,

orn or for no

mmon

mer-

difho-

firous

ations

s own

S,CYCII

you be d, that

I give

, but

igs,

INE.

ET.

THe reason why my Letters have not of late come so thick as formerly to you, is not because I forgot to love you, and to care for you; but because I have been bufily taken up in other labors of fundry kinds for you. I am yours, and love to be fo, being ambitious not to have dominion over your faith, but to be a helper of your Joy. Christs Officers are so your Rulers in the Lord, as yet to Preach not themselves, but the Lord Jesus Christ, and themselves your servants for Jesus sake. I have no greater felicity under God, than to serve the good of souls. Brethren beloved, how fares it with your fouls? are they in health? do they prosper? I wish your temporal prosperity. It it a joy to me to hear when your made doth florish: but these are but very little things if we look into Eternity. Brethren, my ambition for you is, hat you should be Cedars among the Shrubs, that from you hould found our the Word of the Lord, and that in every place your Faith to God-ward should be spread abroad. That Taunton should be as a field that the Lord hath blesled: that you should not only have the Name, but the Spin, Life, Power, Hear, Growth, Vigour of Christianity among you. Let not Taunton onely have the name to live, and be noted for the profession of Religion, but see to it my Brethren, that the Kingdom of God be with you: Oh that every one of your fouls might be a Temple of God! Oh that every one of your Families might be a Church of God! Beloved, look to it, that every one that nameth the name of Christ among you do depart from Iniquity, secret as well as open, of the heart as as well as of the life. Let no man think that to make an our-cry upon the wickedness of the times, and to be of the Professing Party, will serve his turn; many go 10 to Hell in the company of the wife Virgins. That no me may be a Self-deverver, let every man be a Self-fearcher. that keeps no Day-book in his Shop, and no Account to Record in his Conscience, his Estate and his Soul will there both alike. Beloved, I would that you should remember whicher you are a going. If a man be after a few Monde to be Transported into another Countrey, never to read more, he will fend over whatever he can, and make thebe Provision that he may against he comes into another Com. trey. Dear Brethren, you are Strangers and Pilgrimsher and have but a few Months abode in this Countrey, fee the you Traffique much with Heaven, Christ is our Common Factor, O fend over to him what possible you can. Give Alms plentifully, pray continually, be much in Meditation and Confideration; Reckon with your felves daily: Walk with God in your Callings: do all the duties of your Reb tions as unto God : live not one day to your felves , be unto Christ: Set forth continually in his Name, so shall you be continually Transporting into another World, and laying up Treasure in Heaven : And O the blessed store that you shall find there after a few Years diligence in such a holy course! Beloved, while you are here in this World, You are but like a Merchants Ship in a strange Port, the day for your return is fer, and you are to flay no longer then ill your Fraight is ready. Be wife, know your feason, improve you time, you are made or mar'd for ever, as you speedin this one Voyage. There is no returning again to this Comtrey to mend a bad Marker, God will call in all his Talens, time shall be no longer. Oh, come in, come and buy now while the Market is open, that you that want may have grace and you that have may have it more abundantly. Go and plead with the Lord Jefus, that he hath bid you come, by and eat without Money, and without Price; that he hash counselled you to come buy of him Gold, Raiment, and Exfalve; tell him you are come according to his call, and wait upon him for Grace, for Rightcoufne's, for Light and Instruction: Lay hold on his Word, plead it, live upon it; ke is worthy to be believed, worthy to be trusted, go on of your selves to him, unlearn your selves. There ist threefold Foot that cameal felf flands upon our own wildon,

our (

must

in ou

botto

nihila

of it

It is

look

Shade

find 1

weak Cyph

cies, t

is re

Chri

through be bu

nery,

Th

can

COMI

BOOK !

1255

From:

AD

) III

THE

tio B thrive

embe

onde

return

ie bel

Coun

Herc.

e the

nimon

Give

ration

Walk

Reb.

l you

laying

10Y 11

a holy

You

ay for protection Com-

alents,

Y: DOW

y have ly. Go

me,bar

e hath d Eye-, and hr and on it; go out e is a vildou, our own Righteonfness, our own Strength, these three Feet must be cut off, and we must learn to have no subsistence in our felves but onely in Christ, and to stand onely on his bottom, Study the excellent Lesson of Self-denial, Self-annihilation, A true Christian is like a Vine that cannot stand of it self, but is wholly supported by the Prop it leans on. It is no small thing to know our felves to be nothing, of no might, of no worth, of no understanding, nor reality; to look upon our selves as helples, worthless, foolish empty hadows. This holy littleness is a great matter; when we and that all our Inventory amounts to nothing but folly, weakness, and beggery; when we set down our selves for Cyphers, our gain for loss, our excellencies for very vanigesthen we shall learn to live like Believers. A true Saint is like a Glass without a Foot, that set him where you will. is ready to fall every way till you fet him to a Prop: Let Christ be the only support you lean unto. When you are throughly emptied and nullified, and see all comeliness to be but as a withered Flower, dead, dried, and past recovery, then you will be put upon the happy necessity of going out to Christ for all.

The Messengers haste forceth me Abruptly to end here: I an add no more, but my Prayers to my Counsels, and so commending you to God, and the Word of his Grace, I rest

The fervent well-willer of your Souls,

JOS. ALLEINE.

som the Prison at Juelchester, April 16. 1663.

with of G mies

in du

he is oully the F mala Go of ap

fret !

devi

begi

boy

cool

ning

me

of th

that

Eart

fufio

work

work

ih;

cver

Judg

difor

been

that

Argi

dud

men

man

I at

like

and

LETTER XXIII.

[Right Reasons in Suffering.]

To the most loving, and best beloved, the Flock of Christ in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most loving and dearly Beloved,

Know not what thanks to render to you, nor to God for you, for all the unexpressable love which I have found in you rowards me; and not terminatively to me, but to Christ in me; for I believe it is for his fake, as I am a Melsenger and Embassador of his to you, that you have lovel me and done so much every way for me; and I think I may fay of Taunton as the Pfalmift of Ferufalem, If I forget thee, let my right hand forget her cunning, if I do not remember thee, let my tongue cleave to the roof of my mouth. I would not, my dear Brethren, that you should be dejected or discouraged at the late disappointments; for through the goodness of God I am nor, but rather more satisfied than before: and this I can truly say, nothing doth sadden me more than to see so much fadness in your faces. As on the contrary nothing doth comfort me so much as to see your chear and courage. Therefore I beseech you, Brethren, faint not because of my Tribulation, nor of Gods delays, but strengthen the hands, and the feeble knees. And the Lord bolfter up your hands, as they did the hands of Moses, that they may not fall downtill Ilrael do prevail. Let us fear lest there be some evil among us, that God being angry with us, doth send this farther tryal upon us. Pray earnestly for me lest the eye of the most jeslous God should discern that in me which should render me unfir for the mercy you defire. And let every one of you fearch his hearr, and fearch his house to see if there be not cause there: Let not these disappointments make you to be nevertheless in love with Prayers, but the more out of love with with fin. Let us humble our selves under the mighty hand of God, and he shall exalt us in due time. And for the enemies of God, you must know also that their foot shall slide in due time. Let the Servants of God encourage themselves in their God: for in the things wherein they deal proudly. he is above them: therefore fret not your selves because of evildoers; commit your cause to him that judgeth righteoully. Remember that you are bid if you fee oppression of the poor, and violent perverting of Judgement and Justice ma Province, not to marvel at the matter : verily, there is 1 God that judgeth in the Earth: and you have the liberty of appeals: rest in the Lord, and wait patiently for him, and fret not your felves, because of the men that bring wicked deviles to pals: take heed that none of you do with Peter begin to fink, now you see the waters rough, and the winds boysterous: these things must not weaken your Faith, nor mol your Zeal: for they are great arguments for the ftrengthning of it. What clearer evidence can there be for the fuare judgment and perdition of the ungodly, and Coronation of the Just in another life, than the most unjust proceedings hat are here upon Earth: shall not the Judge of all the Earth see right to be done? We see here nothing but conlusion and disorder, the wicked receiveth according to the work of the righteous, and the Innocent according to the work of the wicked. The Godly perish and the wicked flourih; these do prosper, and they do suffer. What, can it be mer thus! no doubtless, there must be a day when God will Judge the world in righteousness, and rectifie the present Morders, and reverse the unrighteous Sentences that have been passed against his servants. And this evidence is so clear. that many of the Heathen Philosephers have from this very Argument (I mean the unrighteous usage of the good) conduded that there must certainly be rewards and punishments adjudged by God in another World.

od for

oundin

but-to

Mel-

loved

I may hee, let

nee, let

t, my uraged

nels of

nd this fee fo

g doth

There-

V Tri-

ds, and

5 , 25

wn till

mong

r tryal

ft jez-

of you

not not to be

f love

with

Nor yet lose your Zeal: now is the time that the love of many doth wax cold: but I bless God it is not so with you: I am sure your love to me is, as true Friends should be, like the Chimneys, warmest in the Winter of Adversity: and I hope your love to God is much more, and I would that

VOU

You should abound yet more and more. Where the par par fhould you beftow your Loves? Love ye the Lord, ye ha Saints, and cling about him the faster now ye see the world action is ftriving to separate you from him. How many are they that go to knock off your fingers ! O methinks, I fee what tugging there is. The World is plucking, and the Devil is plucking: Oh, hold fast, I beseech you; hold fast, that no man take your Crown. Let the Water that is sprinkled yea, rather poured upon your love, make it to flame up the more. Are you not betrothed unto Christ? Oh remember, remember your Marriage Covenant : did young take him for Richer for Poorer, for better for worfe: now prove your love to Christ to have been a true conjugatlove, in that you can love him when most slighted, despiled, up. dervalued, blasphemed among men. Now acquit your felves, not to have followed Christ for the Loaves, now confute the Accuser of the Brethren, who may be ready to fuggest of the best of you, as he did of Fob, Doth he serve the Lord for-nought? And let it be feen that you loved Chrift and holiness purely for their own sakes, that you can love? naked Christ when there is no hopes of worldly advantage, or promoting of felf-interest in following him.

Yet beware that none of you do flick to the wayes of Christ and Religion upon so carnal an account as this, because this is the way that you have already taken up, and you count it a shame to recede from your Principles : Ian very jealous left some Professors should miss of their reward for this: least they should be accounted Turn-coats and Hypocrites; therefore they will shew a stoutness of spiritin going on, fince they have once begun, and cannot with honour retreat. Would you chose holiness and strictness, if it were to do again? would you enter your selves among Gods poor people, if it were now first to do. Would you have taken up the Profession of Christ, though you had forefeen all this that is come and coming? This will do much to evidence your fincerity. But I forget that I am writing a Letter, being prone to pass all bounds when I have thus to do with you. The Lord God remember and reward you and your labours of love. The Eternal God be your refuge,

and

To

tedfa

m of

By fe

of you

redi

Mitte

monin

oes.

I.

State.

to the moft !

m for

WOU T

vou t

and I nd put under you his everlasting Arms. The Peace of God hat paffeth all understanding keep your hearts, Christs Lee acy of Peace I leave with you, and reft, with my dear afworld thions to you all,

Your Embassador in Bonds,

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER XXIV.

Councel for Salvation.

To the most beloved People, the servants of God in Taunton, Salvation.

Most endeared Christians,

ye h e they what

evil is nat no

nkled, ne up h re-

ou not now love, d, unyour

V COM-

o fug. ve the Christ love 2

ntage,

3.3W

hedlat

yes of

be-

and

FAIR

bawe

das

rit in

h hofs, it

mong

d you

fore-

much

Titing,

e thus

d you

cfuge,

and

AY continual solicitude for your State, will not suffer I me to pass in quiet one week without Writing to ou, unless I am extraordinarily hindred. Your fincerity, hedfastness, and proficiency in the grace of God, is the marof my earnest defire, and that which I should account ly felf happy in. I have a longing defire to fee the Faces fyou ail, and (besides mine expectation) shall (I trust) adily have the opportunity to fee you at the approaching Mines, which I shall greatly rejoyce in, notwithstanding our ming may be otherwise attended with many Inconvenienis. In the mean time I fend you a few Prison Counsels.

1. Trimprove for Eternity, the Advantages of your present sute. Though you are at many disadvantages with respect whe publick Ordinances, yet you have many wondrous and noft happy Priviledge, which Spiritual Wildom would make mimall improvement of. Oh what a mercy have you that ou may serve God while you will in your Families! That with God in secret Prayer, and holy Medication, and Self-examination! I befeech you confider

ing

than

ther

you

hott

ny.

whe

that ther

often

Sent

How

time

thing

if G

4.

time. Glor

be do fense

and t

You VVha

carefu

Mo

Morti

could it felf

You:

Crippl

felf to

out of and da

rered ving in would

But

confider what a Bleffing you have above others, that have your Health, and a Competency of the Comforts of this life, and are free from those continual pains, or Heart-earing Cares, that others are disabled by, from looking after God and their Souls, as you may do. Oh confider whata bleffed Seed-time you have for Eternity! Now be wife and improve your happy Season, your day of Grace. Prepare for Death, make ail fure: Press on towards the Mark, by up in store for your selves a good Foundation against the time to come. In the morning fow your Seed, and in the Evening withdraw not your Hand. Treasure up much in Heaven: What profit is it that you have more than others? more Liberty, more Comfort, more Health, more Wealth. than others? except you love God more, and ferve him better than others. Now ply your Work, and dispatch your Bufiness, so as that you may have nothing to trouble You upon your Death-Beds.

2. To Consider also the Temptations, and Disadvantages of your State. Study to know your own weaknesses, and where your danger lies that you may obviate Satan, and prevent your miscarrying: There is no Condition but hath its Snares. See that you acquaint your selves with his Devices, least you be beguiled by him, and caught in his Trap through your You that are well Provided for in the own unwariness. World, had need to watch your felves, least you fall inlove with present things, least you be lifted up, least you trust in those Carnal props, and put confidence in the Creature, least you warp, and decline, and baulk your duties through Carnal fear, and the defire of preferving your Estates. You that have little in the World, are not without your temptations neither: Oh take heed of Envying others Prosperity, of murmuring and disconrent, of diffidence and distrustfullness of using indirect means to help your selves: Besure You make not the Worlds pressures upon you, an excuse from your daily serving of God in your Families, and in se-Set this down as your Rule, and unchangeable Refolution, that God and your Souls and your Families shallbe looked duly and continually after, go the world which way Confider what fins your Tempers, Relations, Cal- bewite lings, do most expose you to. Be not strangers to you that the Prove your selves upright in keeping from your Inquicies.

2. To Converje often with your Duft. Brethren we are going, we are going, the Grave waiteth for us: Oh forget not that Corruption is your Father, and the Worm your Mother, and your Sifter. These are your poor kindred that you must shortly dwell with, when you come to your long home: Remember the days of Darkness which shall be many. Take every day some serious turns with Death. Think where you shall be a few days and nights hence, happy he that knew what to morrow meant for twenty Years together. Believe it, you will find it no little thing to die. Think often how you are provided, how you should receive the Sentence of Death. Were you never within fight of Death? How did it look? What did you wish for most at that time? What did then trouble you most? Oh mark these things, and live according. Often ask your hearts, VVhat if God should this night require my Soul?

4. To ferve your Generation with your migh: while you have time. You have but a very little time to bring God any Glory here, or to do your Friends any good; now up and bedoing. Now or never live in the deep and constant lease of the very little time that you have for this world, and the great work you have to do. You are going whence You shall not return. There's no After-Game to be plaid. What! But one cast for Eternity, and will you not be areful to throw that well?

have

of this

t-cat-

after vhat a

e and

cpare

c, by

It the

in the

ach in hers?

ealth.

e him

h your

e You

agesof

where revent

nares.

oft you

h your

in the in love

u trust

atures,

hrough

es. You

empta-

perity,

iftruft-

Befure

excuse

d in fee Refo-

(hall be ich way

our Ini 3. 70

Most dearly Beloved, I cover after your furtherance in Mortification, and growth in Grace. And Oh that I ould but represent Death to you, as shortly it will shew isself: Or could but open a VVindow into Eternity to You: How effectually would this do the work. Cripple would fling away his Crutches, and betake himfelf to his Legs: Then the flothfull would pluck his Hand out of his Bosome, and thake off his Excuses, and be night and day at his work. Then the Landicean would be recorered from his benumed frame; then we should have no Halving in Religion, no lazy wishing and complaining; but men would ply the Oars to purpose, and sweat at their work.

But Oh unhappy man, how powerfully hath the world ns, Cal- bewitched thee! How miserably hath Sin unnmaned thee. to you that thou shouldst look no farther than thou canst see, and to be taken up with prefent things, and forget fo momen tous concernments as are before thee?

But you my Brethren, lift up your felves above the object of fenfe: may you be men for eternity, and carry it like these that seek for glory, honour, and immortality. Tam app to be too long with you : I commend you to Divine Grace: my dearest loves among you, I am

> Yours in the Bonds of the Goffel of our Lord Fefas, > > 105.

me YO

tio

mi CXI

bei

Fai

are off

to f

that eter

S

vide

you of t Brei thefe

guill care

TOUT

filled tell 1

knov Oh, f

left o

by u rou

Chris

ples,

mine

there

but y are u

your

and v

be thi

and th

Ret

From the common Grale at Juelcheffer, March 5. 1665.

LETTER. XXV.

To the loving and most beloved People, the Servantes God in Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most dearly Beloved .

Lthough I am forced at the present to be at a distinct from you, yet I would not have you ignorant, that the dear remembrance of you is always fresh with me, and the care of your eternal welfare is always living upon my hear. Therefore as my beloved Friends I warn you, and cease not to ftir you up by way of remembrance, being jealous for you with a Godly jealoufie, that no man take your Crown. My dearly Beloved, I know you have many enemies, and above all, I fear your bosom Enemies : and as the Warchman o the Lord, I give you careful warning, and exhort you al not to be high-minded, but fear. Bleffed is the man that feareth always. Look diligently, left any of you fail of the You have made much and long Profesion Grace of God. of the Name of Jefus Christ: Oh look to your foundations you h fee upon what ground you fland. Look to your fincering You must every one of you stand shortly before the Judge ment Seat of Christ, and be tried for your lives: Oh, try your selves throughly first. Tis easie to mistake Education for Regeneration, and common Conviction and Illumination for Conversion, and a partial Reformation and external Obedience, for true Sandification. Therefore I beleech you every one, to examine whether you are in the Faith. Prove your own selves. Tell not me, you hope you are sincere, you hope you shall go to Heaven: Never put it off with hopes, but pray, and try, and search, till you are able to say, yea, and know you are passed from death to life, and that you know you have a Building, not made with hands, eternal in the Heavens.

apt

race :

Goffel

NE.

0140

1918

Stiff

ents of

holla

hat the

ind the y heart.

ale not for you

wn. My

d above

man o

you all

an tha

il of the ofellion

dations

nectity

Judge

men

Suppose I should ask you one by one, where are your Evidences for Heaven? Could you make out your claim? can you bring me Scripture-proof? can you thew me the marks of the Lord Jesus? what mean you to live at uncertainties? Brethren, it is an intollerable ignorance for any of you in these days of glorious light, not to be able to tell the distinguishing marks of a found believer. And it is intollerable arelesness of your everlasting welfare, if you do not bring your selves to the Trial by these marks. What are your hands filled with Books, and your ears filled with Sermons, that tell you so plainly from the Word of God, how you shall know whether you are in Christ, and are you still to feek? Oh flir up your own selves. Take heed, lest a Promise being left of entring into his rest, any of you fall short of it at last by unbelief. You are a professing People, you pray, and you hear, and you run upon some Adventures for Jesus Christ: But, O look to your fince ity. Look to your Principles, look to your ends, else you may lose all at laft. mine, not only what is done, but whence 'tis done, look to theroot as well as to the Fruit, Eye not only your Actions, but your aims. Remember what a first and severy eye you me under. The Lord Jesus makes strict observation upon all your works and ways. He observes who of you be fruitful, and who be barren and unprofitable. He knows who of you be thriving and who be deel ning. He observes who be warm. and who lukewarm: who be found Christians, and who of you have only a name to live.

Return, O backfliding Christians, you have lost your former convictions, and lost your former Affections. You are grown remiss in your watch, and your Zeal is turned into a kind of indifferencie, and your diligence into negligence. Your care is turned into security, and your tenderness into sense lessness. Oh, your case is dangerous. The Lord Jesus hath a great controversie with you. Oh, remember whence you are fallen, and repent, and do your first works. Strengthen the things that remain, and are ready to die. Oh, rub and chase your swooning souls, and ply them with warm applications, and rousing considerations, till they recover their former heat. And know ye from the Lord, that the backssiders in heart shall be filled with his own ways.

Oh ye barren and fruitless trees : behold the Axeislifted up to fell you to the ground, except you bring forth fruits. and those worthy of Repentance. May not Christ fay to some among you, Behold thefe three years have I come, feeking fruit, and fiddig none? How is it then that you read not the Sentence passed on the fruitless Tree? O sleepy Professors, how long will you drive on in this heavy course? how long will you continue in an unprofitable and customary profession? would you be the joy of our Lord, why know ye, that the thriving Plant is the Masters praise, and his hearts delight. Christians, put on, press towards the Mark, be adding to your Faith, Virtue; and to virtue, knowledge, &c. See that you grow extensively, in being abundant in all forts of good works. Be pitiful, be courteous, gentle, eafily to be entreared. Be flow to anger, soon reconciled. Be patient, be ye temperare, be ye chearful. Study not every one onely his own things, but the good of his Neighbor. Think it not enoughto look to your own fouls, but watch for other fouls them, warn them, be kind to them, study to oblige them, that by any means you may win them, and gain their fouls.

Labour to grow intensively, to do better the things that you did before, to be more fervent in Prayer, more free and willing in all the ways of the Lord, to hear with more prefit, to examine your selves more thorowly, to mind Heaven more frequently than heretofore.

And you, O carnal and unfound Professors, that reckon your selves to be in Christ, but are not new Creatures; that because you have the good opinion of the Godly, and are outwardly

con-

con

are to t

be c fron

will

unle

ally

Iam

king

be r

your

Dorc

LLP

Total

TLO

tain m

of wr contin

theref

waics,

comfo

dude ty to ( all the

of the

Int

BI

conformable to the ways of God, persuade your selves you are in a good condition, although your hearts have not yet to this day been renewed: O repent speedily. Repent, and be converted. What though we cannot distinguish the Tares from the Wheat? yet the Lord of the Harvest can. Christ will find you out, and condemn you for rotten and unsound, unless you be soundly renewed by repentance, and effectually changed by converting Grace.

Brethren, I fervently wish your Salvation, and to this, while Iam able, I shall bend my ardent endeavours, I am now taking advice for my health, and hope in some sew Weeks to be restored to you. In the mean time I commend me to your Prayers, and you to the grace of God, remaining.

Yours in the Lord Jejus, Dorchefter, July 7th. 1666.

OWO

tind

TUO

nfe-

tha

you

then

and ppli-

their

kni-

ifted

uits,

ruit,

Sen-

how will fion?

at the light.

good

eared.

empe-

ughto

ray for them,

gs that

ree and re pro-

Heaven

on your becaule

wardly

con-

uls.

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER XXVI.

[The Character and priviledges of true Believers.]

To the loving and most beloved People, the Servants of Godin Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Most Dearly Beloved,

I Longed to hear of your Welfare, but by reason of the Carryers intermitting his journeys, could not till now obtaining desires, neither had I opportunity till the last week of writing to you. I rejoyce to hear by Mr. Ford, of Gods continual goodness towards you; he is your Shepherd, and therefore it is that you do not want. Me you have not alwaies, but he is ever with you, his Rod and his Staff shall comfort you; Nay, more then all this, you may hence condude comfortably for all times, yea, for the whole Eternity to come. Surely Goodness and Mercy shall follow you all the daies of your lives, and you shall dwell in the House of the Lord for ever.

In this, my dear Brethren, in this rejoyce, and again I say rejoyce, that God is ingaged in so near and so sweet relation to you. Doubtless your Souls shall lodge in goodnefs, and be provided for carefully, and lie down in everlaft. ing fafery, that have the Almighty for our Shepherd Bleffed are the Flock of his hands, and the Sheep of his Pasture, happy is the People that is in such a case.

Lif

gre

not

Wit

YOU

bea

the

YOU

ed o

rest

that

ones

God

bein

Your

the E att yo

and I

drry God

Worl

Fear

mu th

Kinga

Lingd nels,

hold y

you ne

mour:

the Lo

maker

the W

God I

be her come i

thall h

H

But who are Christs Sheep?

Not all Professors, I beseech you take heed how you reft in Profession. It is not Profession, but Conversion that turns a man from a Swine to a Sheep. Let none of you be deceived. nor flatter your felves, that because you bear the name of Christians, and do many things, and have escaped the open gress pollutions of the VVorld, therefore you are surely among the number of Christs true Sheep. All this you may attain to, and yet be but washed Swine; here must be an inward deep and thorow and universal Change upon your Natures, Dispositions, Inclinations, or else you are not Christs Sheep.

In a word, It you will be put out of doubt whether you are his sheep or not, you must trie it by this certain Mark that Christ sers upon all his Sheep, even your Sanctification, you that will fland to the trial, answer me truly and deliberately to these Questions. Do you hate every fin as the sheep don't the Mire? Do you regard no Iniquity in your hearts? Do you strive against, and oppose all fin, though it may seem never so necessary, never so natural to you, or have you not your secret haunts of evil? For every Swine will have his Do you abitain from fin out of fear, or out of diflike? Are you at peace with no fin, or do you not hide fomeinquity as a sweet morfel under your Tongue? Is there not fome practice that you are not willing to know is a fin for fear you should be forced to leave it? Do you love the Commandment that forbids your fin, or do you not wish it out of the Bible, as that evil man wished God had never made the Seventh Commandment? Again, how do you fland affeeled towards Holiness? Do you leve it? Do you choose it? Do you hunger and thirst after it, & defire it more than any Temporal good! Have you chosen the way of Gods Precepts, and had rather live holily than be allowed to live in our fins? Do You in your very hearts prefer a Godly strift face ye Life and he Life in communion with and conformity to God, before the greatest prosperity of the World? do you chose Holiness, not out of bare necessity, because you cannot go to Heaven without it, but out of love to it, and from a deep fense that you have of the furpaffing excellency, and lovelines, and beauty of it? If it be thus with you, you are the persons that the Lord Jesus hath marked for his Sheep.

c-

1-3

cd

P-

130 eft

15 4

cd,

of

pen

1 3-

nay

an

200 rifts

are

that you

atchy

dort

Do

feem

u net

re his

like? e ini-

e not in for

Com-

it out

made

ind afofeit?

an any

Is Prelive in

And new, come ye bleffed, all that have this mark upon you, come and understand your happiness; you are markdout for preservation, and let it go how it will with the reft; that I know, it shall go well with you that fear the Lord, that fear before him. You are the separated ones, the sealed mes, upon whom the Angel hath fer the Seal of the Living God; and so you are redeemed unto God from among men. being the first fruits unto God, and unto the Lamb, and have your Fathers Name written in your Fore-heads.

Hear, O beloved Flock, I may give you the falutation of the Angels, Hail, you are highly favoured of the Lord, Bleffed ne you among men; though you are but poor and despised. and like little Benjamin among the thousands of Fudah; you arry away the bleffing and the priviledge from all the reft. God hath done more for the least of you than for the whole World of Mankind befides, put all their mercies together. fear not little Flock, it is your Fathers good pleasure to give muthe Kingdom. Bleffed are you of the Lord, for yours is the lingdom of Heaven. All that the Scripture speaks of that lingdom of Glory, that Kingdom of Peace, of Righteoufness, that Everlasting Kingdom, It speaks it all to you. Behold your Inheritance, fee that you believe. What know you not your own selves? you are the Sons of God, Inhemours of the Kingdom of Heaven, Joint Heirs with Christ the Lord of Glory. Do you believe this? Take heed you make not God a Lyar : his Word is nigh you: have you not the Writings in your hands? Do I speak any thing but what God hath (poken? Shall I tell you of the thing which shall behereafter? Why thus it shall be. The Son of man shall come in his Glory, and all his holy Angels with him: Then hall he fit upon the Throne of his Glory, and he shall sepay first face you as a Shepherd divideth the Sheep from the Goars, Life and he shall fet you at his own right hand, Then shall the (f3)

King fay, Come ye bleffed of my Father, inherit the Kingdom prepared for you.

Do you believe yet? Do you throughly believe? If for then my work is done, then I need not bid you Rejoyce, nor bid you be Ihank ful, only believe. Do this and do all. Believe and joy will rejoyce with joy unspeakable, and full of glory, Believe and you will be fruitful, and thew your Faith by your works. Believe and you will Love, for Faith worketh by love. In a word, keep these things upon your hearts by daily and lively confideration, and this will bring Heaven into your fouls, and ingage you to all manner of holy convertation, and Godlinefs. This will moreifie you to the World, the grand enemy which I advise, nay, I charge you to beware of. When Saul had gotten his Kingdom, he left off taking care for the Affes. O remember yours is the Kingdom: what are you the better that you have all this in your Bibles, if you do not weigh it by frequent and serious consideration, and ponder thele sayings in your hearts. Beloved, I have written thele things to you that your joy may be full. And now Peace I leave with you, I am Christs Embassador to you, an Embassa. dor of Peace; his Peace I pronounce unto you; In his Name I bless you. Farewel in the Lord, I am

The fervent well-willer of your Souls

Devifes, June 29. 1666.

JOS. ALLEINE

LETTER XXVII.

[Of the Second coming of Christ.]

To the Faithful, and Beloved, the Servants of Godin Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Loving and most dearly Beloved,

Hough I trust my Bonds do preach to you, yet methinks that doth not suffice me, but the conscience of my de-

ty,

ty,

wich

Tru

Tim

cord

my .

and

ty T

and.

of he

2.05

awn

Speci

may

JUC

Bu

YOU!

Retur

Eve (

Tribe

drawe have

fefs tr

is for We ar

me no

affure

to Sal

thing Ing be

The day w

pre-

f fo,

,nor lieve

lory.

your love.

y and

your

i, and

rand

Vhen

r the

e you

o not

thele ace I

balla-

lo his

Souls

NE.

God in thinks

ny du-

!V,

ty, and the workings of my heart towards you, are still calling upon me to ftir you up by way of remembrance, notwithflanding you know and be established in the present Truth. And if Paul do call upon so great an Evangelist as Timothy, to Remember that Jesus was raised from the dead according to the Goffel, why should not I be often calling upon my felf, and upon you, my dearly Beloved, to remember and medicate upon, and closely apply the great and weighry Truths of the Gospel, which you have already received? and in truth, I perceive in my felf and you another manner of heat and warmith in the infifting upon the plainest princioly of Christianity, and the setting them home upon mine own heart and yours, than in dwelling upon any more abstructe speculations, in the clearest handling of which, the Preacher may feem to be too much like the winter nights, very bright, but very cold.

But now, my Brethren, I shall not with Paul call upon you so much to remember the resurrection of Christ, as the Attern of Christ: Behold, He cometh in the Clouds, and every the hall see him; Your eyes and mine eyes; and all the Tribes of the Earth shall mourn because of him: But we ful lift up our heads, because the Day of our Redemption draweth nigh: this is the day I look for, and wait for, and hwe laid up all my hopes in. If the Lord return not, I prohis my felf undone, my Preaching is vain, and my fuffering srain, and the bottom in which I have intrusted all my hopes sforever miscarried. But I know whom I have truffed : Weare built upon the foundation of that fure Word, we me not built upon the fand of Mortality. Nor do we run fo suncertainly, but the Word of the Lord abideth for ever. won which Word do we hope; How fully doth this Word afure us that this same Jesus that is gone up into Heaven hall so return, and that he shall appear the second time unto Salvation, to them that look for him. Oh, how fure is the thing! how near is the time! how glorious will his appearing be!

The thing is sure, the Day is set, God hath appointed a day wherein he will judge the World by that man whom he (f 4) hath hath ordained; the manner of it is revealed, Behold the Lord cometh with ten thousand of his Saints: The Attendants are appointed and nominated. The Son of Man shall come in his Glory; and all his holy Angels with him. The thing you see is established, and every circumstance is determined. How sweet are the words that dropped from the precious Lips of our departing Lord! What generous Cordials hath he left us in his parting Sermons, and his last Prayer! and yet of all the rest those are the sweetest, I will come again and receive you to my self, that where I am, there you may be also. What need you any further witness: you have heard him your selves, assuring you of his return. Doubtless he cannot deceive you, you have not only known, but seen and felt the truth of his promises.

And will he come? tremble then ye finners, triumphye Saints, clap your hands all ye that look for the confolation of Ifrael. O finners, where will you then appear? how will you look upon him whom you have pierced; whom you have perfecuted? whose great Salvation you have neglected and despised? Wo unto you that ever you were born, unless you should then be found to be New-born.

But you, O Children of the most high, how will you forget your travel, and be melted into joy. This is he in whom you have believed; whom having not seen ye loved. But how will love and joy be working (if I may so speak) with pangs unutterable, when you shall see him, and hear his sweet voice commending, applauding, approving of you, and owning you by name before all the World. Brethren, thus it must be, the Lord hath spoken it. See that you stagger not at the Promise, but give Glory to God by believing.

Again, the time is near, Yet a little while, and he that shall come will come. Behold, I come quickly, saith he: And again, The Lord is at hand: Sure you are, that death cannot be far off. O Christian, thou dost not know but the next year, may, possibly the next week, thou mayest be in Heaven, Christ will not long endure thine absence, but will have thee up to him till the time of his general appearing; when he will take us up altogether, and so we shall be ever with the Lord.

Soul,

mai

flud

Hear

till t

0 m at th

are I

mak

M

upor

dion

for t

of the

From

A

Toh

Mo

do, a

my So

Soul, believest thou this? If thou dost indeed, what remains but that thou shouldest live a life of love and praise; studying to do all the good thou canst till thou come to Heaven; and waiting all the days of thine appointed time till thy change shall come. O my Soul, look out and long. O my Brethren, be you as the Mother of Sisera, looking out at the Windows, and watching at the Latices, saying, why are his Chariot-wheels so long a coming. Though the time till you shall see him be but very short, yet love and longing make it seem tedious.

My Beloved, comfort your hearts with these Words: look upon these things as the greatest reallities, and let your affections be answerable to your expectations. I would not have told you these things, unless I had believed them: for it is for this hope that I am bound with this Chain. The blessing of the Holy Trinity be upon you, I am yours and will be. The

God of Peace be with you, I reft

Lord

s are n bis

ec is

Weet

our

as in

the

e you need

lves,

YOU,

f his

h ve

noin

will eted un-

orget

how

weet and thus ftag-

elie-

hall

gain,

e far year,

ven,

thec

n he

the

oul,

Your Embassador in Bonds,

JOS. ALLEINE.

from the Prison at Juelchester, August 5. 1663.

LETTER XXVIII.

[Of the Love of Christ.]

Tohis most endeared Friends, the servants of God in Taunton, Salvation.

Most dearly Beloved ,

MEthinks my Brests are not easie, unless I do let them forth unto you. Methings there is something still to do, and my Weeks work is not ended, unless I have given my Soul vent, and imparted something to the Beloved slock that that I have left behind And Oh, that my Letters in my abfence might be useful to you! Affuredly it is my joy to ferve you, and my love to you is without diffimulation: witness my twice loft liberties, and my impaired health, all which I might have preserved, had it not been for my readines to minister to you.

But what do I speak of my love? it is the sense of theinfinite love of God your Father that I would have to dwell upon you. Forget me, so you remember him. Let me beve. ry little, so he be very lovely in your eyes. Let him be as the Bucket that goes up, though I be as the Bucket that goes down. Bury me, so that you do but fet the Lord always before you. Let my name be written in the duft, to his Name be written deep up all your Souls

O Lord, I am thy Servant, truly I am thy fervant, Glorifie thine own Name by me, and thou shalt have my hand to ir, that I will be content to be hid in obscurity, and to disp. pear through the overcoming lustre and brightness of thy Glory.

Brethren, understand mine Office, I Preach not my self. but the Lord Jefus Christ, and my felf your Servant for lefus fake. Give him your hearts, and I have my Errand I am but the Friend of the Bridegroom, and my bufiness is, but to give you to understand his love, and to gain your hearts unto him. He is an Object worthy of my Commen dations, and of your affections. His Love is worth the writing of, and worth the thinking of, and worth the speaking of. O my Brethren, never forger, I befeech you, how he loveth you. He is in Heaven, and you are on Earth; he is in Glory and you in Rags; he is in the shining Throne, and you in dirty flesh, and yet he loveth you. His heart is infinitely render of you, even now while he is at the right hand. of the Majesty on High. How seelingly doth he cry out at the hurt of his poor Members on Earth? Said, Saul, why perfecutest thou me! Oh, of what quick sense is the sense of our dear Lord unto us! when we are touched on Earth he feels it in Heaven.

Brethren, Christ is real in all that he speaks unto you : He is not like a flourishing Lover, who fills up his Letters with Rhetorick, and hath more care of the dress of his Speech,

than

than

allit

don

enri

vano

degr

mak

love

now

vou

Holy bring

when

Exec

did .

amon

in th

and i

at g

have

he is

Write

on hi

care,

corde

and fi

heart

ly, so

img '

Heav

that 1

loved

W Og

died,

tereff

ver o

Truft

fhall :

0

B

than of the Truth. Who ever gave demonstration of the reallity of his love at fo dear a rate as Christ hath done? Men do not use to die in jest: Who will impoverish himself to enrich his Friend? and divest himself of his honour to advance him? and debase himself to admiration below his own degree to contract affinity with him? and all this but to make him believe that he loves him.

ab-

rve

icis

h I

to

invell

VC.

the

oes

be-ame

3day rifie d to fup-

thy fdf,

Je-

I

is is,

your nen-

writ-

king

w he is in

and infi-

hand.

it the

perfe-

f our feels

1573 : He

with eech,

than

Brethren, possess your very hearts with this, that Christs bye doth go out with infinite dearness towards you. Even now while he is in all his Glory, he earnestly remembers you still. This is the High Priest that now is entred into the Holy of Holies, doth bear your names particularly, remembring every poor believer by name. He bears your names, but where? upon his Brest-plate, upon his heart, saith the Text. Exed. 28. 29. Ah Christians, I may salure you as the Angel did Mary, Hail you that are highly favoured : Bleffed are you among men. Sure your Lot is fallen in an happy place; what in the bosom of Christ? yea, and verily you may believe, and doubt not. I may apply that of Gabriel, O Daniel, thou at greatly beleved, unto you; you are beloved indeed, to have your Names written upon the very heart of Christ now he is in Glory.

Oh, let his Name be written then on your hearts. Do not wite his Name in the Sand, when he hath written yours upon his own Brest! Do not forget him who hath taken such are, that while he is, he may never forget you, having recorded your names not onely on his Book, but on his Flesh, and ser you as a Seal upon his heart. He hath you upon his heart, but why? For a memorial before the Lord continually, so faith the Text. Beloved, your Lord is so far from forgeting you in all his Greatness and Glory, that he is gone into Heaven on purpose, there to present you before the Lord, that you may be always in remembrance before him O Beloved, Glory, yea, and Triumph in his love; Doubtless it must go well with us. Who shall condemn? It is Christ that died, and rose again, and is now making Intercession. His interest is potent. He is always present. Our Advocate is new ver out of Court. Never did cause miscarry in his hand. Trust you safely in him. Happy is that man for whom he hali undertake to speak.

Oh, the Riches of Christs love! he did not think it enough to die for you. His love and care doth not end with his natural life on Earth, but he ever liveth to make Intercefsion for us. His love is like his life, ever, ever: knowing no remission in degree, nor intermission of time, no cellation of working, but is ever, ever, in motion towards us.

But when shall I end, if I suffer my soul to run out its length, and my running Pen te enlarge according to the demensions of this boundless Field of Divine Love? If the Pens of all the World were imployed to write Volumes of love, if the tongues of all the living were exercised in nothing else but talking of this love; If all the Hearts that be were made up of love; and all the powers and affections of the mind were turned into one, to wit the power of love, yet this were no less than infinitely too little, either to conceive, or to express the greatness of Chriss love.

O my dearly beloved, may your fouls be swallowed up in this love. Think, and think while you will, you can never think how much you are beloved. See that ye love again by way of Gratitude, though not of Requital: what though your souls be but narrow, and your powers but little, yet love him with all you have. Love him with all your hearts, and all your strength. To the Meditations, and to the Embraces of Divine love I leave you, thinking it now not worth while to tell you of my Love, Remaining

Yours in the boads of your most dear Lord Jesus,

JOS. ALLEINE

August 11. 1665.

ET

Tot

ac I

to C

and !

mine my f

most mn

with

ed;

valui

pleaf dealt

all, fo

lot is len to these

Lord to be In th I am I man and of fper wing

LETTER. XXIX.

[Warning to Profesfors of their Danger.]

To the Beloved People, the Inhabitants of the Town of Taunton, Grace and Peace.

Moft dear Friends,

ugh

cefring lati-

de-

the

es of no-

at be ns of

e,yet

CIVE,

p in

CACL

lgain

ough

, yet

arts,

Em

vorth

Y maft

VE:

ET.

AY top joy is, that my beloved is mine and I am his: VI but next to that I have no joy to great as that you remine and I am yours, and you are Christs. My Relation to Christ is above all; he is my life and my peace, my riches, and my righteousness: he is my hope and my strength, and mine Inheritance, and my rejoycing: In him will I please my felf for ever, and in him will I glory. I efteem my felf most happy and rich, and safe in him, though of my self I mnothing. In him I may boatt without Pride, and glory without vanity. Here is no danger of being over much pleait; neither can the Christian exceed his bounds in overraining his own riches, and happiness in Christ. I am greatly pleased with the Lot that is fallen to me: the Lord hath dealt bountifully with me, and none shall stop this my confidence of boaffing in Christ. But as my lot in him is above all, fo I will affure you, it is no small content to me, that my lot is fallen with you. And though many difficulties have falkn to my lot among you (for I have broken my health and loft my liberty once and again, for your fakes) yet none of these things move me. I wish nothing more then to spen. and to be spent upon the service of your Faith. I bless the lord for it as an invalnable mercy, that ever he called me to be an Embassador of the Lord Jesus Christ to you-wards. In this station I defire to approve my self to him, and that I am withdrawn from my Work for a scason, it is but that I may return to you refreshed, and inabled for my work among you. You may not think that I have forgotten you, and confulted my own ease and pleasure: but it God prosper my intentions, I shall be found to have been daily serring you in this retirement. I will affure you, I am very tender ard

upo

dan

ofce

Tuin

by 1

valu

thor

Prof

awa:

and

fect

whil

light

their arc.

thou

Love

the F

thou

the f ly th

Such

ncre

by R

for R

2. L

cold.

becau

had v

and g ty;an

love :

iy,ref

with onely

IS TVC

but a

Wicek

Th

render of preferving all that little strength that God doth add to me entirely for your fakes: being resolved not so much as once to broach the Vessel till I draw forth to you. I blefs the Lord, I am in great tranquility here in this Town, and walk up & down the Corporation without any Queftioning me. Only it hath pleafed the Lord to add to my Affliction fince my coming, by taking away my dear Father, the day of whose glorious Translation was the day after my arriving here. Eur I bless the Lord, I do believe and exped the return of the Redeemer with all his Saints, and the most glorious Refurrection of my own dead Body with all Believers: and this makes me to rest in Hope, and fills me with unspeakle more Joy than the death of my self or any other And now I make it my bufiness to be Saint can with grief. rendred serviceable to yon; and do by this, return you my hearty thanks for your earnest Prayers and Intercessions to God in my behalf, for it is he that must do the Cure: I seem ro my felf to be retired to this place, as a Veffel rent and shatter'd and torn in the Service, that it come to recruit in the Harbour: And here I am as it were rigging, and repairing, and Victualling to put forth again in the Service: which I shall do with the first Wind, as soon as I am ready. What is my life unless I am serviceable? And though I must for the present sorbear my wented Labour, yet I shall not cease to exhort you, and call upon you while I am absent from you to fland fast, and to grow up in your holy Faith.

Be warned, my dearly Beloved, that you fall not upon those dangerous Rocks upon which so many Professors have been split.

There are three things which I befeech you carefully to beware of.

First, Lest while Christ is in your mouths, the world run away with your hearts: There is many a seeming Professor that will be found a meer Idolater? Many a Soul goes down to Hell in this sin, in the midst of his Profession, and never discerns, it till it be too late. Remember, I beseech You, that the Oxen, the Farm, Wise, Merchandize, all of them lawful Comforts, did effectually keep men from a sound and saving closing with Christ, as the vilest lusts of the worlds men. Whatever you find your hearts very much pleased in, and

oth

Co

ou.

vn,

sti-

Af-

the

ar-

pea

flon

elic-

with ther

obe

1 my

ns to cem

and ni ric

pair-

which

What

or the ase to n you,

upon

s have ullyte

away

or that

own to er dif-

u, that lawful

and fa-

verflof

afedin,

and

and in love with, among these earthly Comforts, set a mark upon that thing, and remember that there lies your greatest danger. What you love most, you must fear most; and think often with your felves, This, if any thing is like to be my ruine. Oh, the multitudes of Profesiors that perish for ever, by the secret hand of this mortal Enemy, I mean the overvaluing of Earthly things. The hearers compared to the thorny Ground, did not openly fall away and cast off their Profession, as the stony ground did; but while others withered away, the blade of Profession was as green and fresh as ever; and yet their inordinate affection to the things of this life, did ferrerly undo all at last. Little do most Profesiors think of this, while they please themselves in their estates, while they delight themselves so freely in their Children, in their Wives, in their habitations and polleffione; that thefe be the things that are like to undo them for ever. How little is that Scripture thought of, which speaks so dreadfully to worldly Profesiors; Love not the world, for if any man live the world, the Love of the Father is not in him. Are there not many among us, who though they do keep up Prayer, and other holy Duties; yet the strength and vigour of their hearts goeth out after earthly things? And these are their chief care and their chief joy. Such must know, that they are none of Christs, and they acre better to understand it now, and seek to be renewed by Repentance, then hereafter when there shall be no place for Repentance.

2. Lest while Iniquity doth abound, your love to Christ doth wax ald. Remember what an Abomination Laudicea was to Christ because she grew so luke-warm; and what a controversie he had with Ephesus, a sound Church, because she did but flacken and grow more remiss in her love. A friend is born for adversity, and now is the time, if you will prove the sincerity of your love and friendship to Jesus Christ, by sollowing him zealously, resolvedly, sully, now he is more rejected and opposed.

Thirdly, Lest you keep up a barren and fruitles Profession, without Progression: See to it my Brethren, that you be not onely Professors, but profesions: Many Professors think all is well because they keep on in the exercises of Religion; but alas! You may keep on praying, and hearing all the Week long, and yet be not one jot the surther. Many there are that keep going, but it is like the Horse in the Mill, that is going all day, but yet is no further than when he first began. Nay, it oft times happens in the Trade of Religion, as it doth in trading in the World, where many keep on intrading still, till for want of care and caution, and examining their accounts whether they go forward or backward, they trade themselves out of all. Oh, look to it my Brethren, that none of you rest in the doing of duties, but examine what comes of them. Otherwise as you may trade your selves into Poverty, so you may hear and pray your selves into hardness of hearr, and desperare security, and formality. This was the very case of wretched Laodicia, who kept up the trade of religious duries, and verily thought that all was well, because the trade still went on, and that she was increased in spiritual goods, and in a gaining way: but when her accounts were cast up at last, all comes to nothing, and ends in wretchedness, poverty, and nakedness. Most dear Brethren, I wish and pray for the prosperity of you all: but above all, I wish your Souls prosperity, with which, after my most dear Loves to you all, having already exceeded the bounds of an Epiftle, I commend you to the living God, Remaining

Your fervent well wilber and Enbaffador in Chrift,

IOS. ALLEINE

ter

PETIT

HOW

Whe

1211 mc i MICO

CENT Bigo

ful

from B

inte

10 1

ron Peop

mro

forg

lit e

Me

my (

my E

done

pole

niche Bu

to sp

ed a this fiors

llin

lay neirf Co

YOU '

tha: 010

nifie

he h

Deviles, June 22. 1666.

LETTER. XXX.

FAn Admiration of the Love of God. 7

To the most Loving, and best Beloved, the servants of God in Taunton, Saivation.

My most dear Friends .

Love you, and long for you in the Lord, and I am weary with forbearing that good and blessed work that the leth Lord that Lerd hath committed to me, for the furtherance of your Salation. How long Lord, how long shall I dwell in silence t be-How long shall my Tongue cleave to the Roof of my Mouth when will God open my Lips, that I may fland up and maife him? But it is my Fathers good pleasure yet to keep me in a total disability of publishing his Name among you; mto him my Soul shall pariently subscribe. I may not, I annot complain that he is hard to me, or ufeth me with ligour ; I am full of the Mercies of the Lord, yea, Brimful and running over, And shall I complain? Far be is from me.

But though I may not murmur, methinks I may mourn a inle, and fit down and wish, O if I may not have a Tongue n speak, would I had but Hands to Write, that I might from my Pen drop some heavenly Councels to my Beloved People. Methinks my feeble Fingers do even Irch to Write mo you, but it cannot be, alas my right-hand feems to have largot her cunning, and hath much ado with trembling to if the Bread unto my Mouth. Do you think you should he had so little to shew under my Hand, to bear Witness of my Care for You, and love to you if God had not shook my Pen as it were out of my Hand? Bur all that he doth is one well, and wifely, and therefore I submir. I have purmed to borrow Hands wherewith to write unto my Beloved. wher then to be filent any longer.

But where shall I begin, or when should I end? If I think n speak of the Mercies of God towards me, or mine enlargd affections towards you, methinks I feel already how ftrait this Paper is like to be, and how infignificant my Exprefhois will be found, and how insufficient all that I can say will prove at last to utter what I have to tell you; but shall lay nothing because I cannot utter all, this must not be neither.

,as R

trad-

ining

they

1, that

CIVES

hard-S W25

trade

II, beufed in

CT ac-

i ends

r Bre-

but 1-

CT MY

ed the

d, Red Em-

INE

16 33

Lore

Come then all ye that fear the Lord, come and I well tell ants of you what he hath done for my Soul. O help me to love that precious Name of his, which is above all my Praises. O love the Lord all ye his Saints, and fear before him! magnifie the Lord with me, and let us exalt his Name together! weary he harh remembred my low estate, because his Mercy enduthat the tesh for ever. O bleffed be you of the Lord, my dearly Beloved? (8) lovee, O thrice bleffed may you be for all your remembrances of me before the Lord, you have wrestled with the Lord for me, you have wrestled me out of the very Jaws of Death it sell: O the strength of Prayer! Surely it is stronger than death. See that you even honour the power and prevalency of Prayer: Oh be in love with Prayer, and have high and venerable thoughts of it. What distresses, diseases. Deaths can stand before it? Surely I live by Prayer, Prayer hath given a Resurrection to this Body of mine, when Physicians, and

sdu

m o

thic

that hye

TYCT

fudi

bu!s

his

elve

bun

an e

Mary

houn

frair

om t weet

ind 1

Suri,

td me

fesh

md r

OWn]

ippet

to giv

pecs

done :

you?

not h

Gracio

The ff

friends had given up their hopes.

Ah my dearly Beloved, methinks it delights me to tell the story of your love, how much more of the love of God towards me. I have not forgotten, O my dearly Beloved, I have not forgotten your tender love in all my distresses. I remember your kindness to me in my Bonds, when once and again I was delivered up to a Prison for your sakes. I remember with much delight, how you refreshed and conforted me in my Tribulations, how open your hearts were, and your hands were not straightned neither, for I was in want of nothing I may not, I must not forget what painful Journies you took to visit me, when in places remote the hand of the Lord had touched me, and though my long sichness almost incredible expensive to me, yet your Supplies did not a little lighten my Burthen.

And though I put it last, yet I do not mind it least, that you have been so ready in returning Praises to God in my behalf, your thanksgiving to God, my dear Brethren, do administer abundant cause to me of my giving thanks unto

you.

And now my heart methinks is big to tell you a little of my love to you, surely you are dear unto me; but though it be sweet to tell the story of love, yet in this I will restrain my self. For I sear least as the wise man saith of the beginning of strife, so I should find of the beginning of love, that it is like the letting forth of the Water; and the rather I do sorbear, because I hope you have better Testimonies than Words, to bear witness here unto you.

Bur if I fing the fong of love, O let Divine Love overcarry the praise; I found my self in straights when I began to speak of the natural love between my dear people, and an unworthy than lency

nd ve-

ics can NYCD 2

, and

ell the

od to-

ved, I

onoc

es, J

COM

WCIC,

Wasin

painful

ote the

g tick-

pplies

t, that

n my

1,00

s unto

tule of

ough it

eftrain

begin-

e, that

rI do

s shan

rearry

(peak nwor-

thy

fances my Minister of Christ to them; and it feemed that all that rdfor phave faid was much too little, but now I have to speak of that the love God, it feems to be by far too much. o infinite love never to be Comprehended, but ever to be amired, magnified, and adored by every Creature! O let my heart be filled, let my Mouth be filled, let my papers filled ever, ever filled with the thankful Commemorarimof this matchless love. O turn your eyes from orlier meds! O bury me in forgetiulness, and let my love be no more mentioned nor had in remembrance among you a fo har you may be throughly possessed and inflamed with the here of God. This, my Beloved, this is that love which is mer to be commended, and extolled by you. - See that you fudie this love, fill your fouls with wonder, and feast your buls with joy, and be ravished with rich contentment in his Divine Love: Take your daily walk, and lose your eves in the Field of Love : Drink, O Friends, yea drink bondantly, O Beloved, fear no excess , O that your fouls by be drencht and drowned in the love of Christ, till you mevery one say with the ravisht Spouse, I am fick of love. larvel not that I wander here, and feem to forget the bunds of a Letter, this love obligeth me, yea, rather conmineth me. Who in all the Earth should admire and mmend this love if I should not? I teel it, I taste it, the heer favour thereof reviveth my foul, it is light to mine eyes, nd life to mine heart; the warm Beams of this bleffed an, O how have they comforted me, ravished, and refreshdme both in Body and Soul! my benumbed Limbs, my withered hands, my feeble knees, my bones quite naked of lest do yet again revive through the quickning, healing; and raising influence of Divine Grace and Love. Now my own hands can feed me, and my own feet can bear me, my ppetite is quick, my fleep comfortable, and God is pleafed b give some increase continually though by insensible Deges; and shall not I praise that love and grace that hath ione all this for me ? yea, what is this to all I have to tell you? My heart is enlarged, but I told you Paper could not hold what I have to speak of the goodness of the All-Gracious God, in which I live. I am forced to end, leafe the should not bear my length. My dearly Beloved, I fend

(22)

niv

my heart unto you, divide my love amongst you all, and particularly tender it to your Reverend and Faithful Passour, whose presence with you, and painfulness, and watchfulness over you, and Zeal and courage for you in so dangerous a time, is matter of my great Joy and Thanksgivings unto God. The grace of our Lord Jesus be with you all. Fare you well in the Lord, I remain

Your unworthy Minister and fervent well-wisher in the Lord,

JOS. ALLEINE.

misc

phan

God

ledge

there

and t

far th

are in will to be Flock them

drow

mier:

forme dirou

other

to ca

Child

kafir

are le

LIVE Y

traci

the n

all th

you :

of hi

(CODA)

with ings

repe

Om:

thy

LETTER XXXI.

To the most Beloved People, the Servants of God in Taunton, Salvation.

Most dearly Beloved and longed for, my Joy and Crown,

Y hearts defire and Prayer for you is, that you may be faved. This is that which I have been Praying and studying, and Preaching for these many Tears: and this's the end of my Venturing, and Suffering, and Writing at this present time. God that knoweth all things, he knoweth that this is my wish; Oh that I could but come at their Souls! And that this is the prize and the gain that I run for, that I might win fouls. I feek not other gifts, give me your hearts, let me but part between your fins and you; fuffer me but to fave you; give me leave to carry you over to Jesus Christ, and I will not ask you any more. I will ferve you gladly, I will suffer for you thankfully, so I may but save you. Do not wonder why I follow you so pressingly, why I call upon you so frequently; let not my importunity be grievous to you, all this is but to fave you. Christ did not bethink his Blood, and shall I think my Breath, or Ink, too dear in order to your falvation? what pitie is it, that any of you should mifmiscarry at last, under the power of Ignorance, or by a prochane negligence, or a formal and lifeless profession of strict Godliness.

and

flour

ulness

ous a

unto

Fare

21590 to boss

ervent

arcin da gm

NE.

y Line

od is

fings

Dea

u may

ng and this is at this

th that

Souls!

r, that hearts,

me but

Chrift,

adly, I

u. Do

upon

VOUS TO

ink his n order

Thould

mif-

Beloved, I am afraid of you left (as to many of you) I averun in vain. I cannot but most thankfully acknowedge, that (confidering the paucity of those that are saved) here are not a few of you who are the joy of your Ministers. and the Glory of Christ. But it cannot be dissembled, that firthe greater number give little ground to hope, that they gein the state of Salvation. And must not this be a pinching thought to a compassionate Teacher, to think, that he annot for his heart perswade men, but that the most of them will wilfully throw away themselves? Is it not a woful fight. w behold the Devils driving a great part of our miserable flocks (as they did once the Herd of Swine, the Keepers hemselves amazed looking on.) I say, driving them vioantly down the hill, till they be choaked in the Water, and drowned irrecoverably in the Gulf of endless Perdition? Ah merable spectacle! What through the wilful blindness of lome, what through the loseness and sensuality of others, what drough the halving, and Cold, and customary Religion of others, how great a number of our poor Flocks, is Saran like o carry utterly away from us, after all that hath been done is save them?

Yet I cannot but call after them. Hearken unto me, O ve Children. How long will ye love Vanity, and follow after taking, and truft in lying Words? As the Lord liveth you me loft, except you turn: Wherefore turn your selves and he ye. Ah how Mercy woeth you! How it waiteth to be racious to you? Hear, O finners, hear. See you not how the merciful Saviour of the World stretcheth forth his hands all the day long, and spreadeth forth his Wings, and calleth you as a Hen doth her Chickens! hear you not the foundings of his Bowels? He had no need of you; Yet how do his compassions melt over perishing sinners? his hearr is turned within him, and shall not this turn your hearts? his repentings are kindled together; and shall not this lead you to repentance? Behold, he standeth at the door and knocketh. Oman wile thou keep Jesus at the door, and lodge Barrahas in thy bosom?, and prefer thy cruel Lusts before thy Compasfionate

(g3)

A COTO

he

mon mild

girhi

pole.

n ch

the B

dat

COTTA

one t

THOU

me i

00 2

Papi

non,

fiona

in He

groff

durg

this o

Bu

or ra

See t

HOUR

flicy,

much

gravi

and I and dren

put t

Pron

cenc

fionate Lord? Oh his melting love to finners! He called after them, Ma. 55.1. He weepeth over them, Luke Torter 42. He crieth to them, Prov. 1.21, 22, 29. How long ye fine ple ones, will you love fimplicity! Will you nor be made clean? When shall it once be? Why will you die? Turn you at my Reproof: Behold, I will pour out my Spirit oponyou. Sinner are thou not yet melted? Oh come in at his loving Calls, Come our from thy fins: Touch the Scepter of Grabe and live: Why shouldest thou be dashed in pieces by his Iron Rod? Kils the Son: Why shouldst thou perish in the way? Set up Jefus as thy King, left he count thee fortis Enemy, because thou wouldst not that he should Reignore thee, and so thou be called forth and flain before him! Toh how dreadful will this Cale be, to perish under the pitiful Eyes of his Mercy, and to die by the hand of a Saviour! Oh double hell, to have thy Redeemer become thine Exe curioner! And the hand that was fo long stretched forth to five thee, to be now stretched forth to flay thee! And the merciful heart of Christ himself hardned against thee, so is that he should call thee forth, and with his own hand her thee in pieces, (as Samuel did Agag before the Lord!) 18

But I have been too too long in prefacing to what I intended forthwith to have fallen upon: Indeed I am approxim out in matters that do so nearly touch upon your greatest Concernments.

Beloved, I despair of ever bringing you to Salvation, without Sanctification: Or possessing You with Happiness, without perswading you to Holiness. God knows I have not the least hope ever to see one of your Faces in Heaven, except You be Converted and Sanctified, and exercise your selves unto Godliness. This is that I drive at I beseech you study to surther Personal Godliness, and Family Godliness.

1. Personal Godliness. Let it be your first care to set up Christ in your Hearts. See that you make all your worldly Interests to stoop to him, that You be entirely and unreservedly devoted unto him. If You wilfully, and deliberately, and ordinarily harbour any sin, You are undone. See that You unseignedly take the Laws of Christ, as the rule of your words, thoughts, and actions; and subject your whole man, members and mind faithfully to him. If You have arahita

e fins

made

Wyon

n-you.

loving

Grabe

by his

m the

tor tois

ושיפו

90h

pittifol

FION?

Exc

ribito

d the

fo as hew 1919

r fin-PO Fum

earest

with-

With

or the

xcept

Selves

fludy

et up orldly

refer-

ately,

ethat YOUR whole

ha: c aller tome respect to all Gods Commandments, you are found theart. Oh fludy to get the Image and impress of Christ non you within. Begin with your hearts, elle you wild without a foundation. Labour to get a faying change within, or elfe all external performances will be to no purpole. And then study to shew forth the power of Godliness the life. Let Piety be your first and great bufiness. Tis the highest point of Justice, to give God his due. hat none of you be a Prayerless person: for that is a most grain discovery of a Christless, and a graceless person, of me that is a very stranger to the sear of God. Suffer not our Bibles to gather dust. See that you converse daily with be Word. That man can never lay claim to Bleffedness, shofe delight is not in the Law of the Lord. Let meditatim and felf-examination be your daily exercise, else the Papifts, yea the Pagans, will condemn us. That the shore mestions, which I have given you as a help to self-examinanon, may be daily perused by you, is the matter of my pasfonate request unto you. If ever you come to any growth in Holiness, without the constant use of this practice, I am rolly deceived. And therefore I would befeech, yea, even darge you, by the Lord, that you would daily examine your elves by these questions, till you have found a better help to his duty.

But Piery, without Charity, is but the half of Christianity, or rather impious Hypocrifie, We may not divide the Tables. see therefore that you do justly, and love mercy, and ler faity, and Charity run like an even Thred, throughout all your dealings. Be you temperate in all things, and let Chahiry, and and Sobriety, be your undivided Companions. Let muthand Purity, Seriousness and modesty, Heavenliness and gavity be the constant ornaments of your speech. Let patience md humility, fimplicity & fincerity thine out in all the parts flyour conversations. See that you forget & forgive wrongs, and require them with kindness as you would be found children of the most high. Be merciful in your Censures, and ou the most favourable construction upon our Brethrens arriage that their actions will reasonably bear. Beslow in promising, punctual in fulfilling. Let meekness and innocency, Affableness, Yieldingness, and Currefie, commend Your

by E

hem

1.

631.

ciples

2.

count

about

mipe

TOUT

See (

Mat. 33

terni of CI

quiry

and I

of Re

on. ning

or y duty ed b

art t

114.

Houl little

gent

WOL

I do

be d

1, 8

Fan

be s

01

Wit

fins

your conversations to all men. Let none of your Relations want that love and loyalty, that reverence and dury, that ten derness, care, and vigilancy, which their several places Swine and capacities call for. This is throughout Godliness, 1 charge you before the most high God, that none of you be found a swearer, or a Lyar, a lover of evil company, or a 118. scoffer, or malicious, or covetous, or a drunkard, or a glutton, unrighteous in his dealing, unclean in his living, or a quarreiler, or a thief, or backbiter, or a railer : for Ide. nounce unto you from the living God, that defirudion and damnation is the end of all fuch, Prov. 13 20. Fam. 5.12 Rev. 21. 8. 1 Cor. 6. 9, 10. Gal. 5. 19, 20; 21.

2. Family Godliness. He that hath fer up Christ in his heart, will be fure to fludy to fet him up in his house. Let every family with you be a Christian Church; every house, a house of Prayer; every houshold a houshold of faith. Le every housholder say, with Joshua, I, with my House will serve the Lord, and resolve with David, Pfalm 121. 2. I will walk within my house, with a perfect heart. Let me press upon you a few duties, which I have been long harping upon the Alas (Ispeak it to your shame) with many (too too many) of you, to little purpose in general.

First, Let Religion be in your Families, not as a matter by the by, (to be minded at leifure, when the world will give you leave) but the standing business of the house. Let them have your prayers as duly as their meals, is there any of your families, but have time for their taking food? wretched man! canst thou find time to ear in, and not time to Pray indi

Secondly, Settle it upon your Hearts, that your Souls are bound up in the Souls of your Family. They are committed unto you, and (if they be loft through your neglect) will be required at your hands; Sirs, if you do not, you shall know that the charge of Souls is a heavy charge, and that the Blood of Souls is a heavy guilt. O man, haft thou a charge of Souls to answer for, and dost thou nor yet bestir thy less for them, that their Blood be not found in thy Skiris? Wik thou do no more for immortal Sou's, than thou wilt do for thy Beafts that perish? What dost thou do for thy Children, and Servants? Thou providest Meat and Drink for them, agreeable to their Natures, and dost thou not the same for by Beafts? Thou giveft them Medicines, and cherifheft them when they be fick, and doft thou not fo much for thy Swine? More parricularly.

1. Let the folemn Reading of the Word, Ifa. 34. 16. Fohu 121. and finging of Pfalms, be your Family Exercises, Pfaim 118. 15. See Christ finging with his Family, viz. his Difciples, Mat. 26. 30. Luke 9. 18.

2. Let every person in your Families be duly called to an account of their profiting by the word heard or read, as they be wont doing your own Businesses. This is a duty of consequence mipeakable, and would be a means to bring those under your Charge, to remember and profit by what they receive. he Chirsts Example in calling his Family to an account.

Mat. 16. 11. 13. 15.

trons

ten

200

S. I

on be

E 10.

100

iving,

Ide.

D and

5. 12

THOY.

m his Let

nouse, Let

l ferte

walk

upon

but

nany)

HEES ter by

ve you

have fami

man! in H is are nitted

vill be know at the

harge

y Idf Wik

do for

dren,

them,

ne for

thy

33. Often take an account of the Souls under your care congerning their Spiritual estates. Herein you must be Followers of Christ, Mat. 13. 10, 36, 51. Mark 4. 10, 11. Make enquiry into their conditions, infift much upon the finfulness and mifery of their natural estate, and upon the necessity a Regeneration and Conversion in order to their Salvatia. Admonish them gravely of their fins, incourage begin-Follow them earnestly, and let them have no quiet for you, till you see them in a saving change. This is a buty of high consequence, but (I am afraid) searfully neglectd by some that are Godly. Doth not Conscience say, Thou an the man?

4. Look to the Briet janetifying of the Sabbath, by all of your Haubolds, Exod. 20.10. Lev. 22. 3. Many poor Families have fule rime else. O improve but your Sabbath-days as dilisendy in labouring for knowledge, and doing your Makers work, as You do the other daies in doing your own work, and I doubt not, but you may come to some proficiencie.

5. Let the Morning and Evening Sacrifice of Solemn Prayer, adaily offered up. in all your Families. Pfal. 92.1, 2. Exod. 30. 1, 8. Lake 1. 9, 10. Beware they be not found among the families that call not upon Gods Name; for why should there be wrath from the Lord upon your Families? Fer. 10. 25. 0 miserable Families without God in the World, that are without Family Prayer! What have you fo many Family fins, Family wants, Family Mercies, what and yet no Family Prayers ?

Prayers? How do you pray with all Prayer and Supplication! if You do not with Family Prayer? Say not, I have no time. What haft thou all thy time on purpose to serve God! and fave thy Soul, and is this that for which thou can't find no time. Find but a heart, and I will find time. Pinch out of your meals and fleep, rather then want for Prayer Say nor my bufiness will not give leave. This is thy greatest basiness, to five thy felf, and the Souls committed to thee Be fides a whet will be no let. In a word, the bleffing of all is to be got by Prayer, Jer. 29.11, 12. 2 Sam. 7.29. And white is thy bufiness without Gods Bleffing? Say not, I am not a ble. Use thy one Talent, and God will increase it, Mat. 26. 24. Oc. Helps are to be had till thou art better able. But if there be no other remedy, thou mai'ft join with thine abler Neighbour. God hath special regard to joint Prayer, Jan. 5. 14. to 19. Acts 12.5. to 12. 2 Cor. 1. 11. and therefore you must improve Family advantages for the performing of it.

6. Put every one in your Families upon private Prayer. Ob ferve whether they do perform it. Get them the help of form, if they need it, till they are able to go without. Di rect them how to Pray, by minding them of their fins, wants, and mercies, the materials of Prayer. This was the practice they capable over of John, and of Jefus, Luke 11.1,2.

7. Ser up Cathechizing in your Families, at the leaft once every Week. It was my parting, dying request, that you would fet up and maintain this duty in your Families. Have You done it all accordingly? Cannot your consciences witness, cannot your families witness you have not? Well, I thought my parting words would have done formething with you'l hoped the fervent request of a dying Minister, would have prevailed for such a small matter with You. What, to this day without solemn Catechifing in your houses? Ah, what a discouragement to your Teacher is this? Brethren, shall I yer prevail with you? Will you reject me nowalfo? O let me perswade you, before you take off your eyes from these Lines, to resolve to set upon the constant exercise of this Duty. Surely I have done and fuffered more for you then this comes to: will you deny me? I befeech you, let me find, if ever God do bring me again to vifit your houses, that the words of a suffering Minister have some power with

you. perfy

but I

Alm

gentl

€50 €

O IT

gin.

DIS C

man fuch

afha

hone

100

less,

for,

You

fhou

God

they

ence

(O W

they

capa MOD

rem

joy-

uloli:

ter

to l

HOW

bto

you

me

Fat

to,

her

not 10

mo

trony

e no

God

find

out

Say

c Be

allis

White

101

1.2¢

But if

abler Fam.

C YOU

fit!

105

ofe

V Di

ants,

actice

incy

vould

You

rneis.

ought

Von I

have thar,

Ah,

hiren.

2110?

from

icof

r you

u, let onfes.

with

you.

you. I have fent you an help on purpose: what shall all my perswasions be but speaking in the wind? and all my pains but labouring in the fire? Beloved you have no dread of the Almighties Charge, That you should teach shefe things diliuntly to your Children, and talk of them as you let in your bouhs, &c. Deut. 6. 6, 7, 8, 9. and 4. 9, 10. and 11. 18,19,20. o train them up in the way they (bould go, Prov. 22.6. the Mar. gin. Hath God so commended Abraham, that he would teach his Children and his houshold, Gen. 18.19. and that he had fo many Instructed servants, Gen. 14.14. the Margin hath given such a promise to him thereupon, and will not you put in for ashare, neither in the praise, nor the Promise? Hath Christ honoured Carhechifing with his presence, Luke 2.46. and will not you own it with your practife? Say not, they are careless, and will not learn. What have you your Authority for, if not to use it for God, and the good of their Souls? You will call them up, and force them to do your work; and hould you not, at least be as zealous in putting them upon Gods work? Say nor, they are dull and are not capable If they be dull, God requires of you the more pains and patimee, but so dull as they are, you will make them learn how to work; and can they not learn as well how to live! Are mey capable of the misteries of your trade, and are they not capable of the plain principles of Religion? well as ever you would see the growth of Religion, the cure of ignorance, the semedy of prophaness, the downfal of error, fulfill you my by in going through with this duty.

I have been too long already, and yet I am afraid my Letter will be ended before my work be done, how loath am I to leave you, before I have prevailed with you to fet to the work, to which you are here directed, will you pass your promise, will you give me your hands? Oh that you would! you cannot do me a greater pleasure. Ask what you will of me; See if I will not do as much for you. Oh that your families might be a joy to me, as that twice noble Ladies to John; who prosesses he had no greater joy, then to find her Children walking in the truth! Beloved why should you not give the hand one to another, and mutually engage each to other, for more vigorous and diligent endeavours, in promoting Family Godliness. I must tell you, God looks for more

Bea

Soni

(wer mon!

then

boar

and

Igi

Ter

the

Lot

thei

open

hear

and

Cap

ma

ride

ove

feek

ana

Lei

the

kno

ple

all

pha

lef.

dit

Mp

B

more than ordinary from you, in such a day as this. He expects that you should do, both in your hearts, and in your houses, somewhat more that ever, under these his extraordinary dispensations. My most dearly beloved mine own bowels in the Lord, will you fatisfie the longings of a travelling Minister? will you answer the calls of Divine Providence? would you remove the Incumbent, or prevent the impending Calamities? would you plant Nurseries for the Church of God? would you that God should build your Houses, and bless your substance? would you that your this dren should bless you? that your Father should bless you? Oh, then fet up piety in your Families as ever you would be bleffed, or be a bleffing, let your hearts and your Homes be the Temples of the living God, in which his worth to according to all the forementioned directions) may be , with constancy reverently performed. Pardon my proix and importunity in to earnest pursuing of you; I am yer and I have done too foon, and shall end withour my Errand. The Lord God perswade you. To him I turn me, for I am well affured, he can prevail with you:

Father of Spirit, that hath fet me over thy Flock to match for their Souls, as one that must give an account. I have long studied thy Will, and taught in thy Name, and do unfeignedly bless thee; that any have believed my Report. I have given unto them the Words which thou gavest me, and they have received them. I have manifested thy Name unto them, and they bave kept thy Word. And now I am no more with them, but I come unto thee: Holy Father keep them through thine own Name; for they are thine. As they have kept the Word of thy Patience, so keep thou them in the bour of Temptation. They are but a flock, a little and a belpless flock: but thou art their Shepheard, suffer them not to want. Do thou feed them, and fold them. Let thy Rod and thy Staff comfort them, and let not the Beafts your ordi-

own

avel-

rovi-

r the

your

chil

vou!

lottles

1,30

with nacd mad

rand.

Iam

lock give ught

t any

a the

ived

they bem,

ough

pave

the

and

effer

oem.

the

easts

Beafts of prey fall upon them, to the spoiling of their, Souls.

But what feall I do for them that will not be gatherd. I have called after them, but they would not and mer : I have charged them in thy Name, but they would not hear ; I have fludied to speak persmassively to them, but I cannot prevail. Then I said, I have lahoured in vain; I have spent my strength for nought, undin vain yet I cannot give them over, much less may Igive thee over Lord persmade Japhet, to dwell in the Tents of Shen. Lord compel them to come in, and lay the hands of mercy upon them, as thou diaft on lingring Lot, and bring them forth. that they may escape for their lives and not be consumed. Lord, I pray thee open their eyes that they may see, and lay hola upon their hearts by thy Omnipotent Grace. Do thou turn them, and they shall be turned: O bring back the miserable Captives, and suffer not the enemy of mankind to drive way the most of the flock before mine eyes, and to deride the fruitless endeavours of thy Laborers, and boast wer them, that he can do mre with them, though he feek to ruine them, than all the befeechings, counsels, and charges of thy Servants that seek to save them. Lord, if I could find out any thing that would pierce them, that would make its way into their hearts, thou knowest I would use it. But I have been many years pleading thy cause in vain. Olet not these endeavors also be tost. O God, find out every ignorant, every prophane sinner, every prayerless Soul, and every prayerless family, and convince them of their miserable condition, while without thee in the World. Set thy Image upon their Souls, fet up thy Worship in their Families. Let not c wara and t ow-

Wha

ven i

(ecm dico

Wait

Lord cale. now

thefe

of pa

defer

dece:

all fo

city.

mpl

wher

thefe

you,

WOI

age |

Glor

fhut

the-

ent

cycs

you

arc |

in

Let not pride, ignorance, or flothfulness, keep them is neglect of the means of knowledge. Let thine eyes he over the place of my desires for good, from one end of the year to the other end thereof. Let every House there in he a Seminary of Religion, and let those that oast their eyes upon these lines, find thee sliding in by the secreet influence of thy Grace into their hearts, and irresistably engaging them to do thy pleasure. Amen.

LETTER. XXXII.

Lord Speaks roothe Chaffeen as he come Circultor in another

He that endureth to the end shall be faved.]

of Christ in Huntington, Grace and Peace.

Do thankfully acknowledge, both to God and you, that! am many ways obliged to love, and ferve you; and fure ly, when the Lord shall turn our Captivity, I will (through his Grace) endeavour to flew my felf thankful, wherein I may unto you. I am the more sensible of your great love, because I cannot be insensible, how little I have deserved fuch a Mercy, and how little I have been able to do, too blige you. Able, I fay, for I am fure. I have been willing to be much more serviceable to you: But now, Letters and Prayers are all that I have for you; of these I shall be ready to be prodigal. Your love to me hath been very bountiful: I may not forget the liberal Supplies that you have fent, may my of yon, even out of your poverty to me; and not to me only, but to the whole Family of my Brethren, and Fellow Prisoners, who do all bless you, and fend by these with me, their thankful respects unto you. I fervently pray, and do nor 100

51.60

the

ere

CAST

the

Tena

ien,

SW.

il.ord

pow their

The street

Ants

fenti

allfo

hat

fure-

ough eifi I

love.

rved

to 0-illing

sand

cady

ful:

ma-

o me

llow-

mc.

rd do

nor

not doubt to speed, that you may reap in Grace and Glory. what you have fown to us in bounty. Verily, there is a reward for the Righteous. Ah, how fure is it! And how great and how near is it? Come on, my dear Bredwen, and Fell low-Travellers. Stir up your felves, and fet to your race. see that you loiter not, but speed apace in your holy course. What tire by the way, or think of looking back, when Heaven is the prize? God forbid. To him that foweth rightewhels there shall be a sure reward. What though it should fem flow? As long as it is fo fure, and fo great, never be icouraged: In the end you shall reap, if you faint not, Wait but a while, and you shall have a blessed harvest. The lord speaks to the Christian, as he to his Creditor in another ale Have patience with me, and I will pay thee all. now for Fairh and Patience! How fafely, how sweetly would these carry us to our home and harbour, through all diffi-Brethren beloved, be ye followers of them, who hough Faith and Patience inherit the Promises. It is want of patience that undoes the world. Patience, I mean, not so much in the bearing the inflicted evil, as in waiting for the deferred good. If the reward of Religion would be preently in hand, who would not be Religious? Who but the eceitful world count it doubtful and distant; and they are all for fomething in hand, and so take up with a present felimy. The Lord deals all upon trust, and upon that account is but little deair with. You must have patient, and be content aplow and fow, and wait for the return of all at the harvest, when this life is ended. They that like not Religion upon hele terms, may see where they can mend their Markets. But jou, my Brethren, be stedfast, unmoveable, abounding in the work of the Lord for as much as you know your labour shall sorbe in vain in the Lord, Wait a little, there is but a shore he between you, and the bleffed inheritance of the endless Glory. Ah wretched unbelievers! how worthy are you to be hut for ever our of the Kingdom, that did fo undervalue all the Glory, that God had promifed, as not to count to fufficiont to pay them for a little waiting? Beloved, lift up your eyes and behold your Inheritance, the good Land that is beyoud the Forday, and that goodly Mountain. The Promises he a Map of Heaven Do but view it believingly and confiderately.

be

har

He

of 1

wh

of t

101

VOU

for

COL

be !

pe I

0.0

behi

Prif

ic t

bi

MOI

Wic

and set 1

May

se!

Fram

08

2 Crop

derately, as it is darkly drawn there, and tell me, what think is you of that worthy portion, that goodly Heritage? will not all this make you amends for your flay? Why then all like Believers. Never bethink the pains, nor expences of Religion. Let no man fear he shall come off a lofer. What though you are much upon the spending hand? I might tell you . God is beforehand with you however : but I would have you principally to look forward. It is much that God hath [laid out] upon you; but who can tell what he hath [laid up] for them that fear him? And will you miss of all. for want of patience? God forbid. Behold the Husband man waiteth for the precious fruits of the Earth, and hath long parience, till he receive the early and later rain. Be ye also patient, stablish your hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. What shall the Husbandman have more parience for the fruits of the Earth, than you for the predous fruits of your Faith? The Husbandman hath no fuch certainty as you: he hath but a probability of an harvel, and yet he hath patience; he is content to venture. He is at great pains, and much coft, he is still laying out, and hath nothing coming in , and yet he is content to wait for his reimbursement, till the Corn be grown. But your harveft is most sure, as sure as the irrevocable Decree , the infallible promise, the immutable Oath of a God, a God the carinot lie, that knows no place for Repentance, can make it. Again; the Husbandman hath no fuch increase to look for as you. Oh, if he were but fure, that every Corn would bear a Crown, with what exaltation and joy, rather than paience, would be go through all his cost and labour. Why, Brethren, fuch is a Believers increase. Every Grain shall produce a Crown; and every Tear shall bring forth a Pearl; and every minute in pains or Prayers, an age of loy and Befides, the Husbandman hath long patience, and will not you have a little patience? It is not long patience that God doth expect of you: for behold, the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. Will the Garrison vield when relief is at hand? Or the Merchant fit down and give up his hopes, when within fight of the Harbour & Or will the Husbandman despond, and give up all for lost, when he sees the Fields even white for the Harvest? Or shall he do more for

Il mor

i like

Ref

What

te tell

bluow

t Gold

e hath of all.

band-

d hath

. Be

of the more pred-

fuch

rveft.

He

t, and air for or hat-

the in-

od that nake it. ok for ld bear n pan-

Why, n fhall

ov and e, and atience of the

he Hus-

2 Crop

crop of Corn, than you will do for acrop of Glory? far, be it. Behold the Judge is even at Door. The Lord is at hand. He cometh quickly, and his reward is with him. He comes with the Crown in his hand, to fee upon the head of patience. Therefore cast not away your confidence. which hath great recompence of reward. The Prifoners of the Lord, your Brethren in the patience of Jeius, can tell. ron, it is good suffering for such a Master. We must rell you, as they faid to our Lord in another case, He is worthy or whom you should do this. God is beyond measure grayour to us h re. He shines bright into our prison, blessed whis Name. He waters us from Heaven, and Earth. As etruft, you forgot not the poor Prisoners, when you pray, we would that many thanksgivings should abound in our shalf. And Prayer being the only Key that can open our Risons, we trust that you will not flack, not let your hands he heavy, but pray and not faint; and doubtless Prayer will bit. But I am apt to pass the bounds of a Letter, yet I nomife my felf now an eafie pardon for fo loving a trespass. With my dear Loves to you all, I commend you to God. and the Word of his Grace. Though I have done writing, jet not praying. I will promife, where my Letter ends, my hayers shall begin. Farewel dear Brethren: Fare you well in the Lord, I am

> An unworthy Embassador of Jesus in Bond,

Jos. ALLEINE.

Pearl: hom the Prison at Juelchester, Otteb. 29. 1663.

ces the nore for

up his LET-

LETTER XXXIII.

[For Perfeverance.]

To my dear Friends the Servants of Christ in Luppit, 2015 Beloved Christiaus, and other state of eramolitates ad has

T TAving taken up a Resolution to Write to, and to ender-I I your to confirm all the Places, where I have gone up and down Preaching the Kingdom of God, You were by no means to be omitted. You were the People that were laft upon my heart, before my taking up, and had I not been made a Prisoner, I think I had in a few hours after the time of my Apprehension been with you. Now I can no way but by Prayers, Letters, and Councels vifit you; and to have fent thefe, to let you know, that you are upon my Heat. and that your Welfare is dear unto me. I bless the Lord to hear that his Work doth not cease among you. It is the Joy of our Bonds, Beloved, to hear that the Word is not bound, and that Saran hath not his defign upon the People of God, who doubtless intended by these Sufferings to have ftruck Terrour into them, and to have made their Hands weak. Know, dear Christians, that the Bonds of the Gofpel are not redious through Grace unto us, that Christ is a Mafter worth a fuffering for, that there is really enough in Religion to defray all our Charges, to quit all the Cost and Expence you can be at in or upon it; That you may Build upon it that you can never be lofers by Jesus Christ, that Christs Prison is better than the Worlds Paradife, that the Divine Attributes are alone an All-sufficient Livelihood, that the Influences of Heaven, and shines of Gods Countenance are sufficient to lighten the darksomest Dungeon, and to perfume and sweeten the noisomest Prison to a poor Believer; that if you can bring Faith and Patience, and the Affurance of the Divine Favour with you to a Prison, you will live comfortably in spight of Earth & Hell. These are Truths that the Prisoners of Christ can in a measure Seal unto and

OY

ofe

C

pr

To

YO

15

his

th

YO

are

TO m

CO

At

the

hit

hou

wil

W

brilon

ıı.

ca-

up

no laft

een

but

AYC

d'ro

the

not

ople

ands Gof-

Ba

coft

may

nist,

that ood.

nte-

and

Selic-

e Af-

will ruths

and

I would have you to be more foundly affured of, and eftablished in. Brethren we are of the same mind in a Prison. that we were of in the Pulpic; that there is no life to a life of Holiness; that Christ, and his Yoak, and his Cross, are worthy of all acceptation; that it is the best, and wisest, and fafest and gainfullest course in the World to stick close to Christ and his Ways, and to adhere to them in all hazards. Come on, Beloved Christians, come on, flack not your pace, but give diligence to the full assurance of Hope unto the end, and be ye followers of them who through Faith and Patience mherit the Promises. Strengthen the hands that hang down, and the feeble knees. If you faint in the day of Advertity, your strength is small. Chear up, my Brethren, look what a Crown, what a Kingdom here is; What fay you? Is not here a worthy Portion, a goodly Heritage? Were it not pity to lofe all this for want of Diligence and Patience? Come, dear Christians, and fellow Travellers, I pray you, let us put on: Pluck up the weary Limbs, our Home is within fight. Lift up your Eyes from the Pifga of the Promifes: You may fee the Land of Rest. Will any of you think of feturning into Egypt? God forbid: A little patience, and Christ will come. Behold, the Husbandman waiteth for the precious fruits of the Earth, and hath long patience till he receive the early and later Rain: Be ye also patient, stablish your Hearts, for the coming of the Lord draweth nigh. He is not a Christian indeed, that cannot be content to tarry for his Preferment in another World. Cast upon it, my Brethren, that your Kingdom is not of this World; that here you must have Tribulations, and that all is well as long as we are fecured for Eternity. Exhort one another daily: strive together in Prayer, unite your strength therein, and pull a main: Mercy will come fooner or later, however we will be content to wait till the coming of our Lord Jefus Christ. Ah how furely will he come! He will render Tribulation to them that trouble us, and to us that are troubled, rest with him. Onely believe and wait: What not watch with him one hour? Why the Judge is even at the door! And how bleffed will you be if you do but continue and hold fast till he come! Warch therefore, and Rand fast, quit you like men, be Zealous, and let your hearts be frong: God is your Friend, and 6 h 2) you.

you may trust him. He is able to bear you out, and bear you up: faint not therefore, but be stedsast, unmoveable, abounding in the works of the Lord. Speak often one to another, provoke to love, and to good Works. Let the Bay o opposition against Godliness, make the Torrent of your Zeal break over with the more violence. But it's time to end, I have been bold to call upon you, you see; and to stir you up by way of remembrance. May the Spirit of the most high God excite you, encourage you, enslame you: may these poor lines be some quickning to you: may the good-will of him that dwelt in the Bush dwell with you. My dear loves to you all, pray for the Prisoners. Farewel dear Brethren, farewel in the Lord, I am

Tours in the Bonds of the Lord Jesus,

JOS. ALLEINE.

wit

you

mo

25 to

that had

and

mor

pani

Vou

duty

a fti

befer

have well.

ings,

thing a nea Gare

then Com

out y

that L

1001 and w

God.

ball

rame

quity

of car

defhi

Salvar

of wh holy

12. 1

a com

(

020.11.1665.

LETTER XXXIV.

[To a Back-fliding Fellow Student.]

Sir.

Thom this will find you, or when, or where, I know not; but I have fhot this arrow at a venture. Once you were an Associate with me in corpus Christi, where I remember your blameless Conversation, and your zealous assection for, and adhesion to the ways and people of God. May you be still found in the same paths of holiness, without which no man shall see God. The vows of God are upon me (which, I consess, I have been to slack to pay) that I would put you in remembrance, and in all Brotherly renderness advise you, to remember from whence you are fallen. I was informed, before your leaving of England, of many unhappy miscarriages, which the great reproach of your holy prosession, you had been too manifestly guilty of, I am not without

1-

r,

1-

k

ve

y

od

10 im

ou

vel

185

E.

now

nce

Ire-

is af-

God.

vich-

apon nat I

der-

en. I

y un-

holy n not

thout

withour some hope, that the Lord may have fince recalled you, and brought you back to himf. If: and yet not without more fear, left, if the power of corruption were fo ftrong, as to precipitate you with fuch violence, at fuch a time as that was, and in such a place as England, as Oxon where you had so many encouragements, and inducements, examples, and faithful friendly, watchful observers, you may now much more be carried away, in such a place, and among such company, as now you may be likely to be in. Sir, I befeech you to be affured, that nothing but the conscience of my duty hath engaged me, now you have been fo many years aftranger to me, and are at fo many thousand miles disance from me, to write notwithstanding to you. befeech you, bear a little with me. Is it wisdom after you have begun in the Spirit, to end in the flesh? you did run well, who hath hindred you? I remember your strict walkings, your holy converse, your many tears: will you lose the things that you have wrought? have you found out another, nearer way to Heaven? do you hope to get in at the wide Gare, in the broad way? need I to mind you, that it had ben better for you never to have known the way of Life, then after you have known it, to turn afide from the Holy Commandment? can you ever enter into Gods Hill, without you be of clean hands, and a pure heart? I know, you He not ignorant, That strait is the gate, and narrow is the way that leadeth unto Life, and few there be that find it: and will you yer do as the most, and decline the way of strictness, and whole felf-denial, and give the flesh the reins? whar, when God, that cannot lie, hath faid , If you live after the fleth, you hall die? Do you not know that you do in vain name the mme of the Lord Jesus Christ, except you depart from iniminy? I am fure you know it: Oh Sir, confider it, improve Oh, have you so learnt Christ, as to think, that the way of carnal liberry and loofness, the way of evil company and defiliness, is the way to eternal life? I am not for tying up Silvation to this, or that Opinion: but certainly, let men be of what opinion they will, without firianess, self-denial, and holy diligence, they cannot be faved, Mat. 16, 42. Mat. 11. 12. 1 Pet. 15, 16. Once you could fay with David, I am a companion to all them that fear thee : is it fo now? O Sir, (h 3) let not the wicked entice you. Hath not God faid , A companion of fools (hall be destroyed, Prov. 13 20. That you must forfake the foolish, if you defire to live, Prov. 9.6. Sir, I have no more hopes ever to meet you more on Earth : O that I might meet you in Heaven! let us tread the fame path of Holiness, and then we shall doubtless meet there. But surely you must deeply, and timely repent of, and return from your grievous back-flidings, or elfe I defire never to meet in your Heaven. But why should not we, that have so often met in serious and holy Prayer together, we that have so of ten met at the Lords Table together, we that have fo often eat together, and fasted together, meet in glory together? I befeech your dear Sir, if the Lord hath not already fminen you to the duft, and broken you, and reduced to the ways of holiness, now confider your ways, and turn your feet to his Testimonies Oh remember that, The back-flider in beart fall be filled with his own ways. God hath faid it, and who fhall reverse it ? If any man draw back, my Soul shall have no plea-And once again, when the righteous turneth 4 fure in bim. way from his righteousness, and committeth iniquity, shall be live ? In his Trefpass that be bath trefpaffed, fall be not dit? I know Prayers can reach you, though at so vast a distance; I shall add to them these Counsels, and commit you to God, remaining

Tours real Friend in Chrift,

JOS. ALLEINE

Juelchefter, May 18th. 1664.

LET.

Div

lovi

50

and fine

fine

and forg

ioy it is that

that defi

vifit

the of t ip i done not other those and for I that pray hope strong

LETTER XXXV.

[Good Counfel to his Wife.]

My most dear Theodosia, om-

aust

at I

rely tin

ften

o of

icen

itten

ys of

o his

Ball

fhall

plea-

164 ell be

dit?

ance;

God,

11117

ß,

NE

ET.

ton.

nft

Hou feemeft to have been long from me : let nothing any longer detain thee, but my Sifters necessity, or Fahers Authority. I am very forry that thou should lose two secraments. I am in a comfortable flate of health, through Divine goodness, to which be glory for ever. See that thou love and admire that Fountain of our life, and peace; and be ever mindful that 'ris all thy bufiness to love, and serve, and praise thy Creator and Redeemer. I have no other bufiness but this to write to thee about: but this is all our bufiness. What be use to call business is but vanity and pastime and some by matter in comparison of this. Remember and forget not that 'tis thy chief end to glorifie God, and enby him for ever. Learn well that Lesson, and know that it is the only thing necessary. Every morning remember that thy ferving and pleafing of God, is the whole bufiness of that day, and therefore fee out accordingly with an express defign and intention to please God in thy eating, drinking, vifiting, converfing, calling, and duties of thy Relations throughout the day. My most dear heart, I have nothing in the world that doth concern thee, or me so much to write of to thee, as this is. Oh that thou mayst still be laying up in Heaven! Still furthering thy account; still adding to the heap, and encreasing thy glorious reward! nothing is done for God, but thou shalt hear of it again. Whatever is not done for God, is but fo much loft. Those things which others do being led by their natural affections and defires, those things do thou do with holy aims, for spiritual ends, and then God will put it on the account, as so much done for him. So it is my dearest, God keeps a true account. See that thou believe it, and so plow in hope, and sowe in hope, pray and hear with an eye to the fure reward. Let thy hopes be strong and lively, and then thy hands will be strong, and thy resolutions and affections will be strong. (h 4)

My time is very precious, and I would not lofe any inch of it See thou to it; that my time in writing this letter be not lost time. Love God the more, and set thine heart the straighter towards him, and do but practice this one thing, in every solemn action to look to thy ends, and then I have got well, and thou betrer by these Counsels. My dearest, I love thee in truth and tenderness, but my love fignifies little, unless it serve thine eternal good,

I reft thine own,

out

Con

is re thro

thee

thee bufi

fhall

ing

rejo figh: pear

ness thin of tl fitti

muf ing,

off

bod

duil

with

Hea

bur

ling

to P

fom

rup (ub)

kee

be o

of a litt!

fed

rac

tion

be felf

put

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER. XXXVI.

[To his Wife, Defires after Heaven.]

My dear Heart.

AY heart is now a little at rest to write to thee. I have been these three days much disturbed, and set out of frame. Strong folicitations I have had from feveral hands, to accept very honourable preferment in several kinds, some friends making a Journey on purpofe to propound ir, but I have not found the invitations (though I confess very honourable, and fuch as are or will be fuddenly embraced by men of far greater worth and eminency) to fuit with the inclinations of my own heart, as I was confident they would not with thine. I have fent away my friends fatisfied with the reasons of my refusal, and am now ready with joy to say with David. Soul return unto thy reft. But alas, that fuch things should difturb me, I would live above this lower region, that no pasfages or providence whatfoever might put me out of frame, nor disquiet my soul, and unsettle me from my defirest rest. I would have my heart fixed upon God, so as no occurrences might disturb my tranquility, but I might be still in the same quiet and even frame. Well, though I am apt to be unfettled, and quickly fer off the hinges, yet methinks I am like a Bird h of

not

the

ing,

nave

A, I

ttle,

n,

NE.

have ut of ds,to fome

but I

nourien of

with afons

avid.

d di-

pal-

ame, reft.

ences fame tried,

Bird

out of the neft, I am never quiet till I am in my old way of Communion with God, like the needle in the Compais that is reftles, till it be turned towards the Pole. I can fav through grace with the Church, with my foul have I defired thee in the night, and with my Spirit within me have I fought thee early, my heart is early and late with God, and 'tis the bufiness and delight of my life to feek him. But alas, how long shall I be a seeking? how long shall I spend my days in wishing and defiring, when my glorified Brethren spend theirs in rejoycing and enjoying? look as the poor imprisoned captive fighs under the burdenfome clog of his Irons and can only pear through the Grace, and think of, and long for the sweetness of that liberty which he sees others enjoy: such methinks is my condition: I can only look through the Grate of this Prison my flesh, I see Abraham, and Isaac, and Facob, fitting down in the Kingdom of God, but alas, I my felf must stand without longing, striving, fighting, running, praying, waiting, for what they are enjoying. Oh happy, thrice happy pouls! when shall these Fetters of mine be knocked off? when shall I be set at liberty from this Prison of my body? you are clothed with glory, when I am clothed with I dwell in flesh, in a House of Clay, when you dwell with God in a House not made with hands, 'eternal in the Heavens. I must be continually clog'd with the cumbersome burden of this Dung-hill Body, that had it not a foul dwelling in it like Salt as it were to preserve, it would soon turn to putrefaction and corruption, and be as odious and loathfom as the filthiest Carrion, when you have put on incorruption, and immortality. What continual moleftation am I subject to by reason of this flesh? what pains doth it cost me to keep this earthen veffel from breaking, it must be fed, it must be clothed, it must be exercised, recreated, and which is worst of all cherished with time-devouring sleep, so that I live but little of the short time I have alotted me here : but oh blesfed fouls, you are swallowed up of immortality and life, your race is run, and you have received your Crown. How canrious must I be to keep me from dangers, how apt am I to be troubled with the cares and fears of this life, molesting my felf with the thoughts of what I shall eat, and what I shall put on, and wherewithal I shall provide for my self and mine;

doff

thee

hou

FOR

tefo

he

C

RTIT

82 of t

and doo

I

int

lend

thy

pro

ny.

goo

of c hit

Spr

fee

dea

fee

when your fouls are taken with nothing but God and Chrift. and 'tis your work to be still contemplating, and admiring that love that redeemed you from all this. Alas, how am I encompast with infirmities, and still carry about me Death in my bosom, what pains and cost must I be at to repair the rotten and ruinous building of this earthly Tabernacle, which when I have done I am fure will fhortly fall about my ears; when you are got far above mortality, and are made equal with the Angels. Oh I groan earnestly to be cloathed upon with my house which is from Heaven, being willing rather to be absent from the body, and present with the Lord: Oh, when shall I come and appear before him. When shall I receive the purchase of my Saviour, the fruit of my prayers, the harvest of my labours, the end of my Faith, the Salvation of my foul? Alas, what do I here? this is not my refting place. My treasure is in Heaven, and my heart is in Heaven. Oh when shall I be where my heart is? woe is me that I for jour in Mesech, and dwell in the Tents of Kedar. Oh that I had wings like a Dove, that I might flie away and be at reft. Then would I haften my escape from the windy storm and tempest, and be out of the reach of fears, disturbances, and distractions. How long shall I live at such a distance from my God, at fuch a diftance from my Countrey? Alas, how can I be merry, how can I fing the Lord Song in a strange Land; no, I will hang my Harp upon the Willows, and fit down and weep when I remember Sion. But yet my fleth shall rest in hope, and I will daily bath my foul in the sweet thoughts of my bleffed home. I will rejoyce in hopes of what I do not yet enjoy, and content my felf with the tafte of what I fhall shortly have my fill of. But stay this Pen runs not beyond thy Commission. Alas, now I receive what I have gotren, I perceive I have fet down what I would be rather than what I am, and wrote more of my dears heart than my own penning, rather a Copy for my felf, than a Copy of my felf. Well, I thank God I have got some hear by it for all, the Lord grant thou mayft get a thousand times more. The Lord grant the request I daily pour out before him, and make us helps and furtherances to each others foul, that we may quicken and promote and forward one another in his ways. Help me by thy Prayers as thou doft doft always. The God of all peace and comfort be with thee my sweet love, Farewel, Thine beyond Expression,

JOS. ALLEINE:

LETTER XXXVII.

[God is a fatisfying Portion.]

My most dear Pylades, rift

ring

im T

the hich

qual qual apon ther

Oh, I re-

yers, alva-

fting ven

I fo

nat I

reit.

and

and

from

how ange

d fit

fich

WCCL

what

e. of

runs

nat I

d be eart

an a heat

and

out

b o-

vard

hou

doft

Ad not my right hand long fince forgot her cunning, and the Almighty shook the Pen out of my hand, I hould long ere this have been writing to thee: but it is a sonder of Divine Power and goodness that my soul had not refere this time dwelt in filence, and that death had not put the long period to all my writing and converse.

O my Pylades, what shall I say unto thee now I begin to write, where shall I begin, when shall I end? methinks I am a full Bottle quite inverted, where the forward pressing of the overhasty liquor makes the evacuatin more flow, and my thoughts are like a thronging croud sticking in the door.

Long is the fong of love that I have to tell thee, I rejoice in the constancie of thy love, that the waters of so long a silence, and so great a distance have not yet quenched it, but thy desires are towards me, and thy heart is with me, though providence hath hindred me from thy much desired company. I will assure thee it hath been a pleasure to my heart a good part of this summer to hope that I should come one half of the way to give thee a meeting; but such is my weakness hitherto, that I am forced to put off those hopes till the spring, when, if God give me strength to ride, I intend to see thee before mine own Home. I thank thee for all the dear expressions of thy servent love: Methinks I see it, and seel how it runs through all the veins of every Letter, nay, every every Line? I needed not so chargeable a Testomony as thy golden Token, with which I was forthing displeased, because I thought thou needest more than my self:but the love thereby expressed is most dearly welcome to me. talkest of Retribution, and of Justice, doth not so well relish with me, because the Phrases seem improper to the love profest between us, I never lookt for any return from thee but love, which is the paying of all thy Debts:my expences have indeed been vast and almost incredible; but surely goodness, and mercy hath followed me, and do follow me in every place, and in every change of my condition; so that as to remporals I have lack of nothing, and as for spirituals I abound and superabound, and the Areams of my comforts have been full and running over; the joy of the Lord hath been my strength at weakest, and in the multitude of my thoughts within me, his comforts have refresh'd my Soul, I have found God a fatisfying portion to me, and have fat down under his shadow with full delights, and his fruit is most sweet to my tafte: he is my strength and my Song for I will talke of him, and write of him with perpetual pleasure. grace, I can fay, methinks I am now in my Element, fince I have begun to make mention of him, I am rich in him, and happy in him, and my foul faith unto him with David, Thou haft made me most Blessed for evermore, and happy is the hour that ever I was born to be made partaker of to blisful a Treasure, so endless a felicity, so Angelical Prerogatives, as I have in him; O sweet are his converses, how delightful it is to Triumph in his Love!

Suffer me to be free with thee, where should I pour out my Soul, if not into thy bosom? did the poor woman call upon her stiends and neighbours to rejoyce together with her at the sinding of a lost Groat? and shall not I tell to thee the keeper of the Secrets of my Soul, & the friend of my inmost Bosom, what a friend is the Lord to me, though an unworthy sinner, shall not I run and tell thee what a treasure. I have found. And here methinks the story of the Lepers comes not unaptly to thy mind, who said one to another when they had eat and drunk, and carried away silver and gold, and raiment, and went and hid it, we do not well, this day is a day of good sydings and we hold our peace. It is sit that I should be cloath-

ed w

fir th

more

and le

bless

ther,

forte

my I

nim:

mon

Shall

Fig-t

had choic

who

may:

or m doft

the ( thee

only

own

did

thin

all th

bow

the !

of ch

Con

this

WOU

that dan

mo

him

my tha

[par

War

thy

ule

re-

nou

tifh

orc-

but

ave els,

rery

s to

und

een

my

ghts

und

der

t to

e of

ugh

ce I

and

hou

the

s, as

my pon

rat

the

noft

thy

not

had

ent,

ood

ed

ed with shame; I acknowledge before God, who trieth the hearts, I am unworthy, everlaftingly unworthy, but it is not fir that he should lose his praise, nay rather, let him be the more ador'd, and magnifi'd, and admir'd for ever and ever. and let my Secrets fay, Amen. Blefs the Lord, O my Soul bless the Lord, O my Friend, let us exhalt his Name together, he is my folace in my folicude, he is my flanding comforter, my tried friend, my fure refuge, my fafe retreat, he is my Paradife, he is my Heaven; and my heart is at reft in him: and I will fit and fing under his shadow, as a Bird among the Branches; and whither should I go but unto him? shall I leave the farness of the Olive, and sweetness of the Fig-tree, and of the Vine, and go and put my trust under the ladow of the Bramble? No, I have made my everlasting hoice: this is my rest for ever, he is my well Beloved in whom I am well pleased. Suffer me to boast a little here, I my Glory without Vanity, and I can praise him without end ameasure, but I have nothing to say of my self: I find thou lost overvalue me, and magnifie me above my measure; set the Grown upon the head of Christ, let nothing be great with thee but him, give him the glory:but thy love pleaseth me, mly I have this exception, that thou art in love with thine own Idol, as Austin somewhere speaks to a friend of his that did too much magnifie him, and magnifiest a Creature of thine own fancie, and not thy poor Orestes: God that knoweth all things, knoweth my poverty, how little, how low, and how mean I am, and how short I come of the attainments of the Saints, who yet do themselves come so exceedingly short of the Rule that God hath fet before us: I often think of the Complaint of the devout Monsier [I feel my felf very poor this week, and very defective in the love of God; if you would know wherein you may pleasure me, love God more; that what is wanting in me, may be made up in the abundance of your love: in this, my Pylades, in this thou maist most highly pleasure me; love God a little the better, praise him a lale fore for my sake; let me have this to please my feet in, man God is alittle the better loved for me, and that I have blowed up, if it be but one flash, nay, but one spark of Divine Love in the bosom of my dearest friend towards him.

But

But why, my Pylades, why is thy stile towards me changed? why hast thou lost the old and wonted strain of our former pleasing familiarity? this I could not but observe with some disgust, is it because thy heart is changed; but this is a question in which I cannot ask any resolution; I am satisfied and at rest in thy love, but what this alterations means, I know not; art thou willing by degrees to grow strange; it cannot be, thou sees thowever that I cannot change my voice.

Besides, I find some jeasous passages in thy last lines motous; but canst thou think that T. B. can be put into the ballance against my old friend, my own, my Covenant Pylades, or can a friend of words come into any compension or comparison with thine experienced love? I cannot en-terrain the thoughts of this without some disdain.

But thy needful cautions are acceptable to me, I defire to foresee and provide for manifold changes and storms; I know I am not yet in the harbor; O pray with me that I enter not into Temptation, for I am very weak in Spirit, as well as in body, God knoweth. But there is no end with me, somewhere or other I must break off, and thou wilt say it is time to shut up; for once only know, that I am thy daily Orator, and will be whilest I am: and yet once more I must have room to add my thankful acknowledgement of thise and thy costly kindness; and so with our most dear affections to you both, I commend you to the God of love, still abiding.

Thy fast and fure

ORESTES:

chat

61

br :

Mes

TO

ita moi for jour

we; t patio mak

the '

nt

md

prof

ends will

com

few (

look and bleff com Wor which when

If R

Bath, Octob. 12. 1668.

lures, a

LETTER XXXVII.

[To a person of Quality to be constant.]

Most Honoured Sir.

uig-

out

but ; I

WOTS

nnot

S UD-

o the

t P

noin

t co-

TO TH

re to Know

well

me.

daily

thine

affo

. AW

ends

urt:

ES:

lures.

A Any charges have passed over both you and my felf. I fince my last Writing to you, but I am glad to hear that in that great change of your condition, you have made bwife and happy a choice. Mine unfeigned defire to God is by your Temporal and Spiritual prosperity; and that the Westings of both Worlds may be heaped up upon you. Yet I hould defire you not to expect too much here, nor to count its strange thing, if you meet with disappointments. Is it mough if you have the Lord for your portion, and Heaven by your Inheritance, though the World should not answer our expectations. Idoubt not but you will be likely, as well as e to meet with manifold temptations: the Lord make you. then you have done all to fland. Hold out a while in faith, mience, and felf-denial, and you shall be as sure as God can take you of the Crown. Now arise and shine, and hold forth the power of holiness in all your converse. We have lived n times when Religion was the way to credit and efteem. and then it was more difficult to discern fincerity of ones mofession, because men might be drawn to it upon worldly ends. But now is the time when God will prove us, if we will appear for him, and own his ways, when they are the common fcorn of the World. Oh Sir, think it not hard if God do call you forth to own him in fuch a time as this, when lew of your rank and quality will bear you company: but look upon it as a special advantage to prove your fincerity. and your fidelity to the Lord your Maker. The holy and bleffed life of that noble Marquels Galeacius, I should much comm reading and imitation. Court not the erments, Moses his self-denying choice. Wor which would have branded for unparalled folly. when he vorantarily left all the Court-preferments and pleafures, the wifest Judge commends for the greatest wisdom. If Religion will make you vile, resolve with that Royal Worthy, thy , that you will be yet more vile. Remember who accounted the reproaches of Christ greater riches, than the Treasures of Egypt. Verily it is a greater honour to you to be vilified for Christ, than to be dignified with the highest Titles that the greatest on Earth can confer: and to be call'd Puritan or Phanatique, for the bold and constant owning of the power of Christianity, than to have whole Pages filled up with the honourable offices and marks of Dignity, that Earthly Princes can bestow. Now then is your time to get the true honour. Few of your places and dignity, will take this way to get it: But he that can but use the prospective of Faith, and look as far as the approaching Judgement, will eafily fee the vanity of the worlds riches and flattering preferments, and the everlasting glory and honour wherewith the dispised Saints shall surely be Crowned. Fix your eyes and Meditations here, and that will fet you above the worlds temptations, when by its offers or threatnings it would make you to warp, and to let go your hold-fast of Eternal life. Now is the time for you to make Heaven fure, and when that is done, you are prepared for the worst that can come. I defire you to accept of my service and respects, and my Wives, which I do hereby present unto you, and to your most deserving yoak-fellow, whom I unseignedly honour though I never faw her, not fo much for her noble blood, which yet calls for great respects, as for her far more noble qualifications, and priviledges of her second birth. Pardon my boldness with you, in troubling you so long, I am Sir,

Your most Oblidged Friend, and Servant, 25

200

I

hav

you to v

you

and

that pra'

left

neis

me

min

fatis

fetle

nifh

vide

hole

laft!

VOU

-11

ship you

not

gro a pi

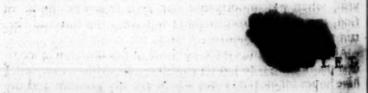

foll

fatis ven

Goo

JOS. ALLEINE.

Fib. 26. 1661.

state i tadiaha a a (Y20) ETTER XXXVII nere i mescrifitticente do un tiest i rum non van ge

Dear Coufin;

ac-

the 1 to heft

Il'd g of

that get

take

tive

will pre-

with cyes

orlds

nake

life

that

1

my

your

nout

ood.

oble

rdon

if,

iend,

gon

NE.

13116

TIME

THough I have been in the valley of the fliadow of death though I have had more than one foot in the Grave, and have been in deaths often, yet the love and remembrance of you, ever liveth on my heart: I have long had neither feet to walk nor hands to write, yet I have borrowed hands as you fee, rather than I would flay any longer from warning and admonishing of you. Dear Couzin, that soul of yours, that precious immortal foul is of no light value with me! I pray hard for its Salvarion : I have a Godly fear for you. left your foul should miscarry in a crowd of worldly business, and of earthly cares Ah, my dear Niece, it comforts me that you are so settled for this world, and are in want of nobing, I bless the Lord for this, but me thinks this doth not latisfie me. Oh, that I could be fure that you were once fale kiled in Christ; though you are, I trust comfortably furalshed with earthly things, yet in this you are but half provided for : have you a Treasure in Heaven ? have you laid hold on eternal life? have you made fure work for everlafting? have you past the strairs of the New-Birth? do you bear upon you the marks of the Lord Jefus?

If you shall pass by a sumpruous Fabrick, and a great Lordthip, and should lay claim to all as your inheritance, and p'ease your felf with the hopes of enjoying all this, when you had nothing to shew, no Writing, no Evidence to produce, as a ground for any such hope, would not every one say, this were a piece of strange vanity and imprudence; much greater folly is it to promise our selves a part in Paradise, and rest fatisfied in a meer perswation that we are the Heirs of Heaven, when we cannot prove our Title from the Book of from within our felves, the fure and cer-God.

tain

in, rouze up your self make conscience, to al plan reely with your foul, fay within your felf, I have hopes for Heaven! but where are my grounds and my Evidences? (i)

of

re

m

m

21 pr

Ħ

ho

re

to

m ftc

P

ha

in

to

YO

the

no

m

Evidences? do I not build without a foundation? do I venture my Salvation upon uncer uncertainties? What have I, what do I more than others? I pray, I hear, I read, but may not a meer Hypocrite do all this? I run not with others into the wretched practice of Lying, and Couzening, Whoredom, and the like; but what is this more than a Pharifee may have to fay for himself? can I prove by Scripture my claim to Heaven? can I produce Chapter and

Verse to justifie my self?

Oh Couzin, fear, least a Promise being lest of entring into reft, you should by any mistakes, or self-deceits fall short through unbelief; fear left you should take Counters of gold. er some common workings for saving Grace. Oh, there is a world of counterfeit Coin going, multitudes perish by mif. take, and wake in Hell, whileft they dreamt they were in Heaven: the tempter is very subtile, and will sure deceive if he can : your heart is deceitful above all things, and is willing to cheat you if it can. Therefore am I engaged to earnestly to call upon you, as one that watcheth for your foul, to arise speedily and to set roundly to your work. Oh, consider your danger, and work out your Salvation with fear and trembling: away with these lazie Prayers, away with these cold and heartless Professions, away with this drowsie, liveless, liftless Religion; bestir your self to purpose for your foul before it be too late, fearch your conscience as with Candles, be jealous of your felf; confider, now is your time, what you do you must do quickly, the patience of God is waiting, Christ is knocking, the Spirit of God is striving, and death is at the door: Oh now take your opportunity, and take heed left a flothful heart, and the cares of this World, or a presumptuous confidence that all is well and fafe already, should at last shut you out of the Kingdom of God.

I cannot write diffinctly to your Husband, but I beleech you to call upon him to fet his heart to the I have written to you; I earneftly ent Religion his business, and to look heedful he gain of the World prove not the loss of his him that Closet and Family Prayers, and weekly catechism of his Houshold, and firit fantlifying of the Sabbath, and reading of the Scriprires finging of Pfalms, repeating of Sermons, and diligent attendance-upon powerful Preaching may be his continual exercises; that so his house may be alittle Church, and God may delight to dwell in his Family: pray give me to understand what is done of these things, for I have a zeal for your welfare, and that you and your houfhould should serve the Lord, that you may enter into his reft, and carry children, and fervants, and friends, and all to Heaven with you- As to my own estate, I have lost all my limbs, and about this twelve Months useless, and been again and again under the sentence of death; but was brought in a Horse-litter to Bath, where God hath wonderfully reflored me, fo that I can feed my felf, and go alone, and fpeak with a little more freedom. Oh, love the Lord, praise the Lord for me; notwithflanding I continue weak, and have not firength to write, yet I could not tell how to die in filence from you; but have made use of a friendly hand to fend these counsels and calls after you, which I beseech you to accept in the fear of God, for it is not unlike that they may be my last to you that ever you may receive: I now commend you to the Lord, and with mide own and my dear Wivet love to you both, Reft,

Your loving and careful uncle,

JOS. ALLEINE.

Octob. 21. 1668.

peads peads

cn-

T,

but

0-ng,

1 2

cri.

ind

in-ort

old,

5 2

nif.

m c if vil-

:ft-

to nfi-

md éle

ve-

our

ne,

ng,

his ind of ich ike

ihe lire (i2)

LEL

LETTER. XXXV.

the

go

and

wit life

Sal

mu

for

the

Go

for ty (

my

Im

whi

muf

Juc

be p fané

in.

prof

Lord

CVET

of it,

OUL

for y

[The Concernments of our Souls especially to be regarded.]

INCESSED OF WHILE WILL THE

Dear Coufen,

TOu may think you are forgotten with me, because you have not heard so long a time from me; but this may let you know, That though God hath taken away your Father, and suffered your Mother to be helpless to you; Yet you have one friend on earth that careth for you. The welfare of your immortal foul is dear to me, and is the matter of my follicitons care and prayer. Dear Coufin, methinks Ifeel a Godly jealousie of you within my heart, lest you should lose your soul amongst a croud of worldly cares and bufiness. O remember the ftory of him in the Book of the Kings, who relates that he had a Soldier committed to his keeping upon condition that he should lose his life if he did let him go: But while thy fervant went bither and thither, the man escaped. But the King replies presently, Even fo shall thy judgement be; thy life shall go for his life. Ah Coufin, take earnest heed, left while you are going hither and thither, minding many things, toffed in a hurry of worldly affairs, the enemy run not away with your foul. Oh beware that the World doth not secretly steal away your heart. Confider, that whatever your bufiness be, you must and will have an earing time, and a fleeping time. Oh be as follicitous every day to keep your praying times, which are a thousand times more necessary than a time to eat in, or sleep. Be sure that there doth not a morning or evening pass over your head, in which you have not perfumed your Closet with solemn and fervent prayer. And take heed, it you love your falvarion, left Saran beguile you with the bare outward performance of duties, and outward acts of Religion. See to it, that you do not rest in a Worldly Religion; to give God your knee, while the World carries away your heart. You may pray, hear, and read, and all to no purpose, except your very Soul be employed and engaged in these duties; and the 260

OUR

fee

511

Sel

DIE

ay

a-

el-

er

SI

ou

nd he

his lid

the

thy ke

er,

the

the

er,

ery

nes

hat

ad,

mn

al-

er-

it, boi

ou

our

the

the life, vigour, and strength of your affections be found to go after God in them. If therefore you will have Christ and Heaven, see that you renounce the world. You must cast overboard your worldly hopes, and take up with God. with a naked Christ, as your whole happiness, both for this life, and that which is to come. There is no hopes of your Salvation, without a found mortification to the world; you must be mortified to your worldly expediations : look not for much from the world; promise not your felf much from the world; feek not great things for your felf: fay unto God, So I may have thee for my portion, and thy Kingdom for my inheritance, give or deny me what thou wilt, poverty or riches, any thing or nothing, I will be contented with my Lor. Say unto your foul, So I may but have Chrift, fo I may but carry it for the other world, let this world go which way it will: I must be converted or condemned; I must be born again, or else would I had never been born : but of this present world there is no such necessity; I may be poor, and yet happy: but wo unto me if I remain unfanctified : I must have grace, or perish for ever. Dear couin, if I live, you shall find me a friend to your worldly prosperity; but whether I live or die, I charge you by the lord, that you be infinitely tender of your immortal fouls everlasting concernments. Will you not spin a fair thread ofit, if while you are pursuing after earthly things, you lose our foul in the throng? While I live, I shall pray and care or you. Farewel in the Lord. I am

Your truly loving and careful uncle, and terrord part one will be in the part of the rough fall wind this longer, and a so off to come a to model and the original of the come of the company of minorate to trailing to the second or the contract to deather bed, and control of the second of the second of the box and make the transport of the straight a popular away

JOS. ALLEINE.

THOY TENDED TO SEE THE THOY THE TENDED TO WITH THE THOY WITH

I d

Di

nei

tha wit

ene

ap

in

Yel

in .

ly l

10

Ch

cat

and

COL

CAT

Soi

are pra

De

thi

and

thir

cer

fin.

W

nal

Lo

hav

to pla

fels

F

かい

280

LETTER, XXXVI

[Godly Counfels.]

Dear Coufin,

MARIOCANAL CHE COSTO

THE welcome tydings of your fafe arrival at Barbadots, is come to my ears; as also the News of your escape from a perillous fickness, for which I bless the Lord, and defire to be thankful with you: for I am not without a care for your well being, but do look upon my felf as really concerned in you. I have confidered, that God hath bereft you of a cereful Father, and that your Mother takes but little care for you; fo that you have none nearer than my felf to watch for your Soul, and to charge and admonth you in the Lord, and to take care of you. But yet, Dear Confin, be not discouraged by these things, but look to Herven, flie unto Jesus, put away every known fin, ser upon the conscientious' performance of every known duty; make Christ your choice, embrace him upon his own terms; deliver up your felf, body and foul to him; fee that you have no referves nor limitations in your choice of himsgive him your very heart; cast away your worldly hopes and expedations, make Religon your very bufiness. O Coufin, these things do, and you shall be fure of a friend in Heavendo take the care of you; and, if I may be any comfort to you, you shall not fail, while I five, to have one friend on earth to take care for you. You are gone far from me, even to the uttermost parts of the Earth; but I have sent these Letters to call even thither after you; yea, not onely to call, but to cry in your Ears, O what is like to become of your Soul! Where is that immortal Soul of yours like to be lodged for ever ? Amongst Devils, or Angels? Upon a Bed of Flames, or in the joys of Paradife? Dear Coufin, go afide by your felf in secret, retire from the noise of the World, and fay to your felf, Oh my Soul! whither art then going? do not I know in my very heart that I must be converted or condemned? That I must be Sauctified, or I can never be Saved? Oh my Soul! what seekest thou! what defigns do

710 does,

cape

and

care

con-

ereft

par

n my

onish

Dear

Hez-

n the

make

de-

have

him

eda

their ch do

3 001

earth

even thefe

y to ne of

e to

on a

ufm,

f the

thou

vert-

ver be ns do

I drive at? what is my chief care? which way do I bend my course? Is it for this World, or the World to come? Do I first seek the Kingdom of Heaven, and the Righteousness thereof? Do I think Heaven will drop into my mouth? that Glory and immortality will be got with a vet finger, with cold Prayers, and heartless wiffres; while the World carries the main of my heart? Do I think to be Crowned, and yet never fight? to get the race, and never ruit? to enter at the firait gate, and never firive? to overcome Prinopalities and Powers, and never wreftle? No, no; fay within your felf, Oh my Soul, either lay by the hopes of He ven for ever, or elfe rouse up thy felf, put forth thy firength in feeking after God and Glory; either lay by thy worldly hopes, or thy hopes of immortality; away with thy fins, or thou must let Christ go for ever; think not to have Christ and the World roo, to ferve God and Mammon, it cannot be: If thou follow the World as thy chief defire and delight; if thou live after the flesh, thou wrust die, count upon it, the Lord hath fooken it, and all the World can never reverse it. Thus reason the case with your own Soul, and give not reft to your felf night nor day, will you are gotten off from the World, broken off from the wilfull practice of every known fin, and gotten fale into Christ. Dear Coufin, I charge you by the Lord, to observe these things; pray over them, weep over them, read them again and again; do not pass them over as slight and ordinary things: your Soul is at stake, it is your Salvation is conærned in them; think not I am in jest with you. Ah Coufin, I travel in birth with you, till Christ be formed in you. Why should you die? Oh repent and live, lay hold on eternal life, win Christ, and you win all. O be thankful to the Lord, that now you are fatherless and friendless, yet you have one Remembrancer to warn you to flie from the wrath to come. God forbid that I should find you at last in the place of Torments, for your not embracing the Godly Count fels. To conclude, in fhore, I charge you as a Minister, as a Father to you, Take heed of these three things!

1. Left the gain of the world prove the loft of your Soul!

^{2.} Lest the mare of evil company withdraw you from God, and so prove your final ruine.

Lift a lofty and a worldly beart foould thruft you out of the Kingdom of Heaven. (114 And 14) Comes 1 210) God aphors that the proud should come near him: Oh labour, whatever you do, for an humble deart; belittle. be vile in your own eyes; feek not after great things; be poor in Spirit; without this, Heaven will be no place for you, God will be no friend to you. Dear Coulin, your lor is fallen as I fear in a place of great wickedness, where your Soul is in much danger, where your temptations are many, and your helps for Heavey but few; where Godly examples are rare, and many will entice you to fin and vanity. O! if you love me, or love your Soul, look about you confider your danger, fear lest you should unicarry for ever by worldly loss and vain company, which proves to formany the fearful cause of their eternal perdition. I can but warn you, and pray for you: but though you have none to overfee you, remember the fluid and levere eye of God is uponyou, to observe all your actions, and that he will fure ly bring all your practices into his Judgement. Your Aunt, with my fall, commend our dear love to you; and I com-

Your loving and careful uncle,

August, 19, 1668.

breken all fromther, thele mend you to the Lord, and remain,

JOS. ALLEINE,

PAR from you see Oh repeliteral live by hold on cuers

Dear coufer, of the de leg of the Confidence of the Dear coufer of the leg leg of the le Hough you are removed far from me, out of my fight, and the Seas as a great Gulfare fixed berwixe you and me; yet my Prayers, follow you, and my good wishes for your present and everlasting welfare, like the wings of a Dove, take speedy flight. I look upon my self, now God bath removed my Brother, to be as in the room of a Father to you, yez and of a Mother too; for I know you have but little help from her.

. 1

for

wa

YOU

wit

you

YO

thi

did

foc

mu

fee

the

in tin

yo

OV

Lo

un

hi tea

m an fu

fe yo

to

W

m to 21

I

W

0 by

d

D S My Dear Neece, my heart is careful for you; and therefore I cannot ceale, while I am in being in this World, to warn and admonish you, as my Children, and to call upon you in the Name of the Eternal God, to awaken your felves with all Godly fear and holy diligence, lest by any means you should come short of the glory of God.

t of

TOL

Oh trle,

, be

for

lot

vour

any,

oity.

con-

CYCT

ma-

C to od is unt.

om-

c, ak)

121

JE,

ght,

and

for

of a God

ther

but

My

Let me mind you, dear Coufins, of the dangerous place you fland in, and look about you with trembling. Methinks I fee Satan watching for your Souls, as the Dragon did for the Seed of the Woman, waiting to devour it as foon as the should be delivered. Know you nor, that you must wrestle with Principalities and Powers? Methinks I fee Temptations furrounding you, and belaguering you, as the enemy about the Walls of the Treacherous party within you, I mean carnal affections and corruptions, complorting how to deliver up the Castle. Know you not, that your fleshly Lusts do war against your Souls? and that your own hearts are not true to you, but deceifful above all things? Lord, what need have you to bestir your selves, and to the unto Jesus! to distrust your selves, and to trust onely in him and his Righteousness! Oh work your Salvation with lear and trembling: Do you ever think to escape these mighty enemies, to conquer the power, and avoid the plots and fnares of those potent adversaries, without most painful diligence? O cry to Heaven for help; warch and pray; fear, left a promise being left of entring into rest, either of you should come short of it.

My dear Neeces, you have many do watch for your souls, to devoor them; but I doubt too sew, except my self, do watch for your Souls, to save them: therefore I look upon my self, who am now upon the matter your only Monitor, to be the more concerned to awaken my self to your help, and to look after you, and to watch for you, less by any means you should miscarry by the deceits and temprations wherewith you are encompassed. I would not have you over-careful for the things of this life, though I commend your landable care and diligence, that you may not be burdensome to any man; but I commend to you a better and more necessary care, and that is that which the Apossle speaks of, the Virgins care; The unmarried (saith he) ca-

reth

weth for the things of the Lord. Ah, ler this be your care; feek first the Kingdom of God, and the Righteousness thereof, and then all these things shall be added; you have Gods fure promife for it : If the Lord give me to live and prosper, you shall see and know, that I am not a friend prly in words to you; but however that shall be fee that you embrace the Counsels of God from me, Oh make fure of Heaven betimes, walk humbly with God, beware of a prond heart and a lofty spirit; abhor your selves, else God will not be pleafed with you; condemn your felves, that God may acquir you. The leven of pride will fowre the whole lump, and mar all your Profession and Religion, and render your Persons, and Prayers, and all, an abomination to the Lord, if it prevail in you. Oh therefore be not high minded, but fear; and by prayer and watchfulness restrain and root up this wretched corruption of pride, which is a fin fo natural to you, that you had need to use an infinite care and caution to keep it under.

As to my felf, these may acquaint you, That I have been often at the very gates of death: I have lost all my limbs; but prayer hath redeemed me from my extremities, and God hath bleffed the use of the Bath to me. Oh praise the Lord, praise him for my sake, and give glory to the God of my Life. Love him, honour and gloriste him, whose favour and friendship hath filled my Soul with comfort, and given a resurction to my body. I can now walk alone, and feed my self, but am altogether unable to write, which is the reason why these come to you in another handbear Cousin, you may think me too tedious; but you must pardon me, if I erre in my love and zeal for your welfare: And now I shall trespass no more, but with my own and dear Wives love to you, I commend you to God.

โดย ที่สู่ใน และ ครั้ง เล่า โดย เล่าสู่ที่สัง (มีเมาะสู่) สัง and reft,

by thought of the total

Your loving and careful uncle,

JOS. ALLEINE

Ara

to

not ex

bra

of f

to oth

m

he

co

w ly.

W

ft

th

U

i

t

LETTER XXXVIII.

[Do all in reference to God and his Glory.]

etch and cuch all chole

Dear Friend . The state of the

ire :

ere-

and

Vou

e of

Will

bot

ole

der

the

nd-

and

fin

are

ave

triy

ĆS,

ific

H.

ofe

rt.

nc.

ch

id.

OU

mr

ΠY

ď,

I Have received yours of the 10th, of September, but it came to me in the time of my fickness in which I was much a franger to writing a it continued upon me five months, and to this day to much weakness remains in my arms that I am not able to put off or on my own clothes. Your Letter was exceeding welcome to me, not only as reviving the remembrance of our old friendship, but also, as bringing me news of fome spiritual good that you received by me, which is the best ridings that I can receive : for what do I live for , but to be useful to souls in my generation? I defire to know no other business than to please and honour my God, and serve my generation in that short allowance of time that I have here, before I go hence, and shall be seen no more. Shall I commend to you the Lesson that I am about to learn? But why should I doubt of your acceptance, who have so readily embraced me in all our converies?

The Lesson is, To be entirely devoted unto the Lord; that I may be able to say after the Apostle, To me to live is Christ. I would not be serving God only for a day in the week, or an hour or two in the day; but every day, and all the day. I am ambitious to come up towards that of our Lord and Masser, To do always those things that please God. I plainly see, that self-seeking is self-undoing; and that then we do promote our selves best, when we please God most. I find, that when I have done all, if God be not pleased, I have done nothing; and if I can but approve my self to God, my work is done: I reckon I do not live that time I do not live unto God.

I am fain to cut off so many hours from my days, and so many years from my life (so short as it is) as I have lived unto my self. I find no enemy so dangerous as my self, and O that others might take warning by my hurt! O that I had lived wholly unto God! then had every day and every hour

but npo

where !

ina.

ng, an y the

I at

eing

neant

nd N

bink.

hank

me to 0, 25

Ip

han

ou a mild

of th

bold is, th

enqu

me 1

God

Prob

I

mar

how

and

1

1

YOU

who

hour that I have fpent, been found upon my account at that great day of our appearing before God: then I had been rich indeed, in treasure laid up there, whither I am apace removing; then I had been every day and hour adding to the heap, and encreasing the reward which God of his meer grace hath promifed, even to the meanest work that is done to him, col. 2. 24. I verily perceive I am an external lofer by acting no more as for God; for what is done to my felf is loft; but what is done for God, is done for ever, and shall receive an everlasting reward. Verily, if there be another world to come, and an eternal state after this short life, it is our only wildom to be removing, and, as it were, transplanting and transporting what we can, from hence, into that Countrey to which we are shortly to be removed that what we are now doing, we may be reaping the fruit of for ever The world think themselves wise; but I will pawn my foul upon it, that this is the true wildom.

Well, let us be wholly swallowed up in the concerns of Red ligion, and know no other interest but Jesus Christs. I cannot fay, I have already attained; but this is that my hearr is fer to learn . That in all that I do, whether facred or civil actions, still I may be doing but one work, and driving on one defign. That God may be pleased by me, and he glorified in me; that not onely my Praying, Preaching, Alms, &c. may be found upon my account; but even my eating, drinking, fleeping, vifits, discourses, because they are all done as unto God. Too often do I take a wrong aim, and mis my mark; but I will tell you what be the rules I fer my felf, and do firially impose upon my self from day to day: Never to lie down, but in the Name of God; not barely for natural refreshment, but that a wearied servant of Christ may be recruited and fitted to serve him better the next day. Never to rife up but with this refolution, well, I will go forth this day in the Name of God, and will make Religion my bufines, and foend the day for Eternity. Never to enter upon my calling, but Erst thinking, I will do these things as unto God, because he requireth these things at my hands in the place and station he hath put me into. Never to fit down to the Table, but refolving, I will not eat meerly to please my appetite, but to Grengthen my felf for my Mafter's work. Never to make a vifit, bar ass

that

cen

ace

to .

icer

one

fer :

elf,

her

ieg

níbat

hat

MU

rla Ba

dod

11-

ris

vil

in ıý

0

0

9

4

nt npon some boly design, resolving to leave something of God where I go; and in every company to leave some good savom beind. This is that which I have been for some time a learning, and am pressing hard after; and if I strive not to walk by these Rules, let this Paper be a withess against me.

I am not now in my former publick capacity, such things sing required of me to say and subscribe, as I could by no means yield to, without open lying and dissembling with God and Men: yet, that I am unuseful, I cannot say; but rather bink, that possibly I may be of more use than hererofore. I hank the Lord, I have not known what it is to want a tonue to speak, but in my sickness; nor a people to hear; but a sthat we both sollow the things that make for peace.

I perceive you are otherwise perswaded in some things, han I am: but however, I trust we meet in our end. Since you are in, may it be your whole study to gain souls, and to mild them up in holiness, which is with too many the least of their cares. One duty (miserably neglected) I shall be hold to commend to you from my own experience, and that is, the visiting your whole Flock from house to house, and enquiring into their spiritual estates particularly, and dealing plainly and truly with them about their conversion to god: to the usefulness of this great work, I can set my Probatum est.

I hear you have two Parsonages: O tremble to think how many precious souls you have to look to! and let it be seen, however others aim at the Fleece, you aim at the Flock; and that you have indeed Curam animarum.

You see how free I am with you; but I know your candor. I rejoice in your happy Yoke fellow: salure her from your old Friend, and accept the unseigned respects of him who is, Sir,

Your real and faithful Friend,

JOS. ALLEINE.

LETTER XXXIX

And

mun

men is fal

luch

wor!

that

1 Bc

mor

riche

am

done

ther

clve

by c ence

con

is a

NOT

time

hal

hole

of I dy ;

Tor

are

OUF

Sur

for;

that

but

for.

not

wh

PRISON-COMFORTS.

[To a Minister in Prison.]

worthy Sir,

KASSIN ROTHERWALLER THE

I Owe you a Letter, and more than a Letter, for your particular respects to me, your brotherly sympathy, your multiplied and earnest prayers, your tenderness of my health, your welcome Jewel in M. Ruths Letters, from which I trust my soul and others may reap no small benefit. Much more do I owe you for your common respects to the people of my desires; and not only to them, but to the whole Church of God; and in all whose concernments, I see, you are concerned. Your indefatigable labours with as, we do with all thankfulness accept, as the undoubted evidence of your great fove: For all which may he require you, who will shortly say, Inasmuch as thou didst it unto the least of these my Brethren, thou didft it unto me.

It was but a little after my release, from my own confinement, but I heard of yours; and now write to you, as one that hath taken a higher degree than ever, and more truly honourable, being commenced Prisoner of Christ. I was once affected with the Picture of a devour man, to whom a voice came down from Heaven, faying, Quid vis fieri pro te, To which he answered, Nihil domine nift pati ac contemni prote. Undoubtedly, Sir, it is our real glory to be throughout conformed to Jesus Christ, not onely in his fanctity, but in his sufferings. Paul counted all things but dung for this, that he might win Christ, &c. and know the fellowship of his sufferings, and be made conformable to his death. I doubt not but your consolations in Christ do much more then superabound in all your tribulations for him : Yet let me add this one Cordial, That now you have a whole fhoal of Promiles come in to you, which you had not before; I mean, all the Promises to suffering Saints, in which they have not so immediate, but only a remoter right, unless in a suffering state: And

and doubtless he hath gotten well, that hath gotten such a number of exceeding great and precious Promises. If the men of the world do so rejoyce when such or such an Estate is fallen to them? should not you much more, that have such a Treasure of Promises fallen to you?

man-

4

with

HOW

poete

Dar-

OUT

Ith.

ruft

fore

e of

uch

on-

with

our

will

my

ine-

one

ruly

nce

Dice

To

.52.

on-

his

the

fuf-

not

er-

his

iles

the

mite:

and

I can tell you little good of my felf; but this I can tell That the Primiles of God were never to sweer in this world to me, as in and fince my imprisoned flate. Oh the borromless riches of the Covenant of Grace! It shames me hat I have let such a Treasure lie by so long, and have made little use of it. Never did my soul know the Heaven of Believers life, till I learnt to live a life of praise, and by more frequent confideration to fet home the unspeakable iches of the Divine Promises, to which, I trust, through grace lam made an heir, I verily perceive, that all our work were lone at once, if we could but prevail with our selves and ohers to live like Believers; to tell all the world by our elves and others to live like Believers; to tell all the world by our course and carriage, that there is such pleasantness in Christs wars, such beauty in holiness, such reward to obedimce, as we profess to believe. May ours and our peoples conversations but preach this aloud to the world, that there is a reality in what God hath promised; that Heaven is worth the venturing for; that the sufferings of the present ime are not worthy to be compared with the glory which hall be revealed in us!

Verily, Sir, it is but a very little while that Prisons shall hold us, or that we shall dwell in dirty sless. Perphyry tells us of Photinus, that he was assumed to see himself in the body; to see a Divine and immortal soul in a Prison of sless, see those of sin. Well, they must shortly off all together; our Lord doth not long intend us for this lower Region: Surely he is gone to prepare a place for us: Doubtless it is so; yea, and he will come again, and receive us to himself, that where he is, we may be also. And what have we to do, but to believe, and wait, and love, and long, and look our for his coming, in which is all our hope? 'Twill be time emough for us to be preferred then. We know before hand who shall then be uppermost. Our Lord hath shewed us

where

inli

lang

are:

MOL

DY I

ness

dilis

ren

Cou

grea

may

may

you

is fo

of I

We .

ence

Gos

WOT

Vifi

gen

Let

whi

gior

WC .

Prif

and 282 ofe

fitti

up,

the

any

where our place shall be, even at his own right hand; and what he will say to us, come ye Blessed, &c. Surely we shall stand in his Judgement: He hath promised to stand our Friend: Let us look for the joyful day: As sure as there is a God, this day will come, and then it shall go well with us. What if Bonds and Banishments abide us for a season? This is nothing but what our Lord hath told us, The world shall rejoyce, but ye shall weep and lament: You shall be forrowful, but your sorrow shall be twend into joy. Oh how reviving are his words! I will see you again, and your heart shall rejoyce, and your joy no man taketh away from you.

If that miserable wretch leapt chearfully off the Ladder, saying, I shall be a Queen in Hell: With that joy should we do and suffer for God, who have his Truth in pawn, that we shall be Crown'd in Heaven? Verily, they are wonderful Preparations that are making for us: The Lord prepare us apace, and make us meet to be Partakers. It was the highest Commendation that ever that worthy R. Baxter received, which sell from the Pen of his scotling Adversary Tilenus, who saith of him, Totum Puritanismum totus spirat. Oh that this may be true of us and ours.

Let your true Yoke-fellow, and my Christian Friends with you in the Bonds of the Gospel, have my hearty Commendations: And these Counsels, I pray You, give them from me, for the improving of their present state.

1. To habituate themselves, both as to their thoughts and discourses, more throughly than ever unto Holines. Brethren, I wou'd reach you the Lesson that I resolve to learn with you, That your minds and tongues may as naturally run on the things of Heaven, as others on the things of this World. Why thould it not be thus? Iam fure God and heaven do as well deserve to be thought on, and talked of by us, as froth and vanity can deserve of the World. There are many that have in a great measure learnt this Lesson, and why should not we be some of them? What if it be hard at first? Every thing is so to a beginner. Besides, is not ours a Religion of felf denial? Further, if we do but force our selves a while to holy Thoughts, and Heavenly Discourse, ir will grow habitual to us, and then it will be most natural familiar, and Heavenly fweet. Oh what gainers will you be, if you do but learn this Lesson? Verily,

nd

bn

25

go

us:

ble

You!

Oh 3

DET

ou.

er.

ald

hat

fol

DS

gh-

ed,

1885

hat

nds

ive

Strie

and

en.

on

rid.

13

are dat

our ric.

you

ily,

Verily, his the flame of Religion, that Christians are fo unlike themselves, unless upon their knees. Sirs, our lives and language should rell the world what we are, and whether we are going. Christians, let little things content you in the world but aspire after great things in the grace of God. Maay real Christians do little think what high frames of holinels they might grow up to even in this life, with pains and diligence. Sirs, be you men of great defigns : think it not . mough if you have wherewith to bear your charges to Heaven; but afpire with an holy ambition to be great in the Court of Heaven, favourites of the most High, of tall growth. great experience, fingular communion, that you may burn and shine in your place, and convince the world; that your may favour of Heaven where ever you come, and that there may be an even-spun thred of Holiness running through your whole courfe. 'Tis the difgrace of Profession, that there is fo little difference to be feen in the ordinary convertation of Believers from other men: It is not a shame, that when we are in company with others, this should be all the differthee that is to be feen, only that we will not curfe and fwear. is do the worst of men? Christians, if you will honour the Gospel, bring forth your Religion out of your Closers Cebe world can't fee what you do there) into your Shops, Trades, Vifits & and exemplifie the rules of Religion in the management of all your Relations, and in your ordinary converse. Let there be no place or company that you come into, in which you do not drop fomething of God: this will be the glory of Religion, and we shall never convince the world till we come to this. May you come my Brethren, out of your Risons with your faces shining having your minds seasoned. and your congues tipe with holiness: may your mouths be ata Well of Life, from whence may flow the holy Streams of edifying discourse: may you ever remember, as you are fitting in your houses, going by the way, lying down, rifing up, what the Lord doth then require of you, Deut. 6 7.

2. To improve their present retirements from the world, for the setting of their spiritual Estates. 'Tis a common complaint amongst Christians, that they want assurance. Oh, if my of you that wanted assurance when you came to Prison, way carry that blessing our, what happy gainers would you be! Now you are called more than ever to self-searching. Now bring your Graces to the Touchstone. Be much in self observation. See what your hearts do with most love and delight, go out unto: what are your greatest hopes, and your chief designs. See whether God's Intrest be uppermost in you: prove this, and prove all. Rest not in probable hopes. Think not that is enough that you can say, you hope 'tis well. God looks for extraordinary dispensation. Be restless till you can say, that you know 'tis well? that you know you are passed from death to life.

Think not that this is a priviledge that onely a few may expect. Observe but these three things:

1. To acquaint your selves throughly with the condition of Life, and take heed of laying the marks of Salvation either too high or too low.

2. To be much in observing the frame, and bent, and workings of your own hearts.

3. To univerfally conscientions, and to be constant in even and close walkings, and then I doubt not but you will grow up speedily to a sertled assurance, nad know and seel that peace of God that passeth all understanding: and this will be somewhat worth your carrying out of Prison.

But I return to your self. But what shall I say? I have more need to receive from you, than ability to give; only I will tell you my wishes for you: I wish that your body may prosper, as your soul also prospereth. I wish, that you may see the travel of your Soul; that you may find your people thriving under your hands in all manner of holy conversation and godlines, that whosever converses with them, may see and hear by them, that God is in them of a Truth. I wish your enlargement from your bonds, and your enlargement in them: that your Prison may be but the Lanthorn through which your Graces, Experiences, Communion, and Prisonartainments, may shine most brightly to all beholders. I wish your Prison may be a Paradice of Peace, and a Patnos of Divine discoveries. Lord Jesus set to thy Amen. I am, Sir,

Your unworthy Brother and Companion in the Kingdom and patience of Jesus, Jan. 10. 1664.

JOS. ALLEINE.

CI

10

F

G

fig

ar

ha

m

th:

of

US

Tr

gue

COT

hef

frie

ioy

Go

and tha

0 hor

ONT

prai

fhea

befo

and in a wife of a some of the R. XL.

Directions to the Ministers of Somerfeeshire and Wileshire, for the instructing of Families by way of Catechising.

Single of good to would be read to the contract of the nd nd

ft ie

pe

ft-

ou

ay

too

rk

and

up

be

ave

may

opie

erfa-

may wifh

nent

ngh

fon-

. 1

temos

Sir.

n the

NE.

ET-

THis Letter cometh to you, like the men of Macedonia to Phukerying to you, come and belo us. O how infufficient do we find our felves for the praises of God! what reafon have we to call upon our felves, and to call upon all our Friends ! and yet we forefee that all will be too little a Sacrifice at last, and to slender a return to the most High God, God, who hath made us fuch wonders of Mercy, and fuch fignal infrances of his Divine Power and rich Grace. You are not ignorant of our Estate, how the Sentence of death had passed upon us; how our fiesh and our hearts failed. and friends an Phyficians gave up their hopes : but God that raised the Dead, was pleased to make us the Monuments of his wondrous mercy. O that the fame God would make us the special instruments of his praise and glory. 'Of a Truth Sir, we perceive our hearts are too little, our Tongues are too fhort, our expressions are too low, either to conceive or utter what we owe to the great God. O help! help! bless the Lord, O our souls : bless the Lord, O our friends: O that all that have wreftled with God for us, might joyn hand in hand to make fome suitable returns to the God of our lives, and may bring in every one his Sacrifice, and all contribute to make one common stock of Praises, that many thankfgivings may abound to God on our behalfs. O what hath Prayer done for us! while we live we must honour Prayer, and admire the power of Prayer, we owe our limbs and our lives to prayer. O that a goodly crop of praise may grow up unto God as a return for his Mercies: that the feed of prayers, and showers of tears, may procure sheaves of joy, and songs of deliverance.

But O what shall we render? wherewithall shall we come before the Lord, or bow our selves to the most high God?

(k 2)

rok

Mir

WOI

fwe

bre

TELL

forv

our

nith

fent

min

mp

1 WC

on y requ

ing in ft to

I.

abou

2.

prom

3.

ill th

WOW

reach

arnif

earn.

4.

gage 1

ing of 5.

tount

earn :

weekl

peedi

may p

Si

O where shall we find a fitting facrifice? Verily we will give our felves and our all to him. But alas, what are we , and what is this little that we call our All? Therefore have we found in our hearts to write to you and others . that we might excite you to the Divine praises with us. And D that the Lord might be loved the better, and glorified the more for our fakes: Will you tell us wherein we may flew our love to him? wherein we may best please and serve him? O that you would! herein affuredly you would moft highly gratifie us. O that we might do some fingular thing for God; for cerrainly they are not common things that he hath done for us. We pray you call upon those that fear the Lord . to help us in celebrating his loving kindness. O how it pleafeth our very hearts to think that God fhould be loved and honoured the better for us : that we may be instruments, if it be but for the blowing up of one flash, nav. the kindling of one spark of Divine love in the heart of his Children towards him! Sir, you cannot pleasure us in any thing fo much as in this, to love and admire God, and foread his praise more and more; that what is wanting through our weakness, may be made up in your abundance. But we have need to crave your pardon for our length; but the love of Christ constraineth us, and we hope you will pass by an error of love.

While we have been devising what to do for our God, we thought we could no way better him, than by providing fuch as you are to ferup his great Name with us. We love and honour you, not only as you are a Member, but a Minifter of Christ Jesus our Lord, and therefore deserve to be doubly dear unto us: And because we could think of no more pleasing a Sacrifice of Thanksgiving, we have stirred up our selves and friends with us, to send to you a Prophet in the name of a Propher, this poor token of love, which though but small, yet we trust will be a sweet savour unto God, and will be accepted with you being our two. Mites cast into God's Treasury. But look not upon your self as obliged to us hereby: but put it upon the account of Chrift, to whole precious Name we dedicate, and from whom (although he be so much elready before hand with us, yet) we expect a recompence at the Refurrection of the luft.

And being further defirous to promote the work of Godin our low and slender capacities, we have been bold to provoke your self, with other our Fathers and Brethren in the Ministry, to set about that necessary and much neglected work of Catechising; not a little pleasing our selves in the sweet hope, that by your means we may be instrumental to bread the sweet savour of the knowledge of our God, in every place: and being well perswaded of your readiness to forward so blessed a work, we have stirred up our selves and our friends to expend a considerable sum of money to surfaith Ministers with Catechisms, a hundred whereof we have sent unto you, beseeching you to use your best prudence and minost diligence for the spreading of them, and for others improvement by them, that our labour and charge in so good a work, prove not at last of no effect.

Sir, we shall humbly propose unto you, but not impose upm you. But let us be bold with you in Christ, to lay our requests before you as touching this concernment, they being indeed what judicious friends and brethren have thought fit to propound.

e

g

0 d

e

is iy id

gh

VC .

he

DY

WE

ng

YC

ni-

be no

up

in ich

nto

aft

ged

ole

he

Ra

And

1. That that people be publikely and privarely instructed bout the high necessity and great usefulness of this duty.

2. That the Catechisms be freely given to all that will nomise to use them.

3. That you would be pleased to acquaint your self with all the Schools that are within your Verge; and that you would do your utmost to engage the Teachers thereof to each their Scholars this Catechism; and that you would wrish all their Scholars that are capable and willing to learn.

4. That you will endeavour from house to house to en-ing of this work.

5. That you will appoint fet-times wherein to take an acmunt of the proficiency of all such as have promised to larn; and that, if it may be, they may be engaged to learn weekly a proportion, according to their Capacities.

6. That you would favour us so far, as to let us know as peedily as you may, of the receit of these lines; and, if we may presume so far upon you, we pray you to indulge us some promote this happy defign, and that by our Lady-day next you will acquain Mr. Bernard what progressis made.

(k 3) assurance

Sir, our fouls will even travel in Birth for the fuerts of this undertaking; and therefore we request you for the love of God, and by the respect which we are persuaded you bare to us, that you will labour to comfort and encourage us in our endeavours for God, which you can no way in the World do so well, as by letting us see, that there is some blessed fruit of our cost and pains; and that we have not run in wain, nor laboured in vain. If there be say of these Catechisms remaining in your hands that you cannot dispose of by our Lady-day, be pleased to send them to Mr. Bernard, or to Mr. Roster in Taunton. If you should need any more, give us speedy notice, and you shall not fail to be surnished with what number you defire.

Thus upon the bended knees of our thankful fouls, we commend our poor facrifices, together with your felf, to the eternal God, and remain,

Christs devoted Servants, and your Friends,

JOS. BERNARD.

and

JOS. ALLEINE.

ne at

fs of love you grage

not thate

any

o the

nd

RD.

NE.

SERMON

PREACHED AT THE

FUNERAL

OF

Mr. Foleph Alleine,

BY

Mr. GEORGE NEWTON, late Minister of Taunton M Sommersetsbire.

Rev. 14. 13. Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their Labours, and their works do follow them.

LONDON,

Printed for and fold by Newil Simmons, at the Princes-Arms in St. Pauls Church-Yard, and Dorman Newman at the Kings-Arms in the Poultrey. 1673.

Aman in the wildownes asked of me how many Strauburys gras gren in the Sea and I answere him as I flought good as many red herrings Casgren in the wood: 17/ Hugh Till his book 1

Luke 23.28. Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and for your Children.

To T'Hat Subject fitter for this fad occasion, than a theam of weeping? what Language can we better speak. or more agreeable to the dark Providence that we are under, then fighs, and cries, and lamentations? How merciful was God to him, whom he hath taken to himself, and how severe to us, in this stroke? and oh what hard and stupid hearts have we? should we be so insensible of Gods heavy Indignation, and our irreparable lofs, as to give him just occasion to complain, as in Feremiah, 5.3. I have smitten them and they have not grieved. You of this Congregation have reason to fit down in bitterness, because the Almighty hath dealt very bitterly with you. And to cry out as sometimes foash did over Elisha, 2 Kings 13. 14. My Father, my Father, the Chariots of Irrael and the Horsemen thereof: and as Rachel, once to weep. and hardly to be comforted, because he is not : and for my part I shall take up David's Lamentation over Fonathan, with David's affections, 2 Sam. 1. 26. I am distressed for thee, my Brother, very pleasant hast thou been unto me.

But me thinks I over-hear him who being dead, yet speaketh, calling upon us in our Saviours words, weep not for me. As for my own part, I have rest for labour, joy for sorrow, peace soft trouble, ease for pain; I seel no aking Bones, no falling hits, ho strained filews, no distortions, no convulsions in the Grave. And for what I find in Heaven you small know when you come shither. My refreshing time is come, God hath now wiped clean away every tear from my eyes; and every drop of sweat from my Face, and every sad thought from my heart; and therefore I forbid your tears for me, weep not for me. But if your swelling passions must have vent, consider whole the loss is. Alas, it is not mine but yours; and thereturn the stream into the right Channel, weep not for me, but, weep sor selves and sor your Children.

Thefe

These were our Saviours words sometimes, in which he puts a ftop upon the forrow and the tears of those, we wept too much even at the death of Christ himself. Dead he was in Law already, condemned by Pilate, delivered to the Roman Band, to guard him to the place of Execution. Such tragical appearances are usually accended with a multitude of lookers on, and by how much the greater, and more remarkuble the person is who is to suffer, so much the greater is the concourse. And hence it was that such a heap of people to linwed Christ, on whom the eyes of the whole Nation of the lews were fixed, though with different affections; fome to fecure him from a rescue, some to mock him and deride him; some to gaze upon the Prisoner and observe his carriage in his dead march, and some to see the Execution. Among the reft. there were a fort of people that bewailed his death, of whom it is observed that they exprest their grief in tears. I make no question there were mon that wept, but because woman ufually have moifter brains, and less command upon their passions, and so are more inclinable to vent their forrow in a flood of tears then men, especially, because their passions are not much regarded neither; fo that there was no fear or danger though they were free and open in their forrow. Hence it is that there is no notice taken of any other tears but theirs, in the Verse before the Text, and that our Saviour turns himfelf, and directs his Speech to them in the words that have been read, Daughters of Ferusalem weep not for me, but for your felves, and for your Children.

Now in this Speech of Jesus Christ we have especially to be considered two things, a prohibition, and a permission. In the first place we have the prohibition of our Saviour, in which he forbiddeth them to weep, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me. And in the second place we have his permission, in which he alloweth them to weep; but weep for your selves, and for your Children. And yet you see he doth not here command and sorbid the same things in the same respect, yet in relation to a diverse object. In relation to bimself he sorbiddeth them to weep, weep not for me. In relation to themselves, he alloweth them to weep, but weep for your selves, and for your Children.

The total final and irreparable ruine of Jerufalem was near

fo

or

fe

he

ct

th

th

W

la

W

hi

fo

EH

th

th

f

14

0

721

T

at hand, our Saviour had it in his eye when he spake these words. He wept apace for this himself but a little while before, as you may fee, Luke 19.41. He beneld the City and more over it. First he beholds it with his eye, and then his eye of fects his heart, wo and alas! faith he, (while in a pand of holy pity and compassion, the tears come flowing down his cheeks,) If thou hadft known even thou at least in this thy day the things which belong unto thy peace, but now they are hid from thine eyes. And therefore he alloweth them to weep for this .. who are to have a share and portion in that dreadful deforlation. But for himself, who willingly submitted to the death which he was leading to and all the other circumftances of his paffion; who was beloved of him who had appointed and defigned him to it, who was God as well as Man; and therefore able to endure it, and to evercome it too; and who was shortly to be rescued from the jaws of death, and so trie umphantly to enter into Glory: he forbiddeth them to weep. weep not for me, but weep for your selves, and for,&c.

So that the purpose of our Saviour is not wholly to suppress, but to recisive their sorrow. They wept for him out of a childish kind of pity, but they wept not for their sins, nor the unseen calamities that were about to come upon them. And therefore Christ endeavours to withdraw their sorrow from the wrong, and six it on the right object. And to this end he shews them why they should not weep, and why they should weep not for me, but for your selves, and for your Children. Two Observations lie before us in the Text. The first, I hat it is not unlawful nor unsit sometimes to express our grief in tears. The second, That we are very subject to misplace our grief, and to mistake the ground and object of our sorrow. I shall speak to thefe in order, beginning with the firft.

Dett. That it is not unlawful nor unfit sometimes to express our grief in tears.

178

al

rs

1-

d

VS

re

10

15

t,

m ke

u-

in 115

10

w.

LP5

ür

ds

er

bc

In

in n, Ti-

#Y

Ot

c.

mon

WY

ar

at

We have our Saviours warrant for it in the Text, weep for your felves, and for your children. There weep and weep on. How often are we called upon to weep in Scripture? On what a cloud of weepers shall we find there, who are all witnesses to this great truth! And some of them the wifest and the boliest mentioned in the Book of God, without exception. Our Saviour Christ himself, the holy One, and the Wisdom of God, was a very great Weeper. He was a man of forrows, not of a few, but many forrows, Isa. 53. 3. You never read he laughed in all his story, but you find he wept often. In the days of his sless he offered up strong cries and tears to God, Heb. 5.7. He wept for his beloved Lagarus, John 11.35. And if we do the like on this occasion, we have a great example in our eye. He melted over poor undone Jerusalem with many tears, who had over-pass'd the day of her gracious Visitation.

dom

Look up and down among the poor afflicted and distressed people of the Lord and you shall find that tears have been as ordinary with them, as their daily food. Thou seedest them, saith Ajaph, Ps. 80. 3. With the bread of tears, and givest them tears to drink. Tears were both their meat and drink, and it seems they had their fill of this Diet. This was the Legacy our Saviour left to his Disciples, ye shall weep, John 16.22. It is observed of the Saints, they sow intears, they go forch weeping, bearing precious Seed, Ps. 126 5. Their time of sowing, is a time of weeping. They sow in showry weather, in a rainy time, the Seed they sow most commonly in steep'd in tears. Mine eyes, saith David, is consumed with grief, Ps. 6.7. He wept so thuch that he was shriveled up to nothing like a bottle in a smooth, as his own expression is Ps. 119.83.

You see then it is not unlawful nor unsit sometimes to express our grief in tears. But you will ask me what these times are I will tell you in a word, sinning times, and suffering times, are weeping times. A word or two of these in order.

1. Sinning times, are weeping times. And that whether they be finning times with others, or our felves.

1. Sinning times with others, must be sorrowing times, with us. Our Saviours Bowels rowld within him, when he look'd about, and saw the hardnesse of the Peoples hearts, Mark 3.5. Rivers of waters run down mine eyes, saich David to the Lord, Psi 19 136. because men keep not thy Law. If they will not hear saith feremiah, Chap. 13. 17. My Soul shall weep in secret places for their pride, and mine eyes shall weep sore and run down with tears. My Soul and Eye shall weep sore ther. You shall observe that those whom God appointed to be marked and singled out for preservation, in a common desolation, were such as sighed and cried for the abominations froi

Pro

the

mo

out

F

def

on

be |

per

oth

ting

mir

figh

you

tim

180 wee

All

ter

unn

give

Yea

of C

Fen

the eye

thei

mel

wof

2

are

wit

wit

him

that

don

of Jerusalem, Ezek. 9. 4. They did not only keep themselves from the abominations of the time and place on which the Providence of God had cast them, but they mourned for them in others. They were not meer abstainers, but they were mourners, weepers too, and so were snatched as fire-brands out of the burnings, & select as monuments of the mercy of God.

Brethren, if you defire to be preserved in times of common desolation, when the judgements of the Lord are abroad upon the earth, and on the places of your habitation, and to be safe in the day of his anger, work your hearts to this temper, while other men are sinning, be you mourning; While others are committing horrible abominations, be you lamening and bewailing there, fighing and crying for those about minations. That when God come to visit, he may find the sighs breathing from your hearts, the drops running down your cheeks, and all about you wet with tears.

2. And as finning times with others, fo our own finning timesespecially, must be our weeping times. Though David were agood man, yet he was a great figner, and so he was a great? weeper. In P[al. 6. 6. We find him even drowned in tears. All the night long (faith he) I make my Bed to rwim, and water my Couch with my tears. An Hyperbolical expression of unmeasurable weeping. So, Mary Magdalen, had much forgiven her, and thereupon she loved much, and wept much. Yea, the made a bath of tears, in which the washed the feet of Christ, Luke 7. 37. It is observed of the people of the Jews, that when they had surveyed their monstrous fins, they drew forth water (out of the Fountains of their guilty eyes) and poured it before the Lord, 1 Sam. 7.6. When once their hard and rockie hearts were smitten with remorfe, they melted into tears. They wept by Buckets, not by Drops. It is a woful frame of heart, when men can fin, but cannot forrow.

2. As finning times are weeping times, so suffering times are weeping times. And that whether they be suffering times with others or our felves.

X

d

f

9

0

n

of

r. Suffering times with others, must be sorrowing times with us. We must weep with them that weep. The Holy Ghost himself takes notice of it, as remarkable, in Nehemiah, ch. 1 4. that when he heard of the distresses, of his Brethren, he sat sown (as one associated) and wept and mourned certain days. And Foremiah

IR

CAN

wh

Ide

W

mi

ing

No

no

Pa

tea

fur

00 inc

Co

ter

CVI

it i

to

Lon

ma

the

the

ufe

gra

bu

ou

TO

We

WY

ne

w

w

Tc

an

CX

Wi

freemiab cricth out in such a case, Ob that my head were waters (nothing else) and mine eyes a fountain of tears, (both eyes one fountain) that I might weep day and night (without cessarion) for the slain of the Daughters of my People. It is our duty to remember them that are in Bonds, as bound with them, and them that are distressed, and broken and undone, as if we our selves were broken and undone with them. Oh let it not be said of any of us, that we swim in pleasures, while our Brethren swim in tears. That we have sain upon our costly Beds, & stretched our selves upon our Couches, that we have eaten the Lambs out of the slock, and the Calves out of the stall, that we have chanted to the Viol and invented Instruments of Musick to our selves, that we drink wine in Bowls, but are not grieved for the afflictions of Joseph, Amos 6. 4, 5, 6.

2. And as when others are afflicted, so when we our selves are so, it is a proper time to weep. The poor distressed Church draws up a Catalogue of all her troubles, Lamentations, 1. 12, &c. And then conclude that the 16. Verse, for these things I weep, mine eye, mine eye, runneth down with water. Yea, she complains that she had wept so much, that her eyes did fail with tears, Lam. 2.11. I might give other Scriptures, where you shall find them slowing abundantly on such occasions. But this may satisfie to shew you, that it is not unlawful, nor unsit, sometimes to expressour griess in tears. And what those weeping times are: Times of sinning, and times of suffering, either with others, or with our selves.

and unmanly thing to weep, to drop a tear at any time, as if it argued feebleness of mind, and imbecillity of spirit. How many daring Gallants are there in the World, who despite Gods mourners, and look on such as weep, for the abominations, or the desolations of the times, as a company of poor weak low Souls. And yet Hezekiah wept, and David wept, even till he drowned himself in tears; who notwithstanding was as gallant and as brave a man as ever lived. The wife man tells us, that there is a time to meep, Eccles. 3.4. And where saith he of mourning thou art mad, and of sorrow, What is it that thou doest? As he doth of joy and laughter, where do you find a blessing poured out on laughter, as you do on tears and mourning? There are but nine Beautudes

.

1

1-

y

25

of

THE

H-

he

at

of ore

000

285 cd

ta-

for 04-

hat

her

OIL

t 16

ers.

thy

is if

low

pife

att-

100 ling

wife

And

OW,

ter,

YOU

ades

and

and this is one, Bleffed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted, Mat. 5.4. And therefore they deceive themselves who foorn mourners, and labour to put on that Apathie and Idolence, which is so much commended by the Stoicks: Who think it is their Patience, and insuperable Fortitude of mind, to be disquieted with nothing, neither fins, nor sufferings, so far at least, as to shed tears. Their Patience is it? No, 'tis their senslesness. I have smitten them and they have not grieved, saith God, of hardned Israel, Jer. 5.3. It is not Patience but Stupidity, that he bewaileth there in that people.

tears, or forrows: They spend their time in mirth, and pleafure, and chase away all thoughts from their hearts, be the occasion what it will, or what it can: These are merry men indeed, I wish they would but sadly lay to heart these sew Confiderations, and I shall pass on to the third Use.

1. It is a foolish thing, to melt away in mirth and laughter, especially at such a time, when there is nothing upon every side but cause of sorrow. No question they conceive, it is their wisdom to be lively still, however matters go, and to drive away sorrow from their hearts. But what saith Solomon, the wisest man that ever lived, Eccles. 9.4. The wise mans heart is in the house of mourning. If his Body be not there, yet his heart at least, is there. But on the other side, the heart of Rools is in the house of mirth. You know they use to paint Fools laughing, and wise men, with a serious grave composed look. And surely there is something in it, but the Fool hath not the wit to pick it out.

2. As it is a foolish thing, so it is a first thing, to give our selves to mirth and laughter, when God calleth us to sorrow. It is a fin which God doth hardly (if at all forgive) we find that he hath sealed the committers of it up to wrath, and bound the guilt of this Iniquity upon their souls never to be removed again. That is a damning sentence which we find, 1/a, 22 12. They, were formidable Judgments which the Lord had threatned, and actually inflicted on the Jews. And thereupon he looked they should have carried and demeaned themselves like Mourners, like men that were extreamly sensible of his displeasure, and much affected with his hand upon them, But they despised and slighted all, and

co

m

m

ne

fo

21

m

e!

211

t

fp

W

01

H

fe

in

14

and gave themselves to mirth and pleasure, and swaggered in a braving way. And what was the event and iffue of its Surely this Iniquity hall not be purged from you till you deen 3. And as it is a foolish, and a finful thing to it is a dangerous thing. There is a fearful woe denounced to fuch as laugh; for they hall mourn. The Lord will one day num their vain and foolish mirth to weeping and lamentation, le will be Gall and Wormwood in the latter end. They that are always making merry, and never grieve at the diffres of the Church, they hall go captive with the first, as God de nounceth, Amos 6. 7. Whoever escape they shall be fure to have their portion. The Lord will fer them in the Front to undergo the sharpest brunt, and the more fierce encounter. of his Vengeance. And though they bear it our a while, the Lord will furely meet with them another day, when they shall have their portion there, where there is nothing else but weeping and wailing, and gnashing of Teeth. They that do nothing else but laugh in this world, shall do nothing else but meep in that to come. And all their carnal joy will prove grackling of thorns under a pot, foon in and foon our, and flashes of Lightning before Eternal fire.

ule 3. And therefore in the third place, fince there are times to grieve, and to express our grief in tears, let this be a Caveat to us, not to look for too much joy in this world. Let us hor caft too much upon it, left we be disappointed and deceived. It's that we are very apt to cozen and delude our feves abour, when we are on a merry pin, and flourish in a prosperous estate, it is our manner to conclude that we shall never have a storm again, and that this happy time will never end. And fo we run upon a double inconvenience, we grow remiss in making preparations for a time of forrow; and when it comes upon us unexpected it cuts the deeper, and disquiers us the more How often shall you hear it from the mouths of some, when any heavy Cross befalls them, alas they never dream'd of this, they never look'd to fee this doleful day: the weaker and unwifer they. Did they not know what they are, born to trouble as the foarles fly upward, fo that they have a natural tendency to it? That they are wandring in a vale of tears; in which they must look out for many florins. It was a pretty Speech of Seneca, Dolor & volunta cd :

m-

45

m

It

at

cis-

0

to

to

ten.

be.

icy:

but

do

but

DYC.

ind

2 01

are

be

Lct

and

nuo

1 ID

WC

Will

ice,

WE

er,

om

alas

this

not rd.

are

for

(3)

pt de

contained in the remains and encercouries here, but Joy (most commonly) hash the speediest dispatch. And therefore in the midst of joy, let us be wisely casting upon times of sorrow, & making preparation & provision for them. And that you may not faint either in the sence and seeling, or in the apprebension and expectation of them; I shall drop down a few Cordials.

1. The times of tears and forrow, are better for us then the times of mirth and laughter. And hence, saith Solomon, in the fore-alledged Scriptures, Ecclef. 7.2. It is better to go to the house of mourning then to the house of feasting. It is not a more pleasing good, but it is a more prostable good; though it be not more delightful, yet it is more beneficial to be where there are tears and lamentations, then to be where there is nothing also but laughter. And that upon these two Accounts.

1. Times of grief and tears, prepare for grace. They fit us for the work of holiness upon our fouls. They fettle is, and fix us, and make us capable of good impressions. When there is nothing elfe but mirth, we have I girt and frothy spirits, our funcies rove, our thoughts and our imaginations wander: Bur when the Lord presenteth nothing else before our eyes but tears and lamentations, this calleth home our thoughts, it renders us unto our selves, and makes us he for holy motions. We fee it by experience, that the very men, who when they are upon a merry Pin are fenfless and incapable of any good, they have such vain and foolish hearts: when they are brought into a melting frame, then they are mild and tame as Lambs, then they are pliable and flexible, and tractable; so that a little child may lead them. If you vifit them, if you counfel and advise them for their good, then you shall have their ears, and hearts 100.

2. And as the times of grief and tears prepare for grace, fo they increase and farther grace. Grace will spring and grow the more for such showers as these are. It prospers better in a maist and matred then in a dry and barren soyl, and if you search the sacred Story, you will find the greatest weepers to have been the greatest Saints. As David, Peter, yea, our Saviour Christ himself. Indeed this pretty Seed delights to have such dews as these; the Seed of Prayer, of Repentance, yea, that immortal Seed, the Word of God, doth best when it is sown in tears When we repent in tears, our hearts relent and melt most. When we preach and pray in tears, we move our selves and others most; — Si vis me stere, dolendum est Primum issi tibi. This Seed when it is watted thus springs up the fatter, and bringeth forth the more plentiful increase.

(6)

2. These times of grief and tears will end at last, and end in joy. You Thall weep (faith Christ to his Apostles,) but your forrow That be turned into joy. They that fow intears thall reap in joy; and he that goes forth weeping, bearing precious Seed. Mall doubtles come again with rejoycing, bringing his theaves with him. There is no doubt, no question to be made of that, and therefore it is bound with an Affeveration. which takes away all scruple from it, he shall doubtless come again with rejoycing, bringing his sheaves with him. It is the cuftom every where to have good chear, and to be merry when they reap. So it was among the Jews, as you may fee Deut. 16. 13, 14. And therefore this is used in Scripture to express the greatest joy, Isa. 9.3. They shall rejoyce before thee according to the joy of harvest. So, though the Christian, fows in rainy weather, in a weeping time, all shall be sweet, and calm, and fair, when the reaping time comes. He shall fit down with Abraham, and Isaac, and Jacob, in the Kingdam of Heaven, feeding on the hidden Manna, and drinking of the pure and Chrystal River of Water of Life, proceeding from the Throne of God, and of the Lamb, and there they shall be merry all together. When once he comes to God's immediate presence, he shall have joy, full joy, yea, the fulness of 12, Pfal. 16. last. In his presence is fulness of joy, and pleasures for evermore.

3. The joy that is to come will pay for all. It will be fuch, so plentiful and overflowing, that it will make a full amends for all your present tears and sorrows it will quite overcome the some, and the remembrance of them. Alas, our trouble here is nothing, in comparison, it is a light and case Eurthen. Our offlictions is but shorr, it continues but a moment, but the time is drawing nigh, when this little light forrow, shall be wholly swallowed up in endless and unutterable joy, T is short assistant which lasteth but a moment, shall end in everlasting and unmixed pleasures, 2 Cor. 4. 17. It worketh all shall beny any whethe the meft fill etc

for

wh An Da and ruj

diffice obj

fin He yo wi

per

to the against

and the

wi

ars,

may

UIS

t is

end

but

ball

ious

his

ade

on,

me

t 15

rry

fee

fore

an,

eet,

hall

ng-

ing

ed-

ere

to

the

joy,

ich,

nds

me

ble

ur-

nt,

ow,

oy,

l in

for

for us, a far more exceeding & eternal weight of glory: Oh what transporting comfort is there many times, in reaping the first fruits of the Spirit! that we are ready to cry out, if the first fruits be so sweet, what will the Harvest be? If the earnest be so great, what will the Posession be? When we shall be filled and satisfied, with the delights that heaven yields to all eternicy. I could say as Peter, It is good to be here, let us brild Tabernacles shere. But I must halten to another Observation.

Doct. 2. That we are very subject to misplace our grief, and to mistake the Ground and Object of our forrow.

So did these Daughters of Fernfalem you see, they wept where they flould not, and they wept not where they fould. And therefore Christ Corrects their forrow in the Text, Daughters of Jerusalem, weep not for me, but weep for your selves and for your Children. A great pare of the fin, and corruption that hath invaded hutsane nature, confifts in the disorder and distemper of our passions and affections; and lies especially in two things, either when we mis the right object, or transgress the just measure: When they are either ill placed, or ill proportioned : When we mistake in either of them. When we are troubled where we should not, or too much troubled where we should; we are much to be condemned: And both of these we are very subject to. The first is pertinent to our purpole, we are extreamly apt to grieve and to be troubled where we should not. It is no wonder that we find Elau faulty here, mittaken in the object of his forrow: He jought Repentance, and fought it carefully with tears; as you may fee, Heb. 12.17. But what Repentance did he feek with tears? Alas he missed his mark, he sought not his own, but his Fathers Repentance; feign he would have his Father to repent of his pouring out the bleffing on the younger Brother faceb, and confequently to revoke ir, and to call it back again: Bur when he faw that was not to be done, and heard his Father fay, I have bleffed him, and he ball be bleff d, be lifted up his voice and wept, Gen. 27 38 Yea the Apostles and Disciples of our Saviour Christ himself mistook in this, that they milapplyed their forrow. They were extreamly grieved and troubled that Christ was ready to depute, & to withdraw his fleshly presence from them: Whereas he tel's them plainly, It is expedient for you that I go amay, john 15.7.

to is not only expedient for me, but it is expedient for you? To that here was no real cause of grief and sorrow. And hence our Saviour puts a stop upon it, John 14.1. Let not your bearts be troubled, q.d. I see that you misplace your grief, Come it miss not be so; I will not have it to be so; let not your

bu

Po

ra

no

th

15

T

fig

CF

no

co

yo

the

tet

thi

Spi

the

of t

the

Ho

gri

Ou

is t

abo

the

and

pal

our

we

unt

app

not

to app

the rab

hearts be troubled.

Poor Mary was greatly at a loss in this particular, the ftood besides the Sepulcher of Christ weeping, John 11.20. Why what's the matter? The Body of the Lord is gone. Had the found him dead there, it seems she had been very well content: So that her grief and sorrow was in deed (although she did nor understand it, and intend it so) that Christ was Risen. She should have wept over an unbelieving heart, (that doubted of the Resurrection of her Saviour) and not over an empty Grave, from which his Body was deliver'd; God having loosed the pains of Death, because it was not possible that the should be holden of it, Acts 2.24.

I might add other inftances, but these may satisfie to clear the point; That we are very subject to misplace our grief, and to mistake the ground and object of our forrow: And there are two especial causes of it. viz. Either because our understanding is misled, or our Affections mislaid.

Reaf. 1. Sometimes we are very subject to misplace our grief, because our understanding is missed. We do not Juge aright of that, which is indeed the only, or the greatest cause of trouble. Some apprehend their tears are fitter to be spent on their Afflictions, then their sins: They see no great hurt in sin, but they seel much in Affliction; Affliction is a grievous thing to them; but corruption is not so. There is a principle in Nature which makes a man averse from penal evil, but there is none at all, that maketh him averse from sinful evil: so that a man needs nothing else but Nature to make him sensible of penal evils of Afflictions, but he needs more then Nature, to make him sensible of sin: And hence it is, because the greater part of men have nothing else but nature in them, that they are so exceedingly affected with the one, and so regardless of the other.

Now these affections follow apprehensions, as they always do; They are midaken in their judgements, and so they misapply their passions: They look upon their fins as small matters, ace

e it

our

hy

fhe

on-

ugh

Was

that

VET

God

hat

ear

icf,

And

OHL

our

uge

itelt

1 10

e no

icti-

ofo.

eric

him

but

ons,

fin:

ne-

ngly

do

pply

ters,

but

boo

but they amplifie their troubles and affiliations, as he in the Poet, I am ten times, twenty times, an hundred times mile-rable; And hence they weep for their affiliations and will not be comforted; while they have not a tear to spend upon their fins; And this in probability was Israels case, Jer 30, 15. They were extreamly troubled at the interies that were upon them, but they were little troubled at their fins; They cry'd because of their Affiliations; they did not only figh and mourn and grieve and weep, but more then so they cry'd aloud; which shews extremity of sorrow: But we hear nothing of any sorrow for their fins. And therefore God comes in and interrupts them, why what's the matter with you, can you tell why you take on in this sashion? Why criest thou for thine affiction? thy sorrow is incurable, for the multitude of thine Iniquitie: because thy sins are increased.

And so for penal evils, they mistake there too; They think that Temporal Judgements, are greater and heavier then Spiritual Judgements: They take the bidily plague to be worse then the plugue of the heart: a famine of corn, then the famine of the ward; and so they grieve more for the one, then for the other; and they had rather loose their Sauiour, then their Hogs: That is the first reason then, why we misplace our grief, Because our understanding is missed.

2. The second is, Because our Affection is misled, I mean our love; for love is the commander of our other paffions: It is the first & great wheel of the soul, that carries all the rest about, & governs them as it pleaseth, Love is the strongest of the passions & affections, & therefore all the rest yield to it, and are greatly sway'd by it: And by this means it comes to pals, that if we milplace out Love, we are in danger to milplace our forrow . For we shall furely grieve for that most, which we love best, whether it be best or not. Oh what a deal of vain unnecessary forrow, do many throw thenselves into, by misapplying this Affection! Their love is fetled where it should not be, or it is stronger then it ought to be, to such a friend to fuch a comfort, to fuch a relation, & when they find a difappointment by the removal, or the change of that which they have fet their hearts too much upon their grief is answerable to their love. Strong affections (especially when they miscarry in th'object of them) do cast men intostrong affictions.

(13)

Oh

tl

tl

0 tł

w bi

01 ſŧ

n te

W

fu

be

ha

fh

m ar

02

1/

ag

W

ra

th

ph

Oh how was David overcome with the death of Ab alom! though yet indeed, the cutting of him off, was a great and fignal mercy to himself, and to his people. And therefore Foab even rates him for it, 2 Sam. 19.5. and following verses. Saith he, Thou haft fram'd this day the faces of all thy fervants who have fav'd thy life, and the life of thy Sons, and of thy Daughters, and thy wives : Since thou haft love thine enemies. and hated thy Friends, and haft declar'd this day, that thou regarded neither Princes nor Servants : and I perceive that if Absalom had lived, and all we had died this day, it would have pleased thee well. You see the reason of his immoderate and overflowing forrow for him, was his inordinate affection to him: which was so out of measure great, that when he heard the news, his passion wrought, and he was hasting to a room to give it vent. But alas, he cannot hold till he come thither, but discharges at the stairs as he is going up, 2 Sam. 18. 22. He wept as he went and (aid, O my Son Absalom, my Son Absalom, would God I had died for thee, O Absalom, my Son, my Son. You fee then both that, and why, we are so ready to misplace our grief, and to misapply our forrow.

we. The application of the point shall be for caution and direction, both together; To watch our hearts against it, that so we say not out our tears amiss: Be circumsped that you do not misplease your grief, and that you do not mistake the ground and object of your sorrow; like these poor Daughters of Jerusalem, who wept where they should not, and wept not where they should. Oh what a deal of grief do some men waste away, when there is no cause at all show do many men take on, when they are cross in prescution of their suffix, and hindred in their sins, which is indeed a great mercy? Oh what sloods of tears do some men pour out upon a perty flight occasion, at a trifling accident !

Beloved, tears if they be shed aright, are precious things; God puts them up into his Bottle, as if they were of great value: and, yer some lay them out on nothing: how will they weep, and grieve, ar any disappointment in their small affairs, any miscarriage in their business, and little petty loss, any unkindness from their friends, or neighbours, any affront on provocation in the least degree; nay if they be but crossed in their wills, though it be best indeed they should: and their forrow

98:5

and

ore fes.

ints

thy

1854 thon

it of

ould

rate

noi

he

01 9

ome

am.

my

my ady

and

t it,

that ake

igh-

cpt

ome

ma-

heir

nerpon

God

and.

eep,

any nd-

ro-

din

heir

WOT

forrow is bestowed on little trifling inconfiderable things. Why, my beloved, have ye not other manner of things then these to grieve for? what think you of your own fins, with all. their bloody aggravations? what think you of the horrible abominations, and woful desolations of the Land? and of all the wrath of God, that hath been lately manifested and reveal'd from Heaven against us, more ways then I amable to express? I might be very large in shewing you particularly and diffinally both what you bould, and what you bould not grieve for; and giving you directions from the Word of God about it. But because the time spends, and I would not be prevented of that which I have principally in my eye, I shall pass over many other things that fo I may apply my felf to the occasion. Methinks I fee the clouds gather, and return after the rain: and out of question many of you are come hither with a sufficient stock of forrow : your hearts are full of grief, and your Souls full of trouble, and your bottles full of tears, brim full. You have drawn water, and are ready to pour it out before the Lord this day. My work shall be to guide you, and direct you (with our Saviour in the Text) how to beflow these tears, and how to spend this forrow, that you may not weep in vain, I say to you as Christ doth to the Daughters of ferusalem (with a little alteration) weep not for him, whom the Lord hath taken from you, but meep for your felves and for your Children.

1. Weep not for him. I know the loss of such an able, faithful, painful, zealous Minister of Christ as he was, ought to be very much bewailed; men of such hidden worth as he had in him, and of such publick use and service in the Church, should not be taked up in their Graves, without tears, and lamentations: Joalh a wicked King, wept for a good Propher, and that with very great affection, 2 Kings, 13. 14. He wept over his face and said, My Father, my. Father, the Chariots of Israel and the Horsemen thereof. And if you mark the carriage of the Saints, when such as he (I mean our dear and worthy Brother) have been taken from them, it would warrant all the tears you have to spend on this occasion. In the first of Kings 13.30. You find a Prophet burying a Prephet, and melting over him when he Inter'd him; He laid his Carcase in the Grave and mourned over him, and said of Samuel, and made their grief as remarkable and publish as their loss, I Sam. 25.1. It is observed of Suppen that he was parried by devout men to his barial with great lamentation, Atts 8.2. And God forbid that such an one as we have lost, should die away, as if he were not desired; that he would stead into his Grave, as if there were no notice taken of his death. No my Beloved, weep, and weep on; sie down and weep till you can weep no more; yet still I say, weep not for him.

(14)

How it to be greater then as yet you see. But tell me my Beloved, is he a loser any way? Nay, is he not attinsinite gainer? Is not this best of all for him? Indeed to have continued in the sless best of all for him? Indeed to have continued in the sless was strained, Phil. 1.24. But for him it was far better to be dissolved and to be with Christ. Now he enjoys a full deliverance from all corpuptions, all temptations, all infslictions: a full return of all his prayers, and Breathings after God and Christ, in which he was transported, when he was drawing near his giory: A full reward of all his tiring and incessent labours. Oh blessed soul! you know a voice from Heaven hath said, Blessed are the dead that die in the Lord, for they rest from their labours, and their works follow them.

There is one thing I must confess that makes this Providence the fadder to us. You know it is the Prophet Davids Prayer, Pf. 102. 24. Oh my God take me not away in the midft of my days. The Lord indeed hath taken him away in the midft of his days, and in the midst of his Ministry. But is he gone to Heaven too foon? Too foon indeed for you, but not for him. Is he got home to his Fathers house too soon? Is he with God, and Chrift, and Angels, and glorified Saints too foon? what doth he wish that he were back again with you? hath he his everlasting rest too soon? his glorious recompence too foon? Brethren, he wrought a pace you know, while he had ffrength, and finished the work that God had given him to do betime. So that it is no wonder shough he hach his wages early, fooner then fuch dull heavy flugs as we are. His life was shore indeed, though filled up with grace and dury, and God bath made but an exchange of an eternal one foois,

He was a burning and shining light, burning with enflamed affections, till the Oyl was spent, and shining in a exemplary conversation. Euc this Lamp is not extinguished, but onely lighted up, to shame and shine in a more glorious place. And there he shall shine forth as the Sun, for ever and ever. So that I may say still, weep not for him.

2. But you will ask me, for whom fhall we weep then?

I answer, for your selves, and for your Children.

Г,

ny

of

to n.

th

13 th

CC

he

his fis

y,

1. Weep for your jetues. The Lord you fee hath made a woful breach upon you, as it is faid of uzzah, I Sam 6.8. And that your hearts remain unbroken, they are unfurable to this heavy dispensation. God hath remov'd his holy faithful servant, not into a blind corner, but into a dark pit. The Grave hath newly that her mouth upon him, he is gone hence to be no more in this world : you shall behold him now no more in the Land of the Living : your eyes shall see your Teacher here no more for ever; you shall now be no more enlightened with his clear instructions : no more enliven'd with his zealous exhortations: No more quickned with his fervent prayers: no more warm'd with his Heavenly discourses! no more chear'd with his sweet consolations: no more guided by his holy example. The Lord hath made him up among his Fewels, because indeed we were not worthy of fuch a precicious Gemme as he was : he hath in anger and displeasure pluckt away one of our Pillars, as if he meant the house thould fall. And shall we be insensible of such a stroke? Shall we have tears enough to waste upon our perty loss, and not to have a tear to spend on this inestimable and irreparable one? Brethren, you are allow'd to weep here, though not for him, yet for your felves: and that especially in two respects.

I. For the fins that you have done, for they have made this lad work. They are the true and real cause of all your losses. They are your fins that hinder good things that they come not to you; or take them quite away when they are come. If God carry you aside into a wilderness and strip you naked there of any mercy; as if he meant to lash you to the purpose; Your ways and your doings have procured you these things; such is your wickedness. Believe it, you have sinned some way or other, against the Mercy which the Lord takes from you; they are our sins against the Ordinances of the Lord, that cause the Lord to take away our Ordinances from us. They are our fins against the Ministers of Christ (in that capacity as Ministers) that provoke him to remove our Ministers from us; yea many times to take away the Candlestick and light together. You may take up the lamentation of the Church this day; The Crown is fall from our beads; we to us for we have sinned. They are our fins that weaken and impair and kill our Ministers, who are indeed the Churches

Crown, and the glory of Christ.

Sometimes we overvalue them, and then we kill them with kindness. Sometimes we undervalue them, and then we kill them with negled, and make them do their work with grief: Sometimes we are untractable, and unthankful, and unfruitful; and God calls away his workmen out of the Vineyard that will yield no better fruit. Nay sometimes we decline. and grow remis, and cold, and flat, we lose our love to God and Christ, and then he takes away our Beloved comforts from us. And let me rell you, some of you have backslidden grievoully, and fenfibly abated of your former Zeal and Holiness, and strictness in the ways of God. Yea, finned feandaloufly to the dishonour of Religion and the Gospel: this grieved our dear Brother, who will grive no more now; I had it from his Mouth and Pen, how tenderly he took some lare miscarriages, and how near they went to him: These things brought him low among you, who was low enough before; and made him to bewait many who have manifestly finned, and have not repented, as the Apostle speaks, 2 Cor. 12.21. Oh how it wounded him, after fo many labours and fo many fufferings, for your establishment and confirmation; to see fuch declinations and backflidings. He might have faid with the Apostle, I Thef. 3. 8. Now I live if you stand fast in the Lord, if not I die; and dead he is.

hath your barrenness, and your unfruitfulness, and your back-fliding done? I know you lov'd him with a very high affection, and have made it to appear in many outward declarations to your great praise. But the best way to shew your love to the true Ministers of Christ, who seek not yours, but you; who seek not profit and applause, but fruits; is to bear their just reproofs and to be amended by them; to hear and obey them in their regular directions ; to follow all their good examples: for the Ministers of Christ are Samples to the flock. and Samples muft be wrought after. And in a word, to bring them in the return of all their labours, in holiness and holy walking; that they may fee the travel of their fouls and be latisfied. Nothing but this will latisfie them, and make them do their work with joy. I know you lov'd him, as there was cause enough you should; but say in truth, have you improved him? I am affur'd that many of you (a confiderable number) have improv'd him to the utmost of your power. That you have made the most you could, of his indefatigable and incessant pains among you. That you have garhered up the very fragments of the Bread of Life, and pick'd up the very Crums, that nothing might be loft. That you have eyed his exemplary convertation, and walked according to your par-And this I make no question is no small comfort to you in this doleful day. But have you all done this? Are there no fecret flitches at the heart of any of you, upon this confideration? He fent his strength indeed among you, he wasted and consumed himself, that you might flourish. But tell me, have there been answerable fruits among you, of holiness and obedience? when he fed you, have you prosper'd? he got a poor lean wither'd body, that you might have fat fouls. And are you all fat and well liking? of what lean fouls have fome of you, who have attended on his Miniftry, even to his dying day : how hath your rich and far Pasture been cast away upon you? So that our Brother might have faid (in reference to many) as the Prophet did. I have fent my frength in vain. However he is glorious with his God. But I am very much afraid that many of you will find this holy witness who is now ascended, Wirnessing against you, when the day of trial comes.

Dear Friends: Be not offended if I rell you, that your fins have had a stroke in the sickness, and the weakness, and the death of your deservedly beloved Minister. They were our fins that killed Christ; He was bruised for our iniquities, and broken for our fins. He bare our fins in his Bady on the Tree. And so they are our fins that kill the Ministers of Christ. You have often seen your Saviour slain before you, by and sor your fins. No you have seen a holy Minister of his, slain by the fame

fame hands And yet your fins live still to do more such work, and the Lord knows where it will end. There is no execution done upon them, who have done such dreadful execution in our view. Oh let your hearts break, and your tears run down, till your lusts be broken, mortified, and destroyed, or else they will break you, and destroy you. If you have any love to Christ, to the Ministers of Christ, or to your selves, you may see cause enough to weep, though not for our deceased Brother; yet for your setves, and for your fins. That's the first thing then, weep for the fins that you have done.

2. For the Judgments that now you may be like to juffer. To this our Saviour referreth in the Text, weep for your felues and for your children, that is, for the extremity of wrath and deletery vengeance, that is about to come on you and them. Even fo fay I to you my Brethren, with the Apostle, Fam. 5.1. Go to now, weep and howl for your miferies that shall come upon you. Oh let nor that complaint of the Prophet, Ifa. 57. 1. Be renewed against you, The Righteons perifieth and no man laieth to beart, and merciful men are taken away, none considering that the righteous is taken away from the evil to come. Our dear Brother now deceased was a righteous man, yea a Preacher of righteoufness. The Lord you see hath taken him away; oh what evil is come! When such as he are hous'd, what dreadful ftorms may there be like to fall? Brethren. the holy Ministers of God, are the peoples Life-guard, The Chariots of Ifrael and the Horsemen thereof, 2 Kings 13. 14. They are anointed Cherubs that cover. They are a shelter and a covering from the fform, and from the rain. Sometimes they are called Shepherds; and the business of a Shepherd is to keep and fave the flock. Sometimes they are called Angels; and Angels are the Guardians of the Lords people; they guard, and cover, and protect a people.

Now this they do while they instruct them so to walk, that wrath may not come upon them while they Interested with God, and stand up in the breach, to keep out the indignation that is flowing in upon it. A praying Minister (and such a one have you lost) one that bare you on his heart continually before the Lord (as Aaron did the names of Israel on his Breast-plate.) I say a praying Minister, is a protection to the people. Its true, the servent prayers of the meanest Saint, are an incredible defence to any place, to fave it from the ftrokes of God. And therefore they are filed Interceffors, 1/a. 34. 16. Because they mediate with God when he is angry, and by their zealous supplications hold his hands. But yet how ever though it be a certain truth that God bath much rel fped to the petitions of his weakest servant, yea though perhaps some private Christians may excel a holy Minister in prayer; yet God hath more regard to the intreases of his faithful Ministers, who have a special charge, and commission to be his Remembrancers for the good of that people, which he committeen to their charge; and their Petitions are of more avail and power with God both to procure his bleffings, and avert his judgements. Mofes and Aaron among the Priefts. and Samuel among them that call on his Name : They called upon the Lord, and he answered them, Pl. 99.6. Why doubtless, To he heard the prayers of his other Saints. But these his holy Priests and Prophets had the Ear of God (as special favourites have their Princes Ears) and could be heard and answered, when others were denied access and audience. And this is not obscurely intimated in that protestation of the Lord of Ifrael, concerning their approaching desolation, Ezek. 14-14. Though theje three men, Noah, Daniel and Job were in it, they fould deliver but their own Souls. By which, he infinuates, that when the absolute Decree is once gone forth, it can by no means be revok'd; fo he fuggefts withal, that if it had been feafible, these holy Prophets would have done it, (q.d.) were those three men in Ifrael, they would put me to it hard. and try me shrewdly to forbear the Land, I should be hardly able to deny them. He faid be would destroy them, bad not Moles Rood before him in the breach, to turn away his wrath. Pla. 106. 23. Oh how did Moles stand against him, and bind the hands of the Almighty, when he was about to ftrike. So that the Lord intreats and flatters with him to let him alone, Exod. 22.10. While fuch a Moles are Interceffors for a people, God forbears, he holds his hands, and restrain his in dignation; as he that means to firike, observes what strength there will be likely to oppose him: and when he looks and fees, that there is no Interceffor, then he goes on with his defign, Ha. 59.19. Then his Arm brings Salvateon to him, and he puts on the Garments of Pengeance. Brechren Brethren, you are in greater danger then you are aware. by the removal of your praying Minister : for you have lost one Interceffor, if any breach should happen between God and your Yea, you have loft your covering, if a fform of wrath should fall. So that it may be said of you, as it was once of Israel when Moses was a way, that you are naked; and what are you in Laodicia's case indeed? do you not know that you are naked? are you naked and are you not afraid? are you naked and nor ashamed? this would become a state of innocence indeed; in which it was observed of Adam and his Wife , that they were both naked , and were not ashamed, Gen. 2.5. But will it fuit with fuch a state of fin and danger. as the best of you are in? do you not find your selves uncovered? have you no lense and feeling of it? especially at fuch a time as this when the Judgements of the Lord are abroad upon the Earth, upon the Land, upon this very place in which you live, more ways then I am able to express. Alas, alas, you are uncovered, whether you know it, yea or ano. And it is perhaps some mercy, that you are not quire uncovered. Here, spend your tears, and you shall not misplace your forrow. That is the first branch of direction; weep for your felves: for the fins that you have done, and for the Judgments that you may be like to fuffer.

le

t

I

Je.

Y

do

tri

bu

He

fti

to ex

bo

Heb

who

low

ble

tha

Life

con

me

There is a second yet behind, and I have done. weep tor your Children. Weep not for me, faith Christ, but weep for your felves, and for your children. And why for them? Because their-Children were to bear a share, and suffer with them in the wrath that was about to come upon them, as you may see, Luke 19. 43. For the days shall come upon thee (faith our Saviour) that thine enemies shall cast a Trench about thee, and compals thee round, and keep thee in on every fide, and shall lay thee even with the ground, and thy Children with thee. Brethren, if you have any tears left, draw a few upon your children? you are not able to forefee what miseries your little ones may be reserved for : and verily their danger is increased as well as yours, by this stroke: for von have loft a Catechijer, as well as a Preacher; you know what care and pains he took, and what a gift and faculty he had in instilling holy knowledge into your children, and you little ones, while he had liberty in publick, and ffrength with with exportunity in private. He rook a very great delight to tamper with them, and to role them on to the holy wave of God, by all the means that he was able to device. It was his very laft defign (as he was always full of holy Projects) to take fome course, that children might be more general principled in the grounds and fundamentals of Religion then they are. And I am very well affored, that many of your Children, have such liquor poured into them by his means. that they will relish of it as long as they have a day to live. and it may be bless the Lord and him for it, to all eternity. And therefore you have cause enough to weep that you have loft a Minister that was fit and apt to Teach; not your selves only, but your Children too, and make them know the way of the Lord. Not to feed the Sheep only, but to lead the Lambs too, and to bear them in his bofom, as the expression is, Ifa. 40. 11. I have done with the directions, weep for your lelves, and for your Children.

And now for the close of all, I say again, weep not for him, his forrow certainly, is turned into joy, and therefore so let yours be also. He hath received that blessed sentence, well done good and faithful Servant, enter into thy Masters joy. And let me tell you (I speak it upon good assurance) he went triumphantly to glory: An entrance was Ministered to him abundantly into the Heavenly Kingdom. As he drew nearer Heaven (till his disease prevailed against his reason (he grew still more Heavenly. When Grace and Glory were about to joyn, grace in him was most Glorious. On with what extaste, and ravishments of Spirit did he slie away into the bosom of his Saviour ! As were to at his a come to in a were bne , cambid space ou thenest bas och het as basak

h

u n

by

w ly

or

W

he.

nd

ith

I have but one word to add, and it is that of the Apostle, Heb. 13 Remember him that had sometimes the Rule over you, who hath spoken to you the word of the Lord, whose Faith sollow, considering the end of his conversation. And that was a blessed end indeed. Remember him, to sollow him in all that were exemplary in him, whether concerning Faith, or Life, that walking in the boly way that he did, you may at his come to the happy End and Place where he is.

JOSEPH

JOSEPH ALLEINE ANAGRAM

I fee hope in all.

A Ngels behold, and joy to see such Men, As this Heroick Saint, whose Tongue, and Pen, And Heart, and Hand, were ready, nimble still with diligence, to do his Masters will;

Here Hope bis Sails did fill.

Such fragrant Graces as all wondred at, Perfume his Name, but few can imitate;
He purifi'd himself from things amis,
As one that long'd to see his God in blist:

Hope was the ground of this.

I John 3.2,3.

His beat with light, judgement with real did hine,

Both fpeak an exemplairy great Divine.

In every Scene was seen some figuature.

Of Love, for others benefit and cure;

Because his hope was sure.

His life a warfare was: no slavish fear Of Earth or Hell did in his brest appear.

The Fight is sought, the Battel fally done,

Trophies and Palms are his, the Field is won;

Hope is turn'd to Vision.

His Spirit advanced is to Heaven above,

Triumphing there, plac't on the Tower of Love;

Blest with an everlasting shining day,

Circled within his Saviours arms alway;

Ob, here his chief hope tay.

Singing perpetual prayses to the Lamb,

By whose pure blood the world he overcame:

Bearing a part in that Harmonious Quire,

The object of his constant strong desire,

To this hope did aspire.

Rom.8.24.

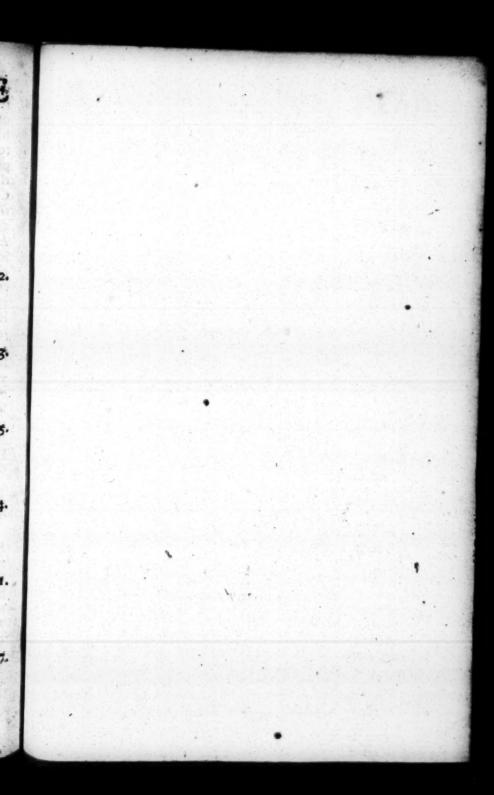

Col. 1.4,5.

Heb.6.10, 11, 12.

r Tim. 1.1.

Ads 26.6.7.

W. D.

in your sent In Palse Cop) 289 At stoll De Gin sens thank hoef The chimer of this Books अंति कर्म मिल्डल मिली ट्रांर्डिक कि है। कुर्वित माधडी किवड़ मिलार पिछे Mao / 1200 Les of the you has mission Lowender thy Cor redusin the

